BLOOD FLOWS AT STATE—San Francisco State College, which was again under police protection at mid-morning today, erupted into a violent battleground yesterday as militant students continued their harassment which brought police to the campus for the second straight day. Burglary Tip Uncovers Lab In Sausalito; Dope Arrests In San Rafael, Hub, Fairfax

Twenty persons were arrested in separate narcotics raids in Sausalito, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Fairfax yesterday and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of drugs and marijuana were confiscated.

An anonymous telephone call led Sausalito police to a 330-pound haul of suspected marijuana and an apparent laboratory for producing methamphetamine (speed).

Four persons were arrested, one an 18-year-old girl who lived at 43 Cable Roadway, where the pot and the laboratory were found.

Officers went to the house at 4:20 p.m. suspecting a burglary after a telephoned report of a suspicious car in the vicinity.

They flushed two men at the scene, one of whom fled on foot into the brush and escaped. The other refused an order to halt and fled in a car, but was caught by Mill Valley police 20 minutes later.

In the downstairs bedrooms, according to Lt. James R. Nunes, they found approximately 150 one-kilogram bricks of packaged weed, an extensive chemical laboratory, 15 gallons of ether and a quantity of film developer. Ether is used in making speed and developer is often used to cut its strength, Nunes said.

Gee and Cain called detectives who staked out the house for several hours and netted three more persons who entered.

First was Caron Gean Stowe, 18, of 43 Cable Roadway, arrested at 6:15 p.m. At 7 p.m. Joel Anderson, 25, of Mendocino, was arrested and at 8 p.m. the stakeout netted Rodney John Shimmon, 36, of San Francisco.

Nixon Sets Harriman Conference

The aide said earlier that Nixon had talked to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge about the possibility of Lodge replacing Harriman as chief American negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

This was announced after the same Nixon spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, told newsmen that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey rejected a firm offer from Nixon to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Nixon himself announced the appointment of Dr. Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan to be the next chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

The president-elect, putting in a busy day at his Hotel Pierre headquarters, conferred later with Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills, the most influential man in Congress on tax matters, said he looked "with a degree of skepticism" on any ideas to vote tax credits—a device Nixon repeatedly has espoused as a means of dealing with many of the nation's social ills.

While declaring that such credits are generally undesirable from the standpoint of tax policy, Mills conceded that benefits to be derived in specific cases might make them warranted.

GEOLOGY TESTS BEGIN

By ANNE BARDWELL

A Sentinel antiballistic missile base will be located on Wolfback Ridge, partially on Marincello land, if extensive soils tests now underway indicate the area is suitable for the underground installation.

The hilly ridge area, west of Highway 101 and adjacent to the Sausalito city limits, has apparently won out over two other proposed Bay Area sites — Angel Island and the San Pablo Ridge in Contra Costa County—according to Army Corps of Engineers spokesmen in Sacramento.

Contractors hired by the corps brought drilling anf earth moving equipment onto the 300-acre site last week. Drilling is expected to start within the next few days with testing to be completed by the end of January, according to Alfred J. Geandrot Jr., chief of the corps' military engineering branch in Sacramento.

A detailed topographical survey will be prepared at the same time, Geandrot said.

Yesterday, Geandrot confirmed speculation that the tests indicate the site is the preferred location for the missile base, although, he noted, no official word has come from either the Army Sentinel Systems Command in Huntsville, Ala., or the Army Air Defense Command at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado.

In September, Geandrot said soils tests would be made on the site selected as "most suitable" for the missile base. If the tests indicate the site is geologically unsuitable, the second most suitable site then will be selected and tested, he said.

Geandrot yesterday also said he believed, but could not officially confirm, that Angel Island had been rejected because of access problems and the high cost of transporting men and equipment to and from the island. The difficulty of maintaining an adequate water supply on the island was also a factor in its rejection.

However, Angel Island, for all of its drawbacks, still appears to have a slight edge over the San Pablo Ridge site in Contra Costa County, mainly because it is tactically in a better location, according to Geandrot.

"San Pablo Ridge is pretty far away and not as suitable to defend adequately the San Francisco Bay Area from missile attack," Geandrot said.

The soils tests are being made to determine the suitbility of the soil conditions for the construction of the missile base, which will be underground with only radar facilities and launching windows for the missiles above ground. The soil must be soft enough to be excavated with a minimum amount of effort, yet firm enough to safely house the facilities, Geandrot said.

Test borings will be made to a depth of 100 feet, he said, and trenches, some 10 to 20 feet deep will be dug to reveal the geology of the area.

Equipment will be moved from the site once the tests are completed, he said, but the test borings and trenches will not be refilled.

The test results will be submitted to Huntsville at the end

Marin Air Ace Tells Of Life As Captive

By MARY LEYDECKER

"You learn to go along with the tide."

With this statement, Marin jet ace Maj. James F. Low, summed up a life which most recently included seven months in a North Vietnam prison.

The fact that the 43-year-old flier is one of only six Americans to be released by the Communists is probably not surprising to those who have followed his career since the days when he was a Tamalpais High School student at the beginning of World War II.

However, the Major is no longer the grinning kid from Sausalito who posed beside his jet during the Korean War and who received a hero's welcome complete with a big San Francisco parade in 1953.

His tired blue eyes said more than his words as he spoke of his experiences in North Vietnam in an interview at Hamilton Air Force Base, where he is now stationed.

"At the first, not so good — at the end, not so bad," was his succinct description of life in prison.

Although he lost 35 pounds in prison camp, Low described prison food as "adequate." French bread and soup comprised the two meals of the day with occasionally some peanuts or canned meat thrown in.

"They treated us as criminals, not prisoners of war," Major Low said, but he denied any "real attempts" at brainwashing on the part of the North Vietnamese. "They gave us some of their magazines to read sometimes

Police Guard State In Violence Threat

Yesterday's Acts Bring 32 Arrests

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — A massive police force moved onto San Francisco State College campus today as student radicals vowed new disorders in the wake of the worst violence in the school's history.

Acting president Dr. S. I. Hayawaka was equally determined. He called the militants "anarchists" and authorized the deployment of 600 police to "break up this reign of terror." (See another story, page 23.)

Ten law enforcement officers from Marin County today were sent to a standby area near the campus, Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said.

MARIN GROUP

Two men from the sheriff's office, two policemen each from Novato, San Rafael and Sausalito and one officer each from Mill Valley and San Anselmo were dispatched.

Before police patrols returned one student, bleeding profusely from mouth cuts, reported he had been jumped by seven black students in front of the Black Student Union's building — because he was wearing a blue arm band to show his support for Hayakawa.

The beating took place at about 10:30 a.m. at a moment when no police were in the vicinity, he said.

The student also reported that the blacks hit a coed when she objected to their attack on him. She also suffered mouth cuts, he said.

32 ARRESTS

Yesterday in the second straight day of militant student and police clashes, 32 arrests were made, bringing the two-day total to 42. Also 14 students have been suspended from classes.

For the opening of classes today on the 18,000-student campus, not a single picket was in

Sanitary District Bows To Takeover

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board, which long has battled attempts by the Town of Corte Madera to merge the district with the town, last night withdrew its resistance.

In a joint statement issued by Herber C. Leney, board president, and Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, it was announced that the board last night agreed not to oppose the town's petition for a merger when it comes before the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 3 p.m. Tuesday at a public hearing at Civic Center.

Colthurst, who attended the board meeting, suggested that the board be retained by the city as an advisory committee. Ronald L. Usher, town manager who also attended, said Colthurst indicated he would bring the suggestion to the council and the council and the board can discuss at a later time what role the committee would play.

The committee would be nonsalaried, Usher said.

In the statement, Leney said the board's main concern has been to implement the master plan of Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco engineering firm, for sewerage services for all of Marin. The plan calls for a merger of sanitary districts to form three large districts within the county, or the alternative of the Marin Municipal Water District and the North Marin County Water District assuming the responsibilities by taking over districts in their areas, Usher said.

Colthurst said one of the committee's duties would be to pursue the idea of area-wide consolidation as proposed in the master plan, Usher reported.

BOMB THREAT MADE TO HOME OF HAYAKAWA

An anonymous person last night threatened to bomb the Mill Valley home of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College.

An unknown person called Mill Valley police at 7:14 p.m. and told the matron on duty that a bomb had been planted in the Hayakawa home at 225 Eldridge Avenue, police said. The matron said the caller had a male-sounding voice.

The Hayakawas, away at the time the bomb threat was received, returned to their home at 9 p.m. shortly after the search had been completed, police said.

Sunspot Danger

PASADENA (AP)—The scheduled Christmas orbit of the moon by three Apollo 8 astronauts could be endangered by a new massive storm on the sun, an astronomer says.

Dr. Harold Zirin of the California Institute of Technology said yesterday a new solar storm on the sun—called a sunspot—"has grown rapidly in the past 10 days and it will be facing the earth at the center of the sun on Dec. 23."

Quake Injuries

BELGRADE (AP)—More than 35 persons in the industrial town of Tuzla were injured by an earthquake which jolted the central Yugoslav state of Bosnia-Hercegovina last night.

The quake caused widespread panic and many people camped overnight on the streets. A girl student in panic jumped through a second-floor window and broke her legs.

Churchill Memorial

LONDON (AP)—A statue of Sir Winston Churchill in his debating stance—hands on hips, legs apart, jaw thrust forward—is to be his memorial in the House of Commons.

Baroness Spencer-Churchill, the war leader's wife, helped a Commons committee make the choice between two plaster models submitted by Oscar Nemon, the sculptor chosen for the task in 1966.

Jupiter In '72?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Unmanned space flights to Jupiter, 370 million miles away, are probably for 1972, says a government scientist.

Dr. John Wolfe of the National Aeronautical and Space Agency made that forecast Tuesday at a meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

He estimated the flights to the huge planet would take 600 days.

Strike Spreads

ROME (AP)—A tidal wave of labor walkouts widened across Italy today, and shouting high school students jammed the streets of major cities in new protests against the police killing of two Sicilian farm workers.

Almost every high school in Rome was closed as nearly 30,000 students demonstrated noisily for a second day. Thousands of other students paraded the downtown streets of Milan, and other strikers were out on the streets in Rome, Genoa, Milan, Venice and other cities.

Korean Patrol

SEOUL (AP)—Ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet will patrol South Korea's coastal waters until South Korean shore defenses are considerably strengthened, the newspaper Joong-ang Ilbo said today.

No comment was available from U.S. military officials on the report.

Attorney For Sirhan Will Fight Video

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's new attorney says the defense will veto public televising of the trial of the man charged with assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Grant B. Cooper had his first meeting with Sirhan yesterday. He was asked about a resolution adopted unanimously earlier in the day by the County Board of Supervisors proposing the trial "be televised under strict regulations and controls." Because of tight security, a courtroom holding about 100 is to be used for the trial.

Cooper was accompanied by Russell E. Parsons, who handled Sirhan's defense alone while Cooper was tied up in another case. Cooper said public TV was not possible without the defendant's consent "and you are never going to get the consent of the defendant as long as Russ (Parsons) and I are the attorneys."

A third defense attorney will be Emile Zola Berman of New York. Each attorney, Cooper said, "will tackle a particular avenue" of defense.

The trial now is scheduled for Monday, but defense motions to postpone it until January will be heard tomorrow by Judge Herbert V. Walker.

First Migrating Whales Sighted

PALOS VERDES (UPI) — The first group of migrating gray whales was sighted yesterday about two miles offshore in the Santa Barbara Channel.

The six whales were en route from the arctic to their breeding grounds in the lagoons of Baja California, Mexico. They return north in February.

The annual migration is believed the longest of any mammal.

Fighting In Yemen

ADEN, South Yemen (UPI)—Fresh fighting has broken out between rebel and government troops along South Yemen's northern frontier, the Yemeni government said yesterday.

Thieu Sees A Long Session In Paris

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that the South Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks will be in the French capital on Saturday.

Thieu told newsmen meetings will be held in Paris next week to deal with the complicated procedural questions prior to the opening of full-scale peace talks.

Asked how long he thought the talks would last, he said he could not guess.

"One cannot predict if the enemy will have good will," he added.

Thieu said in response to another question he thought there were no immediate prospects for a cease-fire.

"This could come about after a certain time," he said, "but it is very complicated and involves many procedural problems."

Government sources have said that the South Vietnamese delegation will make its first order of business an effort to de-escalate the war and the accompanying terrorism.

The president denied suggestions that his delegation would delay getting down to substantive talks until after the inauguration Jan. 20 of Richard M. Nixon. Some South Vietnamese officials believe that Nixon can be counted on more than President Johnson to hold out for a settlement favorable to the Saigon regime.

Thieu said it is "completely false" that he is waiting for Nixon to take office.

"We are at war and we must stop the war," he said. "We cannot wait for anybody."

Members of South Vietnam's negotiating team had still not been announced late today. Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, head of South Vietnam's observer mission in Paris, is expected to lead the team under the supervision of Vice President Ngueynen Cao Kay. Persons mentioned as members included Mrs. Nguyen Thi Vui, a Saigon lawyer, and Nguyen Xuan Phong, a former official in the premier's office.

In Bangkok, official sources said there was a split within the allied camp over what sort of negotiated peace settlement should come out of the Paris peace talks.

Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman told newsmen Thailand supports the South Vietnamese contention that Hanoi is attempting to gain at Paris the victory it could not win on the battlefield.

In Paris, U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats had another confidential discussion about procedures looking toward an opening next week of the expanded peace conference on Vietnam, formants said.

Communist sources indicated also that the Hanoi delegation lodged a new protest alleging bombing by U.S. planes Monday well inside North Vietnamese territory.

There was no immediate comment from the U. S. delegation.

Pope Blasts Dissenters Of Teachings

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today lashed out at dissenting priests and bishops and declared that the Roman Catholic Church defends its teachings "at any cost."

In a voice breaking with emotion, the Pope denounced "the reticence" of some of those he said are duty-bound to defend church teachings — an obvious reference to parish priests and members of the hierarchy opposing him on the issues of birth control, papal authority, priestly celibacy and revised catechisms.

"When it comes to its own teaching," the Pope told his weekly general audience, "the church is intransigent and dogmatic—at any cost."

"Who speaks today of Hell?" the pontiff asked. "This is not liked and not discussed.

"Everyone chooses the truths he likes. In this way the faith disintegrates. It is no longer the faith of which St. Paul spoke."

Raising his voice, Pope Paul recalled the doubts of Christ's disciples and repeated the words Christ addressed to them: "Do you also wish to go away?" (John 6:69).

Jungle Fight Claims 25 American Troops

SAIGON (AP) — An estimated 400 North Vietnamese troops, lying in wait in thick jungle, attacked 150 probing U.S. air cavalrymen near the Cambodian border north of Saigon Tuesday and killed or wounded more than half of them.

Twenty-five of the American troops were killed and 52 wounded. It was the heaviest casualty toll suffered by the elite 1st Air Cavalry Division in a single battle this year.

North. Vietnamese casualties were not known, but one Air Cav officer said: "We brought in a hell of a lot of stuff-artillery, rockets and bombers—on the enemy troops. We feel they took a heavy beating, but we don't know."

The officer said rockets fired ships within 40 yards of the besieged American troops apparently touched off a fierce grass fire that may have been responsible for some of the American casualties. He said at least two bodies were burned so badly identification was difficulty, but the men may have been dead before the fire.

The 18,000-man air cavalry division has been operating north of Saigon for more than a month, seeking 15,000 to 20,000 North Vietnamese troops that are reported deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border. They constitute a potential threat to Saigon, and an Air Cav officer said today the division has killed at least 1,135 enemy troops in the area since Oct. 31.

The Air Cav unit that took such a battering yesterday made a helicopter landing in the middle of the morning in a jungle clearing 69 miles north of Saigon and 15 miles from the Cambodian border. There was no enemy fire on the assault copter.

Teacher Is Attacked In Classroom

OAKLAND (UPI) — An East Oakland elementary school teacher was raped and robbed in her classroom yesterday by a young man who stabbed the school principal in the hand to make good his escape.

Police said the 28-year-teacher was keeping some children after class when the youth, wearing a black beret and dark clothing, entered the room and said, "I'm sorry. I must have the wrong room."

She said he returned with a butcher knife about 10 minutes after the children departed, took $3 from her purse and started to tie her up. Then one of the pupils returned, and the teacher screamed for her to go for help.

Police said the suspect ripped off the teacher's dress and assaulted her. When principal Harold W. Garden entered the room, the youth stabbed him in the right hand and fled.

The teacher and principal were treated at Highland Hospital and released.

Israel Loses One Jet On Raids Into Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Iraqi artillery installations in Jordan today and one jet did not return from the 90-minute raid, the Israeli Army announced.

It was the third Israeli air attack on Jordanian territory this week and the first in which any Israeli losses were reported.

The pilot of the French-made Super Mystere fighter-bomber parachuted into Jordan "But we managed to get him out," an Israeli spokesman reported.

He said the Iraqi artillery emplacements attacked were east and west of the Jordanian town of Irbid.

Radio Amman reported the Israeli planes raided the city Al Mafraq and two villages in the Irbid area, Taibeh and Samalia.

Jordan's cabinet announced cancellation of a party for ministers and deputies that had been scheduled for this evening.

A top-ranking Israeli army officer told a news conference the aim was to "punish the Iraqis" for shelling of at least 12 settlements south of the Sea of Galilee in the past three days.

The officer said the raid—"strong, but not massive"—was launched through heavy rain to Al Mafraq, which is 50 miles from Israeli territory. The Irbid area also came under fire, he stated.

Israel says an Iraqi division has been stationed in Jordan since the Middle East war 18 months ago. It contends the division not only uses artillery, but that Iraqi regulars have been working closely with Arab guerrilla organizations.

Jet Hijacker Frets While Plane Fuels

Waving a hand gun and a grenade wrapped in an arm bandage, the hijacker talked about his life in the United States during a one-hour, 21-minute refueling stop in Key West.

"He said he had worked in the Miami area for quite a while and he'd been fired from all his jobs," said Irene Guntin, one of four Cuban-born stewardesses aboard the National Airlines jet.

"'I can't continue living in this country. I'll get there (Cuba) even if I have to kill one of you,'" she quoted him as saying.

Miss Guntin and other members of the crew—including one nonworking stewardess listed officially as one of 28 passengers—returned to Miami late last night.

The other passengers were to be bused to Varadero, Cuba, for a flight to Florida today aboard a prop-driven charter aircraft.

The hijacker forced stewardesses to open the cockpit door and took command.

"The door flew open and he said he wanted to go to Havana," Capt. James W. Sims told newsmen. The pilot said he persuaded the gunman he needed more fuel, and got his permission to stop at Key West—only 90 miles from the Cuban coast.

Federal, city and county officers stood by—under orders not to intervene—as the plane and its impatient hijacker sat alone on the end of a runway.

During the wait, Miss Guntin said, the gunman was "shaking and sweating. He held a gun right here on my neck and the grenade on my shoulder all the time were in Key West."

In Havana, Sims said, troops met the airliner and escorted the hijacker off the plane. "Two guys came aboard and took his gun," said Stewardess Mirta Fonollar.

New Shipment Of Furniture Stolen

Police said a man was seen by several witnesses loading the furniture into a blue car at the rear of the building about 1:25 a.m.

They said the furniture was delivered after the store closed and was left outside the building. Owner Herbert Winters could not estimate the value of the stolen merchandise.

Holiday Season-ing with
TODAY'S NEW LAMB

Tender young lamb is all the more a treat during the holiday season. It's a welcome change from those traditional dishes, also delicious in their own way, but likely to turn up at parties too often this time of year. Let lamb, an American favorite, make your family dinners festive, your parties unforgettable. How do you fix it? Easy. Here are two lamb recipes that let the hostess have a good time, too.

Onion-Orange Lamb Roast (makes 8 servings)

½ leg of lamb
¼ cup chopped onion
⅓ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
¾ teaspoon rosemary
Salt and pepper to taste

Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in 325° (slow) oven 30 to 35 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer registers 175° for medium doneness. Combine onion, juice, mustard, rosemary and seasoning and spoon over the lamb during the last hour of roasting time.

Lamb Steaks with Herb Butter (makes 4 servings)

¼ cup butter
¼ teaspoon each: salt, crushed rosemary leaves and grated lemon peel
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
4 large loin or sirloin lamb steaks, about 1-inch thick

Combine butter, parsley, salt, rosemary, lemon peel and pepper in saucepan; stir and heat until butter melts and bubbles. Place lamb steaks on broiler rack; brush with herb butter. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 6 minutes per side or until as done as desired; brush steaks with herb butter after turning. Pour any remaining herb butter on steaks before serving.

Meeler, 20, of 136 Filbert Street, Sausalito, was booked at Marin County jail for investigation of possessing marijuana for sale, refusing to identify himself and resisting an officer. He posted $2,500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Miss Stowe and Shimmon were booked on suspicion of having marijuana for sale. She failed to post $2,500 bail and is to appear in court today. Shimmon posted $2,500 bail and will appear tomorrow.

Anderson was booked on suspicion of having marijuana and was jailed in lieu of $1,250 bail to appear in court today.

Nunes said the marijuana haul was the largest in Sausalito's history. At a market rate of $1,250 a pound the marijuana would be worth more than $400,000.

State and county narcotics agents and a San Anselmo police officer arersted four adults and a 17-year-old youth in a San Anselmo apartment.

Armed with a search warrant, officers said they went to the apartment of Timothy Brooks Houge at 2 Foothill Road about 10:30 p.m. The door was opened by Sandra Christine Hanson, 20, who was baby-sitting for Houge and his wife, Betty Jane, 23.

Police said they found the juvenile and Jane Carole Schra, 18, of Salem, Ore., in the living room and an odor of burning marijuana.

Officers said search of the youth disclosed a quantity of what appeared to be LSD tablets, that two ounces of marijuana were found in the living room and a jar half-filled with the substance on a shelf.

Officers said Hogue, 23, returned home about 10:45 p.m. and was arrested. Several capsules appearing to be drugs were found in his possession.

Police said his wife and a companion arrived shortly after, and she was arrested. The companion was searched, and released.

Officers said the Hogue's 4-year-old son, Christopher, still asleep in the apartment, was turned over to another baby sitter.

Hogue was booked in Marin County Jail for investigation of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs. His wife and Miss Hanson and Miss Schra were booked for investigation of marijuana possession. Bail for the four had not been set this morning.

The youth was booked in Juvenile Hall for investigation of possessing marijuana and dangerous drugs.

State and county narcotics agents and San Rafael police, about 20 officers in all, entered two houses last night and arrested eight persons.

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said both houses, at 14 Sentinel Court and 5 Meadow Street, had been under surveillance by police.

Two residents of the Sentinel Court house were arrested, along with four visitors, Chiesa said. James Ambrose Gronczewski, 38, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs for sale, and John Theodore Kilpatrick, 24, for possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia.

William John Helms, 20, of 17 Wellington Avenue, Ross, was booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs.

Three Sacramento County men who came to the house during the raid were also arrested after their car was searched, Chiesa said.

His companions, Randolph Jewell Bellah of Folsom and Janathan Abraham Levine of Carmichael, were booked on a similar charge. Bellah was also booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia and Levine was also booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana and a device for smoking narcotics.

Chiesa said two guns and knife were found in the car, narcotics paraphernalia on Bellah and a substance believed to be marijuana and a pipe on Levine.

Small quantities of speed, marijuana, spoons and syringes, were found in the house, Chiesa said.

Officers then went to the Meadow Street address and discovered more speed and marijuana.

John Anthony Carrino, 23, and his sister, Mary Andrea Carrino, 18, who lived in the house, were booked on suspicion of possessing dangerous drugs. Miss Carrino was also booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Bail was not set in any of the cases.

Apprehended were Franklin R. Leyshon, 23, Robert E. Marriott, 21, and Michael Coffman, 19, at 125 Ridgeway Avenue where they reside.

Marriott yesterday in Marin Municipal Court pleaded innocent to the charge of being in a place where marijuana is being smoked. A jury trial date was to be set this afternoon. He was released from Marin County Jail on $100 bail.

Leyshon, booked on suspicion of possessing marijuana, and Coffman, for investigation of being in a place where the weed was used, were held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $200 and $100 bail respectively.

In another narcotics incident yesterday, two Novato High School students were cited to juvenile hall for the sale of marijuana and LSD to a 15-year-old Novato High girl, according to police Sgt. Richard Courier.

Michel Lane, 15, of 1924 Indian Valley Road, was cited for the sale of marijuana and LSD on campus and LSD off campus, and Raymond Cox, 17, of 455 Corte Norte, was cited for the sale of LSD off campus.

Police Guard State In Violence Threat

sight for the first time since Negro militants called a strike early last month. But within an hour the Strike Support Committed was handling out leaflets which said:

"Today at State, as yesterday, if there are students in classes who continue to be a party to Hayakawa and his pigs, it is a certainty that black and Third World students, other minorities and thousands of their white student supporters will move in one form or another to stop the strike breaking by their fellow students."

During yesterday's violence at least nine persons, including five policemen, were injured in the campus' most violent day since the BSU called the strike nearly four weeks ago.

One officer, Paul Juul, suffered a broken collar bone when he was struck in the neck with a half-inch cast iron chair leg.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan praised Hayakawa's firm tactics and Democratic Mayor Joseph Alioto promised all the city police strength needed against demonstrators, whose pressure for minority group demands has disrupted the campus for most of the past month.

Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, an expert in semantics, the use and meaning of words, was named acting president by college trustees last week. He has claimed good attendance at classes for most of the time since he reopened them Monday.

About 300 activists were involved yesterday in three separate assaults on the Business and Social Sciences Building, were class attendance was reported high. Windows in the building were broken and one faculty member inside was injured.

There were other clashes on the central campus lawn, where student activists erected a barricade of tables and chairs. Other students—who wore blue arm bands in opposition to the strikers—removed the barricade with some accompanying scuffles.

The quickest, most violent clash came in front of the library, where one police officer was knocked unconscious and one demonstrator was felled, his face streaming blood.

Between incidents, police tactical squad officers marched to and from the center of the campus, squeezing activists and onlookers between files of uniformed men. About 300 police broke up the demonstrations.

Hayakawa was jeered and booed as he spoke over a loudspeaker, asking students to disperse. Later, he told newsmen: "I am determined to break up this reign of terror established by the anarchists."

Hayakawa said he referred to members of the Black Students Union, the Third World Liberation Front for Latin American and Orientals and the Students for a Democratic Society.

The student groups demand 15 points, including strong, independent black and ethnic studies departments, unlimited admission of minority group students and reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray, a part-time English teacher now under suspension.

During the day, the school's Academic Senate, official representative of some 1,100 instructors, voted down a motion that it disband.

Instead, the 42-member Senate voted for short-term committee studies in seven areas, including the strikers' 15 demands, student conduct and discipline, faculty ethics, granting academic credit and the hiring and firing of faculty and administrators.

Also yesterday about 100 unionized faculty members voted to ask the San Francisco Labor Council for strike sanction.

In another development, a group of Negro leaders and a newly-organized Japanese-American group have announced opposition to the appointment and policies of Hayakawa.

of January and a final decision on the suitability of Wolfback Ridge should be made within one or two months after that, Geandrot said.

If it is decided to locate the missile base on Wolfback Ridge, it will take the corps approximately six to eight months to purchase or condemn the necessary acreage and access for the base, according to Creed B. Card, chief of the corps' real estate division in Sacramento.

The Wolfback Ridge site, generally located between Rodeo Avenue to the north and Spencer Avenue — Wolfback Ridge Road to the south, is all privately owned with the Gulf Oil Co., Frouge Corp., Sundial Broadcasting Co., Dean Witter Co. and Fitzsimmons and Lynch, private developers, the major property owners.

Card said the corps has obtained rights-of-entry from the property owners to conduct tests on the site and has also asked for access rights on the privately owned Wolfback Ridge Road because it is a more direct route to the site than the Alta Avenue-Rodeo Avenue route presently being used.

However, owners of the private road, Warren Glass, J.S. Erway and George B. Frankforter Jr., have refused to grant the corps access over the road.

Glass said the corps has issued orders to the contractors and its personnel not to use Wolfback Ridge Road. However, he believes the Army will condemn the road or its right-of-way use if the missile base is actually designated for Wolfback Ridge.

According to Glass, the missile base won't bother him or his family in the enjoyment of their property, their home or their view. "However, it will bother me if the Army uses our road because of the potential dangers in the use of the road by large numbers of people and equipment," Glass said.

"But, I don't know what we can do about it," he said. "The Army has made it clear they have the power to condemn anything they need to construct and operate the base and I am convinced the base will go on Wolfback Ridge."

Use of the private road has also been opposed by the Wolfback Ridge Property Owners Association, of which Glass is a member.

Announcement by the Army in June that it was considering locating a missile base in Marin County set off a wave of protests — particularly from city officials and conservationists who especially feared the establishment of the missile base on Angel Island, recently acquired from the federal government for use as a state park.

The Ccontroversial Sentinel missile system calls for location of a network of missile bases through out the United States to protect the population and Minutemen intercontinental missile bases against Chinese Communist nuclear capabilities projected through the 1970s.

Other West Coast Sentinel bases have been announced for Los Angeles and Seattle and bases are also planned for Hawaii, Alaska and Salt Lake City.

Novotny, Arceo Get Life Terms

John Arceo of Fairfax and Dennis C. Novotny of San Rafael were sentenced to life in prison today for the kicking and beating death a year ago of a 68-year-old San Rafael gun collector.

The pair, convicted last Wednesday of first degree murder, were sentenced by Judge Thomas F. Keating after prosecutor Joshua W. Thomas, a deputy district attorney, recommended against the death penalty.

NO PENALTY TRIAL

The trial had been scheduled to continue Dec. 9 with a penalty phase, but the district attorney and lawyers for Arceo and Novotny waived such a trial this morning and submitted the case to Judge Keating.

Thomas said his recommendation of life in prison for Arceo, 30, came in spite of the killer's extensive criminal record, dating from age 14, when he shot and killed his parents in Oakland.

Thomas read from a prison report which stated Arceo pleaded guilty to one count of second degree murder in Oakland's adult court at age 14 and was sentenced to the California Youth Authority. Later, he was transferred to state prison before release on the murder charge at age 21.

The prison record indicates a "history of abuse" of Arceo by his parents and states "his father abused him unmercifully," Thomas said.

On July 11, 1951, Arceo came to the Oakland Police Department and hysterically reported shooting his father and mother with a .22 rifle, Thomas said.

INCLUDED TERMS

Arceo, who was returned to prison several times for forgery, also pleaded guilty today to two charges of armed robbery — Nov. 27, 1967, at a Strawberry service station and Nov. 30, 1967, at Don's Market, Fairfax. Punishment for those offenses is included in the life sentence, Judge Keating said.

Thomas said he recommended life in prison because of the part Arceo played in the murder of Wesley L. Marshall.

Testimony at the murder trial showed that Arceo helped plan the robbery Dec. 6 which led to Marshall's death a month later. He did not participate directly in the theft of Marshall's gun collection nor in the beating, according to trial testimony.

Novotny, 23, helped administer the fatal beating, but does not have an extensive criminal record, thus should not go to the gas chamber, Thomas said.

Novotny also pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing stolen property, pending since his arrest on the murder charge. He is to be sentenced for that offense Dec. 30.

Thomas said Novotny's prior record consists of a juvenile conviction of attempted statutory rape and a conviction in adult court of possession of alcohol by a minor.

A third participant in the death-dealing robbery, Claude LeBas, pleaded guilty to the murder charge and is serving a life sentence.

He was spared the death sentence, though he administered the beating of Marshall, because of a clean criminal record and heroism while a Marine in Vietnam.

The American Geographical Society library of 160,000 volumes, 300,000 maps and 4,000 atlases and globes constitute the largest nongovernmental geographical collections in the Western Hemisphere.

merge instead with the Ross Valley Sanitary District, and the Local Agency Formation Commission recommended the merger with the Town of Corte Madera. Corte Madera officials contend the merger will bring an annual saving of about $9,000 to taxpayers.

The area of the district is 90 per cent within the town limits, officials said.

Trucks and buses accounted for 15 per cent of the urban travel and 24 per cent of the rural travel in 1967, says the National Automobile Club.

Firm Negotiating For Marin City Parcel To Build 100-Unit Motel

Negotiations came to light last night as usage of the commercial area in Marin City was discussed before the Marin City Redevelopment Agency.

Under discussion was a proposed agreement between the corporation and the Development Corporation of Marin City, a newly formed local group, on assignment of commercial land.

Attorneys for each group told directors the organizations had failed to reach a final agreement.

Richard M. Adams, representing the California Development Corp., wanted assurances that the agreement wouldn't preclude his firm from coming in with plans, such as the motel.

He said he wanted to know beforehand if there was to be a requirement that "any business be black owned and black operated." If so, Adams said, his firm should know before "we go further to attract something that might not fit."

Hugh G. Lawrence, representing the local corporation, said the proposed agreement says the community feels benefits should accrue to the community "and didn't carry any decision on the makeup of the community."

The California Development Corp. holds the rights for development on a nine-acre parcel of commercial land. The local corporation is seeking the rights for a commercial building on one acre as a start, an additional acre and a half for expansion and "if desired by the community" the rights to the entire parcel.

Lawrence declared that the Marin City group "has no desire for the California Development Corp. to abandon its development efforts, capital investments or interest in Marin City."

The Development Corporation of Marin City believes it can work with the California Development Corp. to the best interests of all residents of the community, he said.

Adams said the California Development Corp. wants to recover its full development expenses incurred thus far, $55,000 to $60,000 and wants assurance that the local group "is really a vehicle for the whole community."

Lawrence sought to have the California Development Corp. reimbursed a "reasonable value" of the costs incurred, and asserted that the local corporation has been set up to assure substantial local participation.

Directors advised the attorneys to resolve their differences and return at a later meeting for board action.

Adams said his firm wants to retain the right to offer proposals that wouldn't be competitive to the local group, but compatible with the overall plans. He said California Development Corp. isn't "trying to hold onto the commercial property," but wants to recover the $55,000 to $60,000 it has invested in it.

The purchase price for the commercial land would be negotiated by the local group and the redevelopment agency.

Chairman James O. Quiett appointed Philip S. Ehrlich, board member, to join him as the agency's representative at a coordinating committee session with representatives of the Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District to discuss the roles of the three groups in the planning of Marin City.

Directors also granted California Development Corp. a 30-day extension of its deadline of April 1, 1969, to take title to land owned by the agency for development of 77 housing units.

Adams said there was some debate among various segments of the community as to whether the proposed 77 low-cost apartment units would be the most desirable housing plan.

Change Stolen

Burglars took a small amount of loose change from the bedroom of the Elizabeth Martin residence, 74 Hillside Lane, between 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. Monday, Mill Valley police reported.

Ballot Study Asked For Housing

The Marin County Housing Authority last night called for a study leading to a ballot measure next April for additional low-rent housing projects for the elderly.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said there is a demand for such housing beyond the 200 units approved by the voters in November 1964.

There are 36 units in operation in Santa Venetia, 28 units scheduled to open in Homestead Valley next month, 40 units planned in Novato, 40 units planned in the Northgate area, Los Ranchitos, and 56 units proposed in the Corte Madera area.

Ehrlich recommended an election in conjunction with the county school board election in April.

Directors asked the staff, along with the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, to prepare a program, including the number of units, for consideration at its next session, Dec. 18.

Ehrlich said there is a need for housing for elderly in the cities, and that city councils could "proceed as their own housing authorities. We're not trying to extend the role of this housing authority."

Directors also voted to increase the minimum rent at elderly housing projects from $29 to $39 a month and increase the amount that tenants pay for rent from 22 per cent to 25 per cent of their income.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said the new rent scale would become effective at the Santa Venetia project in June, 1969, and at other projects as they opened.

Ehrlich explained that the rent covers the costs of operating the housing projects. Directors also decreased the deposits required at elderly housing projects from $50 to $25.

Directors agreed that the authority should investigate construction for projects which would be innovative and more economical.

Ehrlich pointed out that Supervisor William A. Gnoss yesterday suggested mobile homes, estimated to cost $8,000 to $10,000 a unit, as compared to the cost of the Santa Venetia project, $16,000 a unit counting the cost of land and building.

Directors voted against sending representatives to a coordinating committee session where representatives of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District will thrash out the roles of the three organizations in planning for Marin City.

Ehrlich said the housing authority isn't involved in planning and doesn't have a role "in allocation of responsibilities of the other agencies.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

EMPTY STORE — Postponed store space, vacated at Building C-64, by Gregory Baines, who setting procedure for leasing operated a Black Advance shop, and postponed discussion of the advisory role of the Marin City Community Services District in such matters because two directors, Herman J. Hale and James O. Quiett were absent.

TV ANTENNA — Heard a report from Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, that the community television antenna equipment is still being rehabilitated, but work is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

SCHOOL TROUBLE — Students, protesting an extended New York City school day order, trip and fall to the sidewalk as police chase them toward George Washington High School in upper Manhattan. The school was the scene of a "suspicious" fire yesterday which forced evacuation of the 5,000 student body. (AP Wirephoto)

N.Y. Police Patrolling Troubled School Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Beefed-up police patrols were assigned to key trouble spots today in an effort to curb the bands of students whose protests over longer school hours led to two days of demonstrations and vandalism.

Deputy Mayor Robert W. Sweet, acting on the orders of vacationing Mayor John V. Lindsay, announced the extra protection yesterday after the second day of protests resulted in 48 arrests and new disorders in subways around the city.

Meanwhile, the new state-appointed trustee running Brooklyn's embattled Ocean Hill-Brownsville District, announced tougher measures to prevent trouble in the district and said he hoped to reopen Junior High School 271 on Monday.

William D. Firman, the trustee, detailed steps to keep unauthorized persons out of JHS 271 and the other seven schools in the district and to restrict the influence of the district's suspended local governing board.

The state is running the experimentally decentralized Ocean Hill district under the agreement which ended the seven-week strike by the United Federation of Teachers against the 1.1-million-pupil public school system.

Yesterday a delegation of parents, pupils and others from Ocean Hill, sat in for four hours at the office of State Education Commissioner James E. Allen to protest his closing JHS 271.

Firman said that as trustee he would seek the cooperation of the community and union but added: "We are going to operate these schools."

Albert Shanker, president of the teacher's union, told a union meeting that "since extremists have resorted to guerrilla war tactics in recent student demonstrations, we must develop our own types of guerrilla war tactics to fight them."

He suggested one tactic would be for teachers to punch in at timeclocks and then stand by, refusing to teach until the students "cease and desist" from disruptions.

Early California Paintings To Go Under Auction Gavel

Twenty five oils and water colors by early California landscape painters will be auctioned, by the Marin County public administrator Saturday in the county courthouse in San Rafael.

The paintings, including some Percy Gray and Gideon J. Denny, were the collection of Edna Nahl of San Anselmo, who died in April 1967, according to Eugene R. Fontaine, assistant public administrator.

Mrs. Nahl, whose estate is in the care of the public administrator, was a member of a family which produced painters and sculptors since the mid-1600s, Fontaine said.

The member of her family best known in America was Charles Christian Nahl, a pioneer artist who painted gold rush scenes, Fontaine said.

Percy Gray, reportedly the most prominent painter represented at the auction, lived in San Anselmo and was a friend of the Nahl family, Fontaine said.

Also in the collection are several unsigned oil paintings of Yosemite scenes.

The paintings will go on display at 10 a.m. Saturday in Department Three of Marin Superior Court. The open bidding will begin after 11 a.m., Fontaine said.

Strike Cripples Madrid Campus

MADRID (AP) — Students of the University of Madrid turned today from demonstrating to striking to protest police and government actions. About 30,000 students appeared affected.

The strikes virtually closed down operation of the schools of politics and economics, philosophy and letters, architecture and sciences.

At the University of Barcelona, authorities closed three departments—politics and economics, industrial engineering and architecture.

The strikes protest the presence of police on campus, arrests of student activists, closing of schools and application of the law of banditry and terrorism to students' cases, which puts them before the military courts.

Committee To Study Coast Access

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County Supervisors yesterday formed a five-man ad hoc committee to investigate problems involving public access to state tidelands through private and public lands.

Named chairman of the committee was A. E. Galli, chairman of the county parks and recreation commission. Also named were Dr. Kenneth Stocking, biology professor at Sonoma State College; Dr. William Kortum, president of Citizens Organized to Acquire Access to State Tidelands; Joseph McClelland, director of the Sea Ranch development; and George Charles, president of the landowners organization.

Kortum and his organization had requested the formation of the committee when Proposition B providing access corridors to the coast failed on the Nov. 5 Sonoma County ballot.

The supervisors instructed the committee to explore access problems keeping in mind economics, ecology, law enforcement, maintenance and property rights. They also asked the committee to evaluate present and planned recreational uses of the coastline.

The committee was given 100 days to complete the task and must make a final report by March 23. The supervisors said interim reports may be given for public information or for further direction from the board.

Staff members from the county parks and recreation department, planning department and county counsel's office were directed to work with the committee.

Bomb Thrown Into University Office

MENLO PARK (AP) — A bomb was thrown into Mid-Peninsula Free University offices yesterday, causing minor damage but no injury.

Police Chief Vic Zizanckas said there was no witness.

No Definite Plans Yet For House In Park

Possible uses of the large frame house on the newly acquired Robson-Harrington Park property were mulled over at a second joint meeting last night of the San Anselmo City Council and Parks Recreation Commission, but no decisions were made.

Main topic was where a caretaker couple, if hired, could be quartered. Among proposals for such quarters were a portion of the nine-room second floor, the attic if remodeled or the nearby carriage house.

The group agreed with Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson that efforts should be made to have the first floor ready for use by April, and that planning should proceed without delay on installing fire sprinkler system and completing other work necessary to have the second story ready for use at a later date.

The council instructed City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel and Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works, to further investigate the apartment possibilities of the carriage house and the main house attic, and to present an estimate of the costs of conversion of these areas to living quarters.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

DINNER - DANCE — Unanimously approved a suggestion by Frank L. Quinn, parks and recreation director, that a dinner-dance be held in some public hall early next year to raise funds for development of the park property. Goal would be about $2,000 profit, said Quinn. Mayor Duane C. Ragan asked the commission to form a dinner-dance committee to make plans.

TOT LOTS — Studied, but took no action on a commission list of possible sites for tiny tots play areas. Robert England, recreation commissioner, said priority need for a lot is at Memorial Park, then Robson-Harrington Park, Yolandsdale area, and Brookside Court area, in that order. The council voted to set aside $1,742 profits from the last Fall Festival for development of a tiny tot lot at Memorial Park.

MEETING — Scheduled the next joint meeting for discussion on parks planning and maintenance for 8 p.m. on Jan. 7 at city hall.

Firemen Select Study Panelists

Marinwood volunteer firemen last night named Bert Bahlke and Howard Council to represent the association on the Marinwood Citizens Committee to study the joint use of parks and school facilities.

The association, headed by Irving L. Schwartz, discussed the possibility of again holding a firemen's ball to raise funds, but reached no decision.

Donald B. Stiver, vice president, said a fireman's ball was last held two years ago. The matter will be discussed again on Jan. 7.

Stiver said the volunteers, being the only full-time effective work force in Marinwood, want to engage in community service in addition to firefighting.

Hub Council Again Backs Plan For Sorich Park Regional Use

The San Anselmo City Council last night gave its yearly booster shot to a proposal that Sorich Park be made a part of a 380-acre regional park.

The council a year ago had approved the concept of San Rafael landscape architect and planning consultant William Louis Kapranos that the County of Marin, San Rafael and San Anselmo combine land for what he termed a Hub Regional park, and last night renewed that approval by a 3-1 vote during a joint session with the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission.

Council Woodrow V. Capurro voted against the idea, declaring that the 62-acre Sorich Park was purchased by the city for the primary purpose of providing San Anselmo residents with a park and he felt the plan should be followed.

Councilman Robert M. Scott abstained from voting, stating he hadn't yet formed an opinion.

Kapranos, originally engaged by the council to prepare a master plan for Sorich Park, appeared at the session last night to report that the plan could be completed within a few weeks. He added, however, that he would like an indication by the council if it still looks favorably on the regional plan, should one be possible.

Kapranos said San Rafael and the county would have near equal portions of land adjacent to Sorich Park and that federal funds could possibly be obtained to help finance the project.

Mayor Duane C. Ragan commented that a regional park may be best because of this possibility of outside funding.

On motion of Councilman James F. Reed, the council agreed to write the board of supervisors requesting that it consider placing the regional park matter on its county parks master plan, and to write the San Rafael City Council asking it to renew consideration of such a park.

Kapranos said the Hub council and other agencies had showed interest in the project, but subsequent "apathy and inertia" has halted planning. Sorich Park is located at the end of San Francisco Boulevard.

A News Year's Eve Set In Marinwood

A New Year's Eve party, open to the Marinwood community, will be sponsored by the Marinwood Association at the community center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

John Osborne, chairman of the annual event, said the Marinwood Recreation Department will help stage the party. There will be live music and refreshments.

Court Lighting Estimate Given

Lighting of the Fairfax tennis courts will probably cost less than the $2,500 estimated for the job, the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission learned last night.

Lou Vaccaro, chairman of the tennis playing volunteers who are installing the lights, wrote to the commission asking approval of an expenditure of about $1,300 in addition to the $860 already spent on the job.

The commission approved the request, noting that the lighting will probably cost less than originally estimated.

The commission also received a letter of resignation from Commissioner Edwin H. McGee, who said a conflict in meeting dates prevented him from serving any longer.

The vacancy will be filled by city council appointment, according to Mrs. Eleanora Edgar, secretary.

The highest mortality rate is for persons 109 years old and the lowest for those aged 10-11, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

Tossed Firebombs Damage San Jose State Buidings

SAN JOSE (AP) — Two firebombs were thrown on the campus of San Jose State College last night, causing moderate damage to the office of an engineering professor and burning some ivy on the Administration Building.

Two trash can fires were also discovered about the same time, one in the women's restroom on the first floor of the Science Building and the second in the Education Building.

Campus police said one firebomb was tossed through the office window of Hooper Williams, assistant professor of engineering, in the Engineering Building. His file cabinet was damaged and lighting fixtures in the office melted from the heat.

A custodian working in the building, Al Chaffe, told security officers he heard a "boom" and then saw a sheet of flames licking into the hallway from under the door.

Five minutes later, a second firebomb, apparently aimed at a window, missed its mark and smashed into a thick growth of ivy on the wall of Tower Hall. President Robert D. Clark and other administrators have offices in the building.

Witnesses told investigators two men were seen running from Tower Hall towards the campus library just after the firebomb was tossed.

Sausalito Staff Sets Yule Fete

Sausalito city employees will hold their ninth annual Christmas banquet at 7 p.m. Friday at Star of the Sea Church hall, 181 Harrison Avenue, and will present service awards to two long-time city employees.

To be honored are Fire Capt. Max Robertson and Ivan Hunt, public works equipment operator, each with 15 years service with the city.

Dancing will follow the dinner and awards. Norman Wohlschlaeger, city engineer and public works director, will be master of ceremonies.

Three employees of the United California Bank of Los Angeles suffered minor injuries when this 2,000-pound, 40-foot section of pipe slid six stories down a shaft through the bank's main floor office and into the lunchroom, embedding itself in a six-inch concrete floor. Workmen installing it in the bank's air conditioning system yesterday said clamps in the pipe slipped. (AP Wirephoto)

Clues To Family Sought In Mother Lode Mines

AUBURN (UPI) — Sheriff's deputies searched deserted mines of this old gold rush area today for two members of a San Mateo family missing since October.

William G. Nelson, who vanished mysteriously, was found earlier this week, but there has been no trace of his wife, Betty, 47, and son, David, 9.

Nelson, 56, an importer-exporter, was found hiding in the attic of his remote mountain cabin by deputies. He was taken to DeWitt State Hospital near Auburn.

"We're going up tomorrow to search the property and old mine shafts," detectives Lt. Arthur Ables said yesterday. "We searched some mines before, but we think there are some we missed."

Ables said Nelson's daughter, Mrs. Betty Dorman, 24, Redwood City, visited her father at the hospital yesterday, but said she learned no more about the whereabouts of her mother and brother than did deputies.

He said no charges have been filed against Nelson, who remained under observation at the hospital, but added that investigators had not ruled out the possibility Mrs. Nelson and David met with foul play.

Nelson told Ables he had not seen his wife or son in three weeks, but did not say where they were.

"We know where he's been, now we have to find out where they are," the detective said.

Ditched Jet Repairs Go More Quickly

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Japan Air Lines jet that belly landed in San Francisco bay Nov. 22 may be airborne again in less than the six

All 107 persons aboard escaped without injury. The 220,000-pound DC8 may also have escaped with less damage than officials first believed.

A spokesman for Japan Air Lines declined to predict a date when the huge plane would be flying again, but said yesterday "It now looks like less than the six months" originally predicted.

The jet is being repaired at the United Air Lines maintenance and engineering headquarters near San Francisco International Airport.

A United spokesman said many parts of the plane would have to be replaced, particularly those made of magnesium, which were corroded by salt water in the bay.

The spokesman said all four engines have been taken off and are being repaired. All the seats and flooring have been taken out and will be replaced along with "many miles" of electric cable, he said.

Drunken Driving

Arthur Cline Day, 36, of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael was fined $360 after pleading guilty to a drunken driving charge Monday in Southern Sonoma County Municipal Court in Petaluma. Day was arrested Sept. 7 by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 37 near Sonoma.

Chlorine Leak Quickly Halted

Marin Municipal Water District crews had a tense few minutes yesterday at the San Geronimo water treatment plant when a defective valve on a one-ton chlorine cylinder blew off and permitted the deadly gas to seep out.

James T. Farnkopf, senior engineer in charge of water quality control for the district, said the cylinder was being delivered by the supplier when the valve part blew.

He said "very minor amounts" of the gas escaped while repairs were being made, a procedure that took only a few minutes. No one was overcome by the gas, Farnkopf reported.

The Marin County Fire Department was called to assist the water district and stand by in case of emergency.

Muir Woods Not Hit By Parks Fiscal Pinch

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Cutbacks of services at national parks this winter will not affect the Bay Area's most popular park, Muir Woods National Monument, the National Park Service said yesterday.

Action by Congress in June, allowing federal agencies to fill only three out of four vacancies, forced the cutbacks at 23 of the 36 National Park Service areas in the seven-state Western Region, regional director John A. Rutter said.

Most of the cutbacks will be reductions from seven-day to five-day weeks for visitor and information centers, and snow plowing will be reduced in some mountain parks, said Rutter.

In many parks, overnight camping will be shut down for the entire winer, and in others it will be restricted.

Rutter said he hoped that all visitors services will resume on fulltime basis next summer.

Woman Pedestrian Hurt In Kentfield

Patricia Sendach, 20, of 1155 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead after she was hit by a pickup truck when she ran across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Sendach told the patrol she failed to see the truck, driven by Robert W. Graves, 48, of 26 Foss Avenue, San Anselmo, as she ran into the street near Toussin Avenue in Kentfield.

A tornado is born several thousand feet above the ground. Its spinning funnel may bounce along the ground leaving some areas unscathed in the path of destruction.

Novatans Stop Stolen Auto

A car stolen yesterday morning in Petaluma was recovered a short time later by Novato police.

The 1964 car, belonging to Clyde Gibby of 720 Mountain View Avenue, Petaluma, was reported stolen in an all points bulletin.

Sgt. Otto Haiungs spotted the car at Novato High School at 10:55 a.m., and with the help of Patrolman Albert Anderson, stopped it at the Nave shopping center on South Novato Boulevard after it failed to stop for a police siren and red light.

A 15-year-old San Francisco youth and a 16-year-old Petaluma youth were in the car. They said they had stolen another car in San Francisco and had driven to Petaluma, where they left that auto and took the Gibby vehicle, according to Novato police.

The boys and the Gibby car were turned over to Petaluma police.

Sommerhalder's Sonoma Trial Is Reset For Jan. 14

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The murder trial of Johnny Lee Sommerhalder scheduled to begin yesterday in Sonoma Superior Court has been reset for Jan. 14 at 10 a.m.

In a hearing yesterday requested jointly by Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland and defense attorney Lewis H. DeCastle, Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. agreed that the planned December trial would interfere with the holiday plans of jurors.

Sommerhalder, 25, is accused of shooting to death Charles Kaufmann, a Santa Rosa Junior College student, and kidnaping and raping Kaufmann's companion in Santa Rosa on Oct. 7, 1967.

He has pleaded innocent to the murder and rape charges and guilty to the kidnaping charge.

Sommerhalder was convicted in Marin Superior Court and sentenced to death for the murders of Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their Santa Venetia trailer home last winter.

Also on San Quentin's Death Row for his part in the Ackley murders is Kenneth Preston, 21, like Sommerhalder a Santa Rosan and a Grim Reaper. Preston was also sentenced to 1 to 15 years for kidnaping after pleading guilty in Sonoma Superior Court to that much of the Kaufmann affair.

Jack Brockman, 21, another member of the Grim Reapers, was convicted in Sonoma Superior Court of the Kaufmann murder on Sept. 11 and is still to be sentenced.

Recruited largely from the ranks of skilled construction workers, the first Seabees of World War II averaged 33 years lod. Marines on Guadalcanal quipped, "Never hit a Seabee, he might be some Marine's father."

Muir Beach Park Lawsuit Nearing Trial

The long awaited state condemnation suit to add the 15-acre Muir Beach to the state park system will come to trial in Marin Superior Court on Feb. 3, 1969, Supervisor Peter H. Behr reported yesterday.

About June, 1967, an anonymous woman donor offered $125,000 as a gift to the state to purchase Muir Beach, which was valued at the time at about $250,000.

Because of differences in various appraisals and failure to agree on a price, the case was taken to court, and a year and a half has gone by.

Behr announced happily that the case is now definitely set for trial in February and "Muir Beach will soon become a part of the state park." He said the anonymous gift is probably the largest single gift made in Marin.

Saucelito Canal Spoils May Be Piped To Tennessee Valley Shore

Spoils from dredging of Saucelito Canal may be pumped overland hydraulically to the ocean at Tennessee Valley, Marin County Board of Supervisors indicated yesterday.

However, they decided that exact costs should be nailed down on hydraulic pumping vs. barging out to sea before a decision is made.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked Public Works Director Donald R. Frost to confer with Supervisor Peter H. Behr, Supervisor-elect Michael Wornum, and Col. Frank C. Boerger of the Army Corps of Engineers to determine costs.

Behr said the cost estimates differ widely. For example, engineer Jesper C. Strandgaard of Corte Madera told the Mill Valley City Council on Monday night that 750,000 cubic yards of spoils can be pumped out to Tennessee Valley for $1 per cubic yard, whereas Colonel Boerger estimated $2 per cubic yard. If the supervisors barged out, County Public Works Director Frost gave a rough guess of $.75 per cubic yard, but Colonel Boerger estimated $1.13 per cubic yard.

Chairman Kettenhofen said it may be less costly to barge the spoils out to the Golden Gate and let the tide wash it out to sea.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

DIPSEA TRAIL — Voted a certificate of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Leonard of Los Altos, who donated a 10-foot wide strip of their land to bring the last mile and a half section of the trail near Stinson Beach into complete county ownership.

GRADING BID — Awarded a $9,232 contract to Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera to place and grade topsoil at the new Hall of Justice. The was the lowest of three.

PINHEIRO REZONING— Recommended to the county planning commission that the 400-acre Frank Pinheiro Ranch north of Novato be placed in a planned community instead of being rezoned at this time. The ranch, now zoned limited agricultural, was proposed for rezoning to minimum 20,000 square foot residential.

FLORES APARTMENT—Continued until Dec. 17 a hearing on plans for a seven-unit apartment on the Frank Flores property at the corner of Merrydale Road and San Pedro Road across Highway 101 from the Civic Center. Supervisors put off action because Supervisors John F. McInnis and Thomas T. Storer were absent.

TRAFFIC JAM—Heard an official explanation from Public Works Director Donald R. Frost on the Monday night traffic jam. The contractor left only one lane open instead of two, did not stop work at the required time of 3:30 p.m., and the state inspector did not check back.

MICROFILM — Awarded a $7,000 contract for microfilming legal records to Western Microfilm, second lowest of five bidders. County Purchasing Agent Douglas Edelen reported to supervisors the low bid of $4,589 by Remington Rand Office Systems "has been determined not responsive due to their omission of a segment of the bid specifications."

ORDINANCES — Set procedural amendments to subdivision and zoning ordinances for public hearing 1:45 p.m. Dec. 31.

REFUND — Refunded $7,060 ot Clear View Cable System Inc. of Beverly Hills. A check of the firm's unsecured valuation by the assessor's office reduced its valuation from $157,423 to $90,565 because the firm had included all its business costs in its valuation for 1968.

AUDITORIUM — Contracted with Abbot A. Hanks Inc. of San Francisco to inspect and test structrual welding on the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, at a cost not to exceed $2,500.

Apprenticeship Exams Announced

The North Bay Sheet Metal Workers Joint Apprenticeship Committee today announced a sheet metal apprenticeship examination will be held at 10 a.m. Jan. 4 at the Labor Administration Building, 331 Liberty Street, Petaluma.

Applicants for the examination must file by Jan. 3, have the equivalent of a high school education and be between the ages of 16 to 23, with the age limit extended to match time served in the Armed Services.

After the written test Jan. 4 there will be an appraisal interview of candidates at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 21 at the Labor Administration Building.

The top five applicants will be placed in the apprenticeship pool, the committee announced. Applicants can be obtained from the committee, 445 Nebraska Street, Vallejo.

Agnew Predicts Determined Push To Ease Racism

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew says Negro voters did little to help the election of President-elect Richard M. Nixon and himself but "that does not weaken our resolve" to ease racial tensions.

Agnew said in an interview the lack of Negro support "will heighten our effectiveness."

"What we do, we will do out of the certain conviction that it's right and not because of political obligation," he said.

Agnew was in San Francisco to meet with the National Governors' Conference's executive committee, from which newsmen were barred.

Board Protests State Rules For Tax Rebate

Marin Count superivisors yesterday vigorously protested a warning by the state Board of Equalization that counties will be liable for any erroneous property tax rebates under Proposition 1-a.

The proposition, passed by California voters in the Nov. 5 general election, entitles homeowners to a one-time $70 rebate on their 1968-69 property taxes and to annual $750 exemptions on property taxes in future years.

The equlaization board's position was termed "rather arrogant and intolerable" by Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. "They're trying to stick us with any bad results," he added.

Maloney also criticized state government for passing the measure off as "state tax relief" while leaving most of the actual work to county governments.

No action was taken on his recommendation that the county refuse to pay the state for any mistaken "non-negligent erroneous payments," but supervisors agreed to urge the County Supervisors Association of California to protest today to the board of equalization, which is hearing proposed rules on the rebate in Sacramento.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel estimated that 30,000 Marin homeowners will qualify for the rebates, for a total of $2.1 million.

He estimated that it will cost his office an additional $15,000 to process rebate applications, but said state reimbursement of 50 cents for each validated claim will cover this cost to the county.

Processing exemption claims for 1969-60, however, also will cost about $15,000, said Broemmel. He said there is to be no state reimbursement to the county for this cost.

The tax relief plan limits homeowners to a rebate, only on their principal domicile. It does not include homeowners who have claimed a veteran's exemption or received public assistance grants with an allowance for taxes.

All these requirements are beyond the checking ability of the assessor's office, said Broemmel, again raising the passibility that the state may find some erroneous payments.

For example, said Broemmel, a homeowner may claim rebates on dwellings in more than one county — but individual county assessors would have no way of checking this.

"It's a job of great magnitude," said Broemmel, noting that his office also will be undergoing remodeling while taking on the extra burden of processing applications for rebates an exemptions.

Urgency legislation early in the 1969 session of the Legislature could define who will be responsible for non-negligent errors in rebates, Broemmel suggested.

Applications will be mailed to homeowners in March, and will be due back at the assessor's office by April 15, Broemmel said. Checks to homeowners are to be mailed by June 1, according to the state controller's office.

Applications for rebates and exemptions will be mailed separately to Marin homeowners to prevent confusion between the two forms, Broemmel said.

County Officials Weigh Delaying Move For Fair

The annual Marin Art and Garden Fair, scheduled to move from Ross to the Civic Center after next year may be allowed to stay in Ross one additional year, County Administrator Alan Bruce told county supervisors yesterday.

Bruce said he based his hope on a conversation with the program administrator of the state Division of Fairs and Expositions, M. Ray Harrington.

Bruce told supervisors last month that the Civic Center fairgrounds probably would not be ready in time for the outdoor displays of the 1970 fair, and recommended that the fair be split that year. Performing and visual arts could be held in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium at the Civic Center, and outdoor exhibits held at the Art and Garden Center in Ross, he said.

Supervisors again declined yesterday to endorse his suggestion, instead referring the matter to the board of directors of Fair-Marin, which will be administering the new fairground.

Bruce reported that Harrington said holding the fair in Ross in 1970 "could be approveable," but that the state official said his division "Would not permit non-use of the auditorium for an indefinite period."

Bruce also said Harrington indicated he would not recommend splitting the fair between Ross and the Civic Center. However, Bruce added he did not feel Harrington's feeling was final.

The state has a say over where the fair is held because it allocates parimutuel funds for the annual event.

Marcelle McCoy, who runs the fair, asked the supervisors to make a decision by the end of January on where the 1970 fair will be held. The decision will affect "what we do at Ross this year," she said.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss, noting "it may be a tough job" to hold the entire fair at the Civic Center in 1970, suggested that even the 1971 fair may have to be held in Ross.

73rd Anniversary Another Farm Day

AVON, Ill. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher observe their 73rd wedding anniversary today much as they have earlier ones—tending the chickens and cows and doing the housework.

Fisher, 98, and his wife Myrtle, 91, were married Dec. 4, 1895. Since 1936 they have lived on a 98-acre farm near Avon operated by their grandson.

HOLIDAY DISPLAYS

Students Brightening Up Shopping Center

It will be an "old-fashioned Christmas" at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael this year, through a joint project of San Rafael High School students and the center's merchants association.

The students have been working for days, and some nights as late as 10 p.m., to produce traditional Christmas displays for some of the center's businesses.

They were scheduled to complete the work and put up the displays this week.

Arthur Ost, a Montecito merchant, said the idea developed during a meeting of the association, after members reported San Rafael High art instructor Charles Maurice mentioned he had some talented students.

Maurice favored the project because "it gives the merchants a chance to do something creative."

The association agreed to offer prizes of gift certificates redeemable at the center for the best displays and to pay for materials.

Students volunteered for the project and are not getting class credit, Maurice said. However, he pointed out they are getting valuable design and art experience.

Painting Contract Set

A $53,744 contract to paint the exteriors of some Capehart family housing units yesterday was awarded to Cal-Western Painting Co. Inc. of San Leandro by the base procurement office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

McCarthy Seeks Ideas For Bills

Almost 7,000 voters in the Fourth Senatorial District have been invited to propose bills for the 1969 Legislature by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

"Everyday you hear people say 'there ought to be a law'," said McCarthy of his written invitation mailed to his constituents.

The thousands of names were drawn from a list of constituents who have written to him in the past two years, said McCarthy.

He urged citizens to drop by his San Rafael office at 1299 Fourth Street to pick up forms to use for drawing up proposed legislation. They should be returned to him by March 15, said McCarthy.

No Action Is Taken On Waterfront Pier

The Tiburon Planning Commission took no action Monday on proposals to establish a building and pier line for waterfront properties along Mar East Street between Mar West Street and the Tiburon city limits after residents of the area voiced strong objections.

According to Development Administrator Phil V. Scott, commissioners asked residents to present their own proposals for the building and pier line on Jan. 6.

The commission studying a proposal by planning consultant George Gatter calling for the building and pier line to be established approximately 110 feet outboard of the street, Scott said. No piers or buildings would be allowed beyond the line.

Some property owners objected that the line would make their property too small to be buildable, Scott said. Others supported Gatter's proposal, saying their property would be adversely affected if other buildings were allowed to extend any further into the bay, Scott said.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Agreed to recommend that the city council rezone two acres owned by Fred G. Zelinsky, recently annexed from the city of Belvedere, to a planned district zone.

STUDY SESSION — Set a special study session for 8 p.m. Dec. 12 in city hall to consider the sign ordinance and feasiblity of the proposed downtown plan.

TRAILS PLAN — Set for a public hearing at 8 p.m. Jan. 6, proposed incorporation of the trails plan into the downtown plan.

LETTER — Referred to the city council a letter from Zelinsky objecting to the extension of Juanita Lane into Main Street as porposed in the downtown plan.

DOWNTOWN PLAN —Declined to consider a proposal to incorporate density and height bonuses for outstanding design into the downtown plan, when Scott reported that a motion directing the commission to consider the item did not receive a majority vote of the city council.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a lot split requested by Edward F. Dowd to divide into two lots property on an unnamed street off the 4100 block of Paradise Drive.

Marin Records 32 Strep Cases

Streptococcus infections continued to top the list of communicable diseases reported to the county health department last week.

A total of 32 cases, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer, included 10 in San Rafael, six in Mill Valley, five in San Anselmo, and the rest scattered throughout the county.

Four cases of infectious hepatitis, one of meningitis and one of mumps also were reported last week, Dr. Albrecht said.

Yacht, Five Aboard Still Are Missing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The schooner Altura and its five occupants remained missing today after a Coast Guard sighting turned out to be of the wrong boat.

The missing 47-foot vessel failed to arrive at Half Moon Bay on a scheduled trip from San Francisco Bay Sunday. Aboard were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kewell of Alameda, their two children, and crewmen Bob Borroto of Berkeley.

Community Band Concert Saturday

The College of Marin Community Band will present its first concert of the season at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the college's fine arts theater.

According to Director John H. Myers, the program will include "Proclamations" by Thom Ritter George, "Second Suite in F" by Gustav Holst, "The People's Choice" by Douglas Moore and other selections.

Italian Recipes From New Book

A special feature of the needlecraft sale the Mount Carmel Women's Club will sponsor Friday, Saturday and Sunday this week at the Mount Carmel School auditorium will be the sale of a cook book compiled as a memorial to the late Mrs. Louis Pastori.

Sale chairman Mrs. Charles Norton says the book consists of favorite recipes of Mrs. Pastori, who was famous for the Italian-French cooking she did for many occasions at the church.

Her daughter, Mrs. Carl Smith of Alto, tells how her mother, a native Californian and one of 16 children, was "a terrible cook" when Rosalie married Louis Pastori, who came from Milan, Italy.

"She used to cry because daddy couldn't eat her cooking," she recalls, "and daddy had to teach her. Then she made it her hobby and became especially famous for her potato salad and ravioli."

The Pastoris — he died in 1962 and she in 1967 — lived first in an ark on what is now the Belvedere lagoon and moved to Alto in 1935. Their two children are Mrs. Smith and Lawrence Pastori of San Francisco.

Especially appropriate for this time of year are two of Mrs. Pastori's favorite recipes, turkey stuffing that is similar to ravioli filling and panetone bread.

TURKEY STUFFING

1 lb. ground beef
2 lb. pork link sausage
2 cups drained and chopped cooked spinach or Swiss chard
1 large can pieces and stems of mushrooms
1 loaf bread or croutons
1 tsp. Italian herbs
Chopped parsley
2 large onions, chopped fine
¼ tsp. cinnamon
2 cloves garlic, minced
½ cup parmesan cheese
4 eggs
salt and pepper to taste

Cut sausage in small pieces and saute, add onions and brown lightly. Add ground meat and parsley, herbs and garlic. Saute. Add croutons and saute in the liquid. Add spinach or swiss chard. Cool, then add cheese and eggs. If too dry, add liquid from giblets broth. Mix well.

PANETONE CHRISTMAS BREAD

2 cups milk (scalded and cooled)

1 pkg. dry yeast or cake yeast dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water.

add 2 tsp. sugar

Combine milk and yeast mixture and add enough flour (1½ cups) to make sponge. Let set 1 hour in warm place. Keep blanket on sponge. Then cream:

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
3 level tsp. salt.
4 eggs

Beat — add to sponge, beat smooth and add enough flour (4 cups) to make medium soft dough. Knead smooth, but keep as soft as can be handled without sticking.

Let rise until doubled. Punch and let rise until doubled again in pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in hot oven, 450 degrees, for 15 minutes; then lower oven to 300 degrees.

Add raisins, fruit mix, pine nuts and chopped walnuts to the panetone. Bake for 30 minutes, more or less, at 350 degrees.

MAKING TWO of the late Mrs. Louis Pastori's favorite recipes which are included in the cook book compiled as a memorial to her by the Mount Carmel Women's Club are three members of the club. Mrs. Charles Norton (seated) is adding the raisins, fruit mix and nuts to the panetone bread. Mrs. Frank E. Bernard holds the turkey that she and Mrs. Alex O'Brien (holding bowl) have just stuffed with a dressing that is like ravioli filling.

MRS. WILLIAM Deaver sets up the scene of her Gingerbread Boys that are a specialty of the Cookie Carnival of the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, San Rafael Ward. Kathereen Maggio, 5, finds them a delight as she grins while chewing on one. The cookies can be hung on the Christmas tree and will keep through the holiday season, says Mrs. Deaver.

Gingerbread Boy Makes Fine Christmas Tree Trimming

Gingerbread boys to hang on the Christmas tree will reign as kings of the Cookie Carnival, which will be held for its 10th year by the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, San Rafael ward, at the church in Greenbrae.

The sale will be conducted Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mrs. William Deaver, the first chairman of the carnival, who makes all the boys from her recipe below, estimates that she has made some 4.000 boys for sale in the past 10 years. This year there will be three different sizes of decorated gingerbread houses. These will be for sale along with cookies made with butter, many from pioneer Mormon recipes. Snowballs, Thumbprints, Date Nut Bars, Anise, Greek, Chocolate Macaroons, Decorated Sugar Cookies and Brownies will be among the cookies for sale. There will also be an assortment of fruit and nut breads, applesauce cakes, stollens and homemade bread and rolls and candy

Hand made articles by the members of the Relief Society will be for sale in the boutique. There will be a continuous cartoon program for the children. Lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Leon Hunsaker, president of the Relief Society, is the hostess. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Gene Palsson and Mrs. Richard Berger, assisted by Mesdames Edwin Caldwell, James Dunford, Walter Bjerkie, Ed Gilchrist, Dean Keller, Conrad Reinhardt, Deaver, William Norment, Gerald Gerber, Pep Cooney, Seymour Murray, Jeanne Duffin, William Christopherson, Frank Clark, Edward Nimer and Capitola Kimball.

The recipe for Mrs. William Deaver's Gingerbread Boys:

GINGERBREAD BOYS

⅓ cup soft butter
1 cup dark brown sugar
Cream together and add,
1½ cups of dark molasses
Beat in,
1 egg
¼ cup milk, beaten together,
Sift together and add,
7 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon allspice
2 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
Stir in,
2 teaspoons soda dissolved in
3 tablespoons water

Thoroughly chill dough. Roll out small amount of dough at a time ⅛ inch thick. Keep remainder chilled until ready to use. Cut with gingerbread boy cutter dipped in flour for each cookie cut. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet well spaced. Bake at 350° for 12 to 15 minutes. 4 to 5 dozen.

Decorate Gingerbread Boys with:

ROYAL ICING

1¼ pounds sifted powdered sugar
½ cups eggs white
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Beat egg whites stiff and dry. Sift cream of tartar with powdered sugar and gradually add to egg whites as you continue beating. Beat until it stands in peaks and is smooth. Tint as desired. Decorate with a pastry tube. This icing hardens.

Puffed Rice Trees for place cards or table decorations:

PUFFED RICE TREES

⅔ cup white corn syrup
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon peppermint flavor
1 teaspoon green color

Cook these ingredients to the fine thread stage, Remove from heat and stir in 4 cups puffed rice. Grease hands and shape into small trees. Insert with toothpicks into large green gumdrops. Decorate with red hots, silver or colored shots.

Stollen Is The Traditional Bread For German Yuletide Kaffeeklatsch

At Christmas time, the German haus frau spends as much time, or more, on the afternoon coffee table as she does on the elaborate tree. In the land where the kaffeeklatsch was born, yuletide entertaining means coffee and plates piled high with homebaked cakes, cookies and breads.

Although many Stollen recipes require several rollings and risings, this simplified version has the same old-fashioned yeast texture and flavor with considerably less time-consuming fussing.

OLD TIME STOLLEN

¾ cup milk
1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
3 cups enriched flour (approx.), divided
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
6 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 egg yolks
1 cup mixed, diced candied fruits
¾ cup golden raisins
¼ cup whole glace cherries
¼ cup slivered or sliced blanched almonds

Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to lukewarm milk. Sift 1½ cups flour with salt; stir in. Cover. Let rise in warm place until doubled. Cream butter to consistency of mayonnaise. Add sugar gradually, while creaming. Add lemon peel. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine egg mixture with raised dough. Stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Add fruits and almonds. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas into circle about 10 inches in diameter. Fold over once, into traditional pocketbook shape. Place on greased baking sheet. Cover. Let rise until doubled. Bake at 350° until golden brown, about 35 to 40 minutes. Brush surface with a little melted butter. Cool on rack. When completely cooled, dust with confectioners' (powdered) sugar or frost and decorate as desired.

VOLUNTEER BUREAU OF MARIN
SUMMER-1968
CRUSADE AGENC
454-1639

MRS. ROBERT MAULT spends much of her time on the telephone. She is head of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin's Christmas Exchange Program. Jan and four other Marin women staff the phones at the Volunteer Bureau daily finding and filling needs for many people during the Christmas season.

A Clearing House For Christmas Needs

"How often do you stop to consider what the real needs in Marin County are?", asks Mrs. Robert Mault, head of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin's Christmas Exchange Program.

"I don't believe I ever did until I became involved with the Christmas Exchange three years ago. Needs in Marin County are what the Christmas Exchange is all about. Researching these needs and finding the means of filling them concern those of us working on the program for the good part of each year."

The exchange is a telephone information and referral service operating during the Christmas season to inform potential donors of the need that most closely fits what they have to give and then to implement its getting there.

"Of course, many people call simply for ideas of what to give. We then work out together what is best for both sides," says Jan Mault.

The special telephone line began operating this week. It will continue until Christmas with five trained volunteers staffing the phone from nine to five, five days a week. These volunteers are Mesdames Walter Foster of Corte Madera, Richard Foster of Greenbrae, Bruce Mack of Ignacio, John Stephenson of Lucas Valley and Mrs. Mault.

The volunteers work with card files listing specific requests for help as well as offers of help. They begin researching needs in the fall by contacting a cross section of agencies and institutions by letter, phone or interview. Those that know of the service contact them. Volunteers learn the needs of individuals and families through the Welfare Department and their case workers. Aid is also directed toward the handicapped, both children and adults.

There are basically three types of needs: 1) material things such as new clothes, new toys and food; 2) cash, either in the form of merchandise or food orders or to purchase specific equipment; 3) services, such as visiting shut-ins, caroling in rest homes, providing a decorated Christmas tree and so on.

"We've learned a lot in the last three years," comments Mrs. Mault. "For one thing, we've discovered that our most pressing need is for cash and this presents problems. Let's face it, most people who are moved to share their own Christmas spirit don't think in terms of giving something so impersonal as money. But to the family whose children need new shoes, the money to go out and buy them is the only thing that can fill this need.

"We've also learned that it just isn't feasible for us to handle used clothing and toys. Before these things can be given they need to be cleaned and refurbished, and we haven't the staff or equipment to do this sort of thing.

"On the more positive side, we've watched individuals and groups who offer to be visitors or entertain shut-ins at Christmas develop relationships that become on-going and rewarding to both sides on a year-'round basis.

"In the last three years, along with discovering the many needs in Marin County, we've discovered an equally large number of warm-hearted people who want to give constructively. Our job is to bring these two elements together and we're hoping to do this even more effectively this year than in the past.

"If you have the desire to fill a real need for someone else this Christmas, call the Christmas Exchange number and let us tell you what is needed, where it is needed, and how to get it there," Mrs. Mault said.

Mothers Wear School Jumpers

The tiny woman who wants to look like her uniform-clad school-age daughter can this spring. The nation's pace-setting designers have adapted school jumpers — complete with white blouse and four-in-hand tie — for the new fashion season. Some of these for women are in flannel. For evening, the look features crepe or satin blouses with velvet jumper.

HELPING WORLD'S CHILDREN

Foster Parents Director Sees More And More Need

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria C. Matthews is a cheerful woman, but her eyes have looked upon more tragedy and squalor and hopelessness than kindly sentimentalists could bear.

"You have to overcome personal involvement," she says, knowing even as she says it that personal involvement is always there just below the layer of impartial practicality that people in her business have to cultivate if they're to be of any help at all.

She is executive director of Foster Parents Plan, Inc., a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization that provides for needy children and their families, which she joined 27 years ago.

"MY FIRST FIELD trip was in postwar Europe and it really staggered me," she recalls.

Actually, she's still staggered "as I go around year after year and it seems there are more and more families in need all the time.

"It can be discouraging. But I know there has been success, too."

So far the Plan has helped rehabilitate 110,000 children of 30 nationalities. Right now it is caring for more than 50,000 children in the countries where it is operating — Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Vietnam, Brazil, Columbia, Ecuador and Peru.

"The children are either going to elementary school or are graduates, and they're healthy, and that's a small dent. A small dent!" she says with pride.

MISS MATTHEWS, back from a six-weeks tour of four South American offices, sits in her office at the Plan's international headquarters in New York and through the glass partition she can look out into the warehouse where the last of thousands of packages from Foster Parents are being processed for shipment to their children for Christmas.

In Brazil, where the Plan started operating in September, 1967, the plight of women in the very poor areas is sad indeed. The average woman, from her 14th year to about her 35th, "will have 10 live births, 10 abortions, and after all this she will lose five of her living babies," says Miss Matthews.

In South America, most of the Plan families live in the areas of cities that the government is refilling — over swamps, garbage dumps. There are no playgrounds or even streets to play ball in; there is usually no electricity and water is brought once a day by a truck that dumps it into big troughs.

SAYS MISS MATTHEWS:

"The Plan says every child aged 6 to 12 goes to school, but it's easier said than done. Primary school is free, but the child needs uniforms and shoes for school.

"Say that there are three youngsters in a family that needs help. As the oldest gets to be 10 or 12, his parents say he's old enough to go out to work. The social worker then has to talk his parents into letting him stay in school. It's fighting tradition.

"The kids don't have decent places to study. A family will eat, sleep, do everything, in one room. And who can help them study? The mother has had one year of primary school the father maybe two.

"WHEN A FAMILY comes in to our office the mother rarely can write, but she stands proudly while little Juan painstakingly signs."

The toughest part of her job, she says, is turning families down.

"There are so many that meet our criteria. In each country there are more than a thousand families pending. When we get to that point we close applications. It's worse to give mothers hope when there isn't any."

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Reception Given For Couple From Bangkok

By MOLLY MARIN

An unusual event Sunday evening was a reception given by Altheya Youngman at her home in Sausalito in observance of World Community Sunday and honoring Watana Keovimol and Plearnchai Nildhamirz, both of Bangkok.

It was also the hostess' birthday, and the young Thai couple announced their engagement and forthcoming marriage on Dec. 22 at Mrs. Youngman's home.

Mrs. Youngman met Watana when she attended the World Constitution Convention last summer and fall at Interlaken, Switzerland, and Wolfach, Germany. A graduate student at Sacramento State College, he was attending as president of the Institute of World Affairs and was the youngest delegate (23) at the convention.

They found they had so much in common that they established an "adopted mother-son" friendship.

Plearnchai was second place winner as Miss Thailand in the last Miss World contest and is so well trained in classical Thai dancing that she has performed for the King and Queen of Thailand and danced for the reception at the opening of the general assembly of the United Nations.

The young people had known each other in Bangkok.

After Mrs. Youngman showed films taken at the World Constitution Convention, Plearnchai danced in costume for the guests.

MRS. DONALD Fowler of Mill Valley has received news of the birth of the third child of her son, Stephen Fowler, and his wife, in Sebastopol.

The baby, who was born on Nov. 21 in Santa Rosa Hospital, has two sisters, Grace, 5, and Sarah, 3 He has been named Gabriel Bradford Fowler.

TRAVELING on a tour of New Zealand with a group from the Pacific Coast Chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society is Mrs. Genevieve Longley of Kentfield.

THE COMMODORE'S annual awards and gin fizz breakfast for the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club will be held at 10:30 a.m., Dec. 15 at the community center at Bel Marin Keys. Anthony Ricci is the commodore.

Mrs. Benjamin Kump is chairman and will be assisted by Mesdames Stanley Rakeman, Frederick Morrell, Robert Hamilton and Ricci.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES Sullivan of the Marin Country Club Estates honored Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert F. Close of Montvale, N.J., at a dinner Friday. Dr. Close was formerly the pastor of Portalhurst Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

He is now executive secretary of the Executive and Field Service Commission of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States in New York City.

Delaying Birth Of Baby May Cause Brain Damage

By BRIAN SULLIVAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The practice of trying to hold back a birth until the doctor gets to the delivery room can produce asphyxia and a child with brain damage a psychologist warns.

Dr. William F. Windle said asphyxia at birth seems to be part of the reason for the high infant mortality rate in the United States, produces children with cerebral palsy, is part of the reason for the number of mentally retarded and certainly accounts for some of those with reduced intelligence.

Windle warns that some cases of asphyxia at birth are the result of ignorance among medical personnel and that some medical schools have neglected the subject of fetal physiology.

"We hear," he says, "of obstetrical practices that predispose to asphyxia."

One of these, Windle says, is the practice of delivery room personnel to very often use towel packs or have the mother walk around, to hold back a precipitous delivery until the obstetrician arrives.

"This is the best way I know to produce asphyxia," he says, "and doom that child to a life of cerebral palsy or mental retardation."

He recently received a $10,000 basic medical research prize as a winner of the 1968 Albert Lasker Research Award.

"I am making a plea," he says, "that we restore some of this (physiology of birth) to the curriculum. It is essential that we teach physicians, nurses and the public what we know about it."

Other reasons for asphyxia at birth, he gives, include the misuse of drugs. The mother can tolerate drugs that will depress the ability of the fetus to breathe.

In experiments with rhesus monkeys, Windle says, he and his associates have found that some who are subjected to asphyxia show symptoms of palsy at first, then in time "recover," without any special therapy.

"They become nice, quiet, gentle, docile, unemotional monkeys," he says. But they are retarded and have undetectable brain damage. If this is true for humans, these persons "certainly must fall into the category of our people with reduced intelligence quotients."

The monkeys, Windle says, show brain damage at autopsy. What apparently happens is that the damage knocks out certain nerve centers, causing other centers connected to them to overreact.

The overreaction to stimuli produces uncontrolled impulses to the brain, bizarre activity and random movement. In time, the secondary centers atrophy and the activity subsides, but there is less brain working.

If humans are affected like the rhesus monkeys, according to Windle, and he has no reason to believe they do not, then any infant who requires resuscitation at birth will have some structural brain damage regardless of whether it shows or not.

Daniel McFadden, Angela De Leeuw Married In Sausalito Ceremony

Angela De Leeuw and Daniel McFadden, both of Sausalito, were married on Nov. 23 in a 2 p.m. ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Sausalito.

Bridesmaids were the daughters of the bridegroom by a previous marriage, Kerry Ann and Danielle McFadden. Best man was Raymond Squires of Gardnerville.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL McFADDEN

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolaas De Leeuw of Amsterdam, Holland, was given in marriage by her mother.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Sausalito Woman's Club. The couple will live in Sausalito and plan an around the world trip in January.

The bride was educated in Holland and is employed as a stewardess for Pan American World Airways. She is the sister of Nicol, Els and Rob De Leeuw of Amsterdam.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. John Joseph McFadden of Lake Tahoe and the late Mr. McFadden, was graduated from high school in Maywood, Ill., and from the City College of Riverside. He is employed as a salesman with Donovan Hershey Company in Oakland.

He is the brother of Michael and John McFadden of Lake Tahoe and Mrs. Raymond Squires of Gardnerville.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Father's Cleanliness Is First, Helen Tells 'Frozen Out'

DEAR HELEN:

Cleanliness is next to Godliness, fine! But my daughter must think she's Miss God.

She gest out of a full, hot tub and gets under a hot shower "to rinse off." When she finishes with the bathroom, the taps run cold and so does my blood. This happens morning and night, so the only time I get a hot shower is when I don't especially want it — early Saturday morning when she sleeps late.

My wife read this and said I am exaggerating. You see, Helen? What man has a chance in a family of women? — FROZEN OUT

DEAR FROZEN:

A mouse shivers. A lion roars. You pay for the hot water, so tell your daughter her cleanliness is next — after yours. — H.

DEAR HEL5N:

A suggestion to "Tired of Gossip." The best way to shut up a neighborhood pest is via a hidden tape recorder. Casually mention cooperative neighbors' names to her until enough gossip has been taped. Later invite all victims in for coffee, together with the gossiper. Play the recording, without comment. — EMMETT

DEAR EMMETT:

I wouldn't have the nerve. But oh, what a perfect squelch! — H.

Chapel In San Anselmo Setting For Robert Heffelfinger Rite

Robert Beard Heffelfinger of Fairfax wed Suzanne Crowell Nov. 27 in Stewart Memorial Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Crowell of San Anselmo are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bacci of Ukiah.

Diane Allegra of Tiburon was maid of honor. The bride's sister, Mrs. Norma Wright of Fairfax, Mrs. Rose Dixon of San Rafael and Mrs. Arlene Atwood of Fairfax were bridesmaids.

Best man was Warren Atwood of Fairfax. James McClure of Forest Knolls, David McClure of San Anselmo and Dale Alstrom of Fairfax ushered.

Suzanne is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. She is employed by Cagwin and Dorward Landscape Contractors in San Rafael. The bride is the sister of Robert L. Crowell of San Anselmo.

Robert was graduated from high school in Ukiah, attended Santa Rosa Junior College and is employed by Pacific Telephone Company in San Francisco. Mrs. Bernice McClure of Larkspur is his grandmother.

The couple will live in Fairfax.

Christmas Emphasizes Gifts Of Prepacked Fancy Foods

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—A famous Fifth Avenue fashion shop put in a line of prepacked fancy food gifts this Christmas for the first time.

Another prestigious Fifth Avenue store included a page of recipes in its Christmas catalog.

The editor of Specialty Foods Magazine, a trade publication, says more and more supermarkets are establishing fancy food departments, and there's a growing awareness of such foods on the part of consumers.

A New York store chain known for its bargain prices anticipates big holiday sales in gourmet food deparments in its Manhattan and Queens stores and two suburban branches.

What does this mean? Delicacies no longer are just for the carriage trade, say industry spokesmen.

Importer - distributor Walter M. Levi, president of the 90-year-old Cresca Co., Inc., said in an interview:

Supermarkets and discount stores feature specialty food sections with prices within many budgets. A 14-ounce can of French home style pork pate sells for about $1.50; a 4½-ounce can of imported rainbow trout in lemon sauce is about 55 cents. Some items such as Japanese smoked oysters sell in such volume that they're becoming grocery staples, Levi added.

Gerald Leibowitz, gourmet food buyer for Alexander's department stores, said their biggest selling foods at Christmas include fruitcake, cheeses, lebkuchen (spicy German cookies), candies and Australian glace fruit. On a year round basis, other popular items include both sweetened and unsweetened biscuits, crackers and cookies, smoked oysters and clams and desserts such as baba au rhum and brandied fruit.

Levi said $50 food-filled wicker hampers still are sold, but the most popular gift items in his company's line are delicacies packed in reusable containers in the $2 to $6 price range.

ON THE AGENDA

Styles For The Youngsters On Parade For Tom Thumb Chapter

A children's fashion show will be held by the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society on Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Pepperwood Restaurant in San Anselmo. Titled "The Cherub Parade," the show will feature children of the members modeling styles for youngsters.

Mesdames James Brainerd and Harold Strouss, general chairman, are reservations chairmen. Other committee members for the day are Mesdames Robert McGrath, awards; Louis Lombardi, decorations; Richard Macintosh, models; and Donald Smith, publicity.

PETER PAN, another Marin chapter of the Children's Home Society, will hold its Christmas party tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson in Los Ranchitos, San Rafael. Mrs. Brian Williams, a case worker in the Children's Home Society office in San Francisco, will speak on her experiences locally and with the Veterans Administration Hospital in St. Louis where she was a medical social worker. Mrs. Williams is a Washington University graduate and rceived a masters degree in social work from St. Louis University.

TEA AND entertainment will be the program for the B'nai B'rith Women Marin Chapter 266 tomorrow at 1 p.m. The program will be held at the Terra Linda Recreation Center as a benefit for "Operation Stork," to aid in prenatal care needs of disadvantaged women. Members will bring new or used layette items or maternity clothes to the meeting.

THE ANNUAL fund-raising party of the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. at American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo. The public party will include dancing to band music, a silent auction and buffet supper. Boutique items for Christmas will be offered for sale. Chairmen for the party are Mesdames Jean Corr, of Greenbrae, Janet Bullard of Fairfax and Taffy Donery of San Anselmo.

Tickets for the benefit party to purchase equipment for the school will be available at door.

AN OLD FASHIONED Christmas dinner dance will be held by the St. Vincent's Women's Auxiliary at St. Vincent's School for Boys in San Rafael on Saturday. The evening will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m., followed by dinner at 9 o'clock and dancing to orchestra music. The school's choir will sing during the evening.

A WINE AND cheese tasting feast held at a Greenbrae home Sunday evening netted $120 to help the secretarial school for blacks, which is held twice weekly at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Stewart N. Boxer of Greenbrae, who was in charge of the event, said a crowd of more than 100 turned out for the feast, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Marvin at 330 Via La Paz, Greenbrae.

Mrs. Boxer, coordinator of the county's Education Corps, said most of the profits went to pay for transportation for the 20 girls who attend classes at San Domenico on Tuesday and Thursday nights. On Wednesday nights, the girls attend a grooming course at the Marin City Presbyterian Church.

The Education Corps is a group of Marin women volunteers who helped Horace White, youth coordinator for the Marin Human Rights Commission, set up the secretarial school for blacks in October.

A BOOTH displaying hunting and fishing equipment and tools of all kinds for men will be a new feature of the traditional Christmas bazaar, sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist Church, San Rafael. The event will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the church fellowship hall.

In addition to the new men's booth, planned by the church's United Methodist Men, other booths will offer handmade gifts and needlework, candy, bakery goods, white elephants and a silent auction.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the morning. From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. a salad-nut bread luncheon will be featured. Hot wassail and pastries will be available during the afternoon. Then from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. the men's group will serve dinner.

During the late afternoon and evening the junior high school group will conduct a game room for youngsters. Baby sitting will be available all day.

Pear Coupe

Holiday Brightened With Floral Accents

Non-ordinary containers can provide an unusual touch of fancy to holiday arrangements. The trick, according to designers, is to use plastic bags as a waterproof liner for the chosen vessel.

Suitable items, not shown, include decorative cardboard boxes, straw hats, go-anywhere lamp shades, straw baskets (wine basket, bread basket, sewing or waste basket) and anything the designer might adapt.

San Rafael Students To Present 'Tartuffe'

San Rafael High School students will present "Tartuffe," a 17th Century drama by Moliere, at 8 p.m. Saturday in the school auditorium.

Tartuffe will be played by David Kirschner. Other students in the cast are Holly Vernon, Derek Taylor, Leslie Corston, Greg Shore, Cindy Prescott, Michael Allen, Frances Coulter, Sheri Friedman, Charles Langlais, Frank Riggs and Collette Savage.

Eleanor B. Gaustad is the director, with Mandy Paulson as student director. Other students working on the play are David Apple, stage manager and set director; Kathy Brown, technical-artistic director; Debbie Dixon, costume designer, assisted by Patti Shoenstein and Kathy Steffens, and the advanced drama class as the crew for sets, lighting, props and audio.

Stars Are Signed

NEW YORK (AP) — Shirley MacLaine has been signed to star with Clint Estwood in Universal Pictures' "Two Mules for Sister Sara," an original story by Albert Maltz, set in Mexico in the 1870s. Don Siegel will direct the film, which begins shooting in mid-January.

Salinas Drugs Raid Nabs 16

SALINAS (AP) — A raid here yesterday resulted in 16 arrests, 14 of them for sale of marijuana and other drugs.

One person was arrested for being in a place where narcotics were used, another for possession of a drug. The 16 ranged in age from 17 to 23 years.

Taking part in the raid were Salinas police, state narcotics agents, and men from the Monterey County district attorney's and sheriff's offices.

Barron Directing Napa Production Of 'Little Sheba'

The drama of an alcoholic and his drab wife by William Inge will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 p.m., and again Dec. 13 and 14 and Jan. 10 and 11.

Barron has directed in Marin for Ross Valley Players and Terra Linda Players and in Vallejo for the MIRA Theater Guild where he will stage "The Odd Couple" for production in April 1969.

Lion's Share Benefit Set In Fairfax

A marathon 10-hour benefit concert to help re-establish Sausalito's Lion's Share restaurant and entertainment center will be held Sunday in the Fairfax Pavilion.

The Lion's Share, which presented folk and folk-rock entertainment since 1966, was closed by extensive fire damage Nov. 20, the day after a city permit was won to continue operation until next July.

Performers in Sunday's 2 p.m. to midnight concert will include Gale Garnett and the Gentle Reign, John Stewart and Buffy Ford, Ramblin' Jack Elliott, Michael Hunt, Gil Turner, Eddie Brown and the Brown Bag, Dan Hicks and his Hot Licks, Rejoice, Jeffrey Cain Stevens, Erik Frandsen and Michael and Debbie Heintz.

Lion's Share owner Michael Considine and his family lost an estimated $10,000 worth of personal belongings in the fire. Firemen reported lesser damage to the restaurant equipment in the $40,000 fire.

Tickets will be available at the pavilion.

Ancient Egyptians used starch as a sizer and an adhesive as far back as 3500 B.C.

Ray Bethers Sets Exhibit

Ray Bethers, Marin painter and author, will exhibit oil paintings at Center Medical Hospital, Kentfield, from 2 to 4 p.m., Dec. 15.

A former resident of England, Bethers has been at the hospital since June, undergoing rehabilitation therapy. He is a former member of the San Francisco Art Association.

The entire exhibit has been painted since Bethers became a patient at the hospital. All paintings are based on sketches he made several years ago in France.

Session On Hill Road Is Tomorrow

A public meeting will be held tomorrow to discuss the proposed route of Hill Road past Rancho School. The meeting will be in school multipurpose room, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was called by a newly organized group, Concerned Citizens for Freeway Development, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Robert Rice.

Clifford Temms, Novato acting public works director and a representative of the staff of the Novato Unified School District will attend, she said.

Parents of Rancho School students have become alarmed at the proposed extension of Hill Road to South Novato Boulevard which might cut through the Rancho School site, she said. The area between Hill Junior High School, Rancho School and the Nave Shopping Center where the road will connect, has been proposed for a subdivision.

SEABEE SERVICE — Builder Constructionman Douglas H. Sullivan, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. W. Sullivan, 84 Monterey Avenue, San Anselmo, is serving with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 121 in South Vietnam.

ASSIGNED — Sp/4 Kenneth C. Brock, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Brock, 39 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to the Army's Third Infantry Division near Wurzburg, Germany, as a radio relay operator.

HONORED — Sgt. Carlton A. Eshelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. Eshelman of San Quentin, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge for his participation in infantry operations with the Phu Loi, Vietnam, patrol force where he is stationed.

Nativity Scene Work Is Slated

Work will start tomorrow on the Nativity scene in Novato, according to Leroy Winters, chairman of the committee installing the scene for the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

The tree and fencing will be put up tomorrow on the east side of Highway 101 north of the new Denny's restaurant. The scene is scheduled for completion on Sunday, Winters said.

So far this year, the chamber has received only $12 toward the $500 annual expense of the Nativity scene, according to chamber secretary Billie Garl.

Last year $740 was donated, so there is some money left over to help finance it this year, Winters said.

Marinwood Center Busy For Holidays

Young people will bring homemade decorations for the Christmas tree, donated by the Marinwood Church of the Covenant, to this affair.

Other holiday dates and events are:

Dec. 18 at 12:30 p.m. — The third annual roast turkey buffet sponsored by the Marinwood "Funsters."

Dec. 21 at 10:30 a.m. — A party and puppet show for children 10 years and under in age.

Dec. 21 at 1 p.m. — The Marin County Recreation for the Handicapped party.

Dec. 22 at 1:15 p.m. — Young people will meet for the trip to College of Marin to attend the "Nutcracker Suite" performance by the Marin Civic Ballet. Reservations must be made.

Dec. 27 at 1 p.m. — Skaters will meet for a trip to San Rafael's Roller Land for a roller skating party.

Hamilton Units Sponsor Cadets

The 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron is sponsoring the Third Cadet Squadron and the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron is sponsoring the 20th Cadet Squadron.

The program is designed to bring the cadets and Air Force officers together to give the cadets an insight into the jobs held by officers in the Air Force. Nearly all cadet squadrons at the academy are sponsored by regular Air Force units.

Refrigerator, TV Among Stolen Items

Seven burglaries in the county's unincorporated areas were reported yesterday by Marin sheriff's deputies. They were:

Theft of a television, refrigerator, bedding and clothing from Doris J. Larkins' home at 43 Oxford Drive, Santa Venetia, over the weekend.

Theft of records, a phonograph and a clock, from David E. Gibbs' home at 10 Martling Court, Sleepy Hollow, on Sunday.

Santa To Help

Minority Student Funds Sought

Robert Ritter, San Rafael engineer, yesterday said he has been working to raise private funds for providing scholarships for minority youths to attend San Francisco State College.

Since Friday night, Ritter said, he has collected $790 through 14 pledges raised in his telephone campaign. The San Francisco State Foundation will govern the scholarships.

Ritter said his effort followed up a letter he sent Nov. 27 to acting college president S. I. Hayakawa expressing interest in some effort to help accelerate aid to minority students.

Sausalito's Kreins Resigns For East Bay Police Office

Sausalito Police Chief Edward S. Kreins will resign next month to become police administrator of Pleasant Hill in Contra Costa County, City Mgr. George M. Patterson announced to the city council last night.

Kreins said Pleasant Hill is just forming its own police department after contracting with the sheriff's office for police service since incorporating in 1961. He said he would be in charge of recruiting and setting up the department, which will start operating July 1, 1970, and will also help design the police station yet to be built.

"I had to think it over a lot," Kreins said, "but it's a once-in-a-lifetime chance." He said he was also told the city of 30,000 would send him to police schools such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy for special training.

EDWARD S. KREINS
New job

Kreins came to Sausalito as chief on July 11, 1966, and during his tenure cut department turnover to near zero with intensive testing and screening of applicants and reorganization of the department.

His most noted innovation was initiating inservice psychiatric training for the department, a program which has drawn national attention. Sausalito is the only city in the nation with such a program.

Policemen hold private and group sessions with psychiatrist Edward E. Shev, who also conducts pre-hiring psychiatric interviews and continuing post-hiring evaluation of the men.

Kreins reported last summer that arrests had doubled while crime rates in most categories had declined since he took over the department.

Kreins came to Sausalito after 10 years with the Hayward Police Department, where he was sergeant in charge of training.

Officials Resigned To Logging Plans

More than $350,000 worth of timber will be cut from the Bolinas Ridge facing Point Reyes National Seashore within the next three years, according to a logging deal recorded with County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini.

Deeds recorded two weeks ago show that lumber interests from Coos Bay, Ore., have purchased logging rights on the 1,800-acre ranch of Dr. Ethel Righetti of Castro Valley. She owns forest land on the Bolinas Ridge near Five Brooks, between Olema and Bolinas, across Shoreline Highway from the Seashore.

Logging rights, which will end on Oct. 31, 1971, were purchased by George E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Jerald R. Humbert, who gave their address as Box 851, Coos Bay.

Melton Ferris, chairman of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, said his first reaction is "one of alarm and concern." But he admitted he does not know what the county can do about it.

"The property rights are there and demand respect, but in the sense of long range planning, our hopes of running a parkway all along the ridges may be seriously hurt. From a recreational viewpoint, I view this with alarm in terms of preserving the scenic values."

County supervisors heard about the proposed timber cutting yesterday but agreed that nothing much can be done.

"Dr. Righetti is a friend of mine, and she was going to let me know before any timber cutting is allowed," lamented Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he too heard of it for the first time yesterday. "If the figures shown — the $350,000 — are accurate, the likelihood that the county would be able to act, short of some significant private contributions, is remote."

In January this year, rumors flew that a Point Arena lumber firm was negotiating for timber rights on the Righetti property. However, nothing more was heard about timbering on Bolinas Ridge until yesterday.

Biology Laboratory Equipment Stolen

Biology laboratory equipment was stolen from the McDowell Elementary School, 441 South McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, over the weekend, police reported yesterday.

Police said a small window was broken in Room 8 to gain entry. School officials said the stolen equipment included dissecting kits, burners and microscopes.

Drama Coach Voted For Hub Schools

The San Anselmo School District board last night named Barbara Lehman, a language teacher at Red Hill School, to give extra drama instruction at the school after regular class hours for the rest of the school year.

She will be paid a total of $203.

The San Anselmo School District Board also:

MEETING — Scheduled a meeting of the board and interested citizens for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 11 in the Red Hill School library to discuss means of financing building needs.

GRANTS — Received confirmation of a $73,000 federal grant to the district and the Kentfield and the Dixie school districts for diagnostic services from the child center in Kentfield. The grant is for a project which started Nov. 14 and will end Aug. 31.

REPORTS — Heard reports from Patrick O'Donnell, director of instruction, on team help for children doing poorly in class and on the district kindergarten program.

Early man believed that if he drew a likeness of game animals he would possess their souls and thus control them.

S.F. STATE PROJECT

A Concerned Parent Begins Fund Appeal

An appeal to parents of San Francisco State College students to donate to scholarship funds for underprivileged students there was issued today by a San Rafael father of a student at the college. (Other San Francisco State College stories, page 1.)

Robert P. Ritter, an electrical and mechanical consulting engineer, got into the fund-raising business unexpectedly after he wrote the new president of the college last Wednesday, asking if there was anything a parent could do to help the embattled campus.

On Friday, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa's assistant, James Dotson, telephoned Ritter and told him there was "a desperate need" for scholarship funds, and that anything Ritter could do would be appreciated.

Ritter said today he expected his letter "would end up in the circular file," and was quite surprised to get Dotson's call.

Ritter immediately began telephoning other parents, and by last night raised pledges totaling $790. Ritter stressed that he has no objection to pledges from persons who have no children at the college.

He is accepting only pledges, he said, which then are forwarded to Hayakawa's office for handling. About 70 per cent of parents telephoned have pledged donations, he estimated.

He also is handing out blue arm bands, the symbol of protest against the militants who have tried to close the college. The motto of the arm band campaign is "tie one on for Hayakawa-san," said Ritter.

Ritter said pledges may be made to either his home address, 916 Del Ganado Road, or his office, 1539 Fourth Street, both San Rafael.

Indiana ranks third in the United States in steel production.

Trustees Set Controversial Film Showing

A special showing of the controversial KQED "Time of Your Life" series was scheduled last night by the Fairfax School District board as a prelude to a district decision on future use of the film.

The complete series of 15 films will be shown from 8 to 10 p.m. Jan. 8, 9 and 20 at White Hill School, Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, district superintendent, reported.

A meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 22 at Manor School to discuss whether the film should be used in classrooms for the rest of the year, Dr. Hammond said.

The Fairfax district used the film last year, but questions and protests at the end of the year prompted the district to drop it for the first semester this year.

In addition, a faculty committee will study the district's family life program in an attempt to spell out more clearly what is involved in the course.

The committee will report to the school board on Jan. 7 and to the Parent-Teacher Association Jan. 15, Dr. Hammond said.

The Fairfax School District Board also:

POLICE — Authorized the administration to hold informal monthly meetings with the juvenile officers of the police department to discuss common problems.

CURRICULUM — Heard reports on art, music and foreign language programs and agreed to seek expansion of the Marin Museum Assn. art program in the district which furnishes trained volunteers as teachers.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION — Agreed to ask the county committee on school district organization to consider a two-three-way split it is studying. Dr. Hammond said a three-way split would be a disadvantage to the Fairfax area becaues of the low tax base.

BOND ISSUES — Agreed to urge legislators to work to change the two-thirds majority vote requirement for general obligation bond issues.

Trident Wins Approval To Cover Deck Area

Despite objections by Councilman Jan Paul Dyk, the Sausalito City Council last night voted 4-1 to allow the Trident restaurant to cover 35 per cent of its deck area and thereby enclose 30 seats now outdoors.

Dyk objected the change would mean more intense use of a building already non-ocnforming and would set a dangerous precedent.

Applicant Peter Wells said if necessary the Trident would give up its night club operation to get the extra enclosed space. The Trident is losing money during the winter, Wells said, and the extra indoor seats are needed to increase capacity during cold or rainy weather. The enclosure will not increase the total seating at the bayfront restaurant.

Wells said the Trident has decided to minimize its night club activities and concentrate on the restaurant side of the business.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

MARINA VISTA — Approved a request by developers of Ma-Bayside School to build one-family houses on lots first planned for duplexes in the planned unit development. Thecouncil vetoed a request to allow chimneys in the subdivision to rise six feet above the 32-foot height limit. Instead, chimneys may rise four feet if the Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory board approves. Charles Spivak, president of Empire Construction Co., the developer, said the chimneys were conceived by architects Wurster, Bernardi and Simmons to add a touch of European charm to the development.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a request by Marin Freeholders to split a lot at 2650 Bridgeway into lots of approximately 17,000 and 74,000 square feet.

SIGN — Postponed action on an encroachment permit sought by Sam Zakessian for a projecting sign at 1615 Bridgeway until a sketch of the sign is presented.

PARKING — Approved a request to allow joint use of 20 parking spaces at the Hurricane Gulch Shopping Center so a proposed Mexican restaurant will have use of 12 spaces from 5 p.m. to closing.

NO PARKING — Approved publishing an ordinance repealing an old ordinance banning parking on all city streets between 2 and 6 a.m. The only enforcement had been near the Sausalito Woman's Club where three signs were posted banning the wee-hours parking.

NO EXIT — Received a letter from Elizabeth Terwilliger of Mill Valley, complaining there is no route between Mill Valley and Sausalito legally accessible to pedestrians or bicyclists, and asking the city to seek a legal change in state highway department rules limiting access to Highways 1 and 101.

TESTS — Was told by City Mgr. George M. Patterson that oral tests will be given Friday for a librarian and next Wednesday for a city planner.

WORKSHOP — Appointed Mrs. Robin Sweeny to attend a Dec. 16 workshop at Marin Civic Center with other Marin officials and representatives of state and federal legislators representing Marin, to review local requests for legislation.

LIBRARY — Was asked by the Friends of the Sausalito Library to talk less and do more to obtain a library site, and were told by Patterson that he had been unable yet to get Northwestern Pacific Railroad to negotiate on its Caledonia Street depot property, one of four sites proposed for the new library.

CITY MANAGER — Raised Patterson's salary $50 a month effective Dec. 1, bringing his annual salary to $16,500. Mayor Earl F. Dunphy said the raise was in recognition of Patterson's performance as manager.

Lighting Designs On Agenda For Fairfax

The Fairfax Design Review Board will discuss the design of fixtures to be used in an underground street lighting project on Bolinas Road at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Also on the agenda is a report on a photo montage made of the city by the board's chairman, architect Norman T. Gilroy.

15 Begin Course For Training As A Secretary

A low-cost pilot project secretarial school held its first class last night in Marin City's Manzanita Center with 15 women taking shorthand and typing instruction from two teachers.

The course was set up by the Marin City Target Area Board after several months planning in response to community requests. It is designed primarily for Marin City women who have children and have been out of the job market for a time, according to Reba Mason of the target area office.

The class will meet twice a week for six months. Only cost to the target area board, Mrs. Mason said, was purchase of typing tables. The typewriters were contributed, and teachers Margaret Hardy of Mill Valley and Barbara Barrett of San Rafael volunteered their services. The class supervisor, Alma McKinney, is also serving without pay.

If the pilot program is a success, the target area board will seek War on Poverty funds to make it permanent, Mrs. Mason said.

Chamber Backs Library Merger

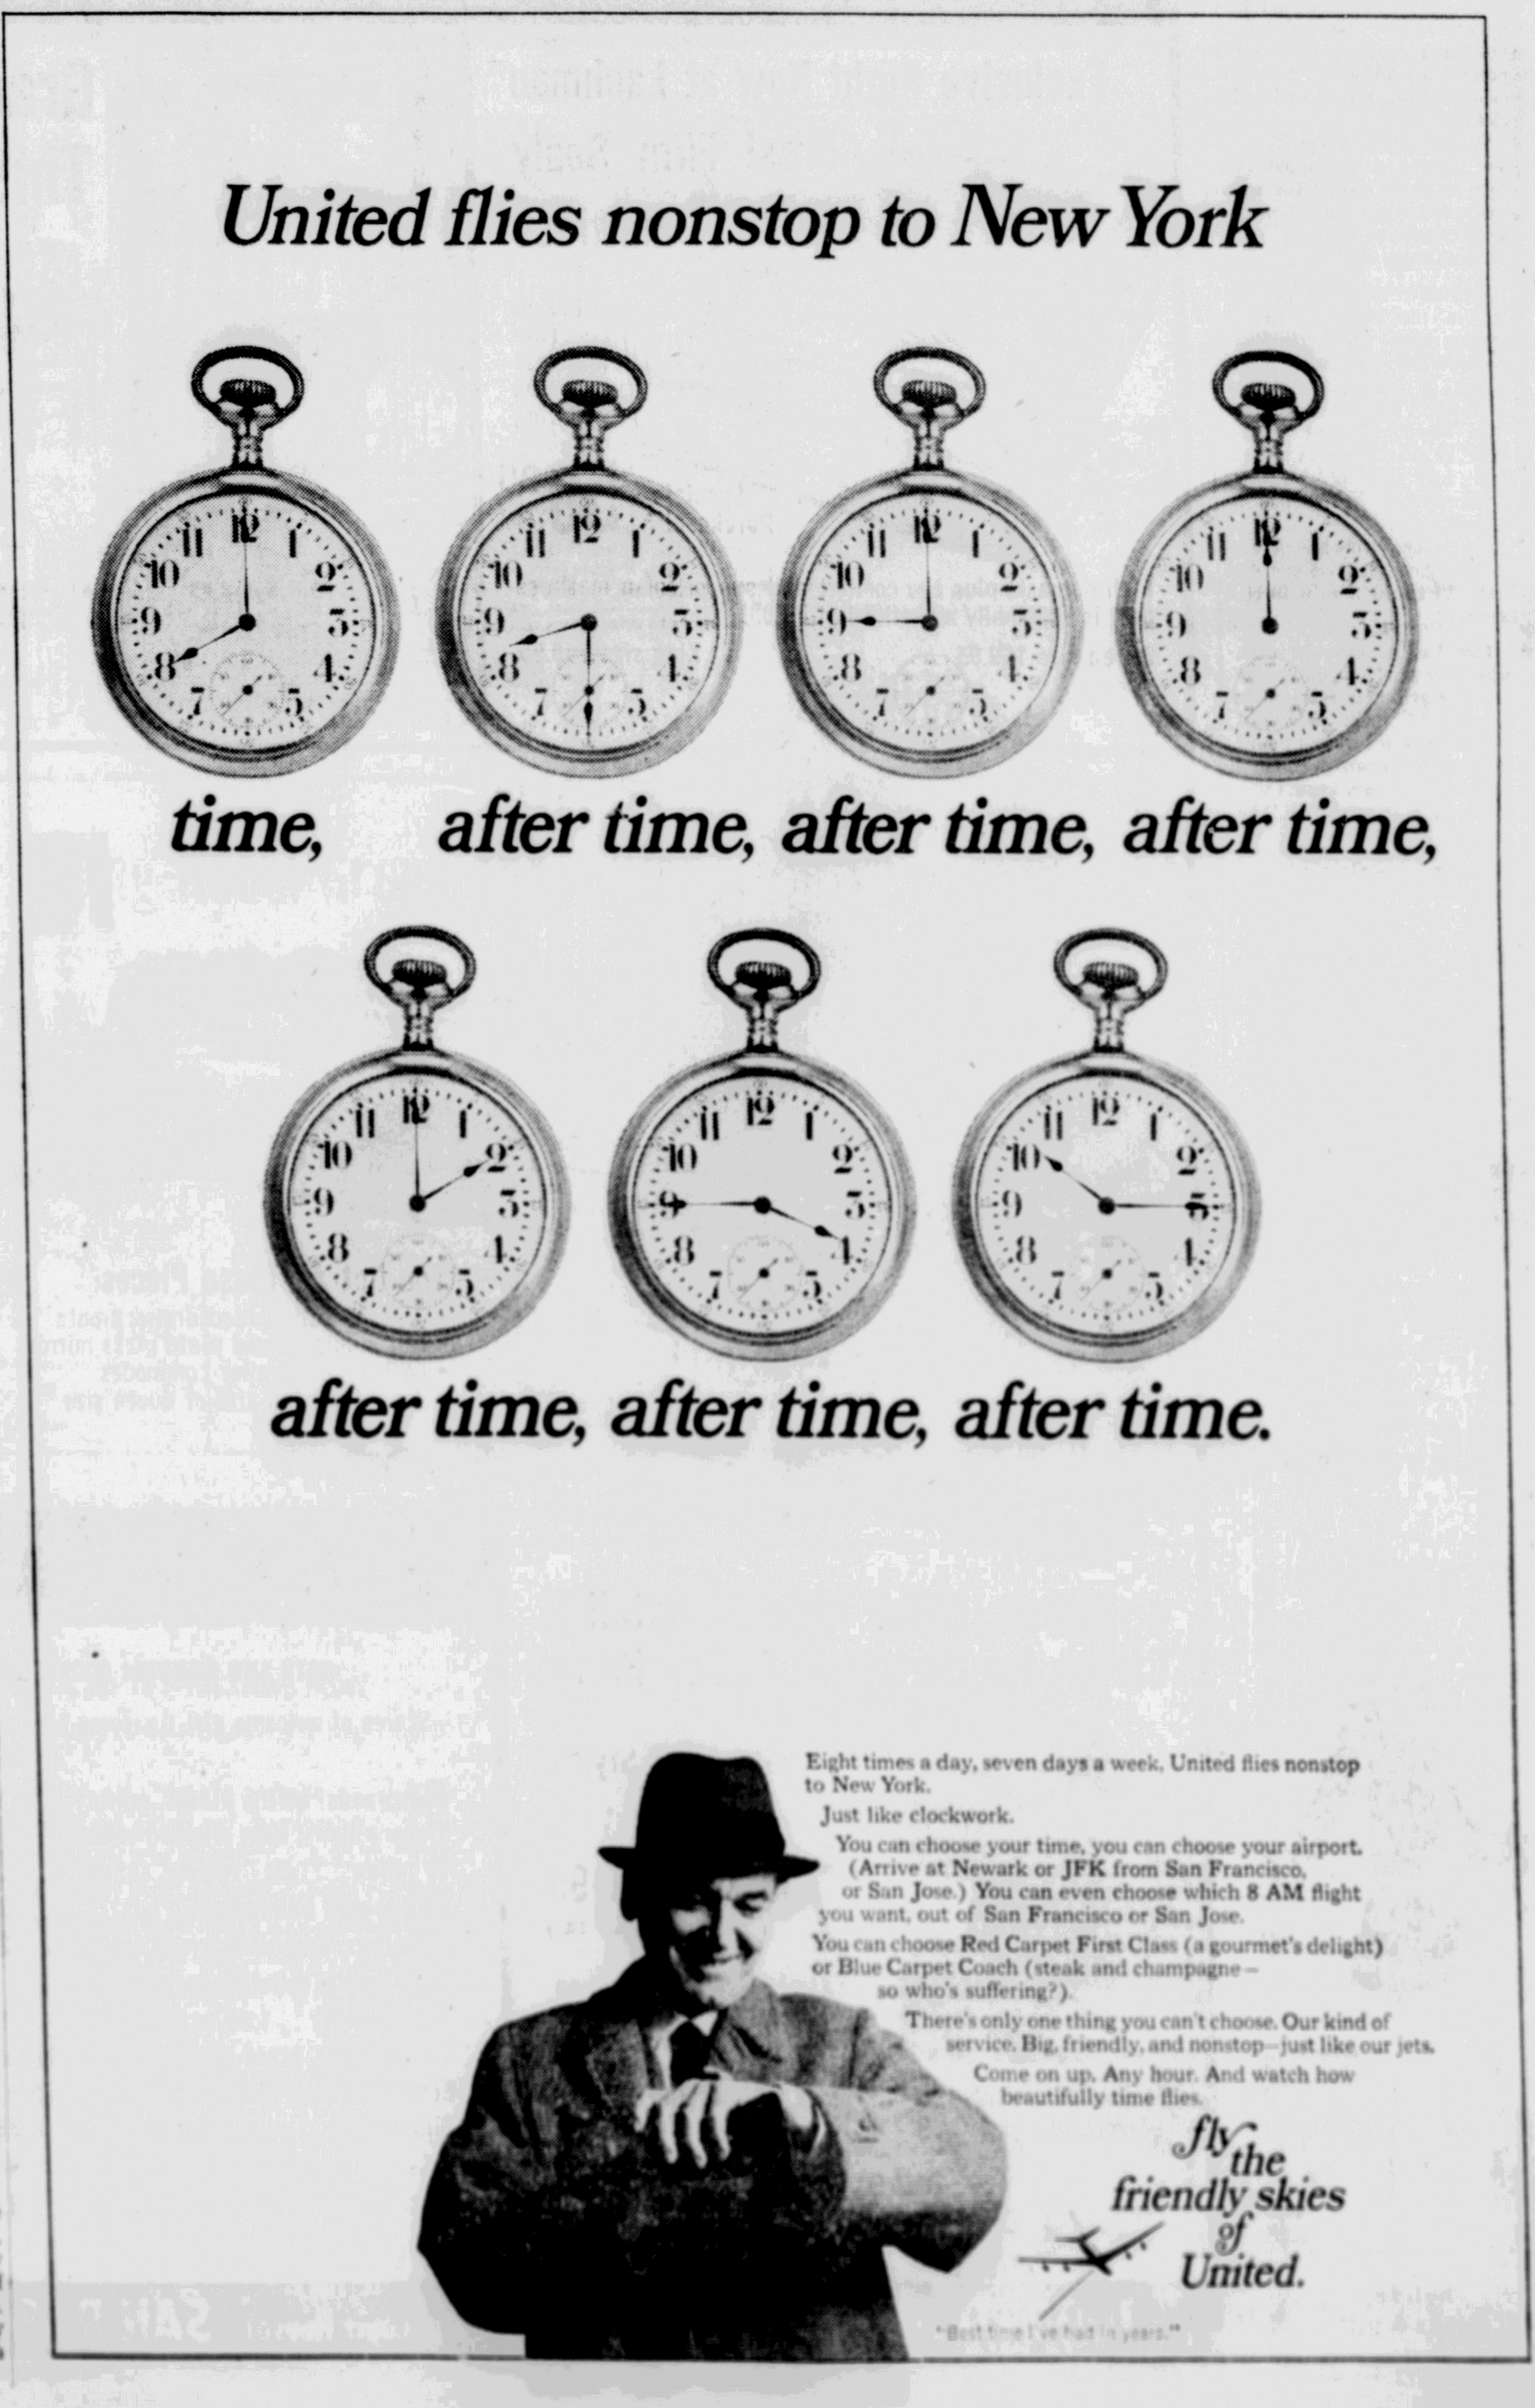
The proposed merger of the Petaluma Library with the Sonoma County Library system has won support from Petaluma Chamber of Commerce directors.

Meeting at noon Monday, directors said they felt the merger would improve library services in the city. Some directors, in voting against the merger, said they were not against the entire plan, but had further questions to ask.

Library trustees and city council will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Kenilworth recreation building to explain the merger and answer questions from residents.

Session Tonight

The adjourned meeting of the Novato Planning Commission, which was not held Monday night because of a lack of quorum, will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House, according to Juanita Gibson, secretary.



United flies nonstop to New York

Marin Flier Recalls Days In Red Prison

The flier was guarded in his description of interrogations by his captors, saying only that he was questioned at length.

Major Low, who wears five rows of medals including three Distinguished Flying Cross decorations and four Air Medals which he earned during the Korean War, told of being shot down over North Vietnam on Dec. 16, 1967.

"I was flying an F-4 Phantom at about 10,000 to 12,000 feet when I was hit," he said. He and his copilot tried to pull the plane out of a spin but gave up at 3,000 feet and pulled the mechanism which automatically ejected them from the plane.

"I've never bailed out of a plane before and never hope to again," laughed the major. Although he had no broken bones, he was cut and banged up when he landed — right in the middle of a combat area.

He was captured immediately, he said, as was his fellow crewman, whom he has not seen since.

"They stripped my clothes off me and took away everything I had with me," Major Low continued. His captors left him clad only in undershirt and shorts and even took his wedding ring off his finger.

"I asked for the ring back when I was released and they gave it to me," he said, but he never regained any of his other possessions including a watch, bolo knife and pen as well as his clothes.

"I wore that undershirt for four months until it rotted," the flier smilingly said. "The nylon shorts lasted the whole time — I went in wearing them and came out with them on."

Primitive conditions prevailed in the "two or three" camps where the North Vietnamese kept Low, and, in addition to lack of sanitation facilities, he minded most "the boredom." Part of the time he was alone in a cell and for part of his imprisonment period he had a roommate.

"There are probably several hundred American prisoners in North Vietnam, mostly fliers," Low said.

Low has no idea, he said, why he was chosen to be one of three prisoners released in August. "I think they just reached into a bag and pulled me out," he theorized. "I don't know whether they knew I was a Korean War ace or not," he added.

Low's release along with two other fliers was announced merely as a "humanitarian" gesture by the North Vietnamese, who turned the men over to a group from the American Friends Service Committee, an antiwar group.

The "peace people," as Low described them, included Mrs. Anne Scheer, of Oakland, a former Marinite who is the wife of an editor of Ramparts magazine.

The AFSC members met the fliers in Hanoi and accompanied them to Vientiane, capital of Laos, where they all took a commercial plane to New York.

His feeling of "having missed a whole year" was described by Low. "Everything in this country had moved so fast in the year I was gone and I knew nothing of what had happened. Since I came back I have done a lot of reading of news magazines and so on to catch up on what had happened."

Since arriving in New York in August, the flier has spent time in a hospital, where he was pronounced in good shape except for malnutrition which has since been remedied, was given a lengthy leave and has spent a great deal of time in Washington "in conferences."

Low requested to be stationed at Hamilton so he could be near his father, Paul V. Low of Sausalito, and his mother, Mrs. Lucille Hanson, who lives in Nevada. He and his wife, Sylvia, have moved to San Rafael.

After 18 years in the Air Force as well as two in the Navy during World War II, what are Low's plans for the future?

He said he is undecided as to whether to take an early retirement, which he could do because he has been a prisoner of war, or whether to continue as a career officer.

"If I leave the Air Force, I think I'd like to go into public relations work," he concluded.

Human Relations Council Accepted

The Coordinating Council of Dixie Parent Clubs has voted to accept the new Human Relations Council of the Dixie School District as a sub-group, it was reported today.

The new group will have one representative on the coordinating council, the parents club agreed in its vote Nov. 25. The Human Relations Council was formed in October to combat instances of racial name calling and harrassment and intimidation of minority families by parents, teachers and children.

Plans for a districtwide spring forum on human relations will be considered at the coordinating council's next meeting, Jan. 6.

Marin's One-Man Fire Stations On Way Out

Like the proverbial one-room schools, the county fire department's one-man substations are on their way out, Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom predicted today.

He said protection for Bayside Acres can be provided from Lucas Valley substation at the county hospital and farm and the Santa Venetia substation at the service station across the street from the Civic Center.

Bloom said he sought to close the Bayside Acres substation largely because the fire season had ended and housing was not available for the fire warden and the barn rent was too high.

CHICAGO (AP) — "Americans paid an average of $310 in taxes to state and local governments in fiscal 1967—a jump of $20 per person from the previous period," according to Commerce Clearing House.

Sausalito Champ 20th In Bridge Tournament

CORONADO (AP) — John Solodar of New York City and Henry Bethe of Madison, Wis., won the life masters men's pairs title last night at the American Contract Bridge League's fall national championships.

Solodar, 28, a management consultant, and Bethe, a 24-year-old history lecturer, never lower than third place in the four-round event, scored 847½ points to win by 7½ points over Dan Pearson of Berkeley and John Swanson of Los Angeles.

Paul Pender of Sausalito and Harlow Lewis of Philadelphia—defending champions in the life masters men's pairs and leading the competition as the final round opened yesterday—finished 20th with 702½ points.

The life masters women's pairs championship went to Rhoda Walsh, Bel Air, and Dorothy Talmage, Denver, Colo., who scored 814 points to defeat Mary Jane Farell, Beverly Hills and Katherine Blanchard, Los Angeles, who totaled 796 points.

Other leading scorers in the men's events were Paul Soloway of Los Angeles and Richard Walsh, husband of the women's pairs winner, who scored 835; Richard Freeman, Atlanta, and Clifford Russell, Miami Beach, Fla., 823½, and G. Robert Mail and Dan Morse, both of Houston, 815½.

Transit Station Funds Allocated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's redevelopment agency has authorized issuance of $15 million in tax allocation bonds for construction of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station at Davis and Market streets.

The bonds are to be backed by future property tax income from the Golden Gateway renewal area, which will be served by the station.

Scrooge In Post Office, And Six-Cent Lobby

Today we'd like to get in our six cents' worth on a couple of matters.

Why six cents?

In the first place, because the Post Office Department has announced that this year it will cost six cents to mail a Christmas card, regardless of whether the envelope is sealed or unsealed.

This strikes us as another example of the absolute genius of the federal government — and particularly the Post Office Department — for annoying the public with picayune regulations.

AS FAR BACK as we know anything about, Christmas cards in unsealed envelopes have gone as third class mail, i.e., printed matter. On most of them, only the name is handwritten. Doubtless there are quite a few occasions when the sender cheats a little by writing a brief message on the card, but that has been overlooked — in the spirit of Christmas, as it were.

This year, however, the Post Office Department has decreed that all cards must bear first class postage, even when they are completely printed, without even a hand-written signature, and whether or not the envelope is sealed.

Far from being the Christmas spirit, this looks to us like a piece of petty discrimination, and about as far from the Christmas spirit as anyone could get.

Direct-mail advertisements of all sorts, most of which we don't want, continue to travel for a nickel — or less, in the case of bulk "junk" mailings. Printed letters begging for funds are delivered for a nickel. Advertisements for pornographic books, which we certainly don't want, are delivered for a nickel.

But the Christmas card — that small, warm message of cheer from friends with whom we've sometimes lost touch for a whole year — that must be penalized and pay six cents!

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson, your name is Scrooge! Pre-Christmas ghosts Scrooge!

THE OTHER SIX CENTS worth we have in mind might help to correct such nonsense as the six-cent Christmas card postage.

Katz, writing in the December issue of Reader's Digest, urges voters not to "retire from politics" after election day.

They should make their views known by writing their representatives, in state houses and in Washington, he urges. And, contrary to what some people think, their letters may get results.

Most legislators will pay more attention to individual letters than to the obviously arranged letter and telegram campaigns staged by special interests, Katz advises.

So if you don't like six-cent Christmas card postage, or some other federal regulation, join the "six-cent lobby." Even Scrooge Watson has to mind Congress.

A Changing Climate

You are probably not aware of it, but it is a fact that the world's climate is growing measurably warmer. One reason is the increased amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere due to man-made combustion. Most of the world likes warm meals — that's a lot of carbon dioxide just from cooking alone. Carbon dioxide raises the atmospheric temperature.

In Marin, the slowed-down—but not completely halted — process of filling the bay is predicted to cause a rise in average temperature.

In Asia and Africa the destruction of forests was often followed by the creation of deserts.

On the other hand, the planting of trees holds the water, cools the air by transpiration, and removes carbon dioxide from the air for use in photosynthesis.

If this is not enough reason for planting and conserving trees, they are soothing and a pleasure to the eye.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Fill 'Er Up' To Add Meaning If Gas Stations Sell Beer

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the many matters the Legislature will have for consideration next year will be the question of whether it will allow gasoline and alcohol to mix.

Mixture of this type has not worked out too well in the past, as witness the number of automobile accidents, deaths and injuries by stepping on the gas with too much liquor in the system.

Consequently, when a southern California gasoline station applied for a license to sell beer on an off-sale basis, Edward J. Kirby, director of the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, refused issuance.

KIRBY, HOWEVER, reckoned without the technical provisions of the state's alcoholic beverage control act. Applicants for the license appealed the matter to the alcoholic beverage appeals board, and that board held there was nothing in the law to prevent issuance of an off-sale beer license to a service station.

This holding brings up the matter of legislation at the 1969 session, and its a foregone conclusion that the issue will create quite a battle before it is resolved.

PROPOSED MEASURES which would prohibit such a license will have the firm support of Director Kirby, who has not changed his original position.

The legislation will find the liquor industry itself divided.

Beer wholesalers, for instance, would see no objection to sale of the beverage say in a six-pack. On the other hand, retail liquor dealers no doubt look on the idea with a jaundiced eye, on the theory that the retail beer business belongs in liquor stores.

Liquor stores have no facilities for selling gasoline and are not likely to have. But it is a relatively simple matter for service stations to set up for the sale of beer.

THE ATTITUDE of the oil companies hasn't been made public as yet, but looking at it from a purely business standpoint, these concerns in the past have been for sales promotions which will help their retailers.

Different Break For 'Little Man'

Congratulations to the Independent-Journal for the splendid "brickbats," Nov. 30, concerning Leydecker-Rabuzzi case, and especially to Mr. Robert D. Bullock, Mill Valley, in his superb article, "Leydecker Case Plain Stinks," Nov. 30 letters to editor.

Let me tell you a short story what happened to me. Not long ago, I had my first brush with "justice." I am 47 years old. I came home from a business meeting. I had one too many drinks. I never hurt anyone or any property, but I was cited for driving while drinking. I was wrong and I am just "a little man," so this is what happened: I lost my driver's license, paid a stiff fine, lost my job, broke up my family, haven't worked in months because no one hires people over 30, today with a record, paid a lawyer $530 to defend me. I also received unwanted newspaper publicity and loss of prestige.

Mr. Leydecker on the other hand is charged with a felony. He's the president of a big bank, so he gets himslef a "smark lawyer." The lawyer does a little quick thinking for "big money"; they find a "loophole"; his 17-year-old daughter takes the "rap," a slap on the wrist, and Mr. Leydecker returns to the bank bigger than ever —Pprestige and all. Some deal!

No, Mr. Leydecker, I am not after your hide I don't even know you. I just wondered when the "little man" gets a break from the politicians?

Two New Careers Programs Compared

In front of me are two New Careers programs — one proposed originally by Dr. Arthur Pearl, University of Oregon sociologist, and the other, an extended administrative proposal, drafted by Thomas Campanella, assistant county administrator. A comparison between the two programs is startling.

Mr. Campanella's program undermines the original intent of New Careers by adding on a whole new administrative staff of seven to oversee New Career trainees, at an estimated cost of $74,992, including fringe benefits. (Wasn't there an editorial in the I-J recently on the bludgeoning (sic) growth of county administration?) Campanella also adds an internship program to cost $21,840, to New Careers, which is not a part of the New Careers program and should be undertaken separately by the county if it is needed.

RULE OF THUMB

By comparison, Dr. Pearl's program is streamlined to fit the specific needs of Marin County at comparatively little cost and without creating makeshift jobs or displacing other county employees. By making it a county financed program, Dr. Pearl has done away with most of the stumbling blocks found in other federally funded New Careers programs.

If the county is truly interested in on-the-job training for disadvantaged minorities through a New Careers program, it should adhere to Dr. Pearl's originally practical proposal, and should consult him in working out the details for the program's implimentation.

Mrs. WILLIAM GLASSCOCK

(Editor's note: See Monday's editorial, which appeared after Mrs. Glascock had written the foregoing letter.)

Rail Line Needed For Transportation

With the pressing need for better public transportation in Marin, it would be a mistake to turn the present NWPRR right of way into a biking and hiking trail. While I am sure that many people would benefit from such a trail, I sincerely believe that the right of way can be used for a much better purpose. That purpose is to provide Marin with a highway of steel for moving its goods and people.

The present traffic tie-ups on Highway 101 are becoming intolerable and an alternate transport system is now badly needed in this county. The rail line to Sausalito should not be abandoned just when it has a chance to be of some real value to the county.

If you would like to see the railroad remain in Marin, then I suggest you write a letter to that affect to a government agency where your voice may be heard. That agency is the Interstate Commerce Commission which has jurisdiction over the abandonment of the line. Address your correspondence to Mr. H. N. Garson, Secretary ICC, c/o Finance Docket No. 25187, Washington D.C. 20423. I urge you to act now before the line is relinquished to history.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Plans Tough Decision, Counting On Only One Term

NEW YORK — Two things emerged clearly in talking with Richard Nixon's White House staff:

1. The Nixon administration is prepared to take tough decisions whatever the political consequences.

2. This political bravery is based on a false premise.

It seems to me that the false premise is that Americans will not want the new administrations to take tough decisions and will punish it for doing so.

I'm convinced that the opposite is far nearer the truth; namely, that if Nixon as President lays out the facts bluntly and plainly, the hard decisions will be acceptable and that in the end the administration which takes them will be rewarded politically, not punished politically.

IN ANY EVENT, it is evident that Nixon and his White House staff are not shrinking from steps they think may prove unpopular.

One top staffer put it quite frankly: "We are going to have to take such difficult and unpopular decisions that this may well be a one-term administration."

Basically, this is a healthy approach. It is more than half right and that is a good beginning. Far better that Nixon should be reconciling himself to a one-term presidency by being willing to make "difficult and unpopular" decisions than to be worrying about how to remain popular by taking soft and halfway steps which get nowhere.

What are these hard decisions which might make Nixon, like Lyndon Johnson, a one-term President? Here are four good examples:

VIETNAM — Hanoi wants all of Vietnam one way or another. The President may have to resist Hanoi's peace demands for months and there will likely be almost continuous fighting. When Nixon refuses concessions, he will displease some; when he makes concessions, he will displease others. It will be a rough period and it will not be a short one.

INFLATION — To bring inflation under control will be Nixon's most pressing economic problem. It is essential to protect the dollar and the economy. If he brakes the economy too much, he will risk rising unemployment. If he fails to brake it enough, he risks rising prices and further weakening of the dollar. It will be a delicate and difficult decision.

SPENDING — Nixon wants to cut spending and get a balanced budget. Failing to do this soon will disappoint some of his conservative supporters. But it is not open to the new administration to cut spending much, if at all, and carry out the social and military goals Nixon has talked about. The immediate economies from ending the Vietnamese war will not be great, and larger economies will be delayed. Nixon must choose, and these are not easy choices.

REORGANIZATION — Nixon is convinced that a massive federal reorganization is essential if he is to get control of this "enormous monster" and make it serve its purposes effectively. He has ambitious and exciting plans for doing just this, but Congress has a long record of resisting major executive reorganization. Nixon will have to be ready to do battle with the Democratic Congress if he is to get approval for what urgently needs to be done.

IT IS ALL to the good that the Nixon people are steeling themselves to take the hard decisions even if this turns out to make them a four-year administration.

But it seems to me there is reason to believe that on balance most Americans want the hard decisions which will accomplish things rather than the soft, compromise decisions which patch things over and accomplish little.

My judgment is that most voters will welcome and reward the hard decision whenever Nixon will lay his case on the line, speak candidly and tell it like it is.

He says he intends to do so. I think the country would like it.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

OEO May Be On Skids Under New Administration

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — With the Nixon administration still under construction, the battle has already begun over the future war on poverty.

At stake is the survival of the anti-poverty agency, the Office of Economic Opportunity. On this matter President Nixon will have an influential, and perhaps a decisive, say.

Already, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has given the President-elect a report urging that OEO be abolished. The report was prepared by a group of Rhodes' Ohio aides.

IN THE HOUSE of Representatives, a source of some junk-OEO sentiment in the recent past, Rep. Carl A. Perkins, D-Ky., has offered a bipartisan study of OEO-financed poverty programs in a dozen cities.

House Republicans began requesting such an inquiry last summer after the Senate Investigation Subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., complained of misuse of federal funds in a Chicago anti-poverty project involving a street gang, the Blackstone Rangers. The new study will include programs operating in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, San Diego, San Antonio, New Orleans, Nashville, Philadelphia, Houston, New Haven, Indianapolis, and Pittsburgh.

FOR NIXON, who has said he wants to give private industry a major role in the poverty war, abolition of the Great Society's anti-poverty agency might have some attraction. If he strongly urges such a course he might get enough Republicans and conservative Democratic votes in Congress to accomplish it.

Congressional approval would be even easier if Nixon were to advocate a further dismemberment of OEO, short of outright demolition, with transfer of its popular programs such as "Head Start" to other federal departments. Congress has already ordered the shift of the generally admired "Upward Bound" program to the Office of Education.

ON THE OTHER hand, some congressional leaders, including a few liberal Republicans, think Nixon will avoid any action which could be marked up in his legislative record, by Democrats, as an administration surrender in the poverty war.

The man in the middle in the emerging fight over OEO is career government official Bertrand M. Harding, who succeeded Sargent Shriver as head of OEO last March. In a very real sense, Harding has been trying to save OEO from its own excesses.

Harding, who had been Shriver's top assistant since mid-1966, was passing the word, before McClellan's inquiry, that some of OEO's high-risk, much-criticized experimental programs must be phased out.

THAT VIEW did not endear Harding to anyone. In the Senate inquiry, McClellan told Harding acidly that he could have saved everyone the trouble of the investigation if he had just canceled the Blackstone Rangers' involvement in the poverty program.

At the same time, Harding was under fire from OEO's social scientists and sociologists who strongly supported the idea that street gangs could be used to bring the poverty programs to the disoriented young people of the big city ghettos.

Whatever happens to OEO, Harding is almost certainly out of a job there. His job is one which can be filled now by a Nixon appointee.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

A black man . . . should seek to be, and he should be encoruaged to be, the best possible black man, and not the best possible imitation of a white man. — Warren G. Harding.

Court Martial Far Different From Most People's Conception

Most people's idea of what goes on at a court martial seems to be roughly that a grim-looking bunch of tight-lipped colonels take a look at the defendant and snap out, "Send that man to the firing squad."

Although military justice does differ from civilian, and the military system has rules with which many people don't agree, this idea is a far cry from the truth.

Leaving aside all arguments about whether we should have armed forces, whether we should have the draft, and whether we should be in Vietnam, a serviceman facing a court martial probably gets about the same deal as he would in a civilian court.

AFTER SITTING through a two-day court martial last week at Hamilton Air Force Base, I was more convinced of this than I had been before.

In fact, the young attorneys who make up most of Hamilton's legal office are so eager that one has the feeling that one is witnessing a more exuberant carrying out of every detail of the law than is always present in civilian courts.

The young man on trial, Airman John E. King, was a farm boy from Missouri who had killed his best friend while playing with a gun. They were both security policemen, taking a break in a flight line shack during a long night of walking sentry duty.

A third friend was in the shack, and both he and the victim had calmly asked the defendant to "quit messing with the gun."

THE DEFENDANT chose for his attorney (servicemen may ask for any military lawyer they wish and they may also hire a civilian attorney), a young Texan, Capt. Frederick T. Graham, who has been extremely successful in defending his clients.

Graham, whose courtroom technique includes rising to his feet often with drawled objections to the prosecution and a folksy manner of presenting legalities in simple language, contrasted sharply with the prosecuting attorney.

The young man assigned to present the case for the United States is from Boston and speaks with the familiar Kennedy accent. Capt. Kevin K. Donovan also fired every legal weapon he had into getting a conviction for the government.

IN THE MILITARY, a third appointed lawyer, called a law officer, acts as the judge. Last week the Air Force sent a major from Oxnard Air Force Base, Maj. William B. Wirin, to fill this role.

The court martial, composed at the outset of nine members, is the jury, but also does the sentencing. Members of the court martial can be challenged either for cause or peremptory reasons as in civilian courts, but each side is allowed only one peremptory challenge.

The accused can also ask to have enlisted men on the court martial, if he wishes, but last week's defendant waived this right.

THE FIRST colonel to be questioned at the opening of the trial refused to answer a question by Captain Graham as to what civic organizations he belonged to, saying that "I'm not on trial here."

Even after being ordered by the law officer to answer the question, he still refused. "I've never seen this happen in a court martial before," all the attorneys present said afterward.

The colonel was quickly dismissed by the law officer, and another colonel, who backed up the first one, was dismissed on a peremptory challenge.

After this, the remaining seven officers on the panel (military rules do not allow adding more men unless the panel falls below a quorum of five), seemed to settle down to their roles of jurors.

WHETHER young King would have had a different kind of fate under civilian law is a moot question. But he received fine defense against a tough prosecution.

Although he is probably not a very happy young man at this point, it's probably more due to the tragedy than to the outcome of the trial. After being found guilty of manslaughter, he received an extremely mild sentence — mainly consisting of being confined to the base for two months and having to pay a $50 a month fine for six months.

I wonder, if a hypothetical Mill Valley policeman shot his best friend when they were both on duty, what kind of a trial he would have?

'The New Educanto' Adds To Confusion On Campus

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The education world has long had a language of its own, in which what appear to be English words take on non-dictionary meanings or, in many cases, are transformed into having no meaning at all. This trade jargon, known as educanto, is very useful, for it enables educators to discuss things without anyone else knowing what they are talking about.

It has remained for the current season of campus unrest, however, to give educanto a whole new dimension. The majority of educators have long used this argot principally to conceal lack of thought. But in the current disputes, some of their number — perhaps victims of mental processes induced by too-long addiction to reading and speaking in educanto — have made it the language of the campus revolution.

THE RESULT is that what's going on at the colleges and universities — and some of the high schools — is even harder to understand than it should be. Adapting the principles of educanto to student-faculty revolts has produced a very strange lexicon.

It might help if we reduced a few of the terms which are flying about on campuses these days to what they really mean as they are used. For instance:

Politics of confrontation: Substituting threats, intimidation and violence for advocacy, discussion and balloting.

Dialogue: I'm telling you, and you're listening — and don't talk back!

Professional: Outside the accepted standards of morality and justice.

Autonomy: Anarchy.

Academic freedom: Freedom of students and teachers to say and do anything they please, regardless of whether it has any bearing on what the teachers are paid to teach and the students have signed up to study; and also regardless of whether it violates laws or standards of decency.

The list could be extended, but these are the most commonly used terms in what might be called "the new educanto."

IT SHOULD BE noted that teachers have provided this new glossary to help the students who are revolting against their studies. It has been almost entirely a labor of love (at full pay, of course) by faculty members.

The dissident student groups have given their professors very little credit for this outstanding assistance to their revolution, although without it they probably would have gotten nowhere.

The students themselves have adopted much of the terminology, but cannot take credit for its creation. Their own contributions to the language have been minimal, and of no use at all in giving their revolt the aura of respectability. About all they have been able to offer are such words as "pigs," "bullxxxx," or just plain "XXXX."

The object of punishment is prevention from evil; it never can be made impulsive to good. — Thomas Mann.

Texas U. Posts To Both Rostows

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Walt W. Rostow, one of President Johnson's closest advisers, and Rostow's wife will join the University of Texas faculty on Feb. 1.

Rostow will hold a joint appointment as professor of economics and history while Mrs. Rostow will be an associate professor of government, school officials announced yesterday.

Rostow was appointed to the White House staff by President Kennedy and became President Johnson's special assistant. He is a former faculty member at Columbia and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where his wife also taught. She has been conducting a seminar at American University in Washington.

Missile Controversy On Sounding Board

A proposed antimissile base for Southern Marin County will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM's "Sounding Board" by Sacramento District Army Corps of Engineers Public Information Officer Leslie L. Houde, Wolfback Property Owners Association representative Warren V. Glass, Tiburon Chamber of Commerce president Ben A. Farlatti and Supervisor-elect Michael Wornum, in whose district the sentinel base has been proposed.

Questions will be answered on tomorrow's program. It will be taped for rebroadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

The Salvation Army's Missing Persons Bureau locates more than 1,600 persons throughout the country each year.

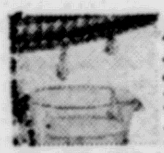
When it comes to good habits, are they ever too young?



Actually the right exercise and good food are two habits that can help your family stay fit... no matter what their age. And a part of good food habits should be Fleischmann's*... the premium margarine doctors name most. Fleischmann's is made from 100% corn oil. And the medical fact is that no oil is better for you than corn oil in a low saturated fat diet.

Of course, another reason families like Fleischmann's is its rich taste and spreadability. Fleischmann's—in Cube or convenient tub form—always spreads on easy, right out of the refrigerator. And its delicious flavor has made it the best liked premium margarine in America. Fleischmann's Margarine... Cube or Soft. Good habits can't start early enough.

GOP Governors Plan To Aid Nixon On Anticrime Pledges

By JACK BELL

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Republican governors are volunteering to take off President-elect Richard M. Nixon's hands the enforcement of law and order pledges he made during his campaign.

Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida, one of the early arrivals for the Republican Governors Conference opening here tomorrow, said the state executives expect to take the lead themselves in combatting lawlessness and disorders.

Kirk, who assembled a private police force to combat organized crime in Florida after his election, told an airport news conference yesterday he belives the restoration of order is primarily a local problem.

"I expect President-elect Nixon to take the leadership in the fight against crime and violence," he said. "I think he will recommend strengthening the safe-streets act and will implement the program to elevate police standards. But in the end, law enforcement is primarily a local problem and we governors intend to do our best to help the new President restore law and order."

Asked if he didn't think Nixon would be following the course already laid down by President Johnson, Kirk replied that "this has always been a nonpartisan issue. The Republicans have always supported law enforcement bills."

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the vice-president elect, arrived in an Air Force plane after stopping off in San Francisco to look in briefly on a meeting of the executive committee of the National Governors Conference. Agnew has been designated by Nixon as the liaison man with governors of both parties, a job filled by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Johnson administration.

Agnew told reporters in a brief airport interview that despite Johnson's efforts to maintain contact with the governors there still existed a problem of communications between them and the White House. He said he hopes to clear this up.

"I find some governors unhappy about the implementation of existing federal programs," Agnew said. He declined to elaborate. But the supposition was the state executives were complaining about cutbacks in the federal highway program spending and about the administration of the antipoverty program.

Agnew declined to speculate on possible Nixon cabinet appointments. However, he said he thought that any government in these times in the end would "turn out to be a coalition of sorts."

Nixon has indicated he will not announce any major cabinet appointments until he returns to New York after a California trip. He will speak at a hospital fund-raising dinner in Los Angeles tomorrow sponsored by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre and then go on to the GOP governors conference.

Nixon will find 33 GOP governors and governors-elect, including lame duck Gov. John H. Chaffe of Rhode Island, the chairman of the organization.

Faculty Raises Hope Nipped; Unrest Cited

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Coordinating Council for Higher Education has recommended a 5.2-per cent pay hike for state college professors after rejecting higher figures proposed by members representing the colleges.

The state college trustees had earlier urged a 12.6-per cent increase and the council's staff proposed a 10.2-per cent boost. But some council members, complaining about recent campus disorders, led the full council to pare the proposed increases to 5.2 per cent yesterday.

After the meeting Glenn S. Dumke, college system chancellor, said the colleges would appeal to the legislature and would ask for the original 12.6-per cent increase.

The public members appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to the council, the state's top education advisory board to the lawmakers, told newsmen they didn't favor larger pay increases because of the participation of some faculty members in recent campus disturbances.

"We must face facts," said Kenneth R. Rearwin. "The public voted against Prop. 3 (the $250-million school construction bond plan on the Nov. 5 ballot) to register a complaint of what is going on at colleges involving both faculty and students. There is no use in ignoring the will of the public."

The council voted for the 5.2-per cent increase Monday, but because two members were absent, a new vote was taken yesterday. A motion to restore the cuts was defeated by an 8-8 tie, with two abstensions.

The council also approved a 3.8-per cent increase in fringe benefits, bringing the total package to a cost of $15 million.

Before approving the 5.2-per cent increase, the council vetoed an 8.3-per cent compromise hike, with all three college representatives voting with the majority.

Dumke said the college members voted against the compromise because to accept a "clearly inadequate amount was out of the question."

Extortion By Credit Card Is Charged

NEW YORK (AP) — Salvatore Bonanno, son of reputed Mafia leader Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, has been indicted on charges of using a stolen credit card to allegedly finance a coast-to-coast tour early this year.

The younger Bonanno, 36, of San Jose, Calif., was named yesterday in a federal indictment along with Peter Notaro, 53, of Tucson, Ariz., and the slain Samuel Perrone. Bonanno and Notaro were accused of using a Diners Club card extorted from a Queens County real estate man identified as Don. A. Torrillo.

The card was used, the indictment said, to charge "thousands of dollars worth of goods and services."

The three men, the indictment further alleges, caused Torrillo "to fear for the safety of himself and family" so that he did not report the theft of the card.

Bonanno, who has moved from his former home on Long Island, is charged with one count of conspiracy, 50 counts of mail fraud, and two of perjury.

Notaro is accused of conspiracy, perjury and 50 mail fraud counts.

Perrone, described as Bonanno's chauffeur-bodyguard, was shot to death in Brooklyn last March 12 by two gunmen who have not been apprehended. Perrone was named as a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

Salvatore Bonanno, if convicted, faces a maximum of 220 years in prison and $65,000 in fines. Notaro, if convicted, could receive a maximum of 215 years in jail and $63,000 in fines.

Antiwar Group Disrupts Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the second straight day, the trial of a Superior Court judge's son was interruptd by anti-draft demonstrations.

Vincent J. O'Connor, 27, who had been classified as a conscientious objector, is charged with failing to report as a hospital helper as an alternative to military service.

He is the son of Judge Raymond J. O'Connor and is being tried before U.S. Dist. Judge Lloyd H. Burke.

Burke ordered eight persons to sit down yesterday when they stood up as O'Connor was being sworn in. One was ejected.

O'Connor testified that "the Selective Service system is destroying the movement for human dignity."

"It shouldn't be telling young persons what to do," he said.

$1,666 Collected By Home Group For Park Work

Although the wet weather has delayed the grading on the Lois Curtin Park, the Loma Verde Homeowners Association now has $1,666 toward construction of the park, members learned Monday night.

Estimated cost of the tot park on land of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on Calle Arboleda, is $2,000, according to Mrs. John Tindell, secretary for the homeowners association.

The club set 7:30 p.m., Dec. 12 for the annual family Christmas party, she said.

The association authorized $50 in prizes for the annual Christmas home decoration contest to be judged Dec. 23. First prize is the perpetual plaque and $25; second prize, $15 and third prize, $10, according to Mrs. Tindell.

Deaf Teacher Champions State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Max Rafferty, the state superintendent of public instruction, has chosen a 43-year-old deaf man as California's teacher of the year to enter a national competition.

Rafferty named Lawrence E. Newman, a mathematics teacher at the California School for the Deaf in Riverside, as the state's entry in the competition conducted by a national magazine for the nationwide teacher of the year.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Avoiding Ailing Person One Key To Living Without Pesky Colds

VAN DELLEN

Win the cold war by getting plenty of rest, exercise, and nourishing food. It is equally important to avoid individuals with respiratory infections. This is easier said than done, because many cannot stay home from school or work, but they can stifle sneezes and stay clear of others.

Most respiratory infections are caught by inhaling contaminated droplets spewed into the air when coughing, sneezing, or just plain breathing. The Japanese are more considerate; when they have a cold, they were a cloth mask.

MANY PEOPLE also shake their handkerchief after considerable usage. Food handlers ought to be very careful about breathing over food about to be served.

Viruses and bacteria also are conveyed on contaminated fingers. Wash hands frequently when colds are rife.

Susceptibility in school children stems from crowded classroooms, sitting closely together, and failure to cover up coughs and sneezes. Community towels and drinking glasses also are used.

SCHOOLS ARE ONE of the main sources for these infections. The cold is brought home and shared with other members of the family. Above all, remember that youngsters are extremely susceptible to colds.

The first born may be considered highly-resistant to colds so long as he is a pre-schooler. The situation changes after he goes to school. Parents may consider the second tyke less hearty because he develops the sniffles at the drop of a hat. Blame the older sister or brother who now brings them home.

CALL THE PHYSICIAN when chills, fever, chest pain, or difficult breathing, including grunting, coexist with respiratory infections. Bed rest, ample fluids, more humidity, and aspirin are standard remedies. The troublesome symptoms are treated with more potent drugs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

HARDENED-ARTERY TESTS

A reader writes: Is there an instrument that tells how hard the arteries are?

REPLY

No, not if you mean what you say. Various tests determine the indirect effects of hardened arteries on circulation to the heart, extremities, kidneys, and other organs. Ordinary X-rays demonstrate arteriosclerosis but do not disclose the extent of damage. On the other hand, injecting a substance that shows up under the X-ray (angiogram) tells how narrow the vessel is and whether it is obstructed.

MENOPAUSAL GRIEF

A reader writes: I thought I would sail through the menopause because I always have been well and happy. Then, along comes the change of life! I would not wish this thing on a dog! Why don't physicians tell women what to expect?

REPLY

They do. Only a small percentage are incapacitated by menopausal symptoms and it is not easy to tell in advance which woman will be bothered.

THROAT CANCER

A reader writes: Is cancer of the throat detected by looking at the area or are instruments used?

REPLY

A mirror will be needed if the tumor is around the bend and not in direct view. Biopsy is then taken to determine whether the lesion is malignant or benign.

ECTOPIC PREGNANCY

A reader writes: What are the symptoms of an ectopic pregnancy?

REPLY

After missing a period, the woman may develop severe cramplike lower abdominal pain on one side, followed by spotting or hemorrhage.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT

Severe abdominal pain is an important symptom and should be investigated.

State Income Tax Attempt Seen To Help Colleges

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An income tax withholding plan, defeated by the past two legislatures, will be reintroduced next month to provide money for college construction and income tax relief for the middle brackets.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, the legislature's chief advocate of the payroll withholding method of collecting state income taxes, said yesterday his measure would produce $350 million the first year and $100 million each year thereafter without an increase in tax rates.

The Modesto Republican said his 1969 plan would have two new provisions designed to obtain its passage by the legislature which reconvenes in January. Gov. Ronald Reagan is a staunch opponent of withholding.

Some revenue from the plan would be used for building construction at the University of California, the state colleges and rundown city public schools, Veneman said.

Much of the rest of the funds would be allocated to cut the income taxes of large families in the middle brackets hardest hit by the $1 billion tax increase voted in 1967, he added.

Educational construction plans were upset last month when the voters defeated Proposition 3, a $250 million bond issue.

Veneman said the first-year revenue from withholding could be used to put college and public school construction on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Most of the increased revenue from withholding would come from the state collecting taxes on income the year it is earned instead of the next year. But Veneman said some additional money would result because withholding would make it more difficult to evade state taxes.

U.S. Still Defies Smoking Peril

LONDON (AP) — Americans are still the world's heaviest smokers of cigarettes even though fear of lung cancer is keeping consumption below the 1963 level, the British Tobacco Industry Research Council said today.

The council said U. S. consumption averaged 3,860 cigarettes per adult last year. Canada was second with 3,450 and Britain third with 2,830, even though the Briton pays the equivalent of 73 cents for a standard pack of 20.

The council said the cancer scare first affected sales in 1964.

Bar Owner Reports Two Rowdy Customers

Robert Woodley, owner of the Sportsman's Bar, Old Redwood Highway, Cotati, said two young men he refused to serve last night assaulted him and attempted to run him down with their car.

Woodley said the men entered his tavern at 11:25 p.m. and became boisterous when he refused to serve them. He said they "knocked him about" and threw him out the front door and continued the assault in the parking lot. He said they then tried twice to run him down with their car. Woodley was not injured.

Last 1968 Class At Guide Dogs

The last 1968 class of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. will graduate at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school, 350 Los Ranchitos Road, Los Ranchitos.

The eight members of the class bring to 135 the number of blind men and women who have undergone 28-day training couses with their guide dogs this year.

Graduating Saturday will be Colvin Wilson of Marin City; Floyd Etienne of Los Angeles; Mrs. Sharon Helm of Salem, Ore.; Mrs. Ione Krause of Houston, Tex.; John Paige of Anderson, Shasta County; John Reed of Portland, Ore.; Miss Linda Reynolds of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Erika Rushing of El Dorado, Ark.

Two Departments At College Set Join Exhibition

A combined exhibit by the communications and the dental assisting departments at College of Marin will open tomorrow in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building.

Examples of sensory reporting from the Communications 50 classes, video tape recordings produced as a mass media class assignment, video-tapes of a course, "Inventing the Future," and collages will be included.

The dental assisting department will display tools and materials related to the student and her work, including dental models, X-rays and chairside instrumentation tools.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. The exhibit will close Dec. 13.

Camera Equipment Stolen From Home

Camera equipment, a wrist watch and skis, valued at $732, were taken from the Lawrence R. Brackett home, 31 Manzanita Place, between Nov. 24 and Saturday, Mill Valley police reported yesterday.

Police said Brackett discovered the burglary when he returned from a vacation trip Sunday.

$4,500 Award To Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — Martin Gottfried, drama critic for Women's Wear Daily, was named winner yesterday of the George Jean Nathan Award for dramatic criticism for the 1967-1968 theatrical year.

Prof. E. D. H. Johnson, chairman of the English department of Princeton University and chairman of the selection committee, announced that the award was given for Gottfried's book "A Theater Divided—the Postwar American Stage."

The prize was increased from $4,000 to $4,500 this year. Gottfried, 35, is the 10th winner of the award.

To Juvenile Court

Michael J. Hayes, 19, of Oakland, was certified from Marin Municipal Court to Juvenile Court yesterday to face a charge that he possessed marijuana in his car in Novato Oct. 17.

Mother, Son Due In Court

Daniel Nyhan, 43, of Tiburon and his mother, Mrs. Elsie F. Nyhan, 72, of San Francisco, who have pleaded innocent to a charge of murder, will appear tomorrow in San Francisco Superior Court for setting of a jury trial date.

The mother and son are accused of killing Mrs. Genvieve Dolan, 61, who Mrs. Nyhan called "my best friend." Mrs. Dolan was found dead of head injuries in Mrs. Nyhan's apartment Oct. 25.

The mother has been released on $5,000 bail and the son is being held in San Francisco County Jail on $5,000 bail.

Superior Court Judge Bernard C. Glickfeld yesterday granted motions to reduce the son's bail from $7,500 to $5,000 and the mother's bail from $6,250 to $5,000.

City Dickering To Buy Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The City of San Francisco wants the federal government to put a price tag on Alcatraz Island —hopefully, at a bargain rate.

The government usually sells its property at discount prices if it is to be used for purely recreational purposes, instead of commercial development. The city would like to use the prison island as a recreational facility, possibly as early as next summer.

Mayor Joseph Alioto yesterday appointed Jack Tolan, deputy for department, to represent the city in negotiations aimed at putting a fair price on the island.

6, 8, 10 or 11 years from now, we expect to have some nice used Volvo 144's
And that should tell you something about the nice new Volvo 144's we have now: they were built to last a long time.
Since they're Volvos, they ought to. Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. And while we can't guarantee how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.
If you don't want to wait 6, 8, 10, or 11 years for a used Volvo 144, come in today and test-drive a new one.
Or, test-drive a Volvo 122. We've been selling that model a few years longer, so we've had time to get some nice used ones.

Keyes Heads East Grid Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An East squad featuring offensive power was named today for the 44th annual Shrine East-West charity football game at Candlestick Park Dec. 28.

The team includes three of the strongest backs in the nation—Leroy Keyes, Purdue All-American; Perry Williams, his fullback teammate; and Ron Johnson of Michigan, holder of the Big Ten one-game rushing record of 346 yards.

The selections by East coaches Duffy Doaugherty of Michigan State, Tom Cahill of Army and John Pont of Indiana were announced by T. H. Balliet, general manager of the Shrine game.

Quarterback choices were Fred Summers of Wake Forest and Dennis Brown of Michigan, both passers and runners.

Although listed as an end, a third quarterback could be Ed Podolak, who played that position at Iowa for two seasons.

The defense is marked by line power and speed in the secondary, including defensive backs Tony Kyasky of Syracuse, Al Brenner of Michigan State, and Nate Cunningham of Indiana.

CAGERS WIN THREE OF THREE

Perfect Day For Marin Preps

It was a perfect day yesterday as Marin County Athletic League varsity basketball teams fared quite well in outings against non-league competition.

Unbeaten Redwood High of Larkspur bombed Washington of San Francisco, 76-58, at Redwood; Terra Linda whipped Pinole Valley 84-67, at Pinole Valley, and San Rafael High got by Santa Rosa, 56-52, at Santa Rosa.

A pair of 20-point performances helped offset guard Bill Taylor's 34-point show for Washington as the Giants upped their season mark to 3-0.

Jim Peters, who sank 12 of 13 free throws and Roger Smith had 20 each for Redwood and Jerry Piro helped out with 13 points.

Terra Linda evened its record at 1-1, as 10 players hit the scoring column, led by Bob Nadell's 19 points. Pat Purcell added 18, Mike Timmel had 16 and Mike Peden 13 for the winners.

San Rafael guard Bruce Nvae popped in 18 points to lead an otherwise well-balanced Bulldog attack, as the usual standouts, Roger Thomas and Ray Taylor, had nine and seven points each.

Redwood's jayvees bombed the San Rafael Military Academy varsity, 84-63, with Jay Speck and Scott Trobbe scoring 15 points each.

High School Soccer Hits The Marin Scene

SOCCER, ANYONE? — The international sport of soccer finally comes to Marin County high schools on an organized level tomorrow with the opening of a Marin County Athletic League schedule to be played on an informal basis.

The brainchild of Fernando Silva of the Tamalpais High language department, the league will be composed of teams from Tam, Redwood, Drake, Marin Catholic, and Novato. It will include 20 games through Feb. 8.

Silva, a native of Portugal who recently received his Doctorate in Philosophy, organized a team at Tam last year but had to play a San Francisco schedule due to lack of competition in Marin. Now he's generated enough enthusiasm locally to play a schedule in his own backyard.

Combined Team In Novato

An enthusiastic supporter of the new league is Tom Barrie of the Novato High School physical education department who will coach a combined Novato-San Marin team.

"We (coaches) all feel that there is a need for this international sport for good reasons," Barrie explained. "The small boy can play—a 120-pounder can be a star, in fact. It is an inexpensive sport and a good conditioner. Many of the other Bay Area counties have official leagues which we hope to have next year."

Barrie allowed as how the new circuit will hit some inclement weather during most of the season here, but explained: "We felt the December-January-February scheduling was the most opportune time because it doesn't interfere with football nor the many spring sports."

The response has been outstanding, Barrie said. "The five schools each have anywhere between 30 and 50 boys trying out. We'll have 200 players involved in the program this first year," he said.

A Chance For All To Play

The league will be played on a strictly varsity level with 35 minute halves sandwiched around a five-minute intermission. After each regular game is completed an extra period will be played to give all boys a chance to play.

Barrie, who played soccer two years at San Francisco State, has convinced his fellow Marin coaches to test two rules changes for Novato games. That would be the elimination of the offside rule ("Few Americans fully understand it," he said); and no throw-in ("instead there will be a kick-in.") He explained: "I feel that these two changes will create more scoring opportunities, thus giving the game a better chance for capturing the imagination of Americans."

Meet The Other Coaches

Barrie's and Silva's fellow coaches in the league will be John Perrotis of Redwood, Imants "Easy" Abers at Drake and Cliff Vattone of Marin Catholic. Perrotis, a native of Greece who teaches Spanish at Redwood, starred for several years in a San Francisco semi-professional league; Abers, driver training instructor at Drake, was an All-Conference soccer selection while playing wing at S.F. State in 1960; Vattone, who teaches math at Marin Catholic, is an eager newcomer to the sport.

And now I want you all to give me a rousing ovation because I went through this entire column without once saying —— to me, baby.

Bullets Knocked From 1st

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

The knee bone connected with the ball, and the Baltimore Bullets were out of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

With 13 seconds left last night and Baltimore leading 127-126, the Bullets' Earl Monroe dribbled the ball off his knee and it went out of bounds. Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson followed with a fieldl goal, and the Royals went on to win 129-127.

BEHIND CELTS

The loss combined with Boston's 137-115 trouncing of Milwaukee dropped Baltimore into second place, seven percentage points behind the Celtics, although the Bullets still are a half game ahead.

In other NBA action, New York smashed Atlanta 126-93, San Diego topped Chicago 108-103, San Francisco outlasted Seattle 127-122 and Los Angeles whipped Phoenix 122-108.

Following Robertson's field goal, John Tresvant added a foul shot to make it 129-127. Then, with six seconds left, Monroe attempted a jump shot, but Tresvant blocked it and Robertson grabbed the ball.

38 FOR 'O'

John Havlicek scored 41 points as Boston, behind 65-64 at halftime, swamped Milwaukee with a 44-point fourth quarter. Wayne Embrey led Milwaukee with 29 points.

Cazzie Russell intercepted five Atlanta passes as New York raced to a 27-11 first-period lead and never was in trouble even though center Walt Bellamy was ejected with two technical fouls with almost 10 minutes left in the second period.

SCORERS

Jim Barnett paced San Diego with 29 points, Kojis contributed 27. Chicago's Bob Boozer led all scorers with 33.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 35 points, including 20 in the third period, as Los Angeles handed Phoenix its 12th consecutive setback. Chamberlain's output set a Los Angeles Forum record for most points in a quarter and enabled the Lakers to open a 90-85 lead.

Baseball's Rule Changers Come To Aid Of Batters

Smaller Strike Zone; Pitching Mound Lowered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A slightly smaller strike zone and a slightly lower mound are baseball's answer to last season's imbalance between pitchers and hitters but the rule changes already have provoked doubt about their wisdom and the effect they would have.

"Anything you do to help the hitters will be an improvement," said Gene Mauch, manager of the expansion Montreal Expos after the rules committee voted the changes yesterday at the winter meetings.

HAS TO HELP

"Anything that makes it tougher for pitchers has to help hitters."

The changes reduce the strike zone to between the armpits and tops of the knees and lower the mound from 15 inches to 10 above the level of the plate.

Don Drysdale, ace of the Los Angeles Dodger pitching staff, had some definite comments on the changes.

"If they think this is going to make .300 hitters," said Drysdale, "They're mistaken. Last year could have been just a one-year thing. I think they should have waited a year to see how it goes before panicking like this."

MASTERY

Last season pitchers had an overpowering mastery over hitters, reducing the number of .300 hitters to only six.

Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels, said the effect of the changes on hitters might be more psychological than anything else.

"I hope it'll do something," said Rigney. "But at least the hitter will think he's getting something. And that's what's important.

"If we just changed all the mounds and the strike zone and nobody knew, it might not change anything."

The strike zone had previously been defined as the area between the tops of the shoulders and the knees with the knee not specifically defined.

COMPLAINTS

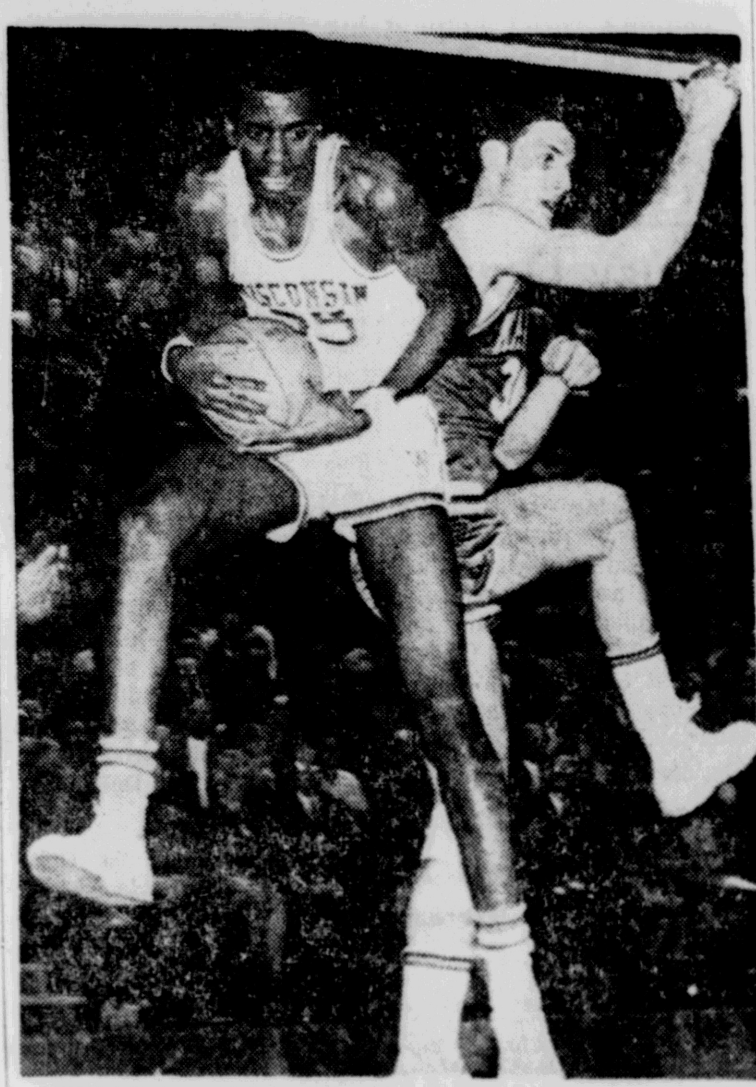
Rules committee members also said that a strike should be definitely across the area of the plate. Complaints had been made that some inside and outside pitches were called strikes.

Another change was made to allow for the completion of games suspended in extra innings rather than having them replayed in their entirety.

Scoring changes stiffened the earned run average computation for relief pitchers who come into an inning with two out after an error has been committed. It makes the save an official part of the game's pitching statistics rather than an unofficial item.

Pineda Doubles

SAN MATEO (AP) — Alvaro Pineda rode two winners at Bay Meadows yesterday and tied Angel Cordero Jr., for the lead in the race for the national riding championship. Each now has 289 winners.



SEE YOU AROUND

Wisconsin's James Johnson (35) and Bruce Sloan of Kansas appear to be taking off in different directions in a battle for a rebound during first half play of their basketball game yesterday. The Wisconsin quint upset Kansas, 67-62. See Story on page 38. (UPI Telephoto)

Warriors Win, Lose Thurmond For Week

PHOENIX (AP) —When San Francisco's Nate Thurmond left the game with 16 minutes remaining, he had scored 23 points, exactly the lead the Warriors held over the Seattle SuperSonics.

When the horn sounded, ending last night's contest, the Supersonics had roared back—but not quite far enough. The Warriors held on to defeat Seattle 127-122.

OUT OF ACTION

Thurmond, the Warriors' 6-foot-11 center, departed with a leg injury. He pulled a thigh muscle while dunking a shot in the third period. Those two points may force him to miss a week of play.

He'll miss tonight's National Basketball Association game against the new Phoenix Suns, 5-17 and last in the Western Division. The Warriors are 12-12 tied for second with the San Diego Rockets.

Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 26 points but it was Joe Ellis' timely play with 3½ minutes remaining that kept Seattle from winning its sixth straight game.

THEFT

With the Sonics just six points back and rallying, Ellis scored one field goal, then stole the ball to set up another that gave San Francisco its winning margin.

Len Wilkins of Seattle topped all scorers with 31 points. Bob Rule added 27 for the fifth-place Sonics, whose record dipped to 11-18.

49er Star John David To Retire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John David Crow, 33-year-old tight end with the San Francisco 49ers will wind up this National Football League career at the end of this season.

Crow, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1957 at Texas A&M, said yesterday he probably could help the 49ers next season, but believed he should devote more time to his wife and three children and business interests in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Crow played seven years with the St. Louis Cardinals before being traded to the 49ers in 1964.

Crown had been a running back until this season.

This year he carried the ball only four times for four yards in 12 contests, but he caught 27 passes for 327 yards and five touchdowns.

In his 11 years in the NFL, his yardage gained running and passing totals 8,859.

"We are losing not only a great football player, but also an outstanding leader," said Coach Dick Nolan.

Novato's Wrestlers Win No. 38

Novato High School's amazing wrestling team ran its consecutive string of dual meet victories to 38 yesterday by downing East Bay powerhouse Berkeley, 43-20, at Novato.

Greg Jones, Kirt Donaldsen, Jim Luntzel, Ken Donaldsen, Paul Robertson, Rob McCowan, and Tom Zechlin all recorded pins for the Hornets.

The Novato string runs back to 1966 and features an unbeaten season last year. In fact, the Hornets have only lost one dual meet over the part three seasons, including this one.

Two-Platoon Stays

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Big Eight football coaches unanimously endorsed yesterday retention of the present two-platoon substitution system for college football.

Positive Analysis Disputed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A State's witness testified today that the phenylbutazone given Dancer's Image six days before the Kentucky Derby could not have caused a positive urinalysis which which showed up after the race.

"The maximum retention time in my experince," said Dr. Gene Bierhause, "is 72 hours or three days."

NO SIDE EFFECTS

Bierhaus, track veterinarian for Colorado, also told the Kentucky Racing Commission that he never has noted any side effects from the anti-inflammatory medication.

The colt's owner, Peter Fuller, has contended the horse received only two doses of the drug in his career and that both times he reacted violently. Fuller, who is still trying to collect the $122,600 purse, said there was no such reaction after Dancer's Image won the derby.

NEGATIVE

Bierhaus said that his state permits the use of phenylbutazone up to 30 hours before a race.

On this 30-hour basis, he continued, at least 50 to 65 per cent of the horses treated excreet the medication from their system and by 48 hours practically all horses tested will come up negative.

Demo Treasurer Buys Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert E. Short, fund-raiser for a losing campaign as Democratic Party national treasurer, has bought the Washington Senators, long-time losers at both the ball park and the bank.

Short, 51, a Minneapolis hotel and trucking executive, purchased the last-place American League baseball club yesterday for about $10 million.

REMAIN

He said the Senators will remain in the nation's capital where they are host to baseball's anual presidential opener as well as the All-Star game next year marking the sport's 100th anniversary.

Ironically, in Short's first game, the man due to throw out the inaugural pitch will be Republican Richard M. Nixon, the victor over Short's personal friend and political ally, Hubert H. Humphrey.

A ninth-inning bid by comedian Bob Hope to buy the club fell short.

NO CHANGES

After conferring with both men in San Francisco where the winter baseball meetings are underway, Short said he did "not plan any immediate changes." But he added, "If it's necessary to eliminate either or both of them, I'm not afraid of that decision."

Short bought the club from Washington investment banker James H. Lemon—no relation to the manager—and the estate of Lemon's partner, James Johnston, who died last year.

The sale will need approval of the American League owners and the court overseeing Johnston's estate, but this should be routine.

EXPANSION

The Washington club was created as an expansion team in 1961 when the original Senators moved to Minnesota to become the Twins. It has finished last in the American League four times in its eight-year history.

The Senators have finished in the red all but one of the eight years they have existed. They lost an estimated $500,000 this past season as they skidded from a sixth-place tie in 1967 back into the familiar cellar.

Leroy Kelly Takes Over Scoring Lead

Kelly, who had been the top ground gainer, took over the scoring lead from Mike Clark of Dallas by making four touchdowns last Sunday. That gave him 108 points to 97 for Clark, who kicked two field goals and three extra points.

Kelly has an insurmountable lead in rushing with 1,073 yards. Gale Sayers of Chicago, who is out for the season, is second with 856 yards, and Ken Willard of San Francisco is third with 777.

Baltimore's Earl Morrall moved ahead of Don Meredith of Dallas as the leading passer. Morral has completed 59 per cent of his passes, has thrown 24 touchdown passes and has gained an average of 9.48 yards with his tosses.

Trojans Dominate All-Pac-8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of Southern California Trojans placed five men on the offensive lineup and one on the defense in the Pacific-8 All-Conference team announced today by Executive Director Thomas J. Hamilton.

Heading the Trojan stars is Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson, who set a new NCAA record with 1,709 net rushing yards for the season and raised conference marks with 355 ball carries, 22 touchdowns and 132 points scored.

Other backs on the All-Conference offensive lineup are flanker Gene Washington of Stanford, who snagged 71 passes for 1,117 yards and 8 touchdowns, and Bill Enyart of Oregon State.

Don Parish of Stanford quarterbacks the defensive team. In the backfield are Al Worley of Washington, Omri Hildreth of Oregon and Ken Wiedemann of UC.

On the line are ends Jim Gunn of USC and Mike McCaffrey of Cal, tackles George Dames of Oregon and Ed White of Cal, and guards Larry Agajanian of UCLA and Jon Sandstrom of OSU. At center is George Jugum of Washington.

Seven choices were unanimous on the part of the eight head coaches, said Hamilton. On the offense are backs Simpson of USC, Gene Washington of Stanford, Enyart of Oregon State and tackle Malcolm Snider of Stanford.

Unanimous defensive picks are Oregon State guard Jon Sandstrom, Washington back Al Worley and linebacker George Jugum. Simpson, Enyart, Dames of Oregon and McCaffrey of UC are repeaters from 1967.

Mets Prove Better Than Dodgers, Cubs

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets won season series with two National League teams in 1968.

The Mets turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 11 times in 13 meetings and beat the Chicago Cubs 10 times in 18 games.

The Mets found it toughest to win against the St. Louis Cardinals and Atlanta Braves. They were 6-12 with each club.

Rough-Tough Game, Oaks Beat Chaparrals

OAKLAND (AP) —The Oakland Oaks obviously wanted to make up for Monday night's surprising 112-111 upset loss to the Dallas Chaparrals. And the Chaps were just as determined to repeat their performance.

The result last night was a hard-fought game — too hard at times as a couple of shoving matches broke out. But the Oaks also broke out, scoring 84 points in the first half enroute to a 135-109 pounding of Dallas.

17-3 MARK

The victory lifted the Oaks' record to 17-3 and widened their lead over New Orleans to 6½ games in the American Basketball Association's Western Division. The Chaps, 7-8, are fifth in the West.

Oakland, idle tonight, hosts the New York Nets tomorrow night, then face the Miami Floridians Friday night. New York, 7-11, is fourth in the Eastern Division while Miami, 8-8, is second.

In the second period last night, Oakland ace Rick Barry and Dallas' John Beasley began pushing each other around. Benches emptied but order was restored before any punches were thrown.

SECOND TIME

Players on both teams rushed onto the court again in the third period as Oakland's Ira Harge and Dallas' Ron Boone began a shoving duel. Beasley suffered a sprained toe during that uprising.

He also led the Dallas attack with 24 points. Jim Eskins paced the Oaks with 28. The officials paced the entire game calling 68 fouls against the two teams.

Wisconsin Pulls Stunner Over Favored Kansans

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin has stamped itself a a contender in the Big Ten Conference basketball race this season, John Powless' first as head coach.

The unranked Badgers surprised the fourth-ranked Kansas Jayhawks 67-62 last night to the delight of a roaring crowd of 9,113 at Madison. When the game ended, Powless was carried off the floor by cheering players and fans.

James Johnson's 29 points, including a field goal in the last 40 seconds to ice the game, paced the Badgers. Down by nine points, Kansas pulled within 62-60 with two minutes left, but the aroused Badgers held on.

North Carolina, Notre Dame, Davidson and Villanova, the other teams in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action, each won as did 15th-ranked Detroit. Marquette, the only other team in the top 20 to play, was beaten by Minnesota.

Charlie Scott threw in 28 points to lead second-ranked North Carolina over Oregon 106-73 at Chapel Hill. Fifth-ranked Notre Dame won on the road beating King's, Pa., at Wilkes-Barre 84-54 behind 20 points by Austin Carr.

Davidson, No. 6, also enjoyed a homecourt breeze routing Furman 105-70. Johnny Jones got 30 points to lead 10th-ranked Villanova to a 64-54 home court triumph over Princeton.

Spencer Haywood, of U.S. olympic fame, scored 37 points to pace Detroit over Western Michigan 106-99 in overtime before 9,500 at Kalamazoo. Haywood got 10 field goals and 17 free throws.

One of his baskets gave the Titans a tie in regulation time and another put Detroit ahead for good in the extra period.

Marquette, No. 20, lost on the road to Minnesota 75-73. "They had us all the way," said Al McGuire, Marquette coach. "This will take us off our high horse."

Ohio Univ. beat Indiana 80-70, Georgia Tech took Southern Methodist 87-79, Oklahoma State downed Arkansas 73-68, George Washington defeated Richmond 97-93, Creighton whipped St. Louis 93-75, and St. John's N.Y., surprised St. Peters, N.J., 81-80.

Harada Wins On Knockout In 2nd Round

It was Harada's third straight victory since he moved up to the featherweight division after losing the world bantamweight crown to Lionel Rose of Australia in Tokyo last February. Harada weighed 127 pounds and Amolong 126.

Versalles Is Involved In Big Day Of Trades

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rash of trades broke out yesterday in the second day of the week long baseball meetings.

The most significant deals sent shortstop Zoilo Versalles to Cleveland, third baseman Deron Johnson to Philadelphia and pitcher Dave Giusti to St. Louis.

Versalles, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1965 when he led Minnesota to the pennant, hit only .196 last year with the Dodgers.

He had been picked in the expansion draft by San Diego but went to the Indians for first baseman Bill Davis and another player to be named later.

Johnson led the National League in runs batted in during the 1965 season with Cincinnati and was sold to the Phillies by Atlanta in a straight cash deal.

Giusti was traded to the Cardinals for four players off the new San Diego roster—outfielder Ron Davis, infielder-outfielder Ed Spiezio, minor leaguer Phil Knuckles, a pitcher, and Danny Breeden, a catcher.

Guisti was acquired by the Cards in a trade with Houston at the end of the season, but he went to the Padres in the expansion draft three days later. Now he returns to St. Louis.

Gobblers Have The Last Laugh; Some Ideas For Christmas Gift

STEVENS

Guess who's laughing now? The turkey gobblers in San Luis Obispo County, that's who. At least 213 hunters (not counting those who didn't pass through the check stations) bagged only 23 gobblers. Plenty of ammo was discharged but mainly the turks themselves caused the recorded small kill. There should be a movement to cause frustrated shotgunners, on meeting up with a turkey of another sex, to tip their hats in respect.

The fear many folks had that the turkey hunt would reduce the total number of birds, should subside.

IT IS now a good time to figure out what to give on Christmas, and an outdoor writer is besieged with brochures by the makers of merchandise that could be the perfect gift for a loved one. Most of this mail is read and discarded, but occasionally some item to be used by the hunter or angler has merit and should be mentioned in the column. Like, for example, the release from the 10-X Mfg. Co., 100 S.W. 3rd St., Des Moines, Iowa 50309, featuring a 10-X flourescent blaxe orange hunting jacket which sells for $28. And the 10-X flourescnt blaze orange hunting vest sells for $20. It would take a color-blind amateur to overlook another hunter in the brush.

How about local fishing for flounders, striped bass, sturgeon and perch? It has been ranging from fair to good to excellent by some boats in some locales.

Friday was a redletter day for many of the local party boat skippers. For esample, a portion of Friday's take follows: The party boat, Paul G out of Richmond, netted 21 limits of bass; the Mroning Star had 8 limits to 7 pounds and one salmon of 21 pounds; The R.S.P. boated 6 limits to 15 pounds (on live baits); the Miss Dragnet took 4 limits to 15 pounds; the Hawk landed 20 stripers to 8 pounds, and the Sunfish came back to the harbor Friday with 57 striped bass to 8 pounds.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Statistics Show Jets Tough On Some Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of individuals have had tough times against the New York Jets this season, but Gene Milton of Miami might have had the toughest statistically speaking.

Milton, the league's leading kickoff returner last week, got only 27 yards on three returns against the Jets last Sunday, and American Football League statistics released yesterday show what happened to him.

He tumbled from the top spot all the way to ninth as his average of 26.6 per return plummeted to 23.1.

The only changes in the leaders were among passers and receivers.

Len Dawson of Kansas City moved into the top spot ahead of Daryle Lamonica of Oakland in passing. Dawson has completed an amazing 59.3 per cent of his passes, and he's the only quarterback in the league who has averaged better than 8.25 yards gain per pass. His average is 9.14.

Huski Ski Club Has Openings

There are still a few openings for young skiers aged 9 through 18 in the Huski Ski Club of San Rafael, according to Wanda Stratford, community representative for the club.

The club is headed by Mrs. Suzi Gray, general manager, whose husband, Ernie, a Far West Ski Association certified instructor, heads the Huski Certified Ski School.

Mrs. Stratford explained the club is divided into three groups —Huski Ski Club, Huski Junior Leaders, and Huski Racers. Junior leaders must be 15 through 18 and well trained in basic ski methods. Huski racers will receive a program to enable them to compete with others.

Club outings are planned for Alpine Meadows and Boreal Ridge. Persons interested in membership can get in touch with Mrs. Stratford at 90 Mount Tenaya Drive, San Rafael.

Marin Skaters Tie Belmont In Hockey

David Bonbright, Robbie Hunton and Jamie Edwards each scored a goal to give the Marin Junior Ice Hockey Club's bantam team a 3-3 tie with the Belmont Bantams Sunday in a Northern California Junior Hockey League game.

Tough Job For Packers Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — In trying to stay alive Saturday for a chance at their fourth consecutive National Football League title, the Green Bay Packers will have to get by the team that is second in the league in offense and second in defense.

The Packers host Baltimore, which has averaged 352.6 yards a game while giving up just 241.8.

The Packers, meanwhile, have only the seventh best offense, with a 295.4 average, and the fourth best defense, with a 256.8 average.

Dallas has the best offensive average, 371.3 yards per contest, and Los Angeles has the toughest defense, holding its opponents to 221.8.

Los Angeles also has the best defense against rushing, Minnesota has the best against passing, Chicago has the best rushing team offensively and Baltimore the best passing.

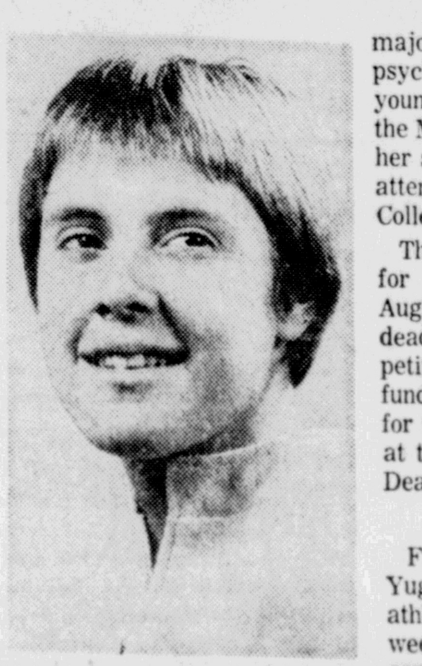
ONE OBSTACLE: MONEY

Marin Champion May Swim In World Games For Deaf



TERRY SHISTAR
On to Belgrade?

A 20-year-old University of California student from San Anselmo and her mother have high hopes of making it to the International Games for the Deaf next year in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Major obstacle to the trip is money. A world record swimmer, Terry needs $1,800 to pay for the expensive trip, and her mother, a registered nurse, needs the same amount to make the trip as a nurse for the U.S. team.

The 5-foot-4, 116-pound Miss Shistar established two world records and helped crack two relay world marks last August at the National World Games for the Deaf swimming competition at Chabot College in Hayward.

She also broke three individual American records for the deaf and helped on relay teams for two others at the Berkeley meet.

SURGICAL ACCIDENT

Miss Shistar is totally deaf in her right ear, the result of a surgical accident when she was 11 years old. Her hearing in her left ear is normal, but being deaf in the one ear qualifies her for the competition among deaf athletes.

Terry won the outstanding women's swimmer award hands down at the meet, registering 44 points in the competition. She took five first places among American swimmers.

She set a world record in the 100-meter butterfly event with a time of 1 minute, 20.2 seconds, another world mark in the 200-meter individual medley, 2:55.4, and an American record in the 800-meter freestyle, 11:54.8.

In American records for deaf swimmers, Terry now has five marks in long course events (50-meter pool) and 10 in short course (25-yard pool) events.

A sophomore at Cal, Terry is majoring in mathematics and psychology. When she was younger, she was a member of the Marin Swim Club, along with her sister, Roberta, 18, who now attends Sacramento State College.

The 11th International Games for the Deaf is scheduled for Aug. 9 through 16, 1969, so the deadline for prospective competitors to come up with the funds is April 1. Formal training for the games will start July 28 at the New York School for the Deaf in White Plains, N.Y.

TOUR PLANNED

Following the competition in Yugoslavia, the American athletes will be treated to a two-week tour of the Mediterranean countries.

According to Art Kruger, chairman of the U.S. International Games for the Deaf Committee, many of the deaf athletes are being aided in fund drives by their local civic organizations.

Santa Clara, Washington State Cagers Triumph

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Santa Clara Broncos and Washington State Cougars both won in impressive style last night in a light night of Coast cage action. Oregon took another loss at national power North Carolina.

Santa Clara, which figures to be one of the nation's 20 best this season, looked the part as it grabbed an 11-1 lead at the Cal Aggies' gym and rolled to a 94-66 win. Dennis Awtyey had 29 points and 20 rebounds to lead the rout by the Broncs of the defending Far Western Conference champs.

It was about the same story at Spokane as Washington State blasted to a 19-5 lead over Gonzaga and went on to a 91-64 win. Dennis Hogg of the winners meshed 19 in that one.

North Carolina belted Oregon 106-73 with All America prospect Charlie Scott hitting 28. Oregon was led by Stan Love's 16 points.

In other action three sophs combined for 42 points as Arizona took Northern Arizona 86-69. Western Washington took Sacramento State 69-58. Touring Cal Poly of Pomona fell at Tulsa in a wild 101-90 battle.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Proper Storage Vital To Proper Performance

A reader writes: "I drove a boat a year ago which was a sheer joy to handle. It ran straight and true and level and responded to the wheel like a well-trained horse responds to a good rider.

"This summer, it was a different boat entirely. It rode with the driver's side high, it had a tendency to pull to the right and on a sharp left turn the propeller cavitated. (That means it revved up and sucked air into its slip stream.")

When the boat was taken from the water for the last time this fall, it was turned upside down and a straight edge was laid along the bottom. It showed a depression . . . only very slight . . . along the side on which it had been sitting all last winter.

The boat is made of fiberglass-reinforced plastic, and the owner never dreamed that such an impervious material would ever go out of shape. Also, he argues, it may have gone out of shape anyway . . . no matter how it was sitting last winter.

Naturally no one is convinced by such an argument.

All this brings up an important point in winter boat storage. Now that more and more boats are made of fiberglass and plastic, or aluminum, the problem of winter protection from the elements is not as important as it used to be when all boats were wood.

But there is one thing that has not changed. That is the question of support. A boat in storage must be supported so that the extra stress on it caused by being out of water will not put it out of shape.

A lot of boaters don't realize that a boat out of water is in an unnatural environment and subject to greater stresses. Look at it this way: A boat was designed to float, and when it is afloat, its own weight, and the load it is carrying, is distributed evenly over the entire area of the boat in contact with the water.

But think of a boat on a trailer . . . supported maybe in one or two places along the keel, or unevenly along one side of the hull . . . suffering stresses that may put it out of shape and ruin its performance next summer.

Why, it's enough to make anyone with a trailer boat dash outside this very moment and put in a few more blocks to give it proper support.

And it's not a bad idea.

And while you're at it, if the motor is still on the transom, put a few blocks under it. That will help, too.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes No Method Will Work When Attempting A Key Signal

As an experienced defender you know that you can encourage partner to continue a suit by playing a higher card than necessary. You can discourage a continuation by playing the lowest available card. This is very valuable, but no method will work with a stubborn partner.

Opening lead — ♣ K

West opened with the king of clubs and shifted to the 10 of diamonds upon seeing the dummy. Declarer took dummy's ace of diamonds to conceal his own diamond strength, but East discouraged a continuation by playing the deuce of diamonds.

Declarer led dummy's low club to force out the ace with the 10. West wondered what to lead next because he had seen the deuce of diamonds, but he still hated to lead a spade for fear of giving declarer a free finesse.

West defiantly led the nine of diamonds, giving South the chance to grind East into little pieces. Declarer took the king of diamonds, entered dummy with a heart to the king and led dummy's queen of clubs.

SURE LOSS

East could pick his own way to lose a trick. If East ruffed, South would overruff and could then draw the last trump without worrying about losing a trump trick to the queen. If East failed to ruff, declarer would discard all three spades on the good clubs and the queen of diamonds.

West could not be sure of defeating the contract if had shifted to a spade, but he had a fighting chance.

MUST GUESS

The defenders would then have two clubs and one spade in the bank, and South would have to guess the location of the queen of hearts to make his contract.

You can afford to disregard your partner's signals only if you are a much better player than he is. And bigger, too.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ A 8 5 4
♥ Q 4 2
♦ J 4 3 2
♣ 8 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You should have eight points in high cards or rather good distribution to disturb your partner's notrump bid.

Beer Drinking May Have Saved Lives

NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, England (UPI)—Two drinkers who downed 10 pints (12 U.S. pints) of beer apparently saved themselves from food poisoning. Although they ate from a batch of sea food that poisoned 75 other persons, they were unaffected.

"It seems the beer diluted or neutralized the poison," said a health department spokesman.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 4, the 339th day of 1968 with 27 to follow.

The moon is full. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1918 President Woodrow Wilson sailed for France to attend the peace conference for World War I at Versailles.

In 1942 President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered the liquidation of the WPA, created in 1935 to provide work for the unemployed.

In 1946 the United Mine Workers Union was fined $3.5 million for refusing to call off a 17-day strike.

In 1965 America's Gemini-7 spaceship was hurled into orbit on an unprecedented and successful 14-day voyage around the earth. On Dec. 15, Gemini-7 and Gemini-6 made their historical rendezvous in space and circled the earth only yards apart.

A thought for the day: George Washington said, "There can be no greater error than to expect or calculate upon favors from nation to nation."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Singer, General Mills Worth Buying Now

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I wish to invest a few thousand in growth stocks. What should I buy? — H. W.

A. Particularly interesting at this time are Singer Co. and General Mills which have above-average long-range merit. Acquisitions are an important factor in both issues.

Moving further afield all the time from its original milling business, General Mills offers, aside from its well-known Betty Crocker package foods and "Big G" cereals, snack foods, Gorton fish products, children's toys, games and craft kits. Introduction of 40 or 50 new products annually is the result of a $9 million annual steady earnings growth.

Singer, with the acquisition of General Precision Equipment, significatnly expanded its electronic capabilities. Consumer products still account for a large — 46 per cent — portion of combined operations. Industrial sewing and knitting equipment, office accounting and calculating machines, hi-fi sets and small appliances are all included among the products manufactured by Singer. General Precision, with close to half of its sales going to government space and defense programs, will probably restrict earnings gains for the current year. Nevertheless per-share results of over $4.50 are anticipated.

Both companies are pursuing aggressive expansion programs and should be bought for capital appreciation over the next three to five years.

Q. I would appreciate your advice on Bristol-Myers and Motorola, both of which I hold at a loss. I need more income and am confused about what to do. — I. B.

A. New management is making great strides in strengthening Motorola's weakest link — consumer products. As a result, nine months earnings jumped 78 per cent on a 27 per cent gain in sales. Share price should begin to reflect the improvement in Motorola's outlook. Market reaction to Bristol-Myers' poor third-quarter results was, in my opinion, excessive and a price correction should be forthcoming.

The yield on these two issues is inadequate for someone in need of income, but because recovery is anticiapted I would not recommend selling at current levels.

California Factory Pay Hits Record In October

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Average hourly earnings of factory production workers in California hit a record high of $3.50 in October, the state Department of Industrial Relations reported yesterday.

Weekly earnings of factory workers in the state also set a new record at $142.45—a $6.99 increase from October 1967.

Albert C. Beeson, director of the department, said the new hourly record is one cent ahead of the previous high, in September, and 18 cents above the October 1967 figure.

The October factory pay in the Los Angeles - Long Beach area averaged $3.42 an hour. In the San Francisco - Oakland area, the average hourly rate in October was $3.86.

Illinois Company Buying Bay Firm

PALO ALTO (BW) — The United Fire Insurance Co., a Chicago based corporation, announced an agreement has been entered into to purchase for cash all of the accident and health and hospital business of American Pacific Life Insurance Co. of California, Palo Alto.

The agreement, subject only to approval by insurance departments of various states, will become effective Jan. 2.

United Fire presently is licensed to operate in 24 states and the District of Columbia, and estimates its 1968 premium income will be in excess of $10.4 million, with assets of approximately $7 million and capital and surplus more than $5.6 million.

Airport Freight Volume Climbs

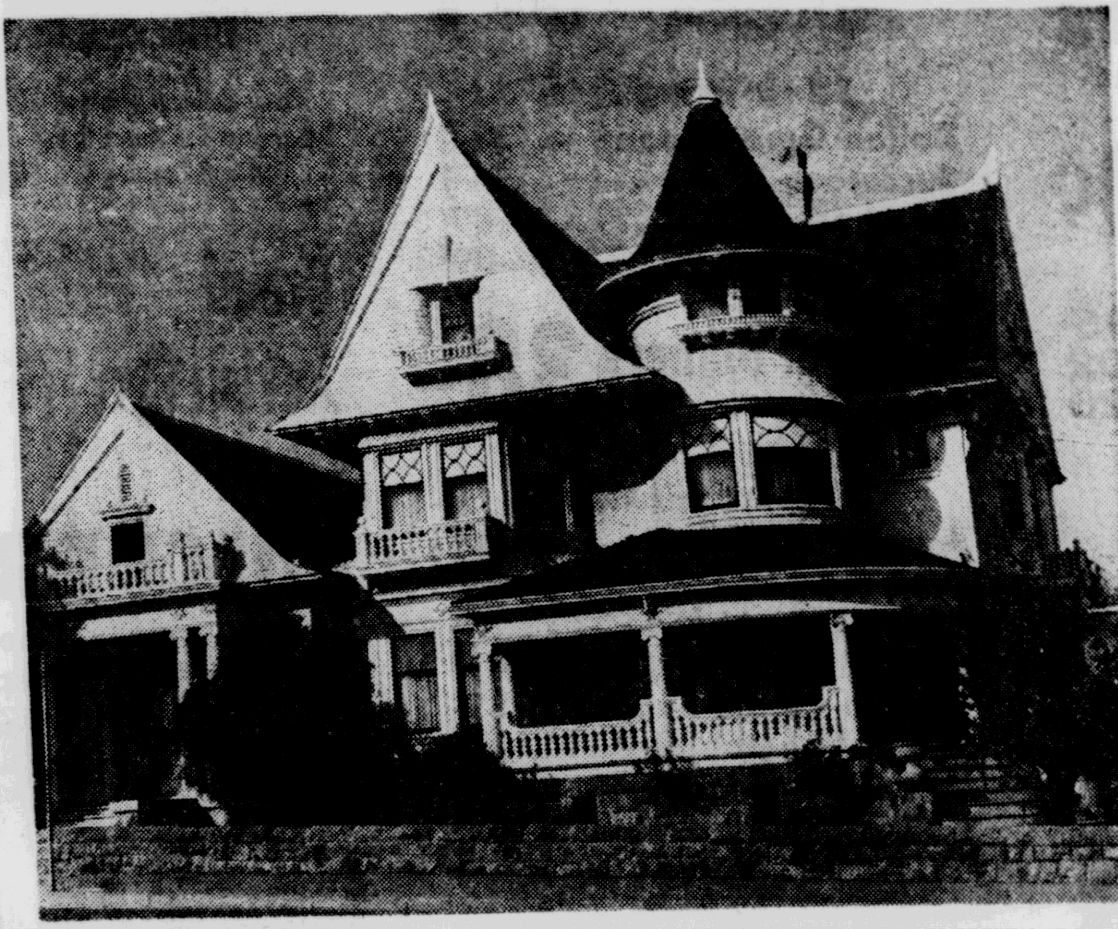
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new monthly high in air freight volume was handled at San Francisco International Airport in October, George F. Hansen, airport general manager, has reported.

Up 26.3 per cent from a year ago, October freight totaled 55,547,000 pounds, compared with the previous monthly record of 51,087,735 pounds last May.

The October passenger total of 1,147,735 was up 8.6 per cent from a year ago.

MOVE PLANNED IN PETALUMA

In March, the Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma will be moving from its 100-year-old mansion (above) on Washington Street at Keokuk Avenue and into modern facililties (below) on Petaluma Boulevard North, at Cemetery Lane. The new facility, designed by Petaluma architectts Lieb and Quaresma, will include a chapel, a drawing room, two repose rooms, selection room, family room, two offices and employees quarters. A formal garden with a fountain will carry out the Georgetown colonial theme.



Pacific Coast Exchange Alters Rules On Volume Commissions

LOS ANGELES (BW)—The Pacific Coast Stock Exchange has amended its rule on commissions, in accordance with changes to go into effect tomorrow on the New York and American Stock exchanges, except for one significant variation—the PCSE will give volume discounts on trades in excess of 1,000 shares even though the order is completed on more than one exchange, Thomas P. Phelan, president, said Monday.

"When an order is split between two or more markets," Phelan explained, "the NYSE and ASE have ruled that if portions of an order are executed on such exchanges the portions executed on those exchanges must be treated as separate orders for commission purposes and the portions executed on other exchanges must be computed in accordance with the rules of such other exchanges.

"Our rule provides that the reduced rate applicable to shares in excess of 1,000 may be charged, regardless of the exchanges on which the first 1,000 shares of the order is executed," he said.

For example, on a 1,500 share order, 800 shares executed on PCSE and on NYSE, the discount applicable to the shares in excess of 1,000 would be available, and 500 of the 800 shares executed on the PCSE would be at the reduced rate.

Phelan, pointed out that all forms of customer directed give-up are prohibited under the amended rules of the PCSE.

The prohibition was adopted as a means of preserving the structure, and the strict minimum commission rate adherence to the spirit as well as the letter of the rule is essential for the welfare of the industry, Phelan said.

Longs Drugs Has Increased Profits

OAKLAND (BW) — Longs Drug Stores, retail drug chain in Marin and elsewhere in California and Hawaii, has announced a 27 per cent increase in earnings and a 30 per cent increase in sales for the nine months ended Oct. 31.

Earnings for the nine months were $2,815,000, or $1.10 per share, against $2,240,000, or 88 cents per share, for the same period in 1967 after adjustment for a 2-for-1 stock split May 28, 1968.

Sales for the nine months were $85,539,000, up from $65,852,000 for the like 1967 period.

Earnings Increase

OAKLAND (BW) — World Airways has reported third quarter earnings, including those attributable to its subsidiary, First Western Bank, of $4,738,000, or 47 cents a share, compared with $3,640,000, or 36 cents a share, for the same period of last year.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Novato-Vallejo Firm Acquires Gotelli's Equipment Rental

There has been a sale of Gotelli's Equipment Rental at 610 Irwin Street, San Rafael.

Richard J. Gotelli has sold to Ted De Vries of Vallejo, owner of Vallejo Rent-All and also Novato Rent-All in Novato. Richard Earle, formerly at Novato Rent-All, has taken charge in San Rafael.

Cotelli will remain with the company for a while and plans on going into equipment repairing somewhere in this area.

NEW OCCUPANT at 55 Mitchell Boulevard, Northgate Industrial Park is J. H. Weiler Inspection Service, moved from Ignacio.

Owner J. H. Weiler, a resident of Bel Marin Keys, has leased 400 square feet of office and 2,000 square feet of warehouse space at Northgate through William W. Hoey and Co.

The company inspects and maintains telephone poles throughout the country and also maintains an office and plant in Denver.

ALSO MOVED to Northgate Industrial Park is insurance broker Keith Bechler, who has taken office space through Hoey at 45 Mitchell Boulevard.

Bechler, who lives in Woodacre, formerly had his office at 9 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

THIS IS THE SEASON for increased interest in snow sports, which brings forth this timely announcement of a recent corporation formed in Marin known as the Huski Ski Club, Inc.

It is an "umbrella" corporation, which is to say that it may venture into several projects. But at the moment its principal activity is the Huski Ski School for juniors, from nine to 18 years of age.

John D. Hamilton of Orinda is corporation president and Howard J. Hamen of Lafayette is vice president. The two head Radio KPAT, which is quite active in winter sports news and announcements.

But in Marin, Ernest E. Gray of Lucas Valley is second vice president and director of the ski school, which has been certified by the Far West Ski Association. And his wife Suzanne is secretary-treasurer and general manager. Huski has P.O. Box 4267, San Rafael, as its official address, but the Grays may be contacted at their home in Lucas Valley.

The school undertakes a series of 12 trips for members to ski areas each season, with instruction and several supervised programs. Another activity is handling snow tours for adult groups on a one-day or weekly basis — a complete program including transportation and accommodations.

NOVATO PHARMACY, Novato has acquired a franchise for Blum's Candy. Owners Milton Henneman and Vincent Severetti say this is the first Blum's franchise ever offered to a drugstore. The pharmacy has also recently taken on a franchise for Nina Ricci fragrances.

BUSINESS ANNIVERSARIES: Reed and Bobbie Price, owners of National Auto Glass stores in San Rafael, Novato and Santa Rosa, celebrated their fifth birthday in business with a dinner dance at Cotati . . Matson's Red Wing Shoes at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael is having its third birthday celebration.

AWARDS: Alfred Strasser, manager of Anthony Pools, Inc., San Rafael, has been presented with a $1,200 vacation bonus of outstanding sales achievements. He'll use it toward a three-week trip for himself, wife and two children to Tahiti, starting Dec. 12. He has been with the company three years. . . . Reuel Bradney of Woodacre, a travel agent with Haley Corp. in San Francisco, has been presented with Air France's Winged Victory Award.

EIGHT MARIN COUNTY FIRMS have recently been accepted for membership in the Better Business Bureau of San Francisco, Ltd.: Ace Upholstery, Art Boates and Sons, Hanna Leathers and Sausalito Dry Cleaners, all of Sausalito: North Bay Lumber Co., Corte Madera; Eileen Feather Salon, Marin Dodge, Inc. and The Messingers, Hearing Aids, all of San Rafael.

Auto Dealer Again Gains A Rezoning

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved rezoning of property on the southwest side of McDowell Boulevard at Old Redwood Highway from light industrial to highway commercial.

The land, owned by Aubrey W. and Roger A. Sanderson, had been rezoned a year ago, but the time limit on development had expired and the rezoning had to be approved again.

Aubrey Sanderson, an automobile dealer in Petaluma, said development of the property had been delayed because of a new assessment district in the area.

The Sandersons said in the original rezoning application plans were to erect a new auto showroom on McDowell Boulevard.

Sanderson had filed a similar application for rezoning of nearby property outside the city limits. He withdrew the request, however, from the county planning commission.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

PUMP STATION — Approved a use permit for the City of Petaluma to construct a pump station in a single family residential zone at the corner of Mission Drive and McNear Avenue.

TRIPLEX — Approved a variance for Dr. Hamza I. Munib to construct a triplex on a substandard size lot at 340 Kentucky Street. The commission set a wider driveway as one of the conditions for approval.

HOSPITAL — Approved plans and site design for a convalescent hospital on Douglas Street at the Petaluma Trade Center. The hospital will be built by California Health Care, Inc.

REZONING — Approved rezoning of four lots on Magnolia Street from single family residential to multiple family to allow construction of duplexes by William Y. Foster. Foster's request to include lots on Cherry Street was denied by the commission which said duplexes would not be compatible to existing uses.

SETBACK — Approved a variance waiving set back requirements on property owned by Merton Preston at 326 Petaluma Boulevard North. The commission required a rear entrance for fire safety. Preston intends to construct an auto parts and services store.

Two East Bay Police Wounded

OAKLAND (AP) — Policeman Fred Lietzke, 28, was shot in the left cheek and Wesley Owens, 29, was shot in the right hip in a gun battle last night.

Both were reported in good condition in hospitals today.

Police said Owens started shooting and tried to flee from his West Oakland home when six officers came to arrest him on a traffic warrant and an assault charge.

Police returned the fire and captured Owens.

They said Owens was wounded accidentally with Lietzke's pistol while they were struggling to handcuff the prisoner.

The six officers had been assigned to make the arrest because Owens' bail bondsman had warned them he was armed.

North Marin Water Economies Outlined

The North Marin County Water District operates with fewer employees per customer and less loss of water than other districts in the state, District Mgr. Jerome B. Gilbert last night reported to his district board.

The statewide average is one employee per 264 customers while that of the North Marin district is one per 424, Gilbert said. The average operating cost per customer is $45 per year while that of the North Marin district is $33 per year, he said.

The state average is 11.1 per cent water loss through leakage, while that of the North Marin district is about 6.5 per cent according to Gilbert.

The district's pipeline installation costs have held about even for five years or dropped slightly, Gilbert reported. Labor costs for replacements has held steady at $1.63 per foot for the past five years.

Installations of mains in subdivisions is up from $1.10 in 1963 to $1.46 per foot for labor this year, he said. This is because of a reduced volume of subdivisions and the smaller subdivisions.

Pipeline extensions to serve outlying areas has dropped from $1.14 in 1963 to 96 cents per foot for the labor, he said.

Gilbert reported that there is renewed interest in water and sewage studies in the West Marin area from Olema to Dillons Beach.

Novato Loses Clerk To Mill Valley Offer

Mrs. Jean Walkup, an accountant clerk II and a veteran City of Novato employee, resigned today, effective Dec. 15, according to Director of Finance Charles L. Foster.

Mrs. Walkup has been with the city since October 1962. She said that she was going to work for the City of Mill Valley at a substantial increase in salary. Her salary with Novato is $578 and she will start in Mill Valley at $703 per month, she said.

Novatan Finds Suspect In Home

A 22-year-old San Rafael man was arrested on suspicion of burglary yesterday when the owner of a home on the outskirts of Novato returned to find him in the building.

Gordon Eugene Taylor of 1135 Fourth Street, was held with no bail set and was to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon.

Fred Miller of 575 Atherton Avenue said he found Taylor in his house when he returned yesterday morning. The building had been ransacked, he said.

Sheriff's officers said Taylor told Miller he noticed the lock to his house had been broken. He said he heard a noise from within and entered to investigate, deputies reported.

Alto Garbage Charges To Rise 30 Per Cent

A 30 per cent increase in garbage collection rates over the next three years was approved last night by the Alto Sanitary District board, Director Carl O. Heynen Jr. reported.

Heynen said the increase was approved after a study of the financial records of the Mill Valley Refuse Co. showed costs had increased sufficiently to justify higher rates.

Rates will go up 15 per cent in January, with a 10 per cent increase in 1970 and a 5 per cent rise in 1971.

Present rates are $2 a month for single can and $3.75 for two or more cans in residential areas. The first year's increase would raise single can rates to $2.30 a month and two-can rates to $4.31 a month.

Directors also agreed that developers of the Chernenko subdivision off of North Knoll Road must get permission from the City of Mill Valley to use the city's sewer treatment plant and approval from the Local Agency Formation Commission before a request to have 11 lots in the subdivision annexed to the district can be approved by the board.

Tiburon Infant Hurt In Wreck

A Tiburon infant was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for face bruises after a three-car collision on Highway 101 in Alto, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Kimberly Levis, 9-month-old, was in a car driven by her mother, Karen C. Levis, 29, of 15 Red Hill Circle Drive. The highway patrol said northbound traffic was stopping for a stalled car at 1:50 p.m. when Mrs. Levis's car hit the rear of a stopped car driven by Mary Courtis, 28, of 2332 Paradise Drive, Tiburon. Miss Courtis' car then hit one driven by Will Wilson, 72, of 100 Waldo Court, Sausalito.

Mrs. Lewis was cited for speeding.

Marinite Wins Muni Nod On Free Passes For Blind

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A proposal by a San Rafael man that the San Francisco Municipal Railway give free passes to nonresident blind persons won unanimous approval yesterday from the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

Leslie A. Grant of 38 Harcourt Street, himself blind, made his proposal to the commission in January, and mounted a one-man campaign to get it approved.

The free passes, long available to San Franciscans, now will be extended to blind residents of Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa and San Mateo counties under yesterday's vote.

The commission's staff estimated that some 2,000 persons in the four counties would be eligible for the passes, and the annual loss in revenue would be $5,300.

Information on how to obtain the passes is available from John M. Woods, general manager of the Municipal Railway, 901 Presidio Avenue, San Francisco.

Burglars In School

Burglars stole $2, a radio and a postage scale from Miller Creek School in Marinwood over the weekend, sheriff's officers reported today.

Bus Gunman Gets Sentence

OAKLAND (AP) — A 15-year-to life term has been imposed on a Berkeley man for a robbery-shooting which brought a drastic change in the AC Transit bus fare system.

Lawrence Mosley, 22, was convicted by a jury of the June 10 holdup and sentenced yesterday by Superior Court Judge Zook Sutton.

The bus driver, Ralph Livingston, recovered, but still has the bullet in his body.

AC Transit drivers had been plagued by robberies and shootings and after the holdup of Livingston it was decided they no longer would carry change. The idea also spread to San Francisco's Municipal Railway System.

Passengers now must have either the correct fare or a token.

Tiburon Plans Holiday Trim

Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday agreed to decorate the Tiburon downtown area for Christmas, Ben A. Farlatti, president, reported.

A Christmas tree will be placed downtown and the bus depot and Main Street gas lamps will be decorated, Farlatti said.

Tiburon stores will remain open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily through Dec. 24 to facilitate Christmas shopping, the chamber also announced. None of the stores will be open at night.

$950 Is Donated To Fight Hunger

The Marin Chapter of Meals for Millions has contributed $950 to the foundation's food shipments which went to Biafra, Ecuador and Navajo Indians, according to Alan B. Jonas of Terra Linda, chapter president.

The Meals for Millions Foundation has sent a shipment of 100 tons of food to Biafra, made possible by private contributions and through the cooperation of General Mills and Aid to Biafran Children Inc., Jonas reported.

The food was distributed to nearly 400 refuge camps and feeding stations in Biafra which care for about 4 million Biafrans, he said. Food was transported through UNICEF.

Twenty persons were arrested in separate narcotics raids in Sausalito, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Fairfax yesterday and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of drugs and marijuana were confiscated.

An anonymous telephone call led Sausalito police to a 330-pound haul of suspected marijuana and an apparent laboratory for producing methamphetamine (speed).

Four persons were arrested, one an 18-year-old girl who lived at 43 Cable Roadway, where the pot and the laboratory were found.

Officers went to the house at 4:20 p.m. suspecting a burglary after a telephoned report of a suspicious car in the vicinity.

They flushed two men at the scene, one of whom fled on foot into the brush and escaped. The other refused an order to halt and fled in a car, but was caught by Mill Valley police 20 minutes later.

In the downstairs bedrooms, according to Lt. James R. Nunes, they found approximately 150 one-kilogram bricks of packaged weed, an extensive chemical laboratory, 15 gallons of ether and a quantity of film developer. Ether is used in making speed and developer is often used to cut its strength, Nunes said.

Gee and Cain called detectives who staked out the house for several hours and netted three more persons who entered.

First was Caron Gean Stowe, 18, of 43 Cable Roadway, arrested at 6:15 p.m. At 7 p.m. Joel Anderson, 25, of Mendocino, was arrested and at 8 p.m. the stakeout netted Rodney John Shimmon, 36, of San Francisco.

Nixon Sets Harriman Conference

The aide said earlier that Nixon had talked to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge about the possibility of Lodge replacing Harriman as chief American negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

This was announced after the same Nixon spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, told newsmen that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey rejected a firm offer from Nixon to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Nixon himself announced the appointment of Dr. Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan to be the next chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

The president-elect, putting in a busy day at his Hotel Pierre headquarters, conferred later with Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills, the most influential man in Congress on tax matters, said he looked "with a degree of skepticism" on any ideas to vote tax credits—a device Nixon repeatedly has espoused as a means of dealing with many of the nation's social ills.

While declaring that such credits are generally undesirable from the standpoint of tax policy, Mills conceded that benefits to be derived in specific cases might make them warranted.

GEOLOGY TESTS BEGIN

By ANNE BARDWELL

A Sentinel antiballistic missile base will be located on Wolfback Ridge, partially on Marincello land, if extensive soils tests now underway indicate the area is suitable for the underground installation.

The hilly ridge area, west of Highway 101 and adjacent to the Sausalito city limits, has apparently won out over two other proposed Bay Area sites — Angel Island and the San Pablo Ridge in Contra Costa County—according to Army Corps of Engineers spokesmen in Sacramento.

Contractors hired by the corps brought drilling anf earth moving equipment onto the 300-acre site last week. Drilling is expected to start within the next few days with testing to be completed by the end of January, according to Alfred J. Geandrot Jr., chief of the corps' military engineering branch in Sacramento.

A detailed topographical survey will be prepared at the same time, Geandrot said.

Yesterday, Geandrot confirmed speculation that the tests indicate the site is the preferred location for the missile base, although, he noted, no official word has come from either the Army Sentinel Systems Command in Huntsville, Ala., or the Army Air Defense Command at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado.

In September, Geandrot said soils tests would be made on the site selected as "most suitable" for the missile base. If the tests indicate the site is geologically unsuitable, the second most suitable site then will be selected and tested, he said.

Geandrot yesterday also said he believed, but could not officially confirm, that Angel Island had been rejected because of access problems and the high cost of transporting men and equipment to and from the island. The difficulty of maintaining an adequate water supply on the island was also a factor in its rejection.

However, Angel Island, for all of its drawbacks, still appears to have a slight edge over the San Pablo Ridge site in Contra Costa County, mainly because it is tactically in a better location, according to Geandrot.

"San Pablo Ridge is pretty far away and not as suitable to defend adequately the San Francisco Bay Area from missile attack," Geandrot said.

The soils tests are being made to determine the suitbility of the soil conditions for the construction of the missile base, which will be underground with only radar facilities and launching windows for the missiles above ground. The soil must be soft enough to be excavated with a minimum amount of effort, yet firm enough to safely house the facilities, Geandrot said.

Test borings will be made to a depth of 100 feet, he said, and trenches, some 10 to 20 feet deep will be dug to reveal the geology of the area.

Equipment will be moved from the site once the tests are completed, he said, but the test borings and trenches will not be refilled.

The test results will be submitted to Huntsville at the end

Marin Air Ace Tells Of Life As Captive

By MARY LEYDECKER

"You learn to go along with the tide."

With this statement, Marin jet ace Maj. James F. Low, summed up a life which most recently included seven months in a North Vietnam prison.

The fact that the 43-year-old flier is one of only six Americans to be released by the Communists is probably not surprising to those who have followed his career since the days when he was a Tamalpais High School student at the beginning of World War II.

However, the Major is no longer the grinning kid from Sausalito who posed beside his jet during the Korean War and who received a hero's welcome complete with a big San Francisco parade in 1953.

His tired blue eyes said more than his words as he spoke of his experiences in North Vietnam in an interview at Hamilton Air Force Base, where he is now stationed.

"At the first, not so good — at the end, not so bad," was his succinct description of life in prison.

Although he lost 35 pounds in prison camp, Low described prison food as "adequate." French bread and soup comprised the two meals of the day with occasionally some peanuts or canned meat thrown in.

"They treated us as criminals, not prisoners of war," Major Low said, but he denied any "real attempts" at brainwashing on the part of the North Vietnamese. "They gave us some of their magazines to read sometimes

Sanitary District Bows To Takeover

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board, which long has battled attempts by the Town of Corte Madera to merge the district with the town, last night withdrew its resistance.

In a joint statement issued by Herber C. Leney, board president, and Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, it was announced that the board last night agreed not to oppose the town's petition for a merger when it comes before the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 3 p.m. Tuesday at a public hearing at Civic Center.

Colthurst, who attended the board meeting, suggested that the board be retained by the city as an advisory committee. Ronald L. Usher, town manager who also attended, said Colthurst indicated he would bring the suggestion to the council and the council and the board can discuss at a later time what role the committee would play.

The committee would be nonsalaried, Usher said.

In the statement, Leney said the board's main concern has been to implement the master plan of Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco engineering firm, for sewerage services for all of Marin. The plan calls for a merger of sanitary districts to form three large districts within the county, or the alternative of the Marin Municipal Water District and the North Marin County Water District assuming the responsibilities by taking over districts in their areas, Usher said.

Colthurst said one of the committee's duties would be to pursue the idea of area-wide consolidation as proposed in the master plan, Usher reported.

BOMB THREAT MADE TO HOME OF HAYAKAWA

An anonymous person last night threatened to bomb the Mill Valley home of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College.

An unknown person called Mill Valley police at 7:14 p.m. and told the matron on duty that a bomb had been planted in the Hayakawa home at 225 Eldridge Avenue, police said. The matron said the caller had a male-sounding voice.

The Hayakawas, away at the time the bomb threat was received, returned to their home at 9 p.m. shortly after the search had been completed, police said.

Yesterday's Acts Bring 32 Arrests

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — A massive police force moved onto San Francisco State College campus today as student radicals vowed new disorders in the wake of the worst violence in the school's history.

Acting president Dr. S. I. Hayawaka was equally determined. He called the militants "anarchists" and authorized the deployment of 600 police to "break up this reign of terror." (See another story, page 23.)

Ten law enforcement officers from Marin County today were sent to a standby area near the campus, Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said.

MARIN GROUP

Two men from the sheriff's office, two policemen each from Novato, San Rafael and Sausalito and one officer each from Mill Valley and San Anselmo were dispatched.

Before police patrols returned one student, bleeding profusely from mouth cuts, reported he had been jumped by seven black students in front of the Black Student Union's building — because he was wearing a blue arm band to show his support for Hayakawa.

The beating took place at about 10:30 a.m. at a moment when no police were in the vicinity, he said.

The student also reported that the blacks hit a coed when she objected to their attack on him. She also suffered mouth cuts, he said.

32 ARRESTS

Yesterday in the second straight day of militant student and police clashes, 32 arrests were made, bringing the two-day total to 42. Also 14 students have been suspended from classes.

For the opening of classes today on the 18,000-student campus, not a single picket was in

Sunspot Danger

PASADENA (AP)—The scheduled Christmas orbit of the moon by three Apollo 8 astronauts could be endangered by a new massive storm on the sun, an astronomer says.

Dr. Harold Zirin of the California Institute of Technology said yesterday a new solar storm on the sun—called a sunspot—"has grown rapidly in the past 10 days and it will be facing the earth at the center of the sun on Dec. 23."

Quake Injuries

BELGRADE (AP)—More than 35 persons in the industrial town of Tuzla were injured by an earthquake which jolted the central Yugoslav state of Bosnia-Hercegovina last night.

The quake caused widespread panic and many people camped overnight on the streets. A girl student in panic jumped through a second-floor window and broke her legs.

Churchill Memorial

LONDON (AP)—A statue of Sir Winston Churchill in his debating stance—hands on hips, legs apart, jaw thrust forward—is to be his memorial in the House of Commons.

Baroness Spencer-Churchill, the war leader's wife, helped a Commons committee make the choice between two plaster models submitted by Oscar Nemon, the sculptor chosen for the task in 1966.

Jupiter In '72?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Unmanned space flights to Jupiter, 370 million miles away, are probably for 1972, says a government scientist.

Dr. John Wolfe of the National Aeronautical and Space Agency made that forecast Tuesday at a meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

He estimated the flights to the huge planet would take 600 days.

Strike Spreads

ROME (AP)—A tidal wave of labor walkouts widened across Italy today, and shouting high school students jammed the streets of major cities in new protests against the police killing of two Sicilian farm workers.

Almost every high school in Rome was closed as nearly 30,000 students demonstrated noisily for a second day. Thousands of other students paraded the downtown streets of Milan, and other strikers were out on the streets in Rome, Genoa, Milan, Venice and other cities.

Korean Patrol

SEOUL (AP)—Ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet will patrol South Korea's coastal waters until South Korean shore defenses are considerably strengthened, the newspaper Joong-ang Ilbo said today.

No comment was available from U.S. military officials on the report.

Attorney For Sirhan Will Fight Video

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's new attorney says the defense will veto public televising of the trial of the man charged with assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Grant B. Cooper had his first meeting with Sirhan yesterday. He was asked about a resolution adopted unanimously earlier in the day by the County Board of Supervisors proposing the trial "be televised under strict regulations and controls." Because of tight security, a courtroom holding about 100 is to be used for the trial.

Cooper was accompanied by Russell E. Parsons, who handled Sirhan's defense alone while Cooper was tied up in another case. Cooper said public TV was not possible without the defendant's consent "and you are never going to get the consent of the defendant as long as Russ (Parsons) and I are the attorneys."

A third defense attorney will be Emile Zola Berman of New York. Each attorney, Cooper said, "will tackle a particular avenue" of defense.

The trial now is scheduled for Monday, but defense motions to postpone it until January will be heard tomorrow by Judge Herbert V. Walker.

First Migrating Whales Sighted

PALOS VERDES (UPI) — The first group of migrating gray whales was sighted yesterday about two miles offshore in the Santa Barbara Channel.

The six whales were en route from the arctic to their breeding grounds in the lagoons of Baja California, Mexico. They return north in February.

The annual migration is believed the longest of any mammal.

Fighting In Yemen

ADEN, South Yemen (UPI)— Fresh fighting has broken out between rebel and government troops along South Yemen's northern frontier, the Yemeni government said yesterday.

Thieu Sees A Long Session In Paris

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that the South Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks will be in the French capital on Saturday.

Thieu told newsmen meetings will be held in Paris next week to deal with the complicated procedural questions prior to the opening of full-scale peace talks.

Asked how long he thought the talks would last, he said he could not guess.

"One cannot predict if the enemy will have good will," he added.

Thieu said in response to another question he thought there were no immediate prospects for a cease-fire.

"This could come about after a certain time," he said, "but it is very complicated and involves many procedural problems."

Government sources have said that the South Vietnamese delegation will make its first order of business an effort to de-escalate the war and the accompanying terrorism.

The president denied suggestions that his delegation would delay getting down to substantive talks until after the inauguration Jan. 20 of Richard M. Nixon. Some South Vietnamese officials believe that Nixon can be counted on more than President Johnson to hold out for a settlement favorable to the Saigon regime.

Thieu said it is "completely false" that he is waiting for Nixon to take office.

"We are at war and we must stop the war," he said. "We cannot wait for anybody."

Members of South Vietnam's negotiating team had still not been announced late today. Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, head of South Vietnam's observer mission in Paris, is expected to lead the team under the supervision of Vice President Ngueynen Cao Kay. Persons mentioned as members included Mrs. Nguyen Thi Vui, a Saigon lawyer, and Nguyen Xuan Phong, a former official in the premier's office.

In Bangkok, official sources said there was a split within the allied camp over what sort of negotiated peace settlement should come out of the Paris peace talks.

Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman told newsmen Thailand supports the South Vietnamese contention that Hanoi is attempting to gain at Paris the victory it could not win on the battlefield.

In Paris, U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats had another confidential discussion about procedures looking toward an opening next week of the expanded peace conference on Vietnam, formants said.

Communist sources indicated also that the Hanoi delegation lodged a new protest alleging bombing by U.S. planes Monday well inside North Vietnamese territory.

There was no immediate comment from the U. S. delegation.

Pope Blasts Dissenters Of Teachings

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today lashed out at dissenting priests and bishops and declared that the Roman Catholic Church defends its teachings "at any cost."

In a voice breaking with emotion, the Pope denounced "the reticence" of some of those he said are duty-bound to defend church teachings — an obvious reference to parish priests and members of the hierarchy opposing him on the issues of birth control, papal authority, priestly celibacy and revised catechisms.

"When it comes to its own teaching," the Pope told his weekly general audience, "the church is intransigent and dogmatic—at any cost."

"Who speaks today of Hell?" the pontiff asked. "This is not liked and not discussed.

"Everyone chooses the truths he likes. In this way the faith disintegrates. It is no longer the faith of which St. Paul spoke."

Raising his voice, Pope Paul recalled the doubts of Christ's disciples and repeated the words Christ addressed to them: "Do you also wish to go away?" (John 6:69).

Jungle Fight Claims 25 American Troops

SAIGON (AP) — An estimated 400 North Vietnamese troops, lying in wait in thick jungle, attacked 150 probing U.S. air cavalrymen near the Cambodian border north of Saigon Tuesday and killed or wounded more than half of them.

Twenty-five of the American troops were killed and 52 wounded. It was the heaviest casualty toll suffered by the elite 1st Air Cavalry Division in a single battle this year.

North Vietnamese casualties were not known, but one Air Cav officer said: "We brought in a hell of a lot of stuff-artillery, rockets and bombers—on the enemy troops. We feel they took a heavy beating, but we don't know."

The officer said rockets fired ships within 40 yards of the besieged American troops apparently touched off a fierce grass fire that may have been responsible for some of the American casualties. He said at least two bodies were burned so badly identification was difficulty, but the men may have been dead before the fire.

The 18,000-man air cavalry division has been operating north of Saigon for more than a month, seeking 15,000 to 20,000 North Vietnamese troops that are reported deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border. They constitute a potential threat to Saigon, and an Air Cav officer said today the division has killed at least 1,135 enemy troops in the area since Oct. 31.

The Air Cav unit that took such a battering yesterday made a helicopter landing in the middle of the morning in a jungle clearing 69 miles north of Saigon and 15 miles from the Cambodian border. There was no enemy fire on the assault copter.

New Shipment Of Furniture Stolen

Police said a man was seen by several witnesses loading the furniture into a blue car at the rear of the building about 1:25 a.m.

They said the furniture was delivered after the store closed and was left outside the building. Owner Herbert Winters could not estimate the value of the stolen merchandise.

Teacher Is Attacked In Classroom

OAKLAND (UPI) — An East Oakland elementary school teacher was raped and robbed in her classroom yesterday by a young man who stabbed the school principal in the hand to make good his escape.

Police said the 28-year-teacher was keeping some children after class when the youth, wearing a black beret and dark clothing, entered the room and said, "I'm sorry. I must have the wrong room."

She said he returned with a butcher knife about 10 minutes after the children departed, took $3 from her purse and started to tie her up. Then one of the pupils returned, and the teacher screamed for her to go for help.

Police said the suspect ripped off the teacher's dress and assaulted her. When principal Harold W. Garden entered the room, the youth stabbed him in the right hand and fled.

The teacher and principal were treated at Highland Hospital and released.

Israel Loses One Jet On Raids Into Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Iraqi artillery installations in Jordan today and one jet did not return from the 90-minute raid, the Israeli Army announced.

It was the third Israeli air attack on Jordanian territory this week and the first in which any Israeli losses were reported.

The pilot of the French-made Super Mystere fighter-bomber parachuted into Jordan "But we managed to get him out," an Israeli spokesman reported.

He said the Iraqi artillery emplacements attacked were east and west of the Jordanian town of Irbid.

Radio Amman reported the Israeli planes raided the city Al Mafraq and two villages in the Irbid area, Taibeh and Samalia.

Jordan's cabinet announced cancellation of a party for ministers and deputies that had been scheduled for this evening.

A top-ranking Israeli army officer told a news conference the aim was to "punish the Iraqis" for shelling of at least 12 settlements south of the Sea of Galilee in the past three days.

The officer said the raid—"strong, but not massive"—was launched through heavy rain to Al Mafraq, which is 50 miles from Israeli territory. The Irbid area also came under fire, he stated.

Israel says an Iraqi division has been stationed in Jordan since the Middle East war 18 months ago. It contends the division not only uses artillery, but that Iraqi regulars have been working closely with Arab guerrilla organizations.

Jet Hijacker Frets While Plane Fuels

Waving a hand gun and a grenade wrapped in an arm bandage, the hijacker talked about his life in the United States during a one-hour, 21-minute refueling stop in Key West.

"He said he had worked in the Miami area for quite a while and he'd been fired from all his jobs," said Irene Guntin, one of four Cuban-born stewardesses aboard the National Airlines jet.

"'I can't continue living in this country. I'll get there (Cuba) even if I have to kill one of you,'" she quoted him as saying.

Miss Guntin and other members of the crew—including one nonworking stewardess listed officially as one of 28 passengers—returned to Miami late last night.

The other passengers were to be bused to Varadero, Cuba, for a flight to Florida today aboard a prop-driven charter aircraft.

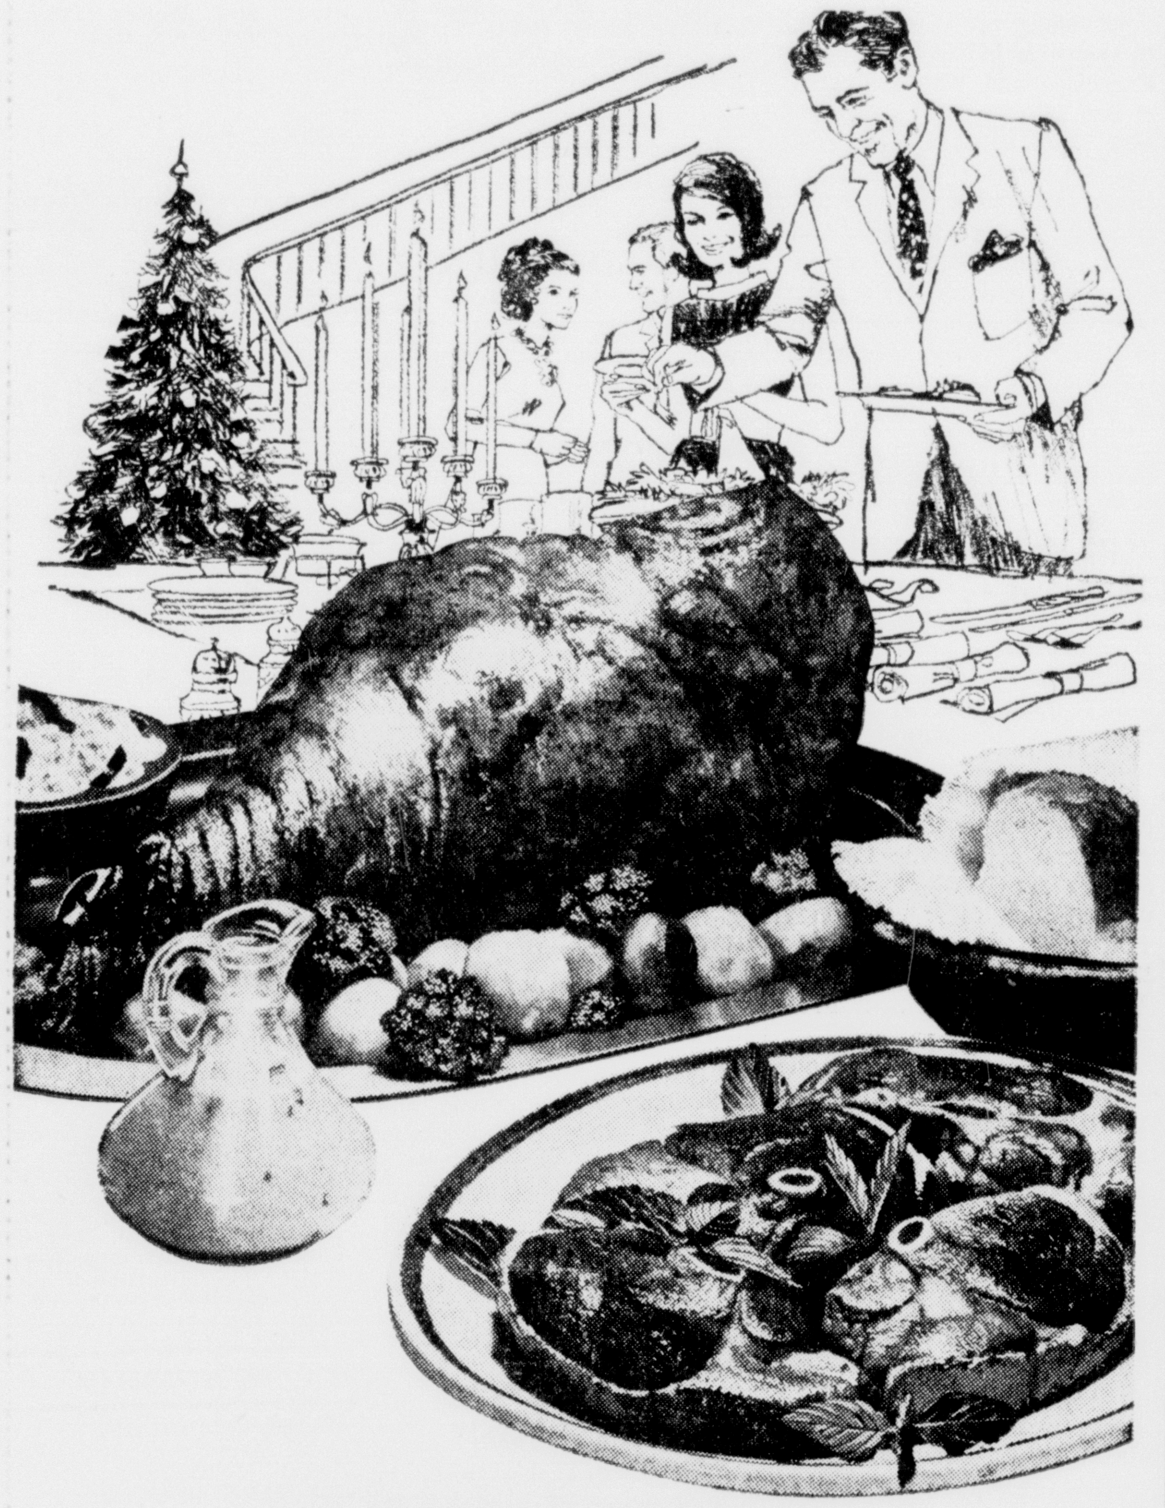
The hijacker forced stewardesses to open the cockpit door and took command.

"The door flew open and he said he wanted to go to Havana," Capt. James W. Sims told newsmen. The pilot said he persuaded the gunman he needed more fuel, and got his permission to stop at Key West—only 90 miles from the Cuban coast.

Federal, city and county officers stood by—under orders not to intervene—as the plane and its impatient hijacker sat alone on the end of a runway.

During the wait, Miss Guntin said, the gunman was "shaking and sweating. He held a gun right here on my neck and the grenade on my shoulder all the time were in Key West."

In Havana, Sims said, troops met the airliner and escorted the hijacker off the plane. "Two guys came aboard and took his gun," said Stewardess Mirta Fonollar.



Holiday Season-ing with
TODAY'S NEW LAMB

Tender young lamb is all the more a treat during the holiday season. It's a welcome change from those traditional dishes, also delicious in their own way, but likely to turn up at parties too often this time of year. Let lamb, an American favorite, make your family dinners festive, your parties unforgettable. How do you fix it? Easy. Here are two lamb recipes that let the hostess have a good time, too.

Onion-Orange Lamb Roast (makes 8 servings)

¾ leg of lamb
¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
¾ teaspoon rosemary
Salt and pepper to taste

Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in 325° (slow) oven 30 to 35 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer registers 175° for medium doneness. Combine onion, juice, mustard, rosemary and seasoning and spoon over the lamb during the last hour of roasting time.

Lamb Steaks with Herb Butter (makes 4 servings)

¼ cup butter
¼ teaspoon each: salt, crushed rosemary leaves and grated lemon peel
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
4 large loin or sirloin lamb steaks, about 1-inch thick

Combine butter, parsley, salt, rosemary, lemon peel and pepper in saucepan; stir and heat until butter melts and bubbles. Place lamb steaks on broiler rack; brush with herb butter. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 6 minutes per side or until as done as desired; brush steaks with herb butter after turning. Pour any remaining herb butter on steaks before serving.

Meeler, 20, of 136 Filbert Street, Sausalito, was booked at Marin County jail for investigation of possessing marijuana for sale, refusing to identify himself and resisting an officer. He posted $2,500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Miss Stowe and Shimmon were booked on suspicion of having marijuana for sale. She failed to post $2,500 bail and is to appear in court today. Shimmon posted $2,500 bail and will appear tomorrow.

Anderson was booked on suspicion of having marijuana and was jailed in lieu of $1,250 bail to appear in court today.

Nunes said the marijuana haul was the largest in Sausalito's history. At a market rate of $1,250 a pound the marijuana would be worth more than $400,000.

State and county narcotics agents and a San Anselmo police officer arersted four adults and a 17-year-old youth in a San Anselmo apartment.

Armed with a search warrant, officers said they went to the apartment of Timothy Brooks Houge at 2 Foothill Road about 10:30 p.m. The door was opened by Sandra Christine Hanson, 20, who was baby-sitting for Houge and his wife, Betty Jane, 23.

Police said they found the juvenile and Jane Carole Schra, 18, of Salem, Ore., in the living room and an odor of burning marijuana.

Officers said search of the youth disclosed a quantity of what appeared to be LSD tablets, that two ounces of marijuana were found in the living room and a jar half-filled with the substance on a shelf.

Officers said Hogue, 23, returned home about 10:45 p.m. and was arrested. Several capsules appearing to be drugs were found in his possession.

Police said his wife and a companion arrived shortly after, and she was arrested. The companion was searched, and released.

Officers said the Hogue's 4-year-old son, Christopher, still asleep in the apartment, was turned over to another baby sitter.

Hogue was booked in Marin County Jail for investigation of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs. His wife and Miss Hanson and Miss Schra were booked for investigation of marijuana possession. Bail for the four had not been set this morning.

The youth was booked in Juvenile Hall for investigation of possessing marijuana and dangerous drugs.

State and county narcotics agents and San Rafael police, about 20 officers in all, entered two houses last night and arrested eight persons.

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said both houses, at 14 Sentinel Court and 5 Meadow Street, had been under survelliance by police.

Two residents of the Sentinel Court house were arrested, along with four visitors, Chiesa said. James Ambrose Gronczewski, 38, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs for sale, and John Theodore Kilpatrick, 24, for possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia.

Three Sacramento County men who came to the house during the raid were also arrested after their car was searched, Chiesa said.

His companions, Randolph Jewell Bellah of Folsom and Janathan Abraham Levine of Carmichael, were booked on a similar charge. Bellah was also booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia and Levine was also booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana and a device for smoking narcotics.

Chiesa said two guns and knife were found in the car, narcotics paraphernalia on Bellah and a substance believed to be marijuana and a pipe on Levine.

Small quantities of speed, marijuana, spoons and syringes, were found in the house, Chiesa said.

Officers then went to the Meadow Street address and discovered more speed and marijuana.

John Anthony Carrino, 23, and his sister, Mary Andrea Carrino, 18, who lived in the house, were booked on suspicion of possessing dangerous drugs. Miss Carrino was also booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Bail was not set in any of the cases.

Apprehended were Franklin R. Leyshon, 23, Robert E. Marriott, 21, and Michael Coffman, 19, at 125 Ridgeway Avenue where they reside.

Marriott yesterday in Marin Municipal Court pleaded innocent to the charge of being in a place where marijuana is being smoked. A jury trial date was to be set this afternoon. He was released from Marin County Jail on $100 bail.

Leyshon, booked on suspicion of possessing marijuana, and Coffman, for investigation of being in a place where the weed was used, were held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $200 and $100 bail respectively.

In another narcotics incident yesterday, two Novato High School students were cited to juvenile hall for the sale of marijuana and LSD to a 15-year-old Novato High girl, according to police Sgt. Richard Courier.

Michel Lane, 15, of 1924 Indian Valley Road, was cited for the sale of marijuana and LSD on campus and LSD off campus, and Raymond Cox, 17, of 455 Corte Norte, was cited for the sale of LSD off campus.

Police Guard State In Violence Threat

sight for the first time since Negro militants called a strike early last month. But within an hour the Strike Support Committed was handling out leaflets which said:

"Today at State, as yesterday, if there are students in classes who continue to be a party to Hayakawa and his pigs, it is a certainty that black and Third World students, other minorities and thousands of their white student supporters will move in one form or another to stop the strike breaking by their fellow students."

During yesterday's violence at least nine persons, including five policemen, were injured in the campus' most violent day since the BSU called the strike nearly four weeks ago.

One officer, Paul Juul, suffered a broken collar bone when he was struck in the neck with a half-inch cast iron chair leg.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan praised Hayakawa's firm tactics and Democratic Mayor Joseph Alioto promised all the city police strength needed against demonstrators, whose pressure for minority group demands has disrupted the campus for most of the past month.

Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, an expert in semantics, the use and meaning of words, was named acting president by college trustees last week. He has claimed good attendance at classes for most of the time since he reopened them Monday.

About 300 activists were involved yesterday in three separate assaults on the Business and Social Sciences Building, were class attendance was reported high. Windows in the building were broken and one faculty member inside was injured.

There were other clashes on the central campus lawn, where student activists erected a barricade of tables and chairs. Other students—who wore blue arm bands in opposition to the strikers—removed the barricade with some accompanying scuffles.

The quickest, most violent clash came in front of the library, where one police officer was knocked unconscious and one demonstrator was felled, his face streaming blood.

Between incidents, police tactical squad officers marched to and from the center of the campus, squeezing activists and onlookers between files of uniformed men. About 300 police broke up the demonstrations.

Hayakawa was jeered and booed as he spoke over a loudspeaker, asking students to disperse. Later, he told newsmen: "I am determined to break up this reign of terror established by the anarchists."

Hayakawa said he referred to members of the Black Students Union, the Third World Liberation Front for Latin American and Orientals and the Students for a Democratic Society.

The student groups demand 15 points, including strong, independent black and ethnic studies departments, unlimited admission of minority group students and reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray, a part-time English teacher now under suspension.

During the day, the school's Academic Senate, official representative of some 1,100 instructors, voted down a motion that it disband.

Instead, the 42-member Senate voted for short-term committee studies in seven areas, including the strikers' 15 demands, student conduct and discipline, faculty ethics, granting academic credit and the hiring and firing of faculty and administrators.

Also yesterday about 100 unionized faculty members voted to ask the San Francisco Labor Council for strike sanction.

In another development, a group of Negro leaders and a newly-organized Japanese-American group have announced opposition to the appointment and policies of Hayakawa.

of January and a final decision on the suitability of Wolfback Ridge should be made within one or two months after that, Geandrot said.

If it is decided to locate the missile base on Wolfback Ridge, it will take the corps approximately six to eight months to purchase or condemn the necessary acreage and access for the base, according to Creed B. Card, chief of the corps' real estate division in Sacramento.

The Wolfback Ridge site, generally located between Rodeo Avenue to the north and Spencer Avenue — Wolfback Ridge Road to the south, is all privately owned with the Gulf Oil Co., Frouge Corp., Sundial Broadcasting Co., Dean Witter Co. and Fitzsimmons and Lynch, private developers, the major property owners.

Card said the corps has obtained rights-of-entry from the property owners to conduct tests on the site and has also asked for access rights on the privately owned Wolfback Ridge Road because it is a more direct route to the site than the Alta Avenue-Rodeo Avenue route presently being used.

However, owners of the private road, Warren Glass, J.S. Erway and George B. Frankforter Jr., have refused to grant the corps access over the road.

Glass said the corps has issued orders to the contractors and its personnel not to use Wolfback Ridge Road. However, he believes the Army will condemn the road or its right-of-way use if the missile base is actually designated for Wolfback Ridge.

According to Glass, the missile base won't bother him or his family in the enjoyment of their property, their home or their view. "However, it will bother me if the Army uses our road because of the potential dangers in the use of the road by large numbers of people and equipment," Glass said.

"But, I don't know what we can do about it," he said. "The Army has made it clear they have the power to condemn anything they need to construct and operate the base and I am convinced the base will go on Wolfback Ridge."

Use of the private road has also been opposed by the Wolfback Ridge Property Owners Association, of which Glass is a member.

Announcement by the Army in June that it was considering locating a missile base in Marin County set off a wave of protests — particularly from city officials and conservationists who especially feared the establishment of the missile base on Angel Island, recently acquired from the federal government for use as a state park.

The Ccontroversial Sentinel missile system calls for location of a network of missile bases through out the United States to protect the population and Minutemen intercontinental missile bases against Chinese Communist nuclear capabilities projected through the 1970s.

Other West Coast Sentinel bases have been announced for Los Angeles and Seattle and bases are also planned for Hawaii, Alaska and Salt Lake City.

Novotny, Arceo Get Life Terms

John Arceo of Fairfax and Dennis C. Novotny of San Rafael were sentenced to life in prison today for the kicking and beating death a year ago of a 68-year-old San Rafael gun collector.

The pair, convicted last Wednesday of first degree murder, were sentenced by Judge Thomas F. Keating after prosecutor Joshua W. Thomas, a deputy district attorney, recommended against the death penalty.

NO PENALTY TRIAL

The trial had been scheduled to continue Dec. 9 with a penalty phase, but the district attorney and lawyers for Arceo and Novotny waived such a trial this morning and submitted the case to Judge Keating.

Thomas said his recommendation of life in prison for Arceo, 30, came in spite of the killer's extensive criminal record, dating from age 14, when he shot and killed his parents in Oakland.

Thomas read from a prison report which stated Arceo pleaded guilty to one count of second degree murder in Oakland's adult court at age 14 and was sentenced to the California Youth Authority. Later, he was transferred to state prison before release on the murder charge at age 21.

The prison record indicates a "history of abuse" of Arceo by his parents and states "his father abused him unmercifully," Thomas said.

On July 11, 1951, Arceo came to the Oakland Police Department and hysterically reported shooting his father and mother with a .22 rifle, Thomas said.

INCLUDED TERMS

Arceo, who was returned to prison several times for forgery, also pleaded guilty today to two charges of armed robbery — Nov. 27, 1967, at a Strawberry service station and Nov. 30, 1967, at Don's Market, Fairfax. Punishment for those offenses is included in the life sentence, Judge Keating said.

Thomas said he recommended life in prison because of the part Arceo played in the murder of Wesley L. Marshall.

Testimony at the murder trial showed that Arceo helped plan the robbery Dec. 6 which led to Marshall's death a month later. He did not participate directly in the theft of Marshall's gun collection nor in the beating, according to trial testimony.

Novotny, 23, helped administer the fatal beating, but does not have an extensive criminal record, thus should not go to the gas chamber, Thomas said.

Novotny also pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing stolen property, pending since his arrest on the murder charge. He is to be sentenced for that offense Dec. 30.

Thomas said Novotny's prior record consists of a juvenile conviction of attempted statutory rape and a conviction in adult court of possession of alcohol by a minor.

A third participant in the death-dealing robbery, Claude LeBas, pleaded guilty to the murder charge and is serving a life sentence.

He was spared the death sentence, though he administered the beating of Marshall, because of a clean criminal record and heroism while a Marine in Vietnam.

The American Geographical Society library of 160,000 volumes, 300,000 maps and 4,000 atlases and globes constitute the largest nongovernmental geographical collections in the Western Hemisphere.

OBITUARIES

Victor Antolini Dies At 78

Victor Antolini of San Rafael, retired landscape gardener who had lived in Marin County since 1921, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness. He was 78.

Born in Italy, Antolini came to Massachusetts with his family as a small child. After moving to Marin, he lived first in San Anselmo and later in San Rafael. His home was at 16 Bungalow Avenue.

He is survived by his wife, Rose; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Milani and Mrs. Louis Milani, both of San Rafael; a son, Lawrence V. Antolini of San Anselmo; a brother, Agisto Antolini of Woonsocket, R.I., and 10 grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael.

Mrs. Eckman, wife of Emile E. Eckman, died in Roseville Monday at the age of 76.

The Eckmans lived in the San Francisco and Marin area from 1938 and formerly were owner-operators of an apartment house. Mrs. Eckman was a native of Ohio.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, Arthur Eckman of San Francisco and Walter Eckman of San Lorenzo; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Spencer of Roseville and Mrs. Hazel Skogg of Magna, Utah; a brother, Leonard Shulsen of Jerome, Ida., and three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Haberman of Jerome, Ida., Mrs. Dellette Murray of Hepner, Ore., and Mrs. Dorothea Ferney of Oakland, 16 grandchildren and 33 great-grabdchildren.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Cochrane's Chapel of the Roses in Roseville.

RAYMOND BELL

Raymond J. Bell of San Mateo, father of the assistant principal of Tamalpais High School, Raymond J. Bell of Mill Valley, died yesterday at a San Mateo hospital following a long illness.

Bell, a native of San Francisco, was a retired deputy clerk of the state Supreme Court in San Francisco where he lived until moving to San Mateo in 1955. He was a member of Zane Irwin Post No. 93 of the American Legion, San Francisco.

Survivors are his wife, Anita Bell of San Mateo, his son, of Mill Valley, s daughter, Mrs. Mary Joan Hawkes of Sunnyvale and 10 grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Gregory Catholic Church, San Mateo. The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Sneider and Sullivan Funeral Home, San Mateo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

KATHERINE ANDERS

Katherine Anders, 87, of 101 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, a native of Kansas City, Kan., who lived in California about 70 years and Marin County the last 15 years, died last Wednesday at a local hospital following a short illness.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Miniken of Novato; a son, Milton Tranter of Sacramento; a brother, Chris Anderson of Kansas City, Kan.; four granddaughters and two great-grandsons.

No services were held.

ADOLF G. RESLER

Dr. Adolf G. Resler, retired chiropractor who was active in Bay Area Masonic organizations, was pronounced dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital yesterday. He had been ill since September.

A native of San Francisco, Dr. Resler practiced there for many years. He moved to Novato in 1957 and lived at 6 San Luis Court.

He was a past master of Park Lodge, No. 449, Free and Accepted Masons, San Francisco; a member of Oakland Consistory, Scottish Rite; Aahmes Temple-Shrine, Oakland; Marin Shrine Club; Imperial Chapter No. 229, Order of the Eastern Star, San Francisco, and the California Chiropractic Association.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Shriners Hospital or the Heart Fund.

RONALD SCRIBNER

Funeral for Ronald J. Scribner, 56, of 715 Sutro Avenue, Novato, a veteran of World War II will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral home in Novato. Scribner died Monday in his home, apparently of natural causes.

He was born in Orland, Glenn County, but moved to San Jose where he went to school. He was a chief petty officer in the Navy during World War II. For the past 22 years, he has been an instructor and flight simulator for Pan American Airways. He also played in dinner bands in the area.

He was a member of the San Francisco Musicians Union Local 6 American Federation of Labor.

He is survived by his wife, Nadine; daughter, Linda Diane, and a son, Darryl Steven, all of the home; another son, Donald T. Scribner of Sacramento, and a brother, Thomas H. Scribner of San Jose.

Private inurnment will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

FREDERICK W. PATERSON

Funeral was held yesterday in San Francisco for Frederick W. Paterson of Mill Valley, an insurance adjuster and Naval Reserve commander.

Paterson, 48, died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital following a short illness. His residence was 369 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley.

Born in Schenectady, N.Y., he lived in California 33 years and in Marin County the last 17 years. He was employed by Marsh and McLennan Inc., San Francisco.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth Paterson; four sons, Frederick W. Jr., Robert L., Dennis J. and Richard Paterson, all of Mill Valley, and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Danner of San Anselmo and Mrs. William Pleasants of New Orleans.

merge instead with the Ross Valley Sanitary District, and the Local Agency Formation Commission recommended the merger with the Town of Corte Madera. Corte Madera officials contend the merger will bring an annual saving of about $9,000 to taxpayers.

The area of the district is 90 per cent within the town limits, officials said.

Trucks and buses accounted for 15 per cent of the urban travel and 24 per cent of the rural travel in 1967, says the National Automobile Club.

Firm Negotiating For Marin City Parcel To Build 100-Unit Motel

Negotiations came to light last night as usage of the commercial area in Marin City was discussed before the Marin City Redevelopment Agency.

Under discussion was a proposed agreement between the corporation and the Development Corporation of Marin City, a newly formed local group, on assignment of commercial land.

Attorneys for each group told directors the organizations had failed to reach a final agreement.

Richard M. Adams, representing the California Development Corp., wanted assurances that the agreement wouldn't preclude his firm from coming in with plans, such as the motel.

He said he wanted to know beforehand if there was to be a requirement that "any business be black owned and black operated." If so, Adams said, his firm should know before "we go further to attract something that might not fit."

Hugh G. Lawrence, representing the local corporation, said the proposed agreement says the community feels benefits should accrue to the community "and didn't carry any decision on the makeup of the community."

The California Development Corp. holds the rights for development on a nine-acre parcel of commercial land. The local corporation is seeking the rights for a commercial building on one acre as a start, an additional acre and a half for expansion and "if desired by the community" the rights to the entire parcel.

Lawrence declared that the Marin City group "has no desire for the California Development Corp. to abandon its development efforts, capital investments or interest in Marin City."

The Development Corporation of Marin City believes it can work with the California Development Corp. to the best interests of all residents of the community, he said.

Adams said the California Development Corp. wants to recover its full development expenses incurred thus far, $55,000 to $60,000 and wants assurance that the local group "is really a vehicle for the whole community."

Lawrence sought to have the California Development Corp. reimbursed a "reasonable value" of the costs incurred, and asserted that the local corporation has been set up to assure substantial local participation.

Directors advised the attorneys to resolve their differences and return at a later meeting for board action.

Adams said his firm wants to retain the right to offer proposals that wouldn't be competitive to the local group, but compatible with the overall plans. He said California Development Corp. isn't "trying to hold onto the commercial property," but wants to recover the $55,000 to $60,000 it has invested in it.

The purchase price for the commercial land would be negotiated by the local group and the redevelopment agency.

Chairman James O. Quiett appointed Philip S. Ehrlich, board member, to join him as the agency's representative at a coordinating committee session with representatives of the Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District to discuss the roles of the three groups in the planning of Marin City.

Directors also granted California Development Corp. a 30-day extension of its deadline of April 1, 1969, to take title to land owned by the agency for development of 77 housing units.

Adams said there was some debate among various segments of the community as to whether the proposed 77 low-cost apartment units would be the most desirable housing plan.

Change Stolen

Burglars took a small amount of loose change from the bedroom of the Elizabeth Martin residence, 74 Hillside Lane, between 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. Monday, Mill Valley police reported.

Ballot Study Asked For Housing

The Marin County Housing Authority last night called for a study leading to a ballot measure next April for additional low-rent housing projects for the elderly.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said there is a demand for such housing beyond the 200 units approved by the voters in November 1964.

There are 36 units in operation in Santa Venetia, 28 units scheduled to open in Homestead Valley next month, 40 units planned in Novato, 40 units planned in the Northgate area, Los Ranchitos, and 56 units proposed in the Corte Madera area.

Ehrlich recommended an election in conjunction with the county school board election in April.

Directors asked the staff, along with the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, to prepare a program, including the number of units, for consideration at its next session, Dec. 18.

Ehrlich said there is a need for housing for elderly in the cities, and that city councils could "proceed as their own housing authorities. We're not trying to extend the role of this housing authority."

Directors also voted to increase the minimum rent at elderly housing projects from $29 to $39 a month and increase the amount that tenants pay for rent from 22 per cent to 25 per cent of their income.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said the new rent scale would become effective at the Santa Venetia project in June, 1969, and at other projects as they opened.

Ehrlich explained that the rent covers the costs of operating the housing projects. Directors also decreased the deposits required at elderly housing projects from $50 to $25.

Directors agreed that the authority should investigate construction for projects which would be innovative and more economical.

Ehrlich pointed out that Supervisor William A. Gnoss yesterday suggested mobile homes, estimated to cost $8,000 to $10,000 a unit, as compared to the cost of the Santa Venetia project, $16,000 a unit counting the cost of land and building.

Directors voted against sending representatives to a coordinating committee session where representatives of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District will thrash out the roles of the three organizations in planning for Marin City.

Ehrlich said the housing authority isn't involved in planning and doesn't have a role "in allocation of responsibilities of the other agencies.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

EMPTY STORE — Postponed store space, vacated at Building C-64, by Gregory Baines, who setting procedure for leasing operated a Black Advance shop, and postponed discussion of the advisory role of the Marin City Community Services District in such matters because two directors, Herman J. Hale and James O. Quiett were absent.

TV ANTENNA — Heard a report from Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, that the community television antenna equipment is still being rehabilitated, but work is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

SCHOOL TROUBLE — Students, protesting an extended New York City school day order, trip and fall to the sidewalk as police chase them toward George Washington High School in upper Manhattan. The school was the scene of a "suspicious" fire yesterday which forced evacuation of the 5,000 student body. (AP Wirephoto)

N.Y. Police Patrolling Troubled School Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Beefed-up police patrols were assigned to key trouble spots today in an effort to curb the bands of students whose protests over longer school hours led to two days of demonstrations and vandalism.

Deputy Mayor Robert W. Sweet, acting on the orders of vacationing Mayor John V. Lindsay, announced the extra protection yesterday after the second day of protests resulted in 48 arrests and new disorders in subways around the city.

Meanwhile, the new state-appointed trustee running Brooklyn's embattled Ocean Hill-Brownsville District, announced tougher measures to prevent trouble in the district and said he hoped to reopen Junior High School 271 on Monday.

William D. Firman, the trustee, detailed steps to keep unauthorized persons out of JHS 271 and the other seven schools in the district and to restrict the influence of the district's suspended local governing board.

The state is running the experimentally decentralized Ocean Hill district under the agreement which ended the seven-week strike by the United Federation of Teachers against the 1.1-million-pupil public school system.

Yesterday a delegation of parents, pupils and others from Ocean Hill, sat in for four hours at the office of State Education Commissioner James E. Allen to protest his closing JHS 271.

Firman said that as trustee he would seek the cooperation of the community and union but added: "We are going to operate these schools."

Albert Shanker, president of the teacher's union, told a union meeting that "since extremists have resorted to guerrilla war tactics in recent student demonstrations, we must develop our own types of guerrilla war tactics to fight them."

He suggested one tactic would be for teachers to punch in at timeclocks and then stand by, refusing to teach until the students "cease and desist" from disruptions.

Early California Paintings To Go Under Auction Gavel

Twenty five oils and water colors by early California landscape painters will be auctioned, by the Marin County public administrator Saturday in the county courthouse in San Rafael.

The paintings, including some Percy Gray and Gideon J. Denny, were the collection of Edna Nahl of San Anselmo, who died in April 1967, according to Eugene R. Fontaine, assistant public administrator.

Mrs. Nahl, whose estate is in the care of the public administrator, was a member of a family which produced painters and sculptors since the mid-1600s, Fontaine said.

The member of her family best known in America was Charles Christian Nahl, a pioneer artist who painted gold rush scenes, Fontaine said.

Percy Gray, reportedly the most prominent painter represented at the auction, lived in San Anselmo and was a friend of the Nahl family, Fontaine said.

Also in the collection are several unsigned oil paintings of Yosemite scenes.

The paintings will go on display at 10 a.m. Saturday in Department Three of Marin Superior Court. The open bidding will begin after 11 a.m., Fontaine said.

Strike Cripples Madrid Campus

MADRID (AP) — Students of the University of Madrid turned today from demonstrating to striking to protest police and government actions. About 30,000 students appeared affected.

The strikes virtually closed down operation of the schools of politics and economics, philosophy and letters, architecture and sciences.

At the University of Barcelona, authorities closed three departments—politics and economics, industrial engineering and architecture.

The strikes protest the presence of police on campus, arrests of student activists, closing of schools and application of the law of banditry and terrorism to students' cases, which puts them before the military courts.

Russ Naval Games

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union says it is beginning a naval exercise in the Northern Pacific and the maneuvers will continue until Jan. 2, the Japanese Maritime Safety Agency reported.

Committee To Study Coast Access

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County Supervisors yesterday formed a five-man ad hoc committee to investigate problems involving public access to state tidelands through private and public lands.

Named chairman of the committee was A. E. Galli, chairman of the county parks and recreation commission. Also named were Dr. Kenneth Stocking, biology professor at Sonoma State College; Dr. William Kortum, president of Citizens Organized to Acquire Access to State Tidelands; Joseph McClelland, director of the Sea Ranch development; and George Charles, president of the landowners organization.

Kortum and his organization had requested the formation of the committee when Proposition B providing access corridors to the coast failed on the Nov. 5 Sonoma County ballot.

The supervisors instructed the committee to explore access problems keeping in mind economics, ecology, law enforcement, maintenance and property rights. They also asked the committee to evaluate present and planned recreational uses of the coastline.

The committee was given 100 days to complete the task and must make a final report by March 23. The supervisors said interim reports may be given for public information or for further direction from the board.

Staff members from the county parks and recreation department, planning department and county counsel's office were directed to work with the committee.

Bomb Thrown Into University Office

MENLO PARK (AP) — A bomb was thrown into Mid-Peninsula Free University offices yesterday, causing minor damage but no injury.

Police Chief Vic Zizanckas said there was no witness.

No Definite Plans Yet For House In Park

Possible uses of the large frame house on the newly acquired Robson-Harrington Park property were mulled over at a second joint meeting last night of the San Anselmo City Council and Parks Recreation Commission, but no decisions were made.

Main topic was where a caretaker couple, if hired, could be quartered. Among proposals for such quarters were a portion of the nine-room second floor, the attic if remodeled or the nearby carriage house.

The group agreed with Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson that efforts should be made to have the first floor ready for use by April, and that planning should proceed without delay on installing fire sprinkler system and completing other work necessary to have the second story ready for use at a later date.

The council instructed City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel and Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works, to further investigate the apartment possibilities of the carriage house and the main house attic, and to present an estimate of the costs of conversion of these areas to living quarters.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

DINNER - DANCE — Unanimously approved a suggestion by Frank L. Quinn, parks and recreation director, that a dinner-dance be held in some public hall early next year to raise funds for development of the park property. Goal would be about $2,000 profit, said Quinn. Mayor Duane C. Ragan asked the commission to form a dinner-dance committee to make plans.

TOT LOTS — Studied, but took no action on a commission list of possible sites for tiny tots play areas. Robert England, recreation commissioner, said priority need for a lot is at Memorial Park, then Robson-Harrington Park, Yolandsdale area, and Brookside Court area, in that order. The council voted to set aside $1,742 profits from the last Fall Festival for development of a tiny tot lot at Memorial Park.

MEETING — Scheduled the next joint meeting for discussion on parks planning and maintenance for 8 p.m. on Jan. 7 at city hall.

Firemen Select Study Panelists

Marinwood volunteer firemen last night named Bert Bahlke and Howard Council to represent the association on the Marinwood Citizens Committee to study the joint use of parks and school facilities.

The association, headed by Irving L. Schwartz, discussed the possibility of again holding a firemen's ball to raise funds, but reached no decision.

Donald B. Stiver, vice president, said a fireman's ball was last held two years ago. The matter will be discussed again on Jan. 7.

Stiver said the volunteers, being the only full-time effective work force in Marinwood, want to engage in community service in addition to firefighting.

Hub Council Again Backs Plan For Sorich Park Regional Use

The San Anselmo City Council last night gave its yearly booster shot to a proposal that Sorich Park be made a part of a 380-acre regional park.

The council a year ago had approved the concept of San Rafael landscape architect and planning consultant William Louis Kapranos that the County of Marin, San Rafael and San Anselmo combine land for what he termed a Hub Regional park, and last night renewed that approval by a 3-1 vote during a joint session with the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission.

Council Woodrow V. Capurro voted against the idea, declaring that the 62-acre Sorich Park was purchased by the city for the primary purpose of providing San Anselmo residents with a park and he felt the plan should be followed.

Councilman Robert M. Scott abstained from voting, stating he hadn't yet formed an opinion.

Kapranos, originally engaged by the council to prepare a master plan for Sorich Park, appeared at the session last night to report that the plan could be completed within a few weeks. He added, however, that he would like an indication by the council if it still looks favorably on the regional plan, should one be possible.

Kapranos said San Rafael and the county would have near equal portions of land adjacent to Sorich Park and that federal funds could possibly be obtained to help finance the project.

Mayor Duane C. Ragan commented that a regional park may be best because of this possibility of outside funding.

On motion of Councilman James F. Reed, the council agreed to write the board of supervisors requesting that it consider placing the regional park matter on its county parks master plan, and to write the San Rafael City Council asking it to renew consideration of such a park.

Kapranos said the Hub council and other agencies had showed interest in the project, but subsequent "apathy and inertia" has halted planning. Sorich Park is located at the end of San Francisco Boulevard.

A News Year's Eve Set In Marinwood

A New Year's Eve party, open to the Marinwood community, will be sponsored by the Marinwood Association at the community center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

John Osborne, chairman of the annual event, said the Marinwood Recreation Department will help stage the party. There will be live music and refreshments.

Court Lighting Estimate Given

Lighting of the Fairfax tennis courts will probably cost less than the $2,500 estimated for the job, the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission learned last night.

Lou Vaccaro, chairman of the tennis playing volunteers who are installing the lights, wrote to the commission asking approval of an expenditure of about $1,300 in addition to the $860 already spent on the job.

The commission approved the request, noting that the lighting will probably cost less than originally estimated.

The commission also received a letter of resignation from Commissioner Edwin H. McGee, who said a conflict in meeting dates prevented him from serving any longer.

The vacancy will be filled by city council appointment, according to Mrs. Eleanora Edgar, secretary.

The highest mortality rate is for persons 109 years old and the lowest for those aged 10-11, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

Tossed Firebombs Damage San Jose State Buidings

SAN JOSE (AP) — Two firebombs were thrown on the campus of San Jose State College last night, causing moderate damage to the office of an engineering professor and burning some ivy on the Administration Building.

Two trash can fires were also discovered about the same time, one in the women's restroom on the first floor of the Science Building and the second in the Education Building.

Campus police said one firebomb was tossed through the office window of Hooper Williams, assistant professor of engineering, in the Engineering Building. His file cabinet was damaged and lighting fixtures in the office melted from the heat.

A custodian working in the building, Al Chaffe, told security officers he heard a "boom" and then saw a sheet of flames licking into the hallway from under the door.

Five minutes later, a second firebomb, apparently aimed at a window, missed its mark and smashed into a thick growth of ivy on the wall of Tower Hall. President Robert D. Clark and other administrators have offices in the building.

Franco Turns 76

Sausalito Staff Sets Yule Fete

Sausalito city employees will hold their ninth annual Christmas banquet at 7 p.m. Friday at Star of the Sea Church hall, 181 Harrison Avenue, and will present service awards to two long-time city employees.

To be honored are Fire Capt. Max Robertson and Ivan Hunt, public works equipment operator, each with 15 years service with the city.

Dancing will follow the dinner and awards. Norman Wohlschlaeger, city engineer and public works director, will be master of ceremonies.

FRIGHTENING COFFEE BREAK

Three employees of the United California Bank of Los Angeles suffered minor injuries when this 2,000-pound, 40-foot section of pipe slid six stories down a shaft through the bank's main floor office and into the lunchroom, embedding itself in a six-inch concrete floor. Workmen installing it in the bank's air conditioning system yesterday said clamps in the pipe slipped. (AP Wirephoto)

Clues To Family Sought In Mother Lode Mines

AUBURN (UPI) — Sheriff's deputies searched deserted mines of this old gold rush area today for two members of a San Mateo family missing since October.

William G. Nelson, who vanished mysteriously, was found earlier this week, but there has been no trace of his wife, Betty, 47, and son, David, 9.

Nelson, 56, an importer-exporter, was found hiding in the attic of his remote mountain cabin by deputies. He was taken to DeWitt State Hospital near Auburn.

"We're going up tomorrow to search the property and old mine shafts," detectives Lt. Arthur Ables said yesterday. "We searched some mines before, but we think there are some we missed."

Ables said Nelson's daughter, Mrs. Betty Dorman, 24, Redwood City, visited her father at the hospital yesterday, but said she learned no more about the whereabouts of her mother and brother than did deputies.

He said no charges have been filed against Nelson, who remained under observation at the hospital, but added that investigators had not ruled out the possibility Mrs. Nelson and David met with foul play.

Nelson told Ables he had not seen his wife or son in three weeks, but did not say where they were.

"We know where he's been, now we have to find out where they are," the detective said.

Ditched Jet Repairs Go More Quickly

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Japan Air Lines jet that belly landed in San Francisco bay Nov. 22 may be airborne again in less than the six

All 107 persons aboard escaped without injury. The 220,000-pound DC8 may also have escaped with less damage than officials first believed.

A spokesman for Japan Air Lines declined to predict a date when the huge plane would be flying again, but said yesterday "It now looks like less than the six months" originally predicted.

The jet is being repaired at the United Air Lines maintenance and engineering headquarters near San Francisco International Airport.

A United spokesman said many parts of the plane would have to be replaced, particularly those made of magnesium, which were corroded by salt water in the bay.

The spokesman said all four engines have been taken off and are being repaired. All the seats and flooring have been taken out and will be replaced along with "many miles" of electric cable, he said.

Drunken Driving

Arthur Cline Day, 36, of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael was fined $360 after pleading guilty to a drunken driving charge Monday in Southern Sonoma County Municipal Court in Petaluma. Day was arrested Sept. 7 by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 37 near Sonoma.

Chlorine Leak Quickly Halted

Marin Municipal Water District crews had a tense few minutes yesterday at the San Geronimo water treatment plant when a defective valve on a one-ton chlorine cylinder blew off and permitted the deadly gas to seep out.

James T. Farnkopf, senior engineer in charge of water quality control for the district, said the cylinder was being delivered by the supplier when the valve part blew.

He said "very minor amounts" of the gas escaped while repairs were being made, a procedure that took only a few minutes. No one was overcome by the gas, Farnkopf reported.

The Marin County Fire Department was called to assist the water district and stand by in case of emergency.

Muir Woods Not Hit By Parks Fiscal Pinch

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Cutbacks of services at national parks this winter will not affect the Bay Area's most popular park, Muir Woods National Monument, the National Park Service said yesterday.

Action by Congress in June, allowing federal agencies to fill only three out of four vacancies, forced the cutbacks at 23 of the 36 National Park Service areas in the seven-state Western Region, regional director John A. Rutter said.

Most of the cutbacks will be reductions from seven-day to five-day weeks for visitor and information centers, and snow plowing will be reduced in some mountain parks, said Rutter.

In many parks, overnight camping will be shut down for the entire winer, and in others it will be restricted.

Rutter said he hoped that all visitors services will resume on fulltime basis next summer.

A tornado is born several thousand feet above the ground. Its spinning funnel may bounce along the ground leaving some areas unscathed in the path of destruction.

Woman Pedestrian Hurt In Kentfield

Patricia Sendach, 20, of 1155 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead after she was hit by a pickup truck when she ran across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Sendach told the patrol she failed to see the truck, driven by Robert W. Graves, 48, of 26 Foss Avenue, San Anselmo, as she ran into the street near Toussin Avenue in Kentfield.

Novatans Stop Stolen Auto

A car stolen yesterday morning in Petaluma was recovered a short time later by Novato police.

The 1964 car, belonging to Clyde Gibby of 720 Mountain View Avenue, Petaluma, was reported stolen in an all points bulletin.

Sgt. Otto Haiungs spotted the car at Novato High School at 10:55 a.m., and with the help of Patrolman Albert Anderson, stopped it at the Nave shopping center on South Novato Boulevard after it failed to stop for a police siren and red light.

A 15-year-old San Francisco youth and a 16-year-old Petaluma youth were in the car. They said they had stolen another car in San Francisco and had driven to Petaluma, where they left that auto and took the Gibby vehicle, according to Novato police.

The boys and the Gibby car were turned over to Petaluma police.

Sommerhalder's Sonoma Trial Is Reset For Jan. 14

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The murder trial of Johnny Lee Sommerhalder scheduled to begin yesterday in Sonoma Superior Court has been reset for Jan. 14 at 10 a.m.

In a hearing yesterday requested jointly by Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland and defense attorney Lewis H. DeCastle, Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. agreed that the planned December trial would interfere with the holiday plans of jurors.

Sommerhalder, 25, is accused of shooting to death Charles Kaufmann, a Santa Rosa Junior College student, and kidnaping and raping Kaufmann's companion in Santa Rosa on Oct. 7, 1967.

He has pleaded innocent to the murder and rape charges and guilty to the kidnaping charge.

Sommerhalder was convicted in Marin Superior Court and sentenced to death for the murders of Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their Santa Venetia trailer home last winter.

Also on San Quentin's Death Row for his part in the Ackley murders is Kenneth Preston, 21, like Sommerhalder a Santa Rosan and a Grim Reaper. Preston was also sentenced to 1 to 15 years for kidnaping after pleading guilty in Sonoma Superior Court to that much of the Kaufmann affair.

Jack Brockman, 21, another member of the Grim Reapers, was convicted in Sonoma Superior Court of the Kaufmann murder on Sept. 11 and is still to be sentenced.

Recruited largely from the ranks of skilled construction workers, the first Seabees of World War II averaged 33 years lod. Marines on Guadalcanal quipped, "Never hit a Seabee, he might be some Marine's father."

Muir Beach Park Lawsuit Nearing Trial

The long awaited state condemnation suit to add the 15-acre Muir Beach to the state park system will come to trial in Marin Superior Court on Feb. 3, 1969, Supervisor Peter H. Behr reported yesterday.

About June, 1967, an anonymous woman donor offered $125,000 as a gift to the state to purchase Muir Beach, which was valued at the time at about $250,000.

Because of differences in various appraisals and failure to agree on a price, the case was taken to court, and a year and a half has gone by.

Behr announced happily that the case is now definitely set for trial in February and "Muir Beach will soon become a part of the state park." He said the anonymous gift is probably the largest single gift made in Marin.

Saucelito Canal Spoils May Be Piped To Tennessee Valley Shore

Spoils from dredging of Saucelito Canal may be pumped overland hydraulically to the ocean at Tennessee Valley, Marin County Board of Supervisors indicated yesterday.

However, they decided that exact costs should be nailed down on hydraulic pumping vs. barging out to sea before a decision is made.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked Public Works Director Donald R. Frost to confer with Supervisor Peter H. Behr, Supervisor-elect Michael Wornum, and Col. Frank C. Boerger of the Army Corps of Engineers to determine costs.

Behr said the cost estimates differ widely. For example, engineer Jesper C. Strandgaard of Corte Madera told the Mill Valley City Council on Monday night that 750,000 cubic yards of spoils can be pumped out to Tennessee Valley for $1 per cubic yard, whereas Colonel Boerger estimated $2 per cubic yard. If the supervisors barged out, County Public Works Director Frost gave a rough guess of $.75 per cubic yard, but Colonel Boerger estimated $1.13 per cubic yard.

Chairman Kettenhofen said it may be less costly to barge the spoils out to the Golden Gate and let the tide wash it out to sea.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

DIPSEA TRAIL — Voted a certificate of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Leonard of Los Altos, who donated a 10-foot wide strip of their land to bring the last mile and a half section of the trail near Stinson Beach into complete county ownership.

GRADING BID — Awarded a $9,232 contract to Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera to place and grade topsoil at the new Hall of Justice. The was the lowest of three.

PINHEIRO REZONING— Recommended to the county planning commission that the 400-acre Frank Pinheiro Ranch north of Novato be placed in a planned community instead of being rezoned at this time. The ranch, now zoned limited agricultural, was proposed for rezoning to minimum 20,000 square foot residential.

FLORES APARTMENT—Continued until Dec. 17 a hearing on plans for a seven-unit apartment on the Frank Flores property at the corner of Merrydale Road and San Pedro Road across Highway 101 from the Civic Center. Supervisors put off action because Supervisors John F. McInnis and Thomas T. Storer were absent.

TRAFFIC JAM—Heard an official explanation from Public Works Director Donald R. Frost on the Monday night traffic jam. The contractor left only one lane open instead of two, did not stop work at the required time of 3:30 p.m., and the state inspector did not check back.

MICROFILM — Awarded a $7,000 contract for microfilming legal records to Western Microfilm, second lowest of five bidders. County Purchasing Agent Douglas Edelen reported to supervisors the low bid of $4,589 by Remington Rand Office Systems "has been determined not responsive due to their omission of a segment of the bid specifications."

ORDINANCES — Set procedural amendments to subdivision and zoning ordinances for public hearing 1:45 p.m. Dec. 31.

REFUND — Refunded $7,060 of Clear View Cable System Inc. of Beverly Hills. A check of the firm's unsecured valuation by the assessor's office reduced its valuation from $157,423 to $90,565 because the firm had included all its business costs in its valuation for 1968.

AUDITORIUM — Contracted with Abbot A. Hanks Inc. of San Francisco to inspect and test structrual welding on the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, at a cost not to exceed $2,500.

Apprenticeship Exams Announced

The North Bay Sheet Metal Workers Joint Apprenticeship Committee today announced a sheet metal apprenticeship examination will be held at 10 a.m. Jan. 4 at the Labor Administration Building, 331 Liberty Street, Petaluma.

Applicants for the examination must file by Jan. 3, have the equivalent of a high school education and be between the ages of 16 to 23, with the age limit extended to match time served in the Armed Services.

After the written test Jan. 4 there will be an appraisal interview of candidates at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 21 at the Labor Administration Building.

The top five applicants will be placed in the apprenticeship pool, the committee announced. Applicants can be obtained from the committee, 445 Nebraska Street, Vallejo.

Agnew Predicts Determined Push To Ease Racism

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew says Negro voters did little to help the election of President-elect Richard M. Nixon and himself but "that does not weaken our resolve" to ease racial tensions.

Agnew said in an interview the lack of Negro support "will heighten our effectiveness."

"What we do, we will do out of the certain conviction that it's right and not because of political obligation," he said.

Agnew was in San Francisco to meet with the National Governors' Conference's executive committee, from which newsmen were barred.

TEHRAN (UPI) — Former Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania arrived in Tehran yesterday on a fact-finding mission for President-elect Richard M. Nixon in which Scranton will visit Arab nations and Israel.

Board Protests State Rules For Tax Rebate

Marin Count superivisors yesterday vigorously protested a warning by the state Board of Equalization that counties will be liable for any erroneous property tax rebates under Proposition 1-a.

The proposition, passed by California voters in the Nov. 5 general election, entitles homeowners to a one-time $70 rebate on their 1968-69 property taxes and to annual $750 exemptions on property taxes in future years.

The equlaization board's position was termed "rather arrogant and intolerable" by Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. "They're trying to stick us with any bad results," he added.

Maloney also criticized state government for passing the measure off as "state tax relief" while leaving most of the actual work to county governments.

No action was taken on his recommendation that the county refuse to pay the state for any mistaken "non-negligent erroneous payments," but supervisors agreed to urge the County Supervisors Association of California to protest today to the board of equalization, which is hearing proposed rules on the rebate in Sacramento.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel estimated that 30,000 Marin homeowners will qualify for the rebates, for a total of $2.1 million.

He estimated that it will cost his office an additional $15,000 to process rebate applications, but said state reimbursement of 50 cents for each validated claim will cover this cost to the county.

Processing exemption claims for 1969-60, however, also will cost about $15,000, said Broemmel. He said there is to be no state reimbursement to the county for this cost.

The tax relief plan limits homeowners to a rebate, only on their principal domicile. It does not include homeowners who have claimed a veteran's exemption or received public assistance grants with an allowance for taxes.

All these requirements are beyond the checking ability of the assessor's office, said Broemmel, again raising the passibility that the state may find some erroneous payments.

For example, said Broemmel, a homeowner may claim rebates on dwellings in more than one county — but individual county assessors would have no way of checking this.

"It's a job of great magnitude," said Broemmel, noting that his office also will be undergoing remodeling while taking on the extra burden of processing applications for rebates an exemptions.

Urgency legislation early in the 1969 session of the Legislature could define who will be responsible for non-negligent errors in rebates, Broemmel suggested.

Applications will be mailed to homeowners in March, and will be due back at the assessor's office by April 15, Broemmel said. Checks to homeowners are to be mailed by June 1, according to the state controller's office.

Applications for rebates and exemptions will be mailed separately to Marin homeowners to prevent confusion between the two forms, Broemmel said.

County Officials Weigh Delaying Move For Fair

The annual Marin Art and Garden Fair, scheduled to move from Ross to the Civic Center after next year may be allowed to stay in Ross one additional year, County Administrator Alan Bruce told county supervisors yesterday.

Bruce said he based his hope on a conversation with the program administrator of the state Division of Fairs and Expositions, M. Ray Harrington.

Bruce told supervisors last month that the Civic Center fairgrounds probably would not be ready in time for the outdoor displays of the 1970 fair, and recommended that the fair be split that year. Performing and visual arts could be held in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium at the Civic Center, and outdoor exhibits held at the Art and Garden Center in Ross, he said.

Supervisors again declined yesterday to endorse his suggestion, instead referring the matter to the board of directors of Fair-Marin, which will be administering the new fairground.

Bruce reported that Harrington said holding the fair in Ross in 1970 "could be approveable," but that the state official said his division "Would not permit non-use of the auditorium for an indefinite period."

Bruce also said Harrington indicated he would not recommend splitting the fair between Ross and the Civic Center. However, Bruce added he did not feel Harrington's feeling was final.

The state has a say over where the fair is held because it allocates parimutuel funds for the annual event.

Marcelle McCoy, who runs the fair, asked the supervisors to make a decision by the end of January on where the 1970 fair will be held. The decision will affect "what we do at Ross this year," she said.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss, noting "it may be a tough job" to hold the entire fair at the Civic Center in 1970, suggested that even the 1971 fair may have to be held in Ross.

73rd Anniversary Another Farm Day

AVON, Ill. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher observe their 73rd wedding anniversary today much as they have earlier ones—tending the chickens and cows and doing the housework.

Fisher, 98, and his wife Myrtle, 91, were married Dec. 4, 1895. Since 1936 they have lived on a 98-acre farm near Avon operated by their grandson.

HOLIDAY DISPLAYS

Students Brightening Up Shopping Center

It will be an "old-fashioned Christmas" at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael this year, through a joint project of San Rafael High School students and the center's merchants association.

The students have been working for days, and some nights as late as 10 p.m., to produce traditional Christmas displays for some of the center's businesses.

They were scheduled to complete the work and put up the displays this week.

Arthur Ost, a Montecito merchant, said the idea developed during a meeting of the association, after members reported San Rafael High art instructor Charles Maurice mentioned he had some talented students.

Maurice favored the project because "it gives the merchants a chance to do something creative."

The association agreed to offer prizes of gift certificates redeemable at the center for the best displays and to pay for materials.

Students volunteered for the project and are not getting class credit, Maurice said. However, he pointed out they are getting valuable design and art experience.

Painting Contract Set

A $53,744 contract to paint the exteriors of some Capehart family housing units yesterday was awarded to Cal-Western Painting Co. Inc. of San Leandro by the base procurement office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

McCarthy Seeks Ideas For Bills

Almost 7,000 voters in the Fourth Senatorial District have been invited to propose bills for the 1969 Legislature by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

"Everyday you hear people say 'there ought to be a law'," said McCarthy of his written invitation mailed to his constituents.

The thousands of names were drawn from a list of constituents who have written to him in the past two years, said McCarthy.

He urged citizens to drop by his San Rafael office at 1299 Fourth Street to pick up forms to use for drawing up proposed legislation. They should be returned to him by March 15, said McCarthy.

No Action Is Taken On Waterfront Pier

The Tiburon Planning Commission took no action Monday on proposals to establish a building and pier line for waterfront properties along Mar East Street between Mar West Street and the Tiburon city limits after residents of the area voiced strong objections.

According to Development Administrator Phil V. Scott, commissioners asked residents to present their own proposals for the building and pier line on Jan. 6.

The commission studying a proposal by planning consultant George Gatter calling for the building and pier line to be established approximately 110 feet outboard of the street, Scott said. No piers or buildings would be allowed beyond the line.

Some property owners objected that the line would make their property too small to be buildable, Scott said. Others supported Gatter's proposal, saying their property would be adversely affected if other buildings were allowed to extend any further into the bay, Scott said.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Agreed to recommend that the city council rezone two acres owned by Fred G. Zelinsky, recently annexed from the city of Belvedere, to a planned district zone.

STUDY SESSION — Set a special study session for 8 p.m. Dec. 12 in city hall to consider the sign ordinance and feasiblity of the proposed downtown plan.

TRAILS PLAN — Set for a public hearing at 8 p.m. Jan. 6, proposed incorporation of the trails plan into the downtown plan.

LETTER — Referred to the city council a letter from Zelinsky objecting to the extension of Juanita Lane into Main Street as porposed in the downtown plan.

DOWNTOWN PLAN —Declined to consider a proposal to incorporate density and height bonuses for outstanding design into the downtown plan, when Scott reported that a motion directing the commission to consider the item did not receive a majority vote of the city council.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a lot split requested by Edward F. Dowd to divide into two lots property on an unnamed street off the 4100 block of Paradise Drive.

Marin Records 32 Strep Cases

A total of 32 cases, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer, included 10 in San Rafael, six in Mill Valley, five in San Anselmo, and the rest scattered throughout the county.

Four cases of infectious hepatitis, one of meningitis and one of mumps also were reported last week, Dr. Albrecht said.

Yacht, Five Aboard Still Are Missing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The schooner Altura and its five occupants remained missing today after a Coast Guard sighting turned out to be of the wrong boat.

The missing 47-foot vessel failed to arrive at Half Moon Bay on a scheduled trip from San Francisco Bay Sunday. Aboard were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kewell of Alameda, their two children, and crewmen Bob Borroto of Berkeley.

Community Band Concert Saturday

The College of Marin Community Band will present its first concert of the season at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the college's fine arts theater.

According to Director John H. Myers, the program will include "Proclamations" by Thom Ritter George, "Second Suite in F" by Gustav Holst, "The People's Choice" by Douglas Moore and other selections.

Italian Recipes From New Book

A special feature of the needlecraft sale the Mount Carmel Women's Club will sponsor Friday, Saturday and Sunday this week at the Mount Carmel School auditorium will be the sale of a cook book compiled as a memorial to the late Mrs. Louis Pastori.

Sale chairman Mrs. Charles Norton says the book consists of favorite recipes of Mrs. Pastori, who was famous for the Italian-French cooking she did for many occasions at the church.

Her daughter, Mrs. Carl Smith of Alto, tells how her mother, a native Californian and one of 16 children, was "a terrible cook" when Rosalie married Louis Pastori, who came from Milan, Italy.

"She used to cry because daddy couldn't eat her cooking," she recalls, "and daddy had to teach her. Then she made it her hobby and became especially famous for her potato salad and ravioli."

The Pastoris — he died in 1962 and she in 1967 — lived first in an ark on what is now the Belvedere lagoon and moved to Alto in 1935. Their two children are Mrs. Smith and Lawrence Pastori of San Francisco.

Especially appropriate for this time of year are two of Mrs. Pastori's favorite recipes, turkey stuffing that is similar to ravioli filling and panetone bread.

TURKEY STUFFING

1 lb. ground beef
2 lb. pork link sausage
2 cups drained and chopped cooked spinach or Swiss chard
1 large can pieces and stems of mushrooms
1 loaf bread or croutons
1 tsp. Italian herbs
Chopped parsley
2 large onions, chopped fine
¼ tsp. cinnamon
2 cloves garlic, minced
½ cup parmesan cheese
4 eggs
salt and pepper to taste

Cut sausage in small pieces and saute, add onions and brown lightly. Add ground meat and parsley, herbs and garlic. Saute. Add croutons and saute in the liquid. Add spinach or swiss chard. Cool, then add cheese and eggs. If too dry, add liquid from giblets broth. Mix well.

PANETONE CHRISTMAS BREAD

2 cups milk (scalded and cooled)

1 pkg. dry yeast or cake yeast dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water.

add 2 tsp. sugar

Combine milk and yeast mixture and add enough flour (1½ cups) to make sponge. Let set 1 hour in warm place. Keep blanket on sponge. Then cream:

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
3 level tsp. salt
4 eggs

Beat — add to sponge, beat smooth and add enough flour (4 cups) to make medium soft dough. Knead smooth, but keep as soft as can be handled without sticking.

Let rise until doubled. Punch and let rise until doubled again in pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in hot oven, 450 degrees, for 15 minutes; then lower oven to 300 degrees.

Add raisins, fruit mix, pine nuts and chopped walnuts to the panetone. Bake for 30 minutes, more or less, at 350 degrees.

MAKING TWO of the late Mrs. Louis Pastori's favorite recipes which are included in the cook book compiled as a memorial to her by the Mount Carmel Women's Club are three members of the club. Mrs. Charles Norton (seated) is adding the raisins, fruit mix and nuts to the panetone bread. Mrs. Frank E. Bernard holds the turkey that she and Mrs. Alex O'Brien (holding bowl) have just stuffed with a dressing that is like ravioli filling.

MRS. WILLIAM Deaver sets up the scene of her Gingerbread Boys that are a specialty of the Cookie Carnival of the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, San Rafael Ward. Kathereen Maggio, 5, finds them a delight as she grins while chewing on one. The cookies can be hung on the Christmas tree and will keep through the holiday season, says Mrs. Deaver.

Gingerbread Boy Makes Fine Christmas Tree Trimming

Gingerbread boys to hang on the Christmas tree will reign as kings of the Cookie Carnival, which will be held for its 10th year by the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, San Rafael ward, at the church in Greenbrae.

The sale will be conducted Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mrs. William Deaver, the first chairman of the carnival, who makes all the boys from her recipe below, estimates that she has made some 4,000 boys for sale in the past 10 years. This year there will be three different sizes of decorated gingerbread houses. These will be for sale along with cookies made with butter, many from pioneer Mormon recipes. Snowballs, Thumbprints, Date Nut Bars, Anise, Greek, Chocolate Macaroons, Decorated Sugar Cookies and Brownies will be among the cookies for sale. There will also be an assortment of fruit and nut breads, applesauce cakes, stollens and homemade bread and rolls and candy

Hand made articles by the members of the Relief Society will be for sale in the boutique. There will be a continuous cartoon program for the children. Lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The recipe for Mrs. William Deaver's Gingerbread Boys:

GINGERBREAD BOYS

⅓ cup soft butter
1 cup dark brown sugar
Cream together and add,
1½ cups of dark molasses
Beat in,
1 egg
¼ cup milk, beaten together,
Sift together and add,
7 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon allspice
2 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
Stir in,
2 teaspoons soda dissolved in
3 tablespoons water

Thoroughly chill dough. Roll out small amount of dough at a time ⅛ inch thick. Keep remainder chilled until ready to use. Cut with gingerbread boy cutter dipped in flour for each cookie cut. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet well spaced. Bake at 350° for 12 to 15 minutes. 4 to 5 dozen.

Decorate Gingerbread Boys with:

ROYAL ICING

1¼ pounds sifted powdered sugar
½ cups eggs white
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Beat egg whites stiff and dry. Sift cream of tartar with powdered sugar and gradually add to egg whites as you continue beating. Beat until it stands in peaks and is smooth. Tint as desired. Decorate with a pastry tube. This icing hardens.

Puffed Rice Trees for place cards or table decorations:

PUFFED RICE TREES

⅔ cup white corn syrup
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon peppermint flavor
1 teaspoon green color

Cook these ingredients to the fine thread stage. Remove from heat and stir in 4 cups puffed rice. Grease hands and shape into small trees. Insert with toothpicks into large green gumdrops. Decorate with red hots, silver or colored shots.

Stollen Is The Traditional Bread For German Yuletide Kaffeeklatsch

At Christmas time, the German haus frau spends as much time, or more, on the afternoon coffee table as she does on the elaborate tree. In the land where the kaffeeklatsch was born, yuletide entertaining means coffee and plates piled high with homebaked cakes, cookies and breads.

Although many Stollen recipes require several rollings and risings, this simplified version has the same old-fashioned yeast texture and flavor with considerably less time-consuming fussing.

OLD TIME STOLLEN

¾ cup milk
1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
3 cups enriched flour (approx.), divided
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
6 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 egg yolks
1 cup mixed, diced candied fruits
¾ cup golden raisins
¼ cup whole glace cherries
¼ cup slivered or sliced blanched almonds

Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to lukewarm milk. Sift 1½ cups flour with salt; stir in. Cover. Let rise in warm place until doubled. Cream butter to consistency of mayonnaise. Add sugar gradually, while creaming. Add lemon peel. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine egg mixture with raised dough. Stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Add fruits and almonds. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas into circle about 10 inches in diameter. Fold over once, into traditional pocketbook shape. Place on greased baking sheet. Cover. Let rise until doubled. Bake at 350° until golden brown, about 35 to 40 minutes. Brush surface with a little melted butter. Cool on rack. When completely cooled, dust with confectioners' (powdered) sugar or frost and decorate as desired.

VOLUNTEER BUREAU OF MARIN
SUMMER 1968
A CRUSADE AGENC
454-1639

MRS. ROBERT MAULT spends much of her time on the telephone. She is head of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin's Christmas Exchange Program. Jan and four other Marin women staff the phones at the Volunteer Bureau daily finding and filling needs for many people during the Christmas season.

A Clearing House For Christmas Needs

"How often do you stop to consider what the real needs in Marin County are?", asks Mrs. Robert Mault, head of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin's Christmas Exchange Program.

"I don't believe I ever did until I became involved with the Christmas Exchange three years ago. Needs in Marin County are what the Christmas Exchange is all about. Researching these needs and finding the means of filling them concern those of us working on the program for the good part of each year."

The exchange is a telephone information and referral service operating during the Christmas season to inform potential donors of the need that most closely fits what they have to give and then to implement its getting there.

"Of course, many people call simply for ideas of what to give. We then work out together what is best for both sides," says Jan Mault.

The special telephone line began operating this week. It will continue until Christmas with five trained volunteers staffing the phone from nine to five, five days a week. These volunteers are Mesdames Walter Foster of Corte Madera, Richard Foster of Greenbrae, Bruce Mack of Ignacio, John Stephenson of Lucas Valley and Mrs. Mault.

The volunteers work with card files listing specific requests for help as well as offers of help. They begin researching needs in the fall by contacting a cross section of agencies and institutions by letter, phone or interview. Those that know of the service contact them. Volunteers learn the needs of individuals and families through the Welfare Department and their case workers. Aid is also directed toward the handicapped, both children and adults.

There are basically three types of needs: 1) material things such as new clothes, new toys and food; 2) cash, either in the form of merchandise or food orders or to purchase specific equipment; 3) services, such as visiting shut-ins, caroling in rest homes, providing a decorated Christmas tree and so on.

"We've learned a lot in the last three years," comments Mrs. Mault. "For one thing, we've discovered that our most pressing need is for cash and this presents problems. Let's face it, most people who are moved to share their own Christmas spirit don't think in terms of giving something so impersonal as money. But to the family whose children need new shoes, the money to go out and buy them is the only thing that can fill this need.

"We've also learned that it just isn't feasible for us to handle used clothing and toys. Before these things can be given they need to be cleaned and refurbished, and we haven't the staff or equipment to do this sort of thing.

"On the more positive side, we've watched individuals and groups who offer to be visitors or entertain shut-ins at Christmas develop relationships that become on-going and rewarding to both sides on a year-'round basis.

"In the last three years, along with discovering the many needs in Marin County, we've discovered an equally large number of warm-hearted people who want to give constructively. Our job is to bring these two elements together and we're hoping to do this even more effectively this year than in the past.

"If you have the desire to fill a real need for someone else this Christmas, call the Christmas Exchange number and let us tell you what is needed, where it is needed, and how to get it there," Mrs. Mault said.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Reception Given For Couple From Bangkok

By MOLLY MARIN

An unusual event Sunday evening was a reception given by Altheya Youngman at her home in Sausalito in observance of World Community Sunday and honoring Watana Keovimol and Plearnchai Nildhamirz, both of Bangkok.

It was also the hostess' birthday, and the young Thai couple announced their engagement and forthcoming marriage on Dec. 22 at Mrs. Youngman's home.

Mrs. Youngman met Watana when she attended the World Constitution Convention last summer and fall at Interlaken, Switzerland, and Wolfach, Germany. A graduate student at Sacramento State College, he was attending as president of the Institute of World Affairs and was the youngest delegate (23) at the convention.

They found they had so much in common that they established an "adopted mother-son" friendship.

Plearnchai was second place winner as Miss Thailand in the last Miss World contest and is so well trained in classical Thai dancing that she has performed for the King and Queen of Thailand and danced for the reception at the opening of the general assembly of the United Nations.

The young people had known each other in Bangkok.

After Mrs. Youngman showed films taken at the World Constitution Convention, Plearnchai danced in costume for the guests.

MRS. DONALD Fowler of Mill Valley has received news of the birth of the third child of her son, Stephen Fowler, and his wife, in Sebastopol.

The baby, who was born on Nov. 21 in Santa Rosa Hospital, has two sisters, Grace, 5, and Sarah, 3 He has been named Gabriel Bradford Fowler.

TRAVELING on a tour of New Zealand with a group from the Pacific Coast Chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society is Mrs. Genevieve Longley of Kentfield.

THE COMMODORE'S annual awards and gin fizz breakfast for the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club will be held at 10:30 a.m., Dec. 15 at the community center at Bel Marin Keys. Anthony Ricci is the commodore.

Mrs. Benjamin Kump is chairman and will be assisted by Mesdames Stanley Rakeman, Frederick Morrell, Robert Hamilton and Ricci.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES Sullivan of the Marin Country Club Estates honored Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert F. Close of Montvale, N.J., at a dinner Friday. Dr. Close was formerly the pastor of Portalhurst Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

He is now executive secretary of the Executive and Field Service Commission of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States in New York City.

HELPING WORLD'S CHILDREN

Foster Parents Director Sees More And More Need

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria C. Matthews is a cheerful woman, but her eyes have looked upon more tragedy and squalor and hopelessness than kindly sentimentalists could bear.

"You have to overcome personal involvement," she says, knowing even as she says it that personal involvement is always there just below the layer of impartial practicality that people in her business have to cultivate if they're to be of any help at all.

She is executive director of Foster Parents Plan, Inc., a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization that provides for needy children and their families, which she joined 27 years ago.

"MY FIRST FIELD trip was in postwar Europe and it really staggered me," she recalls.

Actually, she's still staggered "as I go around year after year and it seems there are more and more families in need all the time.

"It can be discouraging. But I know there has been success, too."

So far the Plan has helped rehabilitate 110,000 children of 30 nationalities. Right now it is caring for more than 50,000 children in the countries where it is operating — Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Vietnam, Brazil, Columbia, Ecuador and Peru.

"The children are either going to elementary school or are graduates, and they're healthy, and that's a small dent. A small dent!" she says with pride.

MISS MATTHEWS, back from a six-weeks tour of four South American offices, sits in her office at the Plan's international headquarters in New York and through the glass partition she can look out into the warehouse where the last of thousands of packages from Foster Parents are being processed for shipment to their children for Christmas.

In Brazil, where the Plan started operating in September, 1967, the plight of women in the very poor areas is sad indeed. The average woman, from her 14th year to about her 35th, "will have 10 live births, 10 abortions, and after all this she will lose five of her living babies," says Miss Matthews.

In South America, most of the Plan families live in the areas of cities that the government is refilling — over swamps, garbage dumps. There are no playgrounds or even streets to play ball in; there is usually no electricity and water is brought once a day by a truck that dumps it into big troughs.

SAYS MISS MATTHEWS:

"The Plan says every child aged 6 to 12 goes to school, but it's easier said than done. Primary school is free, but the child needs uniforms and shoes for school.

"Say that there are three youngsters in a family that needs help. As the oldest gets to be 10 or 12, his parents say he's old enough to go out to work. The social worker then has to talk his parents into letting him stay in school. It's fighting tradition.

"The kids don't have decent places to study. A family will eat, sleep, do everything, in one room. And who can help them study? The mother has had one year of primary school the father maybe two.

"WHEN A FAMILY comes in to our office the mother rarely can write, but she stands proudly while little Juan painstakingly signs."

The toughest part of her job, she says, is turning families down.

"There are so many that meet our criteria. In each country there are more than a thousand families pending. When we get to that point we close applications. It's worse to give mothers hope when there isn't any."

Delaying Birth Of Baby May Cause Brain Damage

By BRIAN SULLIVAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The practice of trying to hold back a birth until the doctor gets to the delivery room can produce asphyxia and a child with brain damage a psychologist warns.

Dr. William F. Windle said asphyxia at birth seems to be part of the reason for the high infant mortality rate in the United States, produces children with cerebral palsy, is part of the reason for the number of mentally retarded and certainly accounts for some of those with reduced intelligence.

Windle warns that some cases of asphyxia at birth are the result of ignorance among medical personnel and that some medical schools have neglected the subject of fetal physiology.

"We hear," he says, "of obstetrical practices that predispose to asphyxia."

One of these, Windle says, is the practice of delivery room personnel to very often use towel packs or have the mother walk around, to hold back a precipitous delivery until the obstetrician arrives.

"This is the best way I know to produce asphyxia," he says, "and doom that child to a life of cerebral palsy or mental retardation."

He recently received a $10,000 basic medical research prize as a winner of the 1968 Albert Lasker Research Award.

"I am making a plea," he says, "that we restore some of this (physiology of birth) to the curriculum. It is essential that we teach physicians, nurses and the public what we know about it."

Other reasons for asphyxia at birth, he gives, include the misuse of drugs. The mother can tolerate drugs that will depress the ability of the fetus to breathe.

In experiments with rhesus monkeys, Windle says, he and his associates have found that some who are subjected to asphyxia show symptoms of palsy at first, then in time "recover," without any special therapy.

"They become nice, quiet, gentle, docile, unemotional monkeys," he says. But they are retarded and have undetectable brain damage. If this is true for humans, these persons "certainly must fall into the category of our people with reduced intelligence quotients."

The monkeys, Windle says, show brain damage at autopsy. What apparently happens is that the damage knocks out certain nerve centers, causing other centers connected to them to overreact.

The overreaction to stimuli produces uncontrolled impulses to the brain, bizarre activity and random movement. In time, the secondary centers atrophy and the activity subsides, but there is less brain working.

If humans are affected like the rhesus monkeys, according to Windle, and he has no reason to believe they do not, then any infant who requires resuscitation at birth will have some structural brain damage regardless of whether it shows or not.

Daniel McFadden, Angela De Leeuw Married In Sausalito Ceremony

Angela De Leeuw and Daniel McFadden, both of Sausalito, were married on Nov. 23 in a 2 p.m. ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Sausalito.

Bridesmaids were the daughters of the bridegroom by a previous marriage, Kerry Ann and Danielle McFadden. Best man was Raymond Squires of Gardnerville.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolaas De Leeuw of Amsterdam, Holland, was given in marriage by her mother.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Sausalito Woman's Club. The couple will live in Sausalito and plan an around the world trip in January.

The bride was educated in Holland and is employed as a stewardess for Pan American World Airways. She is the sister of Nicol, Els and Rob De Leeuw of Amsterdam.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. John Joseph McFadden of Lake Tahoe and the late Mr. McFadden, was graduated from high school in Maywood, Ill., and from the City College of Riverside. He is employed as a salesman with Donovan Hershey Company in Oakland.

He is the brother of Michael and John McFadden of Lake Tahoe and Mrs. Raymond Squires of Gardnerville.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

DEAR HELEN:

Cleanliness is next to Godliness, fine! But my daughter must think she's Miss God.

She gest out of a full, hot tub and gets under a hot shower "to rinse off." When she finishes with the bathroom, the taps run cold and so does my blood. This happens morning and night, so the only time I get a hot shower is when I don't especially want it — early Saturday morning when she sleeps late.

My wife read this and said I am exaggerating. You see, Helen? What man has a chance in a family of women? — FROZEN OUT

DEAR FROZEN:

A mouse shivers. A lion roars. You pay for the hot water, so tell your daughter her cleanliness is next — after yours. — H.

DEAR HEL5N:

A suggestion to "Tired of Gossip." The best way to shut up a neighborhood pest is via a hidden tape recorder. Casually mention cooperative neighbors' names to her until enough gossip has been taped. Later invite all victims in for coffee, together with the gossiper. Play the recording, without comment. — EMMETT

DEAR EMMETT:

I wouldn't have the nerve. But oh, what a perfect squelch! — H.

Chapel In San Anselmo Setting For Robert Heffelfinger Rite

Robert Beard Heffelfinger of Fairfax wed Suzanne Crowell Nov. 27 in Stewart Memorial Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Crowell of San Anselmo are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bacci of Ukiah.

Diane Allegra of Tiburon was maid of honor. The bride's sister, Mrs. Norma Wright of Fairfax, Mrs. Rose Dixon of San Rafael and Mrs. Arlene Atwood of Fairfax were bridesmaids.

Best man was Warren Atwood of Fairfax. James McClure of Forest Knolls, David McClure of San Anselmo and Dale Alstrom of Fairfax ushered.

Suzanne is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. She is employed by Cagwin and Dorward Landscape Contractors in San Rafael. The bride is the sister of Robert L. Crowell of San Anselmo.

Robert was graduated from high school in Ukiah, attended Santa Rosa Junior College and is employed by Pacific Telephone Company in San Francisco. Mrs. Bernice McClure of Larkspur is his grandmother.

The couple will live in Fairfax.

UNDER THE TREE

Christmas Emphasizes Gifts Of Prepacked Fancy Foods

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—A famous Fifth Avenue fashion shop put in a line of prepacked fancy food gifts this Christmas for the first time.

Another prestigious Fifth Avenue store included a page of recipes in its Christmas catalog.

The editor of Specialty Foods Magazine, a trade publication, says more and more supermarkets are establishing fancy food departments, and there's a growing awareness of such foods on the part of consumers.

A New York store chain known for its bargain prices anticipates big holiday sales in gourmet food deparments in its Manhattan and Queens stores and two suburban branches.

What does this mean? Delicacies no longer are just for the carriage trade, say industry spokesmen.

Importer - distributor Walter M. Levi, president of the 90-year-old Cresca Co., Inc., said in an interview:

Supermarkets and discount stores feature specialty food sections with prices within many budgets. A 14-ounce can of French home style pork pate sells for about $1.50; a 4½-ounce can of imported rainbow trout in lemon sauce is about 55 cents. Some items such as Japanese smoked oysters sell in such volume that they're becoming grocery staples, Levi added.

Gerald Leibowitz, gourmet food buyer for Alexander's department stores, said their biggest selling foods at Christmas include fruitcake, cheeses, lebkuchen (spicy German cookies), candies and Australian glace fruit. On a year round basis, other popular items include both sweetened and unsweetened biscuits, crackers and cookies, smoked oysters and clams and desserts such as baba au rhum and brandied fruit.

Levi said $50 food-filled wicker hampers still are sold, but the most popular gift items in his company's line are delicacies packed in reusable containers in the $2 to $6 price range.

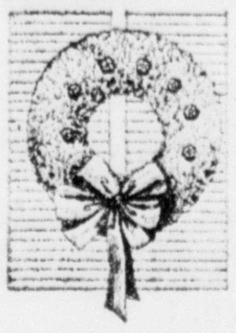
Styles For The Youngsters On Parade For Tom Thumb Chapter

A children's fashion show will be held by the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society on Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Pepperwood Restaurant in San Anselmo. Titled "The Cherub Parade," the show will feature children of the members modeling styles for youngsters.

Mesdames James Brainerd and Harold Strouss, general chairman, are reservations chairmen. Other committee members for the day are Mesdames Robert McGrath, awards; Louis Lombardi, decorations; Richard Macintosh, models; and Donald Smith, publicity.



PETER PAN, another Marin chapter of the Children's Home Society, will hold its Christmas party tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson in Los Ranchitos, San Rafael. Mrs. Brian Williams, a case worker in the Children's Home Society office in San Francisco, will speak on her experiences locally and with the Veterans Administration Hospital in St. Louis where she was a medical social worker. Mrs. Williams is a Washington University graduate and rceived a masters degree in social work from St. Louis University.

TEA AND entertainment will be the program for the B'nai B'rith Women Marin Chapter 266 tomorrow at 1 p.m. The program will be held at the Terra Linda Recreation Center as a benefit for "Operation Stork," to aid in prenatal care needs of disadvantaged women. Members will bring new or used layette items or maternity clothes to the meeting.

THE ANNUAL fund-raising party of the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. at American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo. The public party will include dancing to band music, a silent auction and buffet supper. Boutique items for Christmas will be offered for sale. Chairmen for the party are Mesdames Jean Corr, of Greenbrae, Janet Bullard of Fairfax and Taffy Donery of San Anselmo.

Tickets for the benefit party to purchase equipment for the school will be available at door.

AN OLD FASHIONED Christmas dinner dance will be held by the St. Vincent's Women's Auxiliary at St. Vincent's School for Boys in San Rafael on Saturday. The evening will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m., followed by dinner at 9 o'clock and dancing to orchestra music. The school's choir will sing during the evening.

A WINE AND cheese tasting feast held at a Greenbrae home Sunday evening netted $120 to help the secretarial school for blacks, which is held twice weekly at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Stewart N. Boxer of Greenbrae, who was in charge of the event, said a crowd of more than 100 turned out for the feast, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Marvin at 330 Via La Paz, Greenbrae.

Mrs. Boxer, coordinator of the county's Education Corps, said most of the profits went to pay for transportation for the 20 girls who attend classes at San Domenico on Tuesday and Thursday nights. On Wednesday nights, the girls attend a grooming course at the Marin City Presbyterian Church.

The Education Corps is a group of Marin women volunteers who helped Horace White, youth coordinator for the Marin Human Rights Commission, set up the secretarial school for blacks in October.

A BOOTH displaying hunting and fishing equipment and tools of all kinds for men will be a new feature of the traditional Christmas bazaar, sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist Church, San Rafael. The event will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the church fellowship hall.

In addition to the new men's booth, planned by the church's United Methodist Men, other booths will offer handmade gifts and needlework, candy, bakery goods, white elephants and a silent auction.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the morning. From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. a salad-nut bread luncheon will be featured. Hot wassail and pastries will be available during the afternoon. Then from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. the men's group will serve dinner.

During the late afternoon and evening the junior high school group will conduct a game room for youngsters. Baby sitting will be available all day.

Holiday Brightened With Floral Accents

Non-ordinary containers can provide an unusual touch of fancy to holiday arrangements. The trick, according to designers, is to use plastic bags as a waterproof liner for the chosen vessel.

Suitable items, not shown, include decorative cardboard boxes, straw hats, go-anywhere lamp shades, straw baskets (wine basket, bread basket, sewing or waste basket) and anything the designer might adapt.

Stars Are Signed

NEW YORK (AP) — Shirley MacLaine has been signed to star with Clint Estwood in Universal Pictures' "Two Mules for Sister Sara," an original story by Albert Maltz, set in Mexico in the 1870s. Don Siegel will direct the film, which begins shooting in mid-January.

Salinas Drugs Raid Nabs 16

SALINAS (AP) — A raid here yesterday resulted in 16 arrests, 14 of them for sale of marijuana and other drugs.

One person was arrested for being in a place where narcotics were used, another for possession of a drug. The 16 ranged in age from 17 to 23 years.

Taking part in the raid were Salinas police, state narcotics agents, and men from the Monterey County district attorney's and sheriff's offices.

Barron Directing Napa Production Of 'Little Sheba'

The drama of an alcoholic and his drab wife by William Inge will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 p.m., and again Dec. 13 and 14 and Jan. 10 and 11.

Barron has directed in Marin for Ross Valley Players and Terra Linda Players and in Vallejo for the MIRA Theater Guild where he will stage "The Odd Couple" for production in April 1969.

Lion's Share Benefit Set In Fairfax

A marathon 10-hour benefit concert to help re-establish Sausalito's Lion's Share restaurant and entertainment center will be held Sunday in the Fairfax Pavilion.

The Lion's Share, which presented folk and folk-rock entertainment since 1966, was closed by extensive fire damage Nov. 20, the day after a city permit was won to continue operation until next July.

Performers in Sunday's 2 p.m. to midnight concert will include Gale Garnett and the Gentle Reign, John Stewart and Buffy Ford, Ramblin' Jack Elliott, Michael Hunt, Gil Turner, Eddie Brown and the Brown Bag, Dan Hicks and his Hot Licks, Rejoice, Jeffrey Cain Stevens, Erik Frandsen and Michael and Debbie Heintz.

Lion's Share owner Michael Considine and his family lost an estimated $10,000 worth of personal belongings in the fire. Firemen reported lesser damage to the restaurant equipment in the $40,000 fire.

Tickets will be available at the pavilion.

Session On Hill Road Is Tomorrow

A public meeting will be held tomorrow to discuss the proposed route of Hill Road past Rancho School. The meeting will be in school multipurpose room, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was called by a newly organized group, Concerned Citizens for Freeway Development, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Robert Rice.

Clifford Temms, Novato acting public works director and a representative of the staff of the Novato Unified School District will attend, she said.

Parents of Rancho School students have become alarmed at the proposed extension of Hill Road to South Novato Boulevard which might cut through the Rancho School site, she said. The area between Hill Junior High School, Rancho School and the Nave Shopping Center where the road will connect, has been proposed for a subdivision.

Council Honors Work Of Philip Schafer

Philip Schafer of Mill Valley, regional commissioner for the federal government's Social and Rehabilitation Service, recently was given the Human Resources Award from the Council of State Governments.

Schafer was commended for his work "in helping to eliminate overlapping and duplicated services and for alerting legislators to the implications of rehabilitation services through community resources." The council is composed of federal, state and local representatives from 13 western states, organiz- for the delivery of social services at community levels.

NAMED ENSIGN — Charles S. Hardeman Jr., 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hardeman of 140 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, recently was commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve after graduation from Officers Candidate School at Newport, R.I.

COOKING COURSE—Pvt. Leland G. Marsh, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Marsh, 7 Glen Avenue, San Rafael, recently completed an Army cooking course at Fort Lee, Va.

SEABEE SERVICE — Builder Constructionman Douglas H. Sullivan, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. W. Sullivan, 84 Monterey Avenue, San Anselmo, is serving with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 121 in South Vietnam.

ASSIGNED — Sp/4 Kenneth C. Brock, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Brock, 39 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to the Army's Third Infantry Division near Wurzburg, Germany, as a radio relay operator.

HONORED — Sgt. Carlton A. Eshelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. Eshelman of San Quentin, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge for his participation in infantry operations with the Phu Loi, Vietnam, patrol force where he is stationed.

Nativity Scene Work Is Slated

Work will start tomorrow on the Nativity scene in Novato, according to Leroy Winters, chairman of the committee installing the scene for the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

The tree and fencing will be put up tomorrow on the east side of Highway 101 north of the new Denny's restaurant. The scene is scheduled for completion on Sunday, Winters said.

So far this year, the chamber has received only $12 toward the $500 annual expense of the Nativity scene, according to chamber secretary Billie Garl.

Last year $740 was donated, so there is some money left over to help finance it this year, Winters said.

Marinwood Center Busy For Holidays

Young people will bring homemade decorations for the Christmas tree, donated by the Marinwood Church of the Covenant, to this affair.

Other holiday dates and events are:

Dec. 18 at 12:30 p.m. — The third annual roast turkey buffet sponsored by the Marinwood "Funsters."

Dec. 21 at 10:30 a.m. — A party and puppet show for children 10 years and under in age.

Dec. 21 at 1 p.m. — The Marin County Recreation for the Handicapped party.

Dec. 22 at 1:15 p.m. — Young people will meet for the trip to College of Marin to attend the "Nutcracker Suite" performance by the Marin Civic Ballet. Reservations must be made.

Dec. 27 at 1 p.m. — Skaters will meet for a trip to San Rafael's Roller Land for a roller skating party.

Hamilton Units Sponsor Cadets

The 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron is sponsoring the Third Cadet Squadron and the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron is sponsoring the 20th Cadet Squadron.

The program is designed to bring the cadets and Air Force officers together to give the cadets an insight into the jobs held by officers in the Air Force. Nearly all cadet squadrons at the academy are sponsored by regular Air Force units.

Refrigerator, TV Among Stolen Items

Seven burglaries in the county's unincorporated areas were reported yesterday by Marin sheriff's deputies. They were:

Theft of a television, refrigerator, bedding and clothing from Doris J. Larkins' home at 43 Oxford Drive, Santa Venetia, over the weekend.

Theft of a tape recorder and television, valued at $400, from Mary P. Stitch's home at 109 Orange Street, California Park, on Friday.

Theft of records, a phonograph and a clock, from David E. Gibbs' home at 10 Martling Court, Sleepy Hollow, on Sunday.

Santa To Help

Minority Student Funds Sought

Robert Ritter, San Rafael engineer, yesterday said he has been working to raise private funds for providing scholarships for minority youths to attend San Francisco State College.

Since Friday night, Ritter said, he has collected $790 through 14 pledges raised in his telephone campaign. The San Francisco State Foundation will govern the scholarships.

Ritter said his effort followed up a letter he sent Nov. 27 to acting college president S. I. Hayakawa expressing interest in some effort to help accelerate aid to minority students.

The Green Thumb Gang, that's who. You know them. The ones who've got a green thumb when it comes to making money grow. This time they've got a new way. A high interest savings account at Ross Valley. Pays a full five percent interest. (The highest interest rate available on federally insured accounts.) And it compounds daily. Like a tree growing money. With growth like that, you should join the Green Thumb Gang, too. It's really very easy to become a Green Thumber. Just open your high interest passbook account at Ross Valley. And start collecting a full five percent interest on your money. Anything less is bank robbery.

Sausalito's Kreins Resigns For East Bay Police Office

EDWARD S. KREINS
New job

Sausalito Police Chief Edward S. Kreins will resign next month to become police administrator of Pleasant Hill in Contra Costa County, City Mgr. George M. Patterson announced to the city council last night.

Kreins said Pleasant Hill is just forming its own police department after contracting with the sheriff's office for police service since incorporating in 1961. He said he would be in charge of recruiting and setting up the department, which will start operating July 1, 1970, and will also help design the police station yet to be built.

"I had to think it over a lot," Kreins said, "but it's a once-in-a-lifetime chance." He said he was also told the city of 30,000 would send him to police schools such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy for special training.

Kreins came to Sausalito as chief on July 11, 1966, and during his tenure cut department turnover to near zero with intensive testing and screening of applicants and reorganization of the department.

His most noted innovation was initiating inservice psychiatric training for the department, a program which has drawn national attention. Sausalito is the only city in the nation with such a program.

Policemen hold private and group sessions with psychiatrist Edward E. Shev, who also conducts pre-hiring psychiatric interviews and continuing post-hiring evaluation of the men.

Kreins reported last summer that arrests had doubled while crime rates in most categories had declined since he took over the department.

Kreins came to Sausalito after 10 years with the Hayward Police Department, where he was sergeant in charge of training.

Trustees Set Controversial Film Showing

A special showing of the controversial KQED "Time of Your Life" series was scheduled last night by the Fairfax School District board as a prelude to a district decision on future use of the film.

The complete series of 15 films will be shown from 8 to 10 p.m. Jan. 8, 9 and 20 at White Hill School, Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, district superintendent, reported.

A meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 22 at Manor School to discuss whether the film should be used in classrooms for the rest of the year, Dr. Hammond said.

The Fairfax district used the film last year, but questions and protests at the end of the year prompted the district to drop it for the first semester this year.

In addition, a faculty committee will study the district's family life program in an attempt to spell out more clearly what is involved in the course.

The committee will report to the school board on Jan. 7 and to the Parent-Teacher Association Jan. 15, Dr. Hammond said.

The Fairfax School District Board also:

POLICE — Authorized the administration to hold informal monthly meetings with the juvenile officers of the police department to discuss common problems.

CURRICULUM — Heard reports on art, music and foreign language programs and agreed to seek expansion of the Marin Museum Assn. art program in the district which furnishes trained volunteers as teachers.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION — Agreed to ask the county committee on school district organization to consider a two-three-way split it is studying. Dr. Hammond said a three-way split would be a disadvantage to the Fairfax area becaues of the low tax base.

BOND ISSUES — Agreed to urge legislators to work to change the two-thirds majority vote requirement for general obligation bond issues.

Lighting Designs On Agenda For Fairfax

The Fairfax Design Review Board will discuss the design of fixtures to be used in an underground street lighting project on Bolinas Road at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Also on the agenda is a report on a photo montage made of the city by the board's chairman, architect Norman T. Gilroy.

Trident Wins Approval To Cover Deck Area

Despite objections by Councilman Jan Paul Dyk, the Sausalito City Council last night voted 4-1 to allow the Trident restaurant to cover 35 per cent of its deck area and thereby enclose 30 seats now outdoors.

Dyk objected the change would mean more intense use of a building already non-ocnforming and would set a dangerous precedent.

Applicant Peter Wells said if necessary the Trident would give up its night club operation to get the extra enclosed space. The Trident is losing money during the winter, Wells said, and the extra indoor seats are needed to increase capacity during cold or rainy weather. The enclosure will not increase the total seating at the bayfront restaurant.

Wells said the Trident has decided to minimize its night club activities and concentrate on the restaurant side of the business.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

MARINA VISTA — Approved a request by developers of Ma-Bayside School to build one-family houses on lots first planned for duplexes in the planned unit development. Thecouncil vetoed a request to allow chimneys in the subdivision to rise six feet above the 32-foot height limit. Instead, chimneys may rise four feet if the Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory board approves. Charles Spivak, president of Empire Construction Co., the developer, said the chimneys were conceived by architects Wurster, Bernardi and Simmons to add a touch of European charm to the development.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a request by Marin Freeholders to split a lot at 2650 Bridgeway into lots of approximately 17,000 and 74,000 square feet.

SIGN — Postponed action on an encroachment permit sought by Sam Zakessian for a projecting sign at 1615 Bridgeway until a sketch of the sign is presented.

PARKING — Approved a request to allow joint use of 20 parking spaces at the Hurricane Gulch Shopping Center so a proposed Mexican restaurant will have use of 12 spaces from 5 p.m. to closing.

NO PARKING — Approved publishing an ordinance repealing an old ordinance banning parking on all city streets between 2 and 6 a.m. The only enforcement had been near the Sausalito Woman's Club where three signs were posted banning the wee-hours parking.

SUBDIVISIONS — Accepted subdivision improvements in Vina Del Mar and Sausalito Del Mar Unit No. 2 subdivisions.

NO EXIT — Received a letter from Elizabeth Terwilliger of Mill Valley, complaining there is no route between Mill Valley and Sausalito legally accessible to pedestrians or bicyclists, and asking the city to seek a legal change in state highway department rules limiting access to Highways 1 and 101.

TESTS — Was told by City Mgr. George M. Patterson that oral tests will be given Friday for a librarian and next Wednesday for a city planner.

WORKSHOP — Appointed Mrs. Robin Sweeny to attend a Dec. 16 workshop at Marin Civic Center with other Marin officials and representatives of state and federal legislators representing Marin, to review local requests for legislation.

LIBRARY — Was asked by the Friends of the Sausalito Library to talk less and do more to obtain a library site, and were told by Patterson that he had been unable yet to get Northwestern Pacific Railroad to negotiate on its Caledonia Street depot property, one of four sites proposed for the new library.

CITY MANAGER — Raised Patterson's salary $50 a month effective Dec. 1, bringing his annual salary to $16,500. Mayor Earl F. Dunphy said the raise was in recognition of Patterson's performance as manager.

15 Begin Course For Training As A Secretary

A low-cost pilot project secretarial school held its first class last night in Marin City's Manzanita Center with 15 women taking shorthand and typing instruction from two teachers.

The course was set up by the Marin City Target Area Board after several months planning in response to community requests. It is designed primarily for Marin City women who have children and have been out of the job market for a time, according to Reba Mason of the target area office.

The class will meet twice a week for six months. Only cost to the target area board, Mrs. Mason said, was purchase of typing tables. The typewriters were contributed, and teachers Margaret Hardy of Mill Valley and Barbara Barrett of San Rafael volunteered their services. The class supervisor, Alma McKinney, is also serving without pay.

If the pilot program is a success, the target area board will seek War on Poverty funds to make it permanent, Mrs. Mason said.

Chamber Backs Library Merger

The proposed merger of the Petaluma Library with the Sonoma County Library system has won support from Petaluma Chamber of Commerce directors.

Meeting at noon Monday, directors said they felt the merger would improve library services in the city. Some directors, in voting against the merger, said they were not against the entire plan, but had further questions to ask.

Library trustees and city council will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Kenilworth recreation building to explain the merger and answer questions from residents.

Session Tonight

The adjourned meeting of the Novato Planning Commission, which was not held Monday night because of a lack of quorum, will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House, according to Juanita Gibson, secretary.

Officials Resigned To Logging Plans

More than $350,000 worth of timber will be cut from the Bolinas Ridge facing Point Reyes National Seashore within the next three years, according to a logging deal recorded with County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini.

Deeds recorded two weeks ago show that lumber interests from Coos Bay, Ore., have purchased logging rights on the 1,800-acre ranch of Dr. Ethel Righetti of Castro Valley. She owns forest land on the Bolinas Ridge near Five Brooks, between Olema and Bolinas, across Shoreline Highway from the Seashore.

Logging rights, which will end on Oct. 31, 1971, were purchased by George E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Jerald R. Humbert, who gave their address as Box 851, Coos Bay.

Melton Ferris, chairman of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, said his first reaction is "one of alarm and concern." But he admitted he does not know what the county can do about it.

"The property rights are there and demand respect, but in the sense of long range planning, our hopes of running a parkway all along the ridges may be seriously hurt. From a recreational viewpoint, I view this with alarm in terms of preserving the scenic values."

County supervisors heard about the proposed timber cutting yesterday but agreed that nothing much can be done.

"Dr. Righetti is a friend of mine, and she was going to let me know before any timber cutting is allowed," lamented Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he too heard of it for the first time yesterday. "If the figures shown — the $350,000 — are accurate, the likelihood that the county would be able to act, short of some significant private contributions, is remote."

In January this year, rumors flew that a Point Arena lumber firm was negotiating for timber rights on the Righetti property. However, nothing more was heard about timbering on Bolinas Ridge until yesterday.

Biology Laboratory Equipment Stolen

Biology laboratory equipment was stolen from the McDowell Elementary School, 441 South McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, over the weekend, police reported yesterday.

Police said a small window was broken in Room 8 to gain entry. School officials said the stolen equipment included dissecting kits, burners and microscopes.

Drama Coach Voted For Hub Schools

The San Anselmo School District board last night named Barbara Lehman, a language teacher at Red Hill School, to give extra drama instruction at the school after regular class hours for the rest of the school year.

She will be paid a total of $203.

The San Anselmo School District Board also:

MEETING — Scheduled a meeting of the board and interested citizens for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 11 in the Red Hill School library to discuss means of financing building needs.

GRANTS — Received confirmation of a $73,000 federal grant to the district and the Kentfield and the Dixie school districts for diagnostic services from the child center in Kentfield. The grant is for a project which started Nov. 14 and will end Aug. 31.

REPORTS — Heard reports from Patrick O'Donnell, director of instruction, on team help for children doing poorly in class and on the district kindergarten program.

Early man believed that if he drew a likeness of game animals he would possess their souls and thus control them.

S.F. STATE PROJECT

A Concerned Parent Begins Fund Appeal

An appeal to parents of San Francisco State College students to donate to scholarship funds for underprivileged students there was issued today by a San Rafael father of a student at the college. (Other San Francisco State College stories, page 1.)

Robert P. Ritter, an electrical and mechanical consulting engineer, got into the fund-raising business unexpectedly after he wrote the new president of the college last Wednesday, asking if there was anything a parent could do to help the embattled campus.

On Friday, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa's assistant, James Dotson, telephoned Ritter and told him there was "a desperate need" for scholarship funds, and that anything Ritter could do would be appreciated.

Ritter said today he expected his letter "would end up in the circular file," and was quite surprised to get Dotson's call.

Ritter immediately began telephoning other parents, and by last night raised pledges totaling $790. Ritter stressed that he has no objection to pledges from persons who have no children at the college.

He is accepting only pledges, he said, which then are forwarded to Hayakawa's office for handling. About 70 per cent of parents telephoned have pledged donations, he estimated.

He also is handing out blue arm bands, the symbol of protest against the militants who have tried to close the college. The motto of the arm band campaign is "tie one on for Hayakawa-san," said Ritter.

Ritter said pledges may be made to either his home address, 916 Del Ganado Road, or his office, 1539 Fourth Street, both San Rafael.

Marin Flier Recalls Days In Red Prison

The flier was guarded in his description of interrogations by his captors, saying only that he was questioned at length.

Major Low, who wears five rows of medals including three Distinguished Flying Cross decorations and four Air Medals which he earned during the Korean War, told of being shot down over North Vietnam on Dec. 16, 1967.

"I was flying an F-4 Phantom at about 10,000 to 12,000 feet when I was hit," he said. He and his copilot tried to pull the plane out of a spin but gave up at 3,000 feet and pulled the mechanism which automatically ejected them from the plane.

"I've never bailed out of a plane before and never hope to again," laughed the major. Although he had no broken bones, he was cut and banged up when he landed — right in the middle of a combat area.

He was captured immediately, he said, as was his fellow crewman, whom he has not seen since.

"They stripped my clothes off me and took away everything I had with me," Major Low continued. His captors left him clad only in undershirt and shorts and even took his wedding ring off his finger.

"I asked for the ring back when I was released and they gave it to me," he said, but he never regained any of his other possessions including a watch, bolo knife and pen as well as his clothes.

"I wore that undershirt for four months until it rotted," the flier smilingly said. "The nylon shorts lasted the whole time — I went in wearing them and came out with them on."

Primitive conditions prevailed in the "two or three" camps where the North Vietnamese kept Low, and, in addition to lack of sanitation facilities, he minded most "the boredom." Part of the time he was alone in a cell and for part of his imprisonment period he had a roommate.

"There are probably several hundred American prisoners in North Vietnam, mostly fliers," Low said.

Low has no idea, he said, why he was chosen to be one of three prisoners released in August. "I think they just reached into a bag and pulled me out," he theorized. "I don't know whether they knew I was a Korean War ace or not," he added.

Low's release along with two other fliers was announced merely as a "humanitarian" gesture by the North Vietnamese, who turned the men over to a group from the American Friends Service Committee, an antiwar group.

The "peace people," as Low described them, included Mrs. Anne Scheer, of Oakland, a former Marinite who is the wife of an editor of Ramparts magazine.

The AFSC members met the fliers in Hanoi and accompanied them to Vientiane, capital of Laos, where they all took a commercial plane to New York.

His feeling of "having missed a whole year" was described by Low. "Everything in this country had moved so fast in the year I was gone and I knew nothing of what had happened. Since I came back I have done a lot of reading of news magazines and so on to catch up on what had happened."

Since arriving in New York in August, the flier has spent time in a hospital, where he was pronounced in good shape except for malnutrition which has since been remedied, was given a lengthy leave and has spent a great deal of time in Washington "in conferences."

Low requested to be stationed at Hamilton so he could be near his father, Paul V. Low of Sausalito, and his mother, Mrs. Lucille Hanson, who lives in Nevada. He and his wife, Sylvia, have moved to San Rafael.

After 18 years in the Air Force as well as two in the Navy during World War II, what are Low's plans for the future?

He said he is undecided as to whether to take an early retirement, which he could do because he has been a prisoner of war, or whether to continue as a career officer.

"If I leave the Air Force, I think I'd like to go into public relations work," he concluded.

Human Relations Council Accepted

The Coordinating Council of Dixie Parent Clubs has voted to accept the new Human Relations Council of the Dixie School District as a sub-group, it was reported today.

The new group will have one representative on the coordinating council, the parents club agreed in its vote Nov. 25. The Human Relations Council was formed in October to combat instances of racial name calling and harrassment and intimidation of minority families by parents, teachers and children.

Plans for a districtwide spring forum on human relations will be considered at the coordinating council's next meeting, Jan. 6.

Marin's One-Man Fire Stations On Way Out

Like the proverbial one-room schools, the county fire department's one-man substations are on their way out, Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom predicted today.

The one-man station at Bolinas was eliminated a year ago, leaving only five such stations, at Inverness, Cileno Valley, Santa Venetia, Tomales and Bayside Acres.

He said protection for Bayside Acres can be provided from Lucas Valley substation at the county hospital and farm and the Santa Venetia substation at the service station across the street from the Civic Center.

Bloom said he sought to close the Bayside Acres substation largely because the fire season had ended and housing was not available for the fire warden and the barn rent was too high.

Sausalito Champ 20th In Bridge Tournament

CORONADO (AP) — John Solodar of New York City and Henry Bethe of Madison, Wis., won the life masters men's pairs title last night at the American Contract Bridge League's fall national championships.

Solodar, 28, a management consultant, and Bethe, a 24-year-old history lecturer, never lower than third place in the four-round event, scored 847½ points to win by 7½ points over Dan Pearson of Berkeley and John Swanson of Los Angeles.

Paul Pender of Sausalito and Harlow Lewis of Philadelphia—defending champions in the life masters men's pairs and leading the competition as the final round opened yesterday—finished 20th with 702½ points.

The life masters women's pairs championship went to Rhoda Walsh, Bel Air, and Dorothy Talmage, Denver, Colo., who scored 814 points to defeat Mary Jane Farell, Beverly Hills and Katherine Blanchard, Los Angeles, who totaled 796 points.

Other leading scorers in the men's events were Paul Soloway of Los Angeles and Richard Walsh, husband of the women's pairs winner, who scored 835; Richard Freeman, Atlanta, and Clifford Russell, Miami Beach, Fla., 823½, and G. Robert Mail and Dan Morse, both of Houston, 815½.

Transit Station Funds Allocated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's redevelopment agency has authorized issuance of $15 million in tax allocation bonds for construction of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station at Davis and Market streets.

The bonds are to be backed by future property tax income from the Golden Gateway renewal area, which will be served by the station.

Scrooge In Post Office, And Six-Cent Lobby

Today we'd like to get in our six cents' worth on a couple of matters.

Why six cents?

In the first place, because the Post Office Department has announced that this year it will cost six cents to mail a Christmas card, regardless of whether the envelope is sealed or unsealed.

This strikes us as another example of the absolute genius of the federal government — and particularly the Post Office Department — for annoying the public with picayune regulations.

AS FAR BACK as we know anything about, Christmas cards in unsealed envelopes have gone as third class mail, i.e., printed matter. On most of them, only the name is handwritten. Doubtless there are quite a few occasions when the sender cheats a little by writing a brief message on the card, but that has been overlooked — in the spirit of Christmas, as it were.

This year, however, the Post Office Department has decreed that all cards must bear first class postage, even when they are completely printed, without even a hand-written signature, and whether or not the envelope is sealed.

Far from being the Christmas spirit, this looks to us like a piece of petty discrimination, and about as far from the Christmas spirit as anyone could get.

Direct-mail advertisements of all sorts, most of which we don't want, continue to travel for a nickel — or less, in the case of bulk "junk" mailings. Printed letters begging for funds are delivered for a nickel. Advertisements for pornographic books, which we certainly don't want, are delivered for a nickel.

But the Christmas card — that small, warm message of cheer from friends with whom we've sometimes lost touch for a whole year — that must be penalized and pay six cents!

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson, your name is Scrooge! Pre-Christmas ghosts Scrooge!

THE OTHER SIX CENTS worth we have in mind might help to correct such nonsense as the six-cent Christmas card postage.

It's what Harold A. Katz, a member of the Illinois House of Representatives, calls the "six-cent lobby."

Katz, writing in the December issue of Reader's Digest, urges voters not to "retire from politics" after election day.

They should make their views known by writing their representatives, in state houses and in Washington, he urges. And, contrary to what some people think, their letters may get results.

Most legislators will pay more attention to individual letters than to the obviously arranged letter and telegram campaigns staged by special interests, Katz advises.

So if you don't like six-cent Christmas card postage, or some other federal regulation, join the "six-cent lobby." Even Scrooge Watson has to mind Congress.

A Changing Climate

You are probably not aware of it, but it is a fact that the world's climate is growing measurably warmer. One reason is the increased amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere due to man-made combustion. Most of the world likes warm meals — that's a lot of carbon dioxide just from cooking alone. Carbon dioxide raises the atmospheric temperature.

In Marin, the slowed-down—but not completely halted — process of filling the bay is predicted to cause a rise in average temperature.

In Asia and Africa the destruction of forests was often followed by the creation of deserts.

On the other hand, the planting of trees holds the water, cools the air by transpiration, and removes carbon dioxide from the air for use in photosynthesis.

If this is not enough reason for planting and conserving trees, they are soothing and a pleasure to the eye.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Fill 'Er Up' To Add Meaning If Gas Stations Sell Beer

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the many matters the Legislature will have for consideration next year will be the question of whether it will allow gasoline and alcohol to mix.

Mixture of this type has not worked out too well in the past, as witness the number of automobile accidents, deaths and injuries by stepping on the gas with too much liquor in the system.

Consequently, when a southern California gasoline station applied for a license to sell beer on an off-sale basis, Edward J. Kirby, director of the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, refused issuance.

KIRBY, HOWEVER, reckoned without the technical provisions of the state's alcoholic beverage control act. Applicants for the license appealed the matter to the alcoholic beverage appeals board, and that board held there was nothing in the law to prevent issuance of an off-sale beer license to a service station.

This holding brings up the matter of legislation at the 1969 session, and its a foregone conclusion that the issue will create quite a battle before it is resolved.

PROPOSED MEASURES which would prohibit such a license will have the firm support of Director Kirby, who has not changed his original position.

The legislation will find the liquor industry itself divided.

Beer wholesalers, for instance, would see no objection to sale of the beverage say in a six-pack. On the other hand, retail liquor dealers no doubt look on the idea with a jaundiced eye, on the theory that the retail beer business belongs in liquor stores.

Liquor stores have no facilities for selling gasoline and are not likely to have. But it is a relatively simple matter for service stations to set up for the sale of beer.

THE ATTITUDE of the oil companies hasn't been made public as yet, but looking at it from a purely business standpoint, these concerns in the past have been for sales promotions which will help their retailers.

Different Break For 'Little Man'

Congratulations to the Independent-Journal for the splendid "brickbats," Nov. 30, concerning Leydecker-Rabuzzi case, and especially to Mr. Robert D. Bullock, Mill Valley, in his superb article, "Leydecker Case Plain Stinks," Nov. 30 letters to editor.

Let me tell you a short story what happened to me. Not long ago, I had my first brush with "justice." I am 47 years old. I came home from a business meeting. I had one too many drinks. I never hurt anyone or any property, but I was cited for driving while drinking. I was wrong and I am just "a little man," so this is what happened: I lost my driver's license, paid a stiff fine, lost my job, broke up my family, haven't worked in months because no one hires people over 30, today with a record, paid a lawyer $530 to defend me. I also received unwanted newspaper publicity and loss of prestige.

Mr. Leydecker on the other hand is charged with a felony. He's the president of a big bank, so he gets himslef a "smark lawyer." The lawyer does a little quick thinking for "big money"; they find a "loophole"; his 17-year-old daughter takes the "rap," a slap on the wrist, and Mr. Leydecker returns to the bank bigger than ever —Pprestige and all. Some deal!

No, Mr. Leydecker, I am not after your hide I don't even know you. I just wondered when the "little man" gets a break from the politicians?

Two New Careers Programs Compared

In front of me are two New Careers programs — one proposed originally by Dr. Arthur Pearl, University of Oregon sociologist, and the other, an extended administrative proposal, drafted by Thomas Campanella, assistant county administrator. A comparison between the two programs is startling.

Mr. Campanella's program undermines the original intent of New Careers by adding on a whole new administrative staff of seven to oversee New Career trainees, at an estimated cost of $74,992, including fringe benefits. (Wasn't there an editorial in the I-J recently on the bludgeoning (sic) growth of county administration?) Campanella also adds an internship program to cost $21,840, to New Careers, which is not a part of the New Careers program and should be undertaken separately by the county if it is needed.

By comparison, Dr. Pearl's program is streamlined to fit the specific needs of Marin County at comparatively little cost and without creating makeshift jobs or displacing other county employees. By making it a county financed program, Dr. Pearl has done away with most of the stumbling blocks found in other federally funded New Careers programs.

If the county is truly interested in on-the-job training for disadvantaged minorities through a New Careers program, it should adhere to Dr. Pearl's originally practical proposal, and should consult him in working out the details for the program's implimentation.

RULE OF THUMB

Rail Line Needed For Transportation

With the pressing need for better public transportation in Marin, it would be a mistake to turn the present NWPRR right of way into a biking and hiking trail. While I am sure that many people would benefit from such a trail, I sincerely believe that the right of way can be used for a much better purpose. That purpose is to provide Marin with a highway of steel for moving its goods and people.

The present traffic tie-ups on Highway 101 are becoming intolerable and an alternate transport system is now badly needed in this county. The rail line to Sausalito should not be abandoned just when it has a chance to be of some real value to the county.

If you would like to see the railroad remain in Marin, then I suggest you write a letter to that affect to a government agency where your voice may be heard. That agency is the Interstate Commerce Commission which has jurisdiction over the abandonment of the line. Address your correspondence to Mr. H. N. Garson, Secretary ICC, c/o Finance Docket No. 25187, Washington D.C. 20423. I urge you to act now before the line is relinquished to history.

Nixon Plans Tough Decision, Counting On Only One Term

NEW YORK — Two things emerged clearly in talking with Richard Nixon's White House staff:

1. The Nixon administration is prepared to take tough decisions whatever the political consequences.

2. This political bravery is based on a false premise.

It seems to me that the false premise is that Americans will not want the new administrations to take tough decisions and will punish it for doing so.

I'm convinced that the opposite is far nearer the truth; namely, that if Nixon as President lays out the facts bluntly and plainly, the hard decisions will be acceptable and that in the end the administration which takes them will be rewarded politically, not punished politically.

IN ANY EVENT, it is evident that Nixon and his White House staff are not shrinking from steps they think may prove unpopular.

One top staffer put it quite frankly: "We are going to have to take such difficult and unpopular decisions that this may well be a one-term administration."

Basically, this is a healthy approach. It is more than half right and that is a good beginning. Far better that Nixon should be reconciling himself to a one-term presidency by being willing to make "difficult and unpopular" decisions than to be worrying about how to remain popular by taking soft and halfway steps which get nowhere.

What are these hard decisions which might make Nixon, like Lyndon Johnson, a one-term President? Here are four good examples:

VIETNAM — Hanoi wants all of Vietnam one way or another. The President may have to resist Hanoi's peace demands for months and there will likely be almost continuous fighting. When Nixon refuses concessions, he will displease some; when he makes concessions, he will displease others. It will be a rough period and it will not be a short one.

INFLATION — To bring inflation under control will be Nixon's most pressing economic problem. It is essential to protect the dollar and the economy. If he brakes the economy too much, he will risk rising unemployment. If he fails to brake it enough, he risks rising prices and further weakening of the dollar. It will be a delicate and difficult decision.

SPENDING — Nixon wants to cut spending and get a balanced budget. Failing to do this soon will disappoint some of his conservative supporters. But it is not open to the new administration to cut spending much, if at all, and carry out the social and military goals Nixon has talked about. The immediate economies from ending the Vietnamese war will not be great, and larger economies will be delayed. Nixon must choose, and these are not easy choices.

REORGANIZATION — Nixon is convinced that a massive federal reorganization is essential if he is to get control of this "enormous monster" and make it serve its purposes effectively. He has ambitious and exciting plans for doing just this, but Congress has a long record of resisting major executive reorganization. Nixon will have to be ready to do battle with the Democratic Congress if he is to get approval for what urgently needs to be done.

IT IS ALL to the good that the Nixon people are steeling themselves to take the hard decisions even if this turns out to make them a four-year administration.

But it seems to me there is reason to believe that on balance most Americans want the hard decisions which will accomplish things rather than the soft, compromise decisions which patch things over and accomplish little.

My judgment is that most voters will welcome and reward the hard decision whenever Nixon will lay his case on the line, speak candidly and tell it like it is.

He says he intends to do so. I think the country would like it.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

OEO May Be On Skids Under New Administration

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — With the Nixon administration still under construction, the battle has already begun over the future war on poverty.

At stake is the survival of the anti-poverty agency, the Office of Economic Opportunity. On this matter President Nixon will have an influential, and perhaps a decisive, say.

Already, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has given the President-elect a report urging that OEO be abolished. The report was prepared by a group of Rhodes' Ohio aides.

IN THE HOUSE of Representatives, a source of some junk-OEO sentiment in the recent past, Rep. Carl A. Perkins, D-Ky., has offered a bipartisan study of OEO-financed poverty programs in a dozen cities.

House Republicans began requesting such an inquiry last summer after the Senate Investigation Subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., complained of misuse of federal funds in a Chicago anti-poverty project involving a street gang, the Blackstone Rangers. The new study will include programs operating in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, San Diego, San Antonio, New Orleans, Nashville, Philadelphia, Houston, New Haven, Indianapolis, and Pittsburgh.

FOR NIXON, who has said he wants to give private industry a major role in the poverty war, abolition of the Great Society's anti-poverty agency might have some attraction. If he strongly urges such a course he might get enough Republicans and conservative Democratic votes in Congress to accomplish it.

Congressional approval would be even easier if Nixon were to advocate a further dismemberment of OEO, short of outright demolition, with transfer of its popular programs such as "Head Start" to other federal departments. Congress has already ordered the shift of the generally admired "Upward Bound" program to the Office of Education.

ON THE OTHER hand, some congressional leaders, including a few liberal Republicans, think Nixon will avoid any action which could be marked up in his legislative record, by Democrats, as an administration surrender in the poverty war.

The man in the middle in the emerging fight over OEO is career government official Bertrand M. Harding, who succeeded Sargent Shriver as head of OEO last March. In a very real sense, Harding has been trying to save OEO from its own excesses.

Harding, who had been Shriver's top assistant since mid-1966, was passing the word, before McClellan's inquiry, that some of OEO's high-risk, much-criticized experimental programs must be phased out.

THAT VIEW did not endear Harding to anyone. In the Senate inquiry, McClellan told Harding acidly that he could have saved everyone the trouble of the investigation if he had just canceled the Blackstone Rangers' involvement in the poverty program.

At the same time, Harding was under fire from OEO's social scientists and sociologists who strongly supported the idea that street gangs could be used to bring the poverty programs to the disoriented young people of the big city ghettos.

Whatever happens to OEO, Harding is almost certainly out of a job there. His job is one which can be filled now by a Nixon appointee.

Court Martial Far Different From Most People's Conception

Most people's idea of what goes on at a court martial seems to be roughly that a grim-looking bunch of tight-lipped colonels take a look at the defendant and snap out, "Send that man to the firing squad."

Although military justice does differ from civilian, and the military system has rules with which many people don't agree, this idea is a far cry from the truth.

Leaving aside all arguments about whether we should have armed forces, whether we should have the draft, and whether we should be in Vietnam, a serviceman facing a court martial probably gets about the same deal as he would in a civilian court.

AFTER SITTING through a two-day court martial last week at Hamilton Air Force Base, I was more convinced of this than I had been before.

In fact, the young attorneys who make up most of Hamilton's legal office are so eager that one has the feeling that one is witnessing a more exuberant carrying out of every detail of the law than is always present in civilian courts.

The young man on trial, Airman John E. King, was a farm boy from Missouri who had killed his best friend while playing with a gun. They were both security policemen, taking a break in a flight line shack during a long night of walking sentry duty.

A third friend was in the shack, and both he and the victim had calmly asked the defendant to "quit messing with the gun."

THE DEFENDANT chose for his attorney (servicemen may ask for any military lawyer they wish and they may also hire a civilian attorney), a young Texan, Capt. Frederick T. Graham, who has been extremely successful in defending his clients.

Graham, whose courtroom technique includes rising to his feet often with drawled objections to the prosecution and a folksy manner of presenting legalities in simple language, contrasted sharply with the prosecuting attorney.

The young man assigned to present the case for the United States is from Boston and speaks with the familiar Kennedy accent. Capt. Kevin K. Donovan also fired every legal weapon he had into getting a conviction for the government.

IN THE MILITARY, a third appointed lawyer, called a law officer, acts as the judge. Last week the Air Force sent a major from Oxnard Air Force Base, Maj. William B. Wirin, to fill this role.

The court martial, composed at the outset of nine members, is the jury, but also does the sentencing. Members of the court martial can be challenged either for cause or peremptory reasons as in civilian courts, but each side is allowed only one peremptory challenge.

The accused can also ask to have enlisted men on the court martial, if he wishes, but last week's defendant waived this right.

THE FIRST colonel to be questioned at the opening of the trial refused to answer a question by Captain Graham as to what civic organizations he belonged to, saying that "I'm not on trial here."

Even after being ordered by the law officer to answer the question, he still refused. "I've never seen this happen in a court martial before," all the attorneys present said afterward.

The colonel was quickly dismissed by the law officer, and another colonel, who backed up the first one, was dismissed on a peremptory challenge.

After this, the remaining seven officers on the panel (military rules do not allow adding more men unless the panel falls below a quorum of five), seemed to settle down to their roles of jurors.

WHETHER young King would have had a different kind of fate under civilian law is a moot question. But he received fine defense against a tough prosecution.

Although he is probably not a very happy young man at this point, it's probably more due to the tragedy than to the outcome of the trial. After being found guilty of manslaughter, he received an extremely mild sentence — mainly consisting of being confined to the base for two months and having to pay a $50 a month fine for six months.

I wonder, if a hypothetical Mill Valley policeman shot his best friend when they were both on duty, what kind of a trial he would have?

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

'The New Educanto' Adds To Confusion On Campus

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The education world has long had a language of its own, in which what appear to be English words take on non-dictionary meanings or, in many cases, are transformed into having no meaning at all. This trade jargon, known as educanto, is very useful, for it enables educators to discuss things without anyone else knowing what they are talking about.

It has remained for the current season of campus unrest, however, to give educanto a whole new dimension. The majority of educators have long used this argot principally to conceal lack of thought. But in the current disputes, some of their number — perhaps victims of mental processes induced by too-long addiction to reading and speaking in educanto — have made it the language of the campus revolution.

THE RESULT is that what's going on at the colleges and universities — and some of the high schools — is even harder to understand than it should be. Adapting the principles of educanto to student-faculty revolts has produced a very strange lexicon.

It might help if we reduced a few of the terms which are flying about on campuses these days to what they really mean as they are used. For instance:

Politics of confrontation: Substituting threats, intimidation and violence for advocacy, discussion and balloting.

Academic convocation: Getting everybody together to call each other names, thus avoiding classwork.

Dialogue: I'm telling you, and you're listening — and don't talk back!

Professional: Outside the accepted standards of morality and justice.

Autonomy: Anarchy.

Academic freedom: Freedom of students and teachers to say and do anything they please, regardless of whether it has any bearing on what the teachers are paid to teach and the students have signed up to study; and also regardless of whether it violates laws or standards of decency.

Education: Anything whatever that does not involve holding classes.

The list could be extended, but these are the most commonly used terms in what might be called "the new educanto."

IT SHOULD BE noted that teachers have provided this new glossary to help the students who are revolting against their studies. It has been almost entirely a labor of love (at full pay, of course) by faculty members.

The dissident student groups have given their professors very little credit for this outstanding assistance to their revolution, although without it they probably would have gotten nowhere.

The students themselves have adopted much of the terminology, but cannot take credit for its creation. Their own contributions to the language have been minimal, and of no use at all in giving their revolt the aura of respectability. About all they have been able to offer are such words as "pigs," "bullxxxx," or just plain "XXXX."

The object of punishment is prevention from evil; it never can be made impulsive to good. — Thomas Mann.

Texas U. Posts To Both Rostows

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Walt W. Rostow, one of President Johnson's closest advisers, and Rostow's wife will join the University of Texas faculty on Feb. 1.

Rostow will hold a joint appointment as professor of economics and history while Mrs. Rostow will be an associate professor of government, school officials announced yesterday.

Rostow was appointed to the White House staff by President Kennedy and became President Johnson's special assistant. He is a former faculty member at Columbia and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where his wife also taught. She has been conducting a seminar at American University in Washington.

GOP Governors Plan To Aid Nixon On Anticrime Pledges

By JACK BELL

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Republican governors are volunteering to take off President-elect Richard M. Nixon's hands the enforcement of law and order pledges he made during his campaign.

Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida, one of the early arrivals for the Republican Governors Conference opening here tomorrow, said the state executives expect to take the lead themselves in combatting lawlessness and disorders.

Kirk, who assembled a private police force to combat organized crime in Florida after his election, told an airport news conference yesterday he belives the restoration of order is primarily a local problem.

"I expect President-elect Nixon to take the leadership in the fight against crime and violence," he said. "I think he will recommend strengthening the safe-streets act and will implement the program to elevate police standards. But in the end, law enforcement is primarily a local problem and we governors intend to do our best to help the new President restore law and order."

Asked if he didn't think Nixon would be following the course already laid down by President Johnson, Kirk replied that "this has always been a nonpartisan issue. The Republicans have always supported law enforcement bills."

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the vice-president elect, arrived in an Air Force plane after stopping off in San Francisco to look in briefly on a meeting of the executive committee of the National Governors Conference. Agnew has been designated by Nixon as the liaison man with governors of both parties, a job filled by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Johnson administration.

Agnew told reporters in a brief airport interview that despite Johnson's efforts to maintain contact with the governors there still existed a problem of communications between them and the White House. He said he hopes to clear this up.

"I find some governors unhappy about the implementation of existing federal programs," Agnew said. He declined to elaborate. But the supposition was the state executives were complaining about cutbacks in the federal highway program spending and about the administration of the antipoverty program.

Agnew declined to speculate on possible Nixon cabinet appointments. However, he said he thought that any government in these times in the end would "turn out to be a coalition of sorts."

Nixon has indicated he will not announce any major cabinet appointments until he returns to New York after a California trip. He will speak at a hospital fund-raising dinner in Los Angeles tomorrow sponsored by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre and then go on to the GOP governors conference.

Nixon plans an off-the-cuff speech at the governors' black-tie state dinner Friday night at this plush desert resort.

Nixon will find 33 GOP governors and governors-elect, including lame duck Gov. John H. Chaffe of Rhode Island, the chairman of the organization.

Faculty Raises Hope Nipped; Unrest Cited

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Coordinating Council for Higher Education has recommended a 5.2-per cent pay hike for state college professors after rejecting higher figures proposed by members representing the colleges.

The state college trustees had earlier urged a 12.6-per cent increase and the council's staff proposed a 10.2-per cent boost. But some council members, complaining about recent campus disorders, led the full council to pare the proposed increases to 5.2 per cent yesterday.

After the meeting Glenn S. Dumke, college system chancellor, said the colleges would appeal to the legislature and would ask for the original 12.6-per cent increase.

The public members appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to the council, the state's top education advisory board to the lawmakers, told newsmen they didn't favor larger pay increases because of the participation of some faculty members in recent campus disturbances.

"We must face facts," said Kenneth R. Rearwin. "The public voted against Prop. 3 (the $250-million school construction bond plan on the Nov. 5 ballot) to register a complaint of what is going on at colleges involving both faculty and students. There is no use in ignoring the will of the public."

The council voted for the 5.2-per cent increase Monday, but because two members were absent, a new vote was taken yesterday. A motion to restore the cuts was defeated by an 8-8 tie, with two abstensions.

The council also approved a 3.8-per cent increase in fringe benefits, bringing the total package to a cost of $15 million.

Before approving the 5.2-per cent increase, the council vetoed an 8.3-per cent compromise hike, with all three college representatives voting with the majority.

Dumke said the college members voted against the compromise because to accept a "clearly inadequate amount was out of the question."

Extortion By Credit Card Is Charged

NEW YORK (AP) — Salvatore Bonanno, son of reputed Mafia leader Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, has been indicted on charges of using a stolen credit card to allegedly finance a coast-to-coast tour early this year.

The younger Bonanno, 36, of San Jose, Calif., was named yesterday in a federal indictment along with Peter Notaro, 53, of Tucson, Ariz., and the slain Samuel Perrone. Bonanno and Notaro were accused of using a Diners Club card extorted from a Queens County real estate man identified as Don. A. Torrillo.

The card was used, the indictment said, to charge "thousands of dollars worth of goods and services."

The three men, the indictment further alleges, caused Torrillo "to fear for the safety of himself and family" so that he did not report the theft of the card.

Bonanno, who has moved from his former home on Long Island, is charged with one count of conspiracy, 50 counts of mail fraud, and two of perjury.

Notaro is accused of conspiracy, perjury and 50 mail fraud counts.

Perrone, described as Bonanno's chauffeur-bodyguard, was shot to death in Brooklyn last March 12 by two gunmen who have not been apprehended. Perrone was named as a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

Salvatore Bonanno, if convicted, faces a maximum of 220 years in prison and $65,000 in fines. Notaro, if convicted, could receive a maximum of 215 years in jail and $63,000 in fines.

Antiwar Group Disrupts Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the second straight day, the trial of a Superior Court judge's son was interruptd by antidraft demonstrations.

Vincent J. O'Connor, 27, who had been classified as a conscientious objector, is charged with failing to report as a hospital helper as an alternative to military service.

He is the son of Judge Raymond J. O'Connor and is being tried before U.S. Dist. Judge Lloyd H. Burke.

Burke ordered eight persons to sit down yesterday when they stood up as O'Connor was being sworn in. One was ejected.

On Monday, protesters sang peace songs in the courtroom

O'Connor testified that "the Selective Service system is destroying the movement for human dignity."

"It shouldn't be telling young persons what to do," he said.

$1,666 Collected By Home Group For Park Work

Although the wet weather has delayed the grading on the Lois Curtin Park, the Loma Verde Homeowners Association now has $1,666 toward construction of the park, members learned Monday night.

Estimated cost of the tot park on land of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on Calle Arboleda, is $2,000, according to Mrs. John Tindell, secretary for the homeowners association.

The club set 7:30 p.m., Dec. 12 for the annual family Christmas party, she said.

The association authorized $50 in prizes for the annual Christmas home decoration contest to be judged Dec. 23. First prize is the perpetual plaque and $25; second prize, $15 and third prize, $10, according to Mrs. Tindell.

Deaf Teacher Champions State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Max Rafferty, the state superintendent of public instruction, has chosen a 43-year-old deaf man as California's teacher of the year to enter a national competition.

Rafferty named Lawrence E. Newman, a mathematics teacher at the California School for the Deaf in Riverside, as the state's entry in the competition conducted by a national magazine for the nationwide teacher of the year.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Avoiding Ailing Person One Key To Living Without Pesky Colds

VAN DELLEN

Win the cold war by getting plenty of rest, exercise, and nourishing food. It is equally important to avoid individuals with respiratory infections. This is easier said than done, because many cannot stay home from school or work, but they can stifle sneezes and stay clear of others.

Most respiratory infections are caught by inhaling contaminated droplets spewed into the air when coughing, sneezing, or just plain breathing. The Japanese are more considerate; when they have a cold, they were a cloth mask.

MANY PEOPLE also shake their handkerchief after considerable usage. Food handlers ought to be very careful about breathing over food about to be served.

Viruses and bacteria also are conveyed on contaminated fingers. Wash hands frequently when colds are rife.

Susceptibility in school children stems from crowded classroooms, sitting closely together, and failure to cover up coughs and sneezes. Community towels and drinking glasses also are used.

SCHOOLS ARE ONE of the main sources for these infections. The cold is brought home and shared with other members of the family. Above all, remember that youngsters are extremely susceptible to colds.

The first born may be considered highly-resistant to colds so long as he is a pre-schooler. The situation changes after he goes to school. Parents may consider the second tyke less hearty because he develops the sniffles at the drop of a hat. Blame the older sister or brother who now brings them home.

CALL THE PHYSICIAN when chills, fever, chest pain, or difficult breathing, including grunting, coexist with respiratory infections. Bed rest, ample fluids, more humidity, and aspirin are standard remedies. The troublesome symptoms are treated with more potent drugs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

HARDENED-ARTERY TESTS

A reader writes: Is there an instrument that tells how hard the arteries are?

REPLY

No, not if you mean what you say. Various tests determine the indirect effects of hardened arteries on circulation to the heart, extremities, kidneys, and other organs. Ordinary X-rays demonstrate arteriosclerosis but do not disclose the extent of damage. On the other hand, injecting a substance that shows up under the X-ray (angiogram) tells how narrow the vessel is and whether it is obstructed.

MENOPAUSAL GRIEF

A reader writes: I thought I would sail through the menopause because I always have been well and happy. Then, along comes the change of life! I would not wish this thing on a dog! Why don't physicians tell women what to expect?

REPLY

They do. Only a small percentage are incapacitated by menopausal symptoms and it is not easy to tell in advance which woman will be bothered.

THROAT CANCER

A reader writes: Is cancer of the throat detected by looking at the area or are instruments used?

REPLY

A mirror will be needed if the tumor is around the bend and not in direct view. Biopsy is then taken to determine whether the lesion is malignant or benign.

ECTOPIC PREGNANCY

A reader writes: What are the symptoms of an ectopic pregnancy?

REPLY

After missing a period, the woman may develop severe cramplike lower abdominal pain on one side, followed by spotting or hemorrhage.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT

Severe abdominal pain is an important symptom and should be investigated.

State Income Tax Attempt Seen To Help Colleges

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An income tax withholding plan, defeated by the past two legislatures, will be reintroduced next month to provide money for college construction and income tax relief for the middle brackets.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, the legislature's chief advocate of the payroll withholding method of collecting state income taxes, said yesterday his measure would produce $350 million the first year and $100 million each year thereafter without an increase in tax rates.

The Modesto Republican said his 1969 plan would have two new provisions designed to obtain its passage by the legislature which reconvenes in January. Gov. Ronald Reagan is a staunch opponent of withholding.

Some revenue from the plan would be used for building construction at the University of California, the state colleges and rundown city public schools, Veneman said.

Much of the rest of the funds would be allocated to cut the income taxes of large families in the middle brackets hardest hit by the $1 billion tax increase voted in 1967, he added.

Educational construction plans were upset last month when the voters defeated Proposition 3, a $250 million bond issue.

Veneman said the first-year revenue from withholding could be used to put college and public school construction on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Most of the increased revenue from withholding would come from the state collecting taxes on income the year it is earned instead of the next year. But Veneman said some additional money would result because withholding would make it more difficult to evade state taxes.

U.S. Still Defies Smoking Peril

LONDON (AP) — Americans are still the world's heaviest smokers of cigarettes even though fear of lung cancer is keeping consumption below the 1963 level, the British Tobacco Industry Research Council said today.

The council said U. S. consumption averaged 3,860 cigarettes per adult last year. Canada was second with 3,450 and Britain third with 2,830, even though the Briton pays the equivalent of 73 cents for a standard pack of 20.

The council said the cancer scare first affected sales in 1964.

Bar Owner Reports Two Rowdy Customers

Robert Woodley, owner of the Sportsman's Bar, Old Redwood Highway, Cotati, said two young men he refused to serve last night assaulted him and attempted to run him down with their car.

Woodley said the men entered his tavern at 11:25 p.m. and became boisterous when he refused to serve them. He said they "knocked him about" and threw him out the front door and continued the assault in the parking lot. He said they then tried twice to run him down with their car. Woodley was not injured.

Last 1968 Class At Guide Dogs

The last 1968 class of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. will graduate at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school, 350 Los Ranchitos Road, Los Ranchitos.

The eight members of the class bring to 135 the number of blind men and women who have undergone 28-day training couses with their guide dogs this year.

Graduating Saturday will be Colvin Wilson of Marin City; Floyd Etienne of Los Angeles; Mrs. Sharon Helm of Salem, Ore.; Mrs. Ione Krause of Houston, Tex.; John Paige of Anderson, Shasta County; John Reed of Portland, Ore.; Miss Linda Reynolds of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Erika Rushing of El Dorado, Ark.

Two Departments At College Set Join Exhibition

A combined exhibit by the communications and the dental assisting departments at College of Marin will open tomorrow in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building.

Examples of sensory reporting from the Communications 50 classes, video tape recordings produced as a mass media class assignment, video-tapes of a course, "Inventing the Future," and collages will be included.

The dental assisting department will display tools and materials related to the student and her work, including dental models, X-rays and chairside instrumentation tools.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. The exhibit will close Dec. 13.

Camera Equipment Stolen From Home

Camera equipment, a wrist watch and skis, valued at $732, were taken from the Lawrence R. Brackett home, 31 Manzanita Place, between Nov. 24 and Saturday, Mill Valley police reported yesterday.

Police said Brackett discovered the burglary when he returned from a vacation trip Sunday.

$4,500 Award To Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — Martin Gottfried, drama critic for Women's Wear Daily, was named winner yesterday of the George Jean Nathan Award for dramatic criticism for the 1967-1968 theatrical year.

Prof. E. D. H. Johnson, chairman of the English department of Princeton University and chairman of the selection committee, announced that the award was given for Gottfried's book "A Theater Divided—the Postwar American Stage."

The prize was increased from $4,000 to $4,500 this year. Gottfried, 35, is the 10th winner of the award.

To Juvenile Court

Michael J. Hayes, 19, of Oakland, was certified from Marin Municipal Court to Juvenile Court yesterday to face a charge that he possessed marijuana in his car in Novato Oct. 17.

Mother, Son Due In Court

Daniel Nyhan, 43, of Tiburon and his mother, Mrs. Elsie F. Nyhan, 72, of San Francisco, who have pleaded innocent to a charge of murder, will appear tomorrow in San Francisco Superior Court for setting of a jury trial date.

The mother and son are accused of killing Mrs. Genvieve Dolan, 61, who Mrs. Nyhan called "my best friend." Mrs. Dolan was found dead of head injuries in Mrs. Nyhan's apartment Oct. 25.

The mother has been released on $5,000 bail and the son is being held in San Francisco County Jail on $5,000 bail.

Superior Court Judge Bernard C. Glickfeld yesterday granted motions to reduce the son's bail from $7,500 to $5,000 and the mother's bail from $6,250 to $5,000.

City Dickering To Buy Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The City of San Francisco wants the federal government to put a price tag on Alcatraz Island —hopefully, at a bargain rate.

The government usually sells its property at discount prices if it is to be used for purely recreational purposes, instead of commercial development. The city would like to use the prison island as a recreational facility, possibly as early as next summer.

Mayor Joseph Alioto yesterday appointed Jack Tolan, deputy for department, to represent the city in negotiations aimed at putting a fair price on the island.

6, 8, 10 or 11 years from now, we expect to have some nice used Volvo 144's
And that should tell you something about the nice new Volvo 144's we have now: they were built to last a long time.
Since they're Volvos, they ought to. Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. And while we can't guarantee how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.
If you don't want to wait 6, 8, 10, or 11 years for a used Volvo 144, come in today and test-drive a new one.
Or, test-drive a Volvo 122. We've been selling that model a few years longer, so we've had time to get some nice used ones.

High School Soccer Hits The Marin Scene

SOCCER, ANYONE? — The international sport of soccer finally comes to Marin County high schools on an organized level tomorrow with the opening of a Marin County Athletic League schedule to be played on an informal basis.

The brainchild of Fernando Silva of the Tamalpais High language department, the league will be composed of teams from Tam, Redwood, Drake, Marin Catholic, and Novato. It will include 20 games through Feb. 8.

Silva, a native of Portugal who recently received his Doctorate in Philosophy, organized a team at Tam last year but had to play a San Francisco schedule due to lack of competition in Marin. Now he's generated enough enthusiasm locally to play a schedule in his own backyard.

Combined Team In Novato

An enthusiastic supporter of the new league is Tom Barrie of the Novato High School physical education department who will coach a combined Novato-San Marin team.

"We (coaches) all feel that there is a need for this international sport for good reasons," Barrie explained. "The small boy can play—a 120-pounder can be a star, in fact. It is an inexpensive sport and a good conditioner. Many of the other Bay Area counties have official leagues which we hope to have next year."

Barrie allowed as how the new circuit will hit some inclement weather during most of the season here, but explained: "We felt the December-January-February scheduling was the most opportune time because it doesn't interfere with football nor the many spring sports."

The response has been outstanding, Barrie said. "The five schools each have anywhere between 30 and 50 boys trying out. We'll have 200 players involved in the program this first year," he said.

A Chance For All To Play

The league will be played on a strictly varsity level with 35 minute halves sandwiched around a five-minute intermission. After each regular game is completed an extra period will be played to give all boys a chance to play.

Barrie, who played soccer two years at San Francisco State, has convinced his fellow Marin coaches to test two rules changes for Novato games. That would be the elimination of the offside rule ("Few Americans fully understand it," he said); and no throw-in ("instead there will be a kick-in.") He explained: "I feel that these two changes will create more scoring opportunities, thus giving the game a better chance for capturing the imagination of Americans."

Meet The Other Coaches

Barrie's and Silva's fellow coaches in the league will be John Perrotis of Redwood, Imants "Easy" Abers at Drake and Cliff Vattone of Marin Catholic. Perrotis, a native of Greece who teaches Spanish at Redwood, starred for several years in a San Francisco semi-professional league; Abers, driver training instructor at Drake, was an All-Conference soccer selection while playing wing at S.F. State in 1960; Vattone, who teaches math at Marin Catholic, is an eager newcomer to the sport.

And now I want you all to give me a rousing ovation because I went through this entire column without once saying —— to me, baby.

Bullets Knocked From 1st

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

The knee bone connected with the ball, and the Baltimore Bullets were out of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

With 13 seconds left last night and Baltimore leading 127-126, the Bullets' Earl Monroe dribbled the ball off his knee and it went out of bounds. Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson followed with a fieldl goal, and the Royals went on to win 129-127.

BEHIND CELTS

The loss combined with Boston's 137-115 trouncing of Milwaukee dropped Baltimore into second place, seven percentage points behind the Celtics, although the Bullets still are a half game ahead.

In other NBA action, New York smashed Atlanta 126-93, San Diego topped Chicago 108-103, San Francisco outlasted Seattle 127-122 and Los Angeles whipped Phoenix 122-108.

Following Robertson's field goal, John Tresvant added a foul shot to make it 129-127. Then, with six seconds left, Monroe attempted a jump shot, but Tresvant blocked it and Robertson grabbed the ball.

38 FOR 'O'

John Havlicek scored 41 points as Boston, behind 65-64 at halftime, swamped Milwaukee with a 44-point fourth quarter. Wayne Embrey led Milwaukee with 29 points.

Cazzie Russell intercepted five Atlanta passes as New York raced to a 27-11 first-period lead and never was in trouble even though center Walt Bellamy was ejected with two technical fouls with almost 10 minutes left in the second period.

SCORERS

Jim Barnett paced San Diego with 29 points, Kojis contributed 27. Chicago's Bob Boozer led all scorers with 33.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 35 points, including 20 in the third period, as Los Angeles handed Phoenix its 12th consecutive setback. Chamberlain's output set a Los Angeles Forum record for most points in a quarter and enabled the Lakers to open a 90-85 lead.

Keyes Heads East Grid Stars

The team includes three of the strongest backs in the nation—Leroy Keyes, Purdue All-American; Perry Williams, his fullback teammate; and Ron Johnson of Michigan, holder of the Big Ten one-game rushing record of 346 yards.

The selections by East coaches Duffy Doaugherty of Michigan State, Tom Cahill of Army and John Pont of Indiana were announced by T. H. Balliet, general manager of the Shrine game.

Quarterback choices were Fred Summers of Wake Forest and Dennis Brown of Michigan, both passers and runners.

Although listed as an end, a third quarterback could be Ed Podolak, who played that position at Iowa for two seasons.

The defense is marked by line power and speed in the secondary, including defensive backs Tony Kyasky of Syracuse, Al Brenner of Michigan State, and Nate Cunningham of Indiana.

CAGERS WIN THREE OF THREE

Perfect Day For Marin Preps

It was a perfect day yesterday as Marin County Athletic League varsity basketball teams fared quite well in outings against non-league competition.

Unbeaten Redwood High of Larkspur bombed Washington of San Francisco, 76-58, at Redwood; Terra Linda whipped Pinole Valley 84-67, at Pinole Valley, and San Rafael High got by Santa Rosa, 56-52, at Santa Rosa.

Terra Linda evened its record at 1-1, as 10 players hit the scoring column, led by Bob Nadell's 19 points. Pat Purcell added 18, Mike Timmel had 16 and Mike Peden 13 for the winners.

San Rafael guard Bruce Nvae popped in 18 points to lead an otherwise well-balanced Bulldog attack, as the usual standouts, Roger Thomas and Ray Taylor, had nine and seven points each.

Baseball's Rule Changers Come To Aid Of Batters

Smaller Strike Zone; Pitching Mound Lowered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A slightly smaller strike zone and a slightly lower mound are baseball's answer to last season's imbalance between pitchers and hitters but the rule changes already have provoked doubt about their wisdom and the effect they would have.

"Anything you do to help the hitters will be an improvement," said Gene Mauch, manager of the expansion Montreal Expos after the rules committee voted the changes yesterday at the winter meetings.

HAS TO HELP

"Anything that makes it tougher for pitchers has to help hitters."

The changes reduce the strike zone to between the armpits and tops of the knees and lower the mound from 15 inches to 10 above the level of the plate.

Don Drysdale, ace of the Los Angeles Dodger pitching staff, had some definite comments on the changes.

"If they think this is going to make .300 hitters," said Drysdale, "They're mistaken. Last year could have been just a one-year thing. I think they should have waited a year to see how it goes before panicking like this."

MASTERY

Last season pitchers had an overpowering mastery over hitters, reducing the number of .300 hitters to only six.

Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels, said the effect of the changes on hitters might be more psychological than anything else.

"I hope it'll do something," said Rigney. "But at least the hitter will think he's getting something. And that's what's important.

"If we just changed all the mounds and the strike zone and nobody knew, it might not change anything."

The strike zone had previously been defined as the area between the tops of the shoulders and the knees with the knee not specifically defined.

COMPLAINTS

Rules committee members also said that a strike should be definitely across the area of the plate. Complaints had been made that some inside and outside pitches were called strikes.

Another change was made to allow for the completion of games suspended in extra innings rather than having them replayed in their entirety.

Scoring changes stiffened the earned run average computation for relief pitchers who come into an inning with two out after an error has been committed. It makes the save an official part of the game's pitching statistics rather than an unofficial item.

Pineda Doubles

SAN MATEO (AP) — Alvaro Pineda rode two winners at Bay Meadows yesterday and tied Angel Cordero Jr., for the lead in the race for the national riding championship. Each now has 289 winners.

Warriors Win, Lose Thurmond For Week

PHOENIX (AP) —When San Francisco's Nate Thurmond left the game with 16 minutes remaining, he had scored 23 points, exactly the lead the Warriors held over the Seattle SuperSonics.

When the horn sounded, ending last night's contest, the Supersonics had roared back—but not quite far enough. The Warriors held on to defeat Seattle 127-122.

OUT OF ACTION

Thurmond, the Warriors' 6-foot-11 center, departed with a leg injury. He pulled a thigh muscle while dunking a shot in the third period. Those two points may force him to miss a week of play.

He'll miss tonight's National Basketball Association game against the new Phoenix Suns, 5-17 and last in the Western Division. The Warriors are 12-12 tied for second with the San Diego Rockets.

Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 26 points but it was Joe Ellis' timely play with 3½ minutes remaining that kept Seattle from winning its sixth straight game.

THEFT

With the Sonics just six points back and rallying, Ellis scored one field goal, then stole the ball to set up another that gave San Francisco its winning margin.

Len Wilkins of Seattle topped all scorers with 31 points. Bob Rule added 27 for the fifth-place Sonics, whose record dipped to 11-18.

49er Star John David To Retire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John David Crow, 33-year-old tight end with the San Francisco 49ers will wind up this National Football League career at the end of this season.

Crow, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1957 at Texas A&M, said yesterday he probably could help the 49ers next season, but believed he should devote more time to his wife and three children and business interests in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Crow played seven years with the St. Louis Cardinals before being traded to the 49ers in 1964.

Crown had been a running back until this season.

This year he carried the ball only four times for four yards in 12 contests, but he caught 27 passes for 327 yards and five touchdowns.

In his 11 years in the NFL, his yardage gained running and passing totals 8,859.

"We are losing not only a great football player, but also an outstanding leader," said Coach Dick Nolan.

Novato's Wrestlers Win No. 38

Novato High School's amazing wrestling team ran its consecutive string of dual meet victories to 38 yesterday by downing East Bay powerhouse Berkeley, 43-20, at Novato.

Greg Jones, Kirt Donaldsen, Jim Luntzel, Ken Donaldsen, Paul Robertson, Rob McCowan, and Tom Zechlin all recorded pins for the Hornets.

The Novato string runs back to 1966 and features an unbeaten season last year. In fact, the Hornets have only lost one dual meet over the part three seasons, including this one.

Two-Platoon Stays

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Big Eight football coaches unanimously endorsed yesterday retention of the present two-platoon substitution system for college football.

Positive Analysis Disputed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A State's witness testified today that the phenylbutazone given Dancer's Image six days before the Kentucky Derby could not have caused a positive urinalysis which which showed up after the race.

"The maximum retention time in my experince," said Dr. Gene Bierhause, "is 72 hours or three days."

NO SIDE EFFECTS

Bierhaus, track veterinarian for Colorado, also told the Kentucky Racing Commission that he never has noted any side effects from the anti-inflammatory medication.

The colt's owner, Peter Fuller, has contended the horse received only two doses of the drug in his career and that both times he reacted violently. Fuller, who is still trying to collect the $122,600 purse, said there was no such reaction after Dancer's Image won the derby.

NEGATIVE

Bierhaus said that his state permits the use of phenylbutazone up to 30 hours before a race.

On this 30-hour basis, he continued, at least 50 to 65 per cent of the horses treated excreet the medication from their system and by 48 hours practically all horses tested will come up negative.

Demo Treasurer Buys Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert E. Short, fund-raiser for a losing campaign as Democratic Party national treasurer, has bought the Washington Senators, long-time losers at both the ball park and the bank.

Short, 51, a Minneapolis hotel and trucking executive, purchased the last-place American League baseball club yesterday for about $10 million.

REMAIN

He said the Senators will remain in the nation's capital where they are host to baseball's anual presidential opener as well as the All-Star game next year marking the sport's 100th anniversary.

Ironically, in Short's first game, the man due to throw out the inaugural pitch will be Republican Richard M. Nixon, the victor over Short's personal friend and political ally, Hubert H. Humphrey.

A ninth-inning bid by comedian Bob Hope to buy the club fell short.

NO CHANGES

After conferring with both men in San Francisco where the winter baseball meetings are underway, Short said he did "not plan any immediate changes." But he added, "If it's necessary to eliminate either or both of them, I'm not afraid of that decision."

Short bought the club from Washington investment banker James H. Lemon—no relation to the manager—and the estate of Lemon's partner, James Johnston, who died last year.

The sale will need approval of the American League owners and the court overseeing Johnston's estate, but this should be routine.

EXPANSION

The Washington club was created as an expansion team in 1961 when the original Senators moved to Minnesota to become the Twins. It has finished last in the American League four times in its eight-year history.

The Senators have finished in the red all but one of the eight years they have existed. They lost an estimated $500,000 this past season as they skidded from a sixth-place tie in 1967 back into the familiar cellar.

Leroy Kelly Takes Over Scoring Lead

Kelly, who had been the top ground gainer, took over the scoring lead from Mike Clark of Dallas by making four touchdowns last Sunday. That gave him 108 points to 97 for Clark, who kicked two field goals and three extra points.

Kelly has an insurmountable lead in rushing with 1,073 yards. Gale Sayers of Chicago, who is out for the season, is second with 856 yards, and Ken Willard of San Francisco is third with 777.

Baltimore's Earl Morrall moved ahead of Don Meredith of Dallas as the leading passer. Morral has completed 59 per cent of his passes, has thrown 24 touchdown passes and has gained an average of 9.48 yards with his tosses.

Trojans Dominate All-Pac-8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of Southern California Trojans placed five men on the offensive lineup and one on the defense in the Pacific-8 All-Conference team announced today by Executive Director Thomas J. Hamilton.

Heading the Trojan stars is Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson, who set a new NCAA record with 1,709 net rushing yards for the season and raised conference marks with 355 ball carries, 22 touchdowns and 132 points scored.

Other backs on the All-Conference offensive lineup are flanker Gene Washington of Stanford, who snagged 71 passes for 1,117 yards and 8 touchdowns, and Bill Enyart of Oregon State.

Southern Cal's Steve Sogge is offensive quarterback with ends Bob Klein of USC and Wayne Stewart of California, tackles Malcolm Snider of Stanford and Sid Smith of OSU, guards Fred Khasigian of USC and Clyde Smith of OSU and center John Sidion of OSU rounding out the offensive line.

Don Parish of Stanford quarterbacks the defensive team. In the backfield are Al Worley of Washington, Omri Hildreth of Oregon and Ken Wiedemann of UC.

On the line are ends Jim Gunn of USC and Mike McCaffrey of Cal, tackles George Dames of Oregon and Ed White of Cal, and guards Larry Agajanian of UCLA and Jon Sandstrom of OSU. At center is George Jugum of Washington.

Seven choices were unanimous on the part of the eight head coaches, said Hamilton. On the offense are backs Simpson of USC, Gene Washington of Stanford, Enyart of Oregon State and tackle Malcolm Snider of Stanford.

Unanimous defensive picks are Oregon State guard Jon Sandstrom, Washington back Al Worley and linebacker George Jugum. Simpson, Enyart, Dames of Oregon and McCaffrey of UC are repeaters from 1967.

Mets Prove Better Than Dodgers, Cubs

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets won season series with two National League teams in 1968.

The Mets turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 11 times in 13 meetings and beat the Chicago Cubs 10 times in 18 games.

The Mets found it toughest to win against the St. Louis Cardinals and Atlanta Braves. They were 6-12 with each club.

Rough-Tough Game, Oaks Beat Chaparrals

OAKLAND (AP) —The Oakland Oaks obviously wanted to make up for Monday night's surprising 112-111 upset loss to the Dallas Chaparrals. And the Chaps were just as determined to repeat their performance.

The result last night was a hard-fought game — too hard at times as a couple of shoving matches broke out. But the Oaks also broke out, scoring 84 points in the first half enroute to a 135-109 pounding of Dallas.

17-3 MARK

The victory lifted the Oaks' record to 17-3 and widened their lead over New Orleans to 6½ games in the American Basketball Association's Western Division. The Chaps, 7-8, are fifth in the West.

Oakland, idle tonight, hosts the New York Nets tomorrow night, then face the Miami Floridians Friday night. New York, 7-11, is fourth in the Eastern Division while Miami, 8-8, is second.

In the second period last night, Oakland ace Rick Barry and Dallas' John Beasley began pushing each other around. Benches emptied but order was restored before any punches were thrown.

SECOND TIME

Players on both teams rushed onto the court again in the third period as Oakland's Ira Harge and Dallas' Ron Boone began a shoving duel. Beasley suffered a sprained toe during that uprising.

He also led the Dallas attack with 24 points. Jim Eskins paced the Oaks with 28. The officials paced the entire game calling 68 fouls against the two teams.

Wisconsin Pulls Stunner Over Favored Kansans

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin has stamped itself a a contender in the Big Ten Conference basketball race this season, John Powless' first as head coach.

The unranked Badgers surprised the fourth-ranked Kansas Jayhawks 67-62 last night to the delight of a roaring crowd of 9,113 at Madison. When the game ended, Powless was carried off the floor by cheering players and fans.

James Johnson's 29 points, including a field goal in the last 40 seconds to ice the game, paced the Badgers. Down by nine points, Kansas pulled within 62-60 with two minutes left, but the aroused Badgers held on.

North Carolina, Notre Dame, Davidson and Villanova, the other teams in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action, each won as did 15th-ranked Detroit. Marquette, the only other team in the top 20 to play, was beaten by Minnesota.

Charlie Scott threw in 28 points to lead second-ranked North Carolina over Oregon 106-73 at Chapel Hill. Fifth-ranked Notre Dame won on the road beating King's, Pa., at Wilkes-Barre 84-54 behind 20 points by Austin Carr.

Davidson, No. 6, also enjoyed a homecourt breeze routing Furman 105-70. Johnny Jones got 30 points to lead 10th-ranked Villanova to a 64-54 home court triumph over Princeton.

Spencer Haywood, of U.S. olympic fame, scored 37 points to pace Detroit over Western Michigan 106-99 in overtime before 9,500 at Kalamazoo. Haywood got 10 field goals and 17 free throws.

One of his baskets gave the Titans a tie in regulation time and another put Detroit ahead for good in the extra period.

Marquette, No. 20, lost on the road to Minnesota 75-73. "They had us all the way," said Al McGuire, Marquette coach. "This will take us off our high horse."

Ohio Univ. beat Indiana 80-70, Georgia Tech took Southern Methodist 87-79, Oklahoma State downed Arkansas 73-68, George Washington defeated Richmond 97-93, Creighton whipped St. Louis 93-75, and St. John's N.Y., surprised St. Peters, N.J., 81-80.

Harada Wins On Knockout In 2nd Round

It was Harada's third straight victory since he moved up to the featherweight division after losing the world bantamweight crown to Lionel Rose of Australia in Tokyo last February. Harada weighed 127 pounds and Amolong 126.

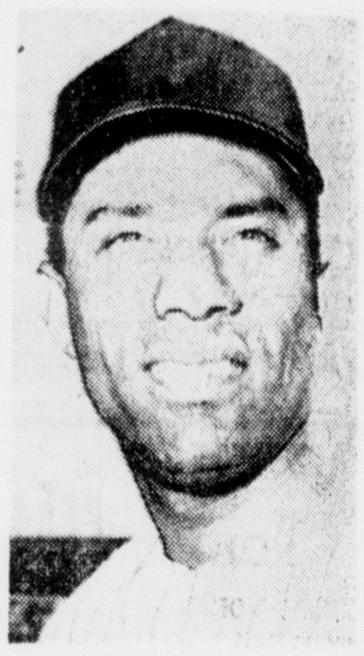
Versalles Is Involved In Big Day Of Trades

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rash of trades broke out yesterday in the second day of the week long baseball meetings.

The most significant deals sent shortstop Zoilo Versalles to Cleveland, third baseman Deron Johnson to Philadelphia and pitcher Dave Giusti to St. Louis.



ZOILO VERSALLES
To Cleveland

Versalles, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1965 when he led Minnesota to the pennant, hit only .196 last year with the Dodgers.

He had been picked in the expansion draft by San Diego but went to the Indians for first baseman Bill Davis and another player to be named later.

Johnson led the National League in runs batted in during the 1965 season with Cincinnati and was sold to the Phillies by Atlanta in a straight cash deal.

Giusti was traded to the Cardinals for four players off the new San Diego roster—outfielder Ron Davis, infielder-outfielder Ed Spiezio, minor leaguer Phil Knuckles, a pitcher, and Danny Breeden, a catcher.

Guisti was acquired by the Cards in a trade with Houston at the end of the season, but he went to the Padres in the expansion draft three days later. Now he returns to St. Louis.

Gobblers Have The Last Laugh; Some Ideas For Christmas Gift

STEVENS

Guess who's laughing now? The turkey gobblers in San Luis Obispo County, that's who. At least 213 hunters (not counting those who didn't pass through the check stations) bagged only 23 gobblers. Plenty of ammo was discharged but mainly the turks themselves caused the recorded small kill. There should be a movement to cause frustrated shotgunners, on meeting up with a turkey of another sex, to tip their hats in respect.

The fear many folks had that the turkey hunt would reduce the total number of birds, should subside.

IT IS now a good time to figure out what to give on Christmas, and an outdoor writer is besieged with brochures by the makers of merchandise that could be the perfect gift for a loved one. Most of this mail is read and discarded, but occasionally some item to be used by the hunter or angler has merit and should be mentioned in the column. Like, for example, the release from the 10-X Mfg. Co., 100 S.W. 3rd St., Des Moines, Iowa 50309, featuring a 10-X flourescent blaxe orange hunting jacket which sells for $28. And the 10-X flourescnt blaze orange hunting vest sells for $20. It would take a color-blind amateur to overlook another hunter in the brush.

How about local fishing for flounders, striped bass, sturgeon and perch? It has been ranging from fair to good to excellent by some boats in some locales.

Friday was a redletter day for many of the local party boat skippers. For esample, a portion of Friday's take follows: The party boat, Paul G out of Richmond, netted 21 limits of bass; the Mroning Star had 8 limits to 7 pounds and one salmon of 21 pounds; The R.S.P. boated 6 limits to 15 pounds (on live baits); the Miss Dragnet took 4 limits to 15 pounds; the Hawk landed 20 stripers to 8 pounds, and the Sunfish came back to the harbor Friday with 57 striped bass to 8 pounds.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Statistics Show Jets Tough On Some Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of individuals have had tough times against the New York Jets this season, but Gene Milton of Miami might have had the toughest statistically speaking.

Milton, the league's leading kickoff returner last week, got only 27 yards on three returns against the Jets last Sunday, and American Football League statistics released yesterday show what happened to him.

He tumbled from the top spot all the way to ninth as his average of 26.6 per return plummeted to 23.1.

The only changes in the leaders were among passers and receivers.

Len Dawson of Kansas City moved into the top spot ahead of Daryle Lamonica of Oakland in passing. Dawson has completed an amazing 59.3 per cent of his passes, and he's the only quarterback in the league who has averaged better than 8.25 yards gain per pass. His average is 9.14.

Huski Ski Club Has Openings

There are still a few openings for young skiers aged 9 through 18 in the Huski Ski Club of San Rafael, according to Wanda Stratford, community representative for the club.

The club is headed by Mrs. Suzi Gray, general manager, whose husband, Ernie, a Far West Ski Association certified instructor, heads the Huski Certified Ski School.

Mrs. Stratford explained the club is divided into three groups —Huski Ski Club, Huski Junior Leaders, and Huski Racers. Junior leaders must be 15 through 18 and well trained in basic ski methods. Huski racers will receive a program to enable them to compete with others.

Club outings are planned for Alpine Meadows and Boreal Ridge. Persons interested in membership can get in touch with Mrs. Stratford at 90 Mount Tenaya Drive, San Rafael.

Marin Skaters Tie Belmont In Hockey

David Bonbright, Robbie Hunton and Jamie Edwards each scored a goal to give the Marin Junior Ice Hockey Club's bantam team a 3-3 tie with the Belmont Bantams Sunday in a Northern California Junior Hockey League game.

Miss Hislop Wins Two Swim Trophies

Thirteen-year-old Jo Hislop led San Rafael Swim Club members at the Tiger Marlin Swim Club "A" meet last weekend in the Serra High School pool in San Mateo.

Miss Hislop won the only two perpetual trophies given to 13-14 age group first place swimmers by winning the 200-yard individual medley (2:23.9) and the 200-yard freestyle (2:06.7) events.

Tough Job For Packers Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — In trying to stay alive Saturday for a chance at their fourth consecutive National Football League title, the Green Bay Packers will have to get by the team that is second in the league in offense and second in defense.

The Packers host Baltimore, which has averaged 352.6 yards a game while giving up just 241.8.

The Packers, meanwhile, have only the seventh best offense, with a 295.4 average, and the fourth best defense, with a 256.8 average.

Dallas has the best offensive average, 371.3 yards per contest, and Los Angeles has the toughest defense, holding its opponents to 221.8.

Los Angeles also has the best defense against rushing, Minnesota has the best against passing, Chicago has the best rushing team offensively and Baltimore the best passing.

ONE OBSTACLE: MONEY

Marin Champion May Swim In World Games For Deaf

A 20-year-old University of California student from San Anselmo and her mother have high hopes of making it to the International Games for the Deaf next year in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Major obstacle to the trip is money. A world record swimmer, Terry needs $1,800 to pay for the expensive trip, and her mother, a registered nurse, needs the same amount to make the trip as a nurse for the U.S. team.

The 5-foot-4, 116-pound Miss Shistar established two world records and helped crack two relay world marks last August at the National World Games for the Deaf swimming competition at Chabot College in Hayward.

She also broke three individual American records for the deaf and helped on relay teams for two others at the Berkeley meet.

SURGICAL ACCIDENT

Miss Shistar is totally deaf in her right ear, the result of a surgical accident when she was 11 years old. Her hearing in her left ear is normal, but being deaf in the one ear qualifies her for the competition among deaf athletes.

Terry won the outstanding women's swimmer award hands down at the meet, registering 44 points in the competition. She took five first places among American swimmers.

She set a world record in the 100-meter butterfly event with a time of 1 minute, 20.2 seconds, another world mark in the 200-meter individual medley, 2:55.4, and an American record in the 800-meter freestyle, 11:54.8.

TERRY SHISTAR
On to Belgrade?

In American records for deaf swimmers, Terry now has five marks in long course events (50-meter pool) and 10 in short course (25-yard pool) events.

A sophomore at Cal. Terry is majoring in mathematics and psychology. When she was younger, she was a member of the Marin Swim Club, along with her sister, Roberta, 18, who now attends Sacramento State College.

The 11th International Games for the Deaf is scheduled for Aug. 9 through 16, 1969, so the deadline for prospective competitors to come up with the funds is April 1. Formal training for the games will start July 28 at the New York School for the Deaf in White Plains, N.Y.

TOUR PLANNED

Following the competition in Yugoslavia, the American athletes will be treated to a two-week tour of the Mediterranean countries.

According to Art Kruger, chairman of the U.S. International Games for the Deaf Committee, many of the deaf athletes are being aided in fund drives by their local civic organizations.

Santa Clara, Washington State Cagers Triumph

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Santa Clara Broncos and Washington State Cougars both won in impressive style last night in a light night of Coast cage action. Oregon took another loss at national power North Carolina.

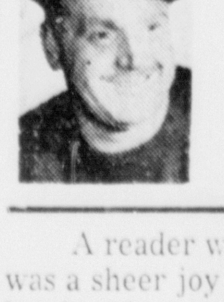
Santa Clara, which figures to be one of the nation's 20 best this season, looked the part as it grabbed an 11-1 lead at the Cal Aggies' gym and rolled to a 94-66 win. Dennis Awtyey had 29 points and 20 rebounds to lead the rout by the Broncs of the defending Far Western Conference champs.

It was about the same story at Spokane as Washington State blasted to a 19-5 lead over Gonzaga and went on to a 91-64 win. Dennis Hogg of the winners meshed 19 in that one.

North Carolina belted Oregon 106-73 with All America prospect Charlie Scott hitting 28. Oregon was led by Stan Love's 16 points.

In other action three sophs combined for 42 points as Arizona took Northern Arizona 86-69. Western Washington took Sacramento State 69-58. Touring Cal Poly of Pomona fell at Tulsa in a wild 101-90 battle.

BOATING



By STAN DAVIES

Proper Storage Vital To Proper Performance

A reader writes: "I drove a boat a year ago which was a sheer joy to handle. It ran straight and true and level and responded to the wheel like a well-trained horse responds to a good rider.

"This summer, it was a different boat entirely. It rode with the driver's side high, it had a tendency to pull to the right and on a sharp left turn the propeller cavitated. (That means it revved up and sucked air into its slip stream.")

When the boat was taken from the water for the last time this fall, it was turned upside down and a straight edge was laid along the bottom. It showed a depression . . . only very slight . . . along the side on which it had been sitting all last winter.

The boat is made of fiberglass-reinforced plastic, and the owner never dreamed that such an impervious material would ever go out of shape. Also, he argues, it may have gone out of shape anyway . . . no matter how it was sitting last winter.

Naturally no one is convinced by such an argument.

All this brings up an important point in winter boat storage. Now that more and more boats are made of fiberglass and plastic, or aluminum, the problem of winter protection from the elements is not as important as it used to be when all boats were wood.

But there is one thing that has not changed. That is the question of support. A boat in storage must be supported so that the extra stress on it caused by being out of water will not put it out of shape.

A lot of boaters don't realize that a boat out of water is in an unnatural environment and subject to greater stresses. Look at it this way: A boat was designed to float, and when it is afloat, its own weight, and the load it is carrying, is distributed evenly over the entire area of the boat in contact with the water.

But think of a boat on a trailer . . . supported maybe in one or two places along the keel, or unevenly along one side of the hull . . . suffering stresses that may put it out of shape and ruin its performance next summer.

Why, it's enough to make anyone with a trailer boat dash outside this very moment and put in a few more blocks to give it proper support.

And it's not a bad idea.

And while you're at it, if the motor is still on the transom, put a few blocks under it. That will help, too.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes No Method Will Work When Attempting A Key Signal

As an experienced defender you know that you can encourage partner to continue a suit by playing a higher card than necessary. You can discourage a continuation by playing the lowest available card. This is very valuable, but no method will work with a stubborn partner.

Opening lead — ♣ K

West opened with the king of clubs and shifted to the 10 of diamonds upon seeing the dummy. Declarer took dummy's ace of diamonds to conceal his own diamond strength, but East discouraged a continuation by playing the deuce of diamonds.

Declarer led dummy's low club to force out the ace with the 10. West wondered what to lead next because he had seen the deuce of diamonds, but he still hated to lead a spade for fear of giving declarer a free finesse.

West defiantly led the nine of diamonds, giving South the chance to grind East into little pieces. Declarer took the king of diamonds, entered dummy with a heart to the king and led dummy's queen of clubs.

SURE LOSS

East could pick his own way to lose a trick. If East ruffed, South would overruff and could then draw the last trump without worrying about losing a trump trick to the queen. If East failed to ruff, declarer would discard all three spades on the good clubs and the queen of diamonds.

West could not be sure of defeating the contract if had shifted to a spade, but he had a fighting chance.

MUST GUESS

The defenders would then have two clubs and one spade in the bank, and South would have to guess the location of the queen of hearts to make his contract.

You can afford to disregard your partner's signals only if you are a much better player than he is. And bigger, too.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ A 8 5 4
♥ Q 4 2
♦ J 4 3 2
♣ 8 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You should have eight points in high cards or rather good distribution to disturb your partner's notrump bid.

Beer Drinking May Have Saved Lives

NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, England (UPI)—Two drinkers who downed 10 pints (12 U.S. pints) of beer apparently saved themselves from food poisoning. Although they ate from a batch of sea food that poisoned 75 other persons, they were unaffected.

"It seems the beer diluted or neutralized the poison," said a health department spokesman.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 4, the 339th day of 1968 with 27 to follow.

The moon is full. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1918 President Woodrow Wilson sailed for France to attend the peace conference for World War I at Versailles.

In 1942 President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered the liquidation of the WPA, created in 1935 to provide work for the unemployed.

In 1946 the United Mine Workers Union was fined $3.5 million for refusing to call off a 17-day strike.

In 1965 America's Gemini-7 spaceship was hurled into orbit on an unprecedented and successful 14-day voyage around the earth. On Dec. 15, Gemini-7 and Gemini-6 made their historical rendezvous in space and circled the earth only yards apart.

A thought for the day: George Washington said, "There can be no greater error than to expect or calculate upon favors from nation to nation."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Singer, General Mills Worth Buying Now

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I wish to invest a few thousand in growth stocks. What should I buy? — H. W.

A. Particularly interesting at this time are Singer Co. and General Mills which have above-average long-range merit. Acquisitions are an important factor in both issues.

Moving further afield all the time from its original milling business, General Mills offers, aside from its well-known Betty Crocker package foods and "Big G" cereals, snack foods, Gorton fish products, children's toys, games and craft kits. Introduction of 40 or 50 new products annually is the result of a $9 million annual steady earnings growth.

Singer, with the acquisition of General Precision Equipment, significatnly expanded its electronic capabilities. Consumer products still account for a large — 46 per cent — portion of combined operations. Industrial sewing and knitting equipment, office accounting and calculating machines, hi-fi sets and small appliances are all included among the products manufactured by Singer. General Precision, with close to half of its sales going to government space and defense programs, will probably restrict earnings gains for the current year. Nevertheless per-share results of over $4.50 are anticipated.

Both companies are pursuing aggressive expansion programs and should be bought for capital appreciation over the next three to five years.

Q. I would appreciate your advice on Bristol-Myers and Motorola, both of which I hold at a loss. I need more income and am confused about what to do. — I. B.

A. New management is making great strides in strengthening Motorola's weakest link — consumer products. As a result, nine months earnings jumped 78 per cent on a 27 per cent gain in sales. Share price should begin to reflect the improvement in Motorola's outlook. Market reaction to Bristol-Myers' poor third-quarter results was, in my opinion, excessive and a price correction should be forthcoming.

The yield on these two issues is inadequate for someone in need of income, but because recovery is anticiapted I would not recommend selling at current levels.

California Factory Pay Hits Record In October

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Average hourly earnings of factory production workers in California hit a record high of $3.50 in October, the state Department of Industrial Relations reported yesterday.

Weekly earnings of factory workers in the state also set a new record at $142.45—a $6.99 increase from October 1967.

Albert C. Beeson, director of the department, said the new hourly record is one cent ahead of the previous high, in September, and 18 cents above the October 1967 figure.

The October factory pay in the Los Angeles - Long Beach area averaged $3.42 an hour. In the San Francisco - Oakland area, the average hourly rate in October was $3.86.

Illinois Company Buying Bay Firm

PALO ALTO (BW) — The United Fire Insurance Co., a Chicago based corporation, announced an agreement has been entered into to purchase for cash all of the accident and health and hospital business of American Pacific Life Insurance Co. of California, Palo Alto.

The agreement, subject only to approval by insurance departments of various states, will become effective Jan. 2.

United Fire presently is licensed to operate in 24 states and the District of Columbia, and estimates its 1968 premium income will be in excess of $10.4 million, with assets of approximately $7 million and capital and surplus more than $5.6 million.

Airport Freight Volume Climbs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new monthly high in air freight volume was handled at San Francisco International Airport in October, George F. Hansen, airport general manager, has reported.

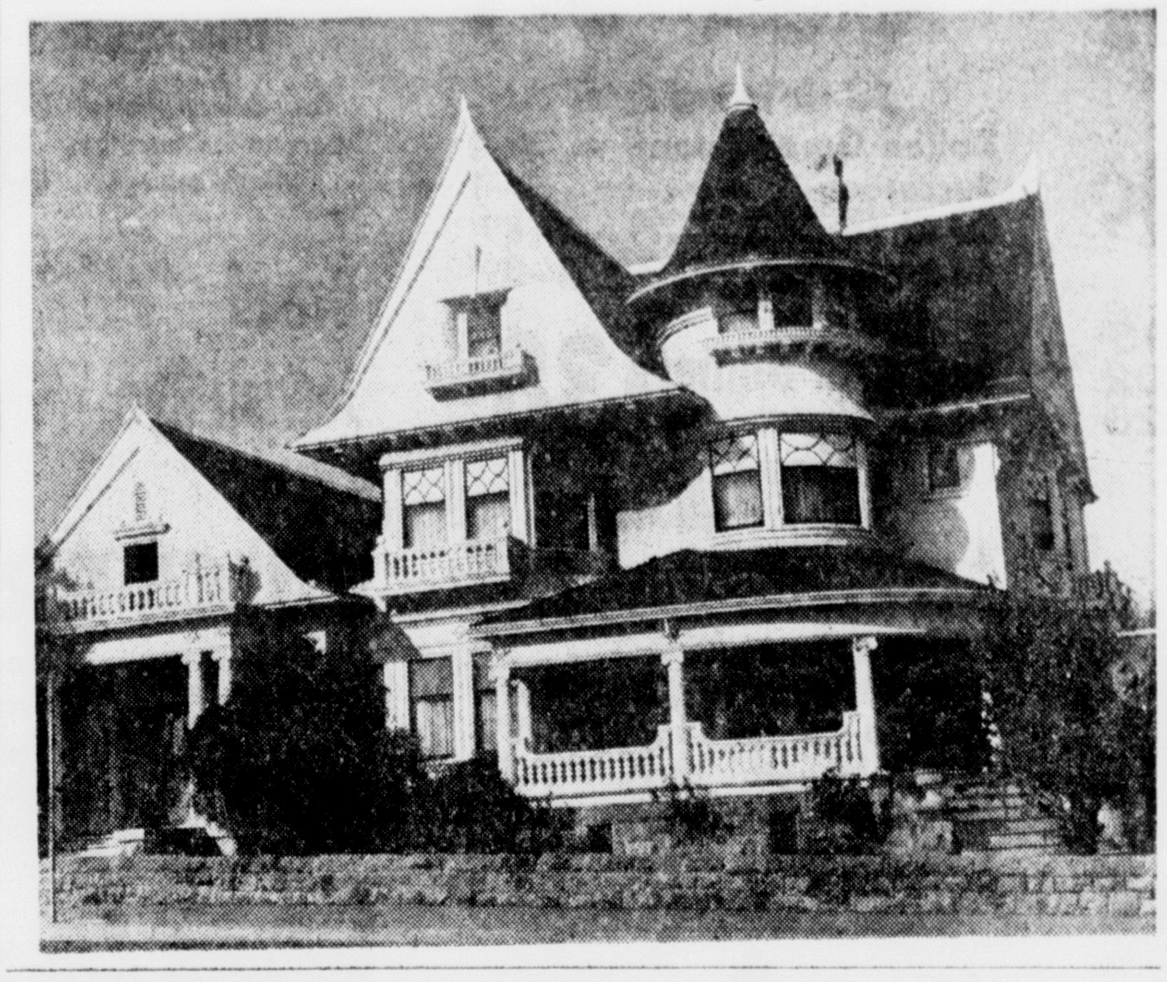
Up 26.3 per cent from a year ago, October freight totaled 55,547,000 pounds, compared with the previous monthly record of 51,087,735 pounds last May.

The October passenger total of 1,147,735 was up 8.6 per cent from a year ago.

MOVE PLANNED IN PETALUMA

In March, the Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma will be moving from its 100-year-old mansion (above) on Washington Street at Keokuk Avenue and into modern facililties (below) on Petaluma Boulevard North, at Cemetery Lane.

The new facility, designed by Petaluma architectts Lieb and Quaresma, will include a chapel, a drawing room, two repose rooms, selection room, family room, two offices and employees quarters. A formal garden with a fountain will carry out the Georgetown colonial theme.



Pacific Coast Exchange Alters Rules On Volume Commissions

LOS ANGELES (BW)—The Pacific Coast Stock Exchange has amended its rule on commissions, in accordance with changes to go into effect tomorrow on the New York and American Stock exchanges, except for one significant variation—the PCSE will give volume discounts on trades in excess of 1,000 shares even though the order is completed on more than one exchange, Thomas P. Phelan, president, said Monday.

"When an order is split between two or more markets," Phelan explained, "the NYSE and ASE have ruled that if portions of an order are executed on such exchanges the portions executed on those exchanges must be treated as separate orders for commission purposes and the portions executed on other exchanges must be computed in accordance with the rules of such other exchanges.

"Our rule provides that the reduced rate applicable to shares in excess of 1,000 may be charged, regardless of the exchanges on which the first 1,000 shares of the order is executed," he said.

For example, on a 1,500 share order, 800 shares executed on PCSE and on NYSE, the discount applicable to the shares in excess of 1,000 would be available, and 500 of the 800 shares executed on the PCSE would be at the reduced rate.

Phelan, pointed out that all forms of customer directed give-up are prohibited under the amended rules of the PCSE.

The prohibition was adopted as a means of preserving the structure, and the strict minimum commission rate adherence to the spirit as well as the letter of the rule is essential for the welfare of the industry, Phelan said.

Longs Drugs Has Increased Profits

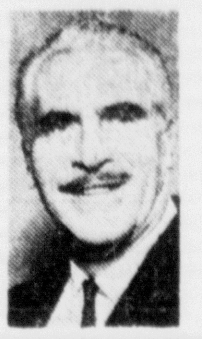
OAKLAND (BW) — Longs Drug Stores, retail drug chain in Marin and elsewhere in California and Hawaii, has announced a 27 per cent increase in earnings and a 30 per cent increase in sales for the nine months ended Oct. 31.

Earnings for the nine months were $2,815,000, or $1.10 per share, against $2,240,000, or 88 cents per share, for the same period in 1967 after adjustment for a 2-for-1 stock split May 28, 1968.

Sales for the nine months were $85,539,000, up from $65,852,000 for the like 1967 period.

Earnings Increase

OAKLAND (BW) — World Airways has reported third quarter earnings, including those attributable to its subsidiary, First Western Bank, of $4,738,000, or 47 cents a share, compared with $3,640,000, or 36 cents a share, for the same period of last year.



OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Novato-Vallejo Firm Acquires Gotelli's Equipment Rental

There has been a sale of Gotelli's Equipment Rental at 610 Irwin Street, San Rafael.

Richard J. Gotelli has sold to Ted De Vries of Vallejo, owner of Vallejo Rent-All and also Novato Rent-All in Novato. Richard Earle, formerly at Novato Rent-All, has taken charge in San Rafael.

Cotelli will remain with the company for a while and plans on going into equipment repairing somewhere in this area.

NEW OCCUPANT at 55 Mitchell Boulevard, Northgate Industrial Park is J. H. Weiler Inspection Service, moved from Ignacio.

Owner J. H. Weiler, a resident of Bel Marin Keys, has leased 400 square feet of office and 2,000 square feet of warehouse space at Northgate through William W. Hoey and Co.

The company inspects and maintains telephone poles throughout the country and also maintains an office and plant in Denver.

ALSO MOVED to Northgate Industrial Park is insurance broker Keith Bechler, who has taken office space through Hoey at 45 Mitchell Boulevard.

Bechler, who lives in Woodacre, formerly had his office at 9 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

THIS IS THE SEASON for increased interest in snow sports, which brings forth this timely announcement of a recent corporation formed in Marin known as the Huski Ski Club, Inc.

It is an "umbrella" corporation, which is to say that it may venture into several projects. But at the moment its principal activity is the Huski Ski School for juniors, from nine to 18 years of age.

John D. Hamilton of Orinda is corporation president and Howard J. Hamen of Lafayette is vice president. The two head Radio KPAT, which is quite active in winter sports news and announcements.

But in Marin, Ernest E. Gray of Lucas Valley is second vice president and director of the ski school, which has been certified by the Far West Ski Association. And his wife Suzanne is secretary-treasurer and general manager. Huski has P.O. Box 4267, San Rafael, as its official address, but the Grays may be contacted at their home in Lucas Valley.

The school undertakes a series of 12 trips for members to ski areas each season, with instruction and several supervised programs. Another activity is handling snow tours for adult groups on a one-day or weekly basis — a complete program including transportation and accommodations.

NOVATO PHARMACY, Novato has acquired a franchise for Blum's Candy. Owners Milton Henneman and Vincent Severetti say this is the first Blum's franchise ever offered to a drugstore. The pharmacy has also recently taken on a franchise for Nina Ricci fragrances.

BUSINESS ANNIVERSARIES: Reed and Bobbie Price, owners of National Auto Glass stores in San Rafael, Novato and Santa Rosa, celebrated their fifth birthday in business with a dinner dance at Cotati . . . Matson's Red Wing Shoes at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael is having its third birthday celebration.

AWARDS: Alfred Strasser, manager of Anthony Pools, Inc., San Rafael, has been presented with a $1,200 vacation bonus of outstanding sales achievements. He'll use it toward a three-week trip for himself, wife and two children to Tahiti, starting Dec. 12. He has been with the company three years. . . . Reuel Bradney of Woodacre, a travel agent with Haley Corp. in San Francisco, has been presented with Air France's Winged Victory Award.

EIGHT MARIN COUNTY FIRMS have recently been accepted for membership in the Better Business Bureau of San Francisco, Ltd.: Ace Upholstery, Art Boates and Sons, Hanna Leathers and Sausalito Dry Cleaners, all of Sausalito; North Bay Lumber Co., Corte Madera; Eileen Feather Salon, Marin Dodge, Inc. and The Messingers, Hearing Aids, all of San Rafael.

Auto Dealer Again Gains A Rezoning

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved rezoning of property on the southwest side of McDowell Boulevard at Old Redwood Highway from light industrial to highway commercial.

The land, owned by Aubrey W. and Roger A. Sanderson, had been rezoned a year ago, but the time limit on development had expired and the rezoning had to be approved again.

Aubrey Sanderson, an automobile dealer in Petaluma, said development of the property had been delayed because of a new assessment district in the area.

The Sandersons said in the original rezoning application plans were to erect a new auto showroom on McDowell Boulevard.

Sanderson had filed a similar application for rezoning of nearby property outside the city limits. He withdrew the request, however, from the county planning commission.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

PUMP STATION — Approved a use permit for the City of Petaluma to construct a pump station in a single family residential zone at the corner of Mission Drive and McNear Avenue.

TRIPLEX — Approved a variance for Dr. Hamza I. Munib to construct a triplex on a substandard size lot at 340 Kentucky Street. The commission set a wider driveway as one of the conditions for approval.

HOSPITAL — Approved plans and site design for a convalescent hospital on Douglas Street at the Petaluma Trade Center. The hospital will be built by California Health Care, Inc.

REZONING — Approved rezoning of four lots on Magnolia Street from single family residential to multiple family to allow construction of duplexes by William Y. Foster. Foster's request to include lots on Cherry Street was denied by the commission which said duplexes would not be compatible to existing uses.

SETBACK — Approved a variance waiving set back requirements on property owned by Merton Preston at 326 Petaluma Boulevard North. The commission required a rear entrance for fire safety. Preston intends to construct an auto parts and services store.

Two East Bay Police Wounded

OAKLAND (AP) — Policeman Fred Lietzke, 28, was shot in the left cheek and Wesley Owens, 29, was shot in the right hip in a gun battle last night.

Both were reported in good condition in hospitals today.

Police said Owens started shooting and tried to flee from his West Oakland home when six officers came to arrest him on a traffic warrant and an assault charge.

Police returned the fire and captured Owens.

They said Owens was wounded accidentally with Lietzke's pistol while they were struggling to handcuff the prisoner.

The six officers had been assigned to make the arrest because Owens' bail bondsman had warned them he was armed.

North Marin Water Economies Outlined

The North Marin County Water District operates with fewer employees per customer and less loss of water than other districts in the state, District Mgr. Jerome B. Gilbert last night reported to his district board.

The statewide average is one employee per 264 customers while that of the North Marin district is one per 424, Gilbert said. The average operating cost per customer is $45 per year while that of the North Marin district is $33 per year, he said.

The state average is 11.1 per cent water loss through leakage, while that of the North Marin district is about 6.5 per cent according to Gilbert.

The district's pipeline installation costs have held about even for five years or dropped slightly, Gilbert reported. Labor costs for replacements has held steady at $1.63 per foot for the past five years.

Installations of mains in subdivisions is up from $1.10 in 1963 to $1.46 per foot for labor this year, he said. This is because of a reduced volume of subdivisions and the smaller subdivisions.

Pipeline extensions to serve outlying areas has dropped from $1.14 in 1963 to 96 cents per foot for the labor, he said.

Gilbert reported that there is renewed interest in water and sewage studies in the West Marin area from Olema to Dillons Beach.

Novato Loses Clerk To Mill Valley Offer

Mrs. Jean Walkup, an accountant clerk II and a veteran City of Novato employee, resigned today, effective Dec. 15, according to Director of Finance Charles L. Foster.

Mrs. Walkup has been with the city since October 1962. She said that she was going to work for the City of Mill Valley at a substantial increase in salary. Her salary with Novato is $578 and she will start in Mill Valley at $703 per month, she said.

Novatan Finds Suspect In Home

A 22-year-old San Rafael man was arrested on suspicion of burglary yesterday when the owner of a home on the outskirts of Novato returned to find him in the building.

Gordon Eugene Taylor of 1135 Fourth Street, was held with no bail set and was to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon.

Fred Miller of 575 Atherton Avenue said he found Taylor in his house when he returned yesterday morning. The building had been ransacked, he said.

Sheriff's officers said Taylor told Miller he noticed the lock to his house had been broken. He said he heard a noise from within and entered to investigate, deputies reported.

Alto Garbage Charges To Rise 30 Per Cent

A 30 per cent increase in garbage collection rates over the next three years was approved last night by the Alto Sanitary District board, Director Carl O. Heynen Jr. reported.

Heynen said the increase was approved after a study of the financial records of the Mill Valley Refuse Co. showed costs had increased sufficiently to justify higher rates.

Rates will go up 15 per cent in January, with a 10 per cent increase in 1970 and a 5 per cent rise in 1971.

Present rates are $2 a month for single can and $3.75 for two or more cans in residential areas. The first year's increase would raise single can rates to $2.30 a month and two-can rates to $4.31 a month.

Directors also agreed that developers of the Chernenko subdivision off of North Knoll Road must get permission from the City of Mill Valley to use the city's sewer treatment plant and approval from the Local Agency Formation Commission before a request to have 11 lots in the subdivision annexed to the district can be approved by the board.

Tiburon Infant Hurt In Wreck

A Tiburon infant was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for face bruises after a three-car collision on Highway 101 in Alto, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Kimberly Levis, 9-month-old, was in a car driven by her mother, Karen C. Levis, 29, of 15 Red Hill Circle Drive. The highway patrol said northbound traffic was stopping for a stalled car at 1:50 p.m. when Mrs. Levis's car hit the rear of a stopped car driven by Mary Courtis, 28, of 2332 Paradise Drive, Tiburon. Miss Courtis' car then hit one driven by Will Wilson, 72, of 100 Waldo Court, Sausalito.

Mrs. Lewis was cited for speeding.

Marinite Wins Muni Nod On Free Passes For Blind

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A proposal by a San Rafael man that the San Francisco Municipal Railway give free passes to nonresident blind persons won unanimous approval yesterday from the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

Leslie A. Grant of 38 Harcourt Street, himself blind, made his proposal to the commission in January, and mounted a one-man campaign to get it approved.

The free passes, long available to San Franciscans, now will be extended to blind residents of Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa and San Mateo counties under yesterday's vote.

The commission's staff estimated that some 2,000 persons in the four counties would be eligible for the passes, and the annual loss in revenue would be $5,300.

Information on how to obtain the passes is available from John M. Woods, general manager of the Municipal Railway, 901 Presidio Avenue, San Francisco.

Burglars In School

Burglars stole $2, a radio and a postage scale from Miller Creek School in Marinwood over the weekend, sheriff's officers reported today.

Bus Gunman Gets Sentence

OAKLAND (AP) — A 15-year-to life term has been imposed on a Berkeley man for a robbery-shooting which brought a drastic change in the AC Transit bus fare system.

Lawrence Mosley, 22, was convicted by a jury of the June 10 holdup and sentenced yesterday by Superior Court Judge Zook Sutton.

The bus driver, Ralph Livingston, recovered, but still has the bullet in his body.

AC Transit drivers had been plagued by robberies and shootings and after the holdup of Livingston it was decided they no longer would carry change. The idea also spread to San Francisco's Municipal Railway System.

Passengers now must have either the correct fare or a token.

Tiburon Plans Holiday Trim

Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday agreed to decorate the Tiburon downtown area for Christmas, Ben A. Farlatti, president, reported.

A Christmas tree will be placed downtown and the bus depot and Main Street gas lamps will be decorated, Farlatti said.

Tiburon stores will remain open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily through Dec. 24 to facilitate Christmas shopping, the chamber also announced. None of the stores will be open at night.

$950 Is Donated To Fight Hunger

The Marin Chapter of Meals for Millions has contributed $950 to the foundation's food shipments which went to Biafra, Ecuador and Navajo Indians, according to Alan B. Jonas of Terra Linda, chapter president.

The Meals for Millions Foundation has sent a shipment of 100 tons of food to Biafra, made possible by private contributions and through the cooperation of General Mills and Aid to Biafran Children Inc., Jonas reported.

The food was distributed to nearly 400 refuge camps and feeding stations in Biafra which care for about 4 million Biafrans, he said. Food was transported through UNICEF.
